

No. 1 Supreme Warrior chapter 2425 - 2426

Chapter 2425

The only thing in their eyes was the ever- changing runes.

Jackie, Gilbert, and Andrew saw nothing else and cared for nothing.

Jackie let out a small sigh, not looking up to see the reactions of everyone else.

However, Jackie did not need to even look. He could easily imagine the shock on everyone's faces as he showcased his talent.

Thinking about that, Jackie could not help but mumble in his heart, 'I wonder if this is considered slow...

To keep a lower profile, Jackie deliberately slowed down the speed at which he was forming the pills. If he had kept his regular pace, he would already have formed 800 runes.

Advertisement

However, he knew very well that it would only invite greater suspicions from the vice-treasurer if he did that.

He might even be kept behind as a lab rat to be experimented on.

He was not willing to remain in Heavenly Pills.

He only had one goal, which was to enter the Middle Province Alchemist Alliance and climb the ranks there.

Advertisement

With the status of an alchemist, he would be able to get more spirit crystals to buy the ninth- grade spirit crystals.

After a moment, Jackie finally put his hands down.

300 runes that glowed in a faint gold color floated before Jackie.

There was no need for anyone else's as everyone took the scene in.

Jackie had succeeded in an incredibly clean and beautiful manner.

At that moment, Jackie looked up at everyone in front of him thoughtfully.

After a short moment of silence, they no longer looked at Jackie with the same shocked look as before.

However, some of them still looked at Jackie as if he was a monster.

The vice-treasurer did not say anything.

Advertisement

If it were not for his slowly widening eyes, Jackie would have thought the vice-treasurer was able to keep his composure, that the vice-treasurer was able to calm himself despite the excellence Jackie had shown.

"Vice-treasurer, what do you think about this result? Do I have the right to become a student of the Middle Province Alchemist Alliance? Jackie said calmly.

His question was a pointless one.

If Jackie did not have the right to be a student of the Middle Province Alchemist alliance after that showing, then no one did.

Looking at Jackie's abnormally calm expression from the start, the vice-treasurer narrowed his eyes slightly.

He said in a slightly hoarse voice, "You've learned the Way of the Pill before?"

It was a question that did not need answering.

If Jackie had not learned the Way of the pill before, he would never have been able to form those pill runes.

Jackie nodded slightly as an answer.

Seeing the nod, the vice-treasurer immediately asked, "What Way of the Pill did you learn? Since you've learned the Way of the Pill, why did you enter Heavenly Pills?"

"Don't tell me you came in because you love and admire this place. That's a very foolish reason, I won't believe it.."

The vice-treasurer stared right at Jackie as he spoke.

It looked like he wanted to see into Jackie's inner thoughts through Jackie's face.

Jackie raised an eyebrow.

The moment he decided to show off his skills, Jackie already had a plan.

"Heavenly Pils is the largest pill store in Rosefinch City. I came here to start a new life, so it's only natural that I need to pick the best place. My friend happened to know Mr. Simmons, so I managed to become a student here."

Chapter 2426

Jackie's explanation, however, did not wholly satisfy the vice-treasurer.

After all, Jackie's response had not been what the vice-treasurer wanted to know. The vice-treasurer frowned and opened his mouth, wanting to question Jackie even further.

Jackie gave him no such opportunity and, instead, answered the most pressing questions.

"I learned the Way of the Pill from my master. Everything I know was passed to me by my master."

As for why I came here despite having a master, well, it's very simple.

My master garnered jealousy wherever he went because he knew the Way of the Pill.

He was killed a few months ago.

I came here to look for the person and seek revenge for my master."

Jackie's eyes darkened with pain and hatred as he spoke.

It was as if someone truly had killed his whole family.

Jackie had met various kinds of people in recent times.

He was actually incredibly impressed with those who were incredibly good at acting.

Ever since he had been sent to Middle Province, Jackie had been working hard on his acting skills.

After all, he felt like he would need it eventually.

After all, there were many hidden talents in Middle Province, and he could not casually reveal his true identity to everyone, either.

Only great acting skills would help him hide his status.

The vice-treasurer did not answer immediately after those words.

Instead, he looked at Jackie with a searching look in his eyes.

Jackie did not meet the vice-treasurer's gaze and instead lowered his head, simmering in his anger.

The vice-treasurer looked at him like that for a good while before averting his gaze. After that, the vice-treasurer seemed to have made a decision.

He gave a small nod. "You're quite a good sprout. I know you're in a rush to become a sixth-grade alchemist right now.

You're probably looking to climb up step by step until you have enough power to take revenge for your master.

"Middle Province Alchemist Alliance is indeed a good place, but it has a fatal flaw. Good places naturally attract more masters.

"If you go there, your intelligence might not genuinely show through. Why don't you stay at Heavenly Pills instead? I'll let the head treasurer know about you. You'll be given a lot of resources to cultivate your talents."

The vice-treasurer had been very earnest when he said that, with no inkling of deceit in his words.

Jackie, on the other hand, frowned, not saying anything immediately.

Jackie had no doubts of the vice-treasurer's intentions.

Jackie was a prodigy, definitely far better than the other students there. The vice-treasurer felt like he was worthy of being brought up, so the vice-treasurer would naturally want him to stay.

If he stayed, it would be a tremendous boom for Heavenly Pills.

However, Jackie did not want to remain.

The vice-treasurer might be right; Middle Province Alchemist Alliance was definitely somewhere masters gathered.

With so many masters within, any ordinary prodigy would not be in such a great position.

They might not be given too many resources and might have to rely on themselves, yet those were for regular masters. Jackie was not one of them.

Jackie's biggest advantage was his complete self-awareness.

After absorbing the great warrior's memories, he was no longer the same as he was before.

To Jackie, alchemy was far easier than it was even to all the masters present.

He just needed some time.

As long as Jackie had enough time, he would be able to shine brightly even in the Middle Province Alchemist Alliance.