Chapter 3563

“Do you really think your intelligence can compare to the ancient heroes? It’s one thing to talk about it when it’s just us, but make sure you don’t let any outsiders hear you. Otherwise, they’ll definitely laugh at you. They’ll even wonder if there’s something wrong with your head. They’ll start questioning how people even get into our clan.”

The moment that was said, Morrison was practically stomping his foot in anger.

His face reddened as he pointed at Reyes, “What did you say, you...”

Before he could finish, he was interrupted by Goran, “Alright, both of you shut up! Why are you fighting right now?”

Just as they were quarreling, Jack slowly closed in on their position with his mask on. With the concealment formation, the three of them could not be seen by anyone outside at all. That piece of land would seem completely empty. Of course, that was if the other side did not touch the formation.

The moment it was touched or anyone walked into the area, they would feel something wrong. Anyone with higher soul energies would even be able to see through it immediately. When the three of them saw that someone was there, they immediately shut their mouths as they stared at the person. That person had green robes on and a white mask. He was alone, and there did not seem to be anything off about him.

It was just that the person was walking slowly as if he was just sightseeing. They were less than a few hundred meters away from the battle. Anyone would be able to hear what was going on.

Goran raised an eyebrow as he coldly looked at Jack, observing his every move.

Jack had clearly heard what was happening.

Any normal person would have gone to check on the sounds, but this person did not seem to be in a hurry at all. No matter how intense the explosions got, the person did not seem to react at all.

Walking past the concealment formation, Jack did not avert his gaze as he continued walking forward. Seeing no reaction from Jack, Goran relaxed.

That person was probably just passing by, and would not interrupt their plans. Goran decided against doing anything about it.

Jack had gone around in one big circle before returning to his original spot, and Rudy had remained hidden the whole time.

When he saw that Jack was back, he ran over excitedly.

“Did you find them? You went over so boldly, did you really not alert them?”

Jack walked to Rudy’s side, “I found them! Don’t worry, they won’t be alerted. Those people have big plans, so they would have planned everything. There’s no way they would just hide in a corner. They would have to put up a concealment formation...”

“Those on the inside could see outside, but those on the outside would not be able to see inside. If I was a normal warrior, I would not have found their hiding spot but it’s because I’m no normal warrior. A simple concealment formation like that is full of weaknesses.”

Rudy widened his eyes. He had never heard of any weaknesses before. In his eyes, a concealment formation was an incredibly high-ranked one. It was incredibly valuable as well.

Furthermore, he had seen in books before that it was impossible to notice without actually touching it or having high soul energy.

Why was it full of weaknesses in Jack's eyes instead?

It was a completely different evaluation.

Was he just inexperienced?

In truth, it was not that Rudy was inexperienced. It was not just he, even warriors from third or second-grade worlds would not have understood Jack.

Jack only said there were a lot of weaknesses with the help of the memories he had obtained. With those memories, the concealment formation was useless in his eyes.
