Jack lowered his voice and said quickly, “Listen to my orders after this!”

Jack had said it incredibly quickly, and normally, the other side would hesitate. He could clearly tell that Dagda had some hesitation on his face.

It was expected. Even though Jack had just saved him, it was not like Dagda would completely believe Jack. After all, Dagda was also afraid of being used as cannon fodder. In this situation, it would be incredibly easy to sacrifice the eight of them.

Even though Jack could see Dagda’s hesitation, Dagda still nodded after a few seconds of silence. There was no other way around it. Without Jack around, he might have already lost the ability to fight, and the eight of them would have met a cruel death.

Jack raised an eyebrow as he raised his hand to take off his mask. His face was completely revealed to the eight of them.

When they saw Jack’s face, all of them widened their eyes. Airn gaped, feeling incredibly stunned!

Dagda almost lost his voice, "It's you..."

It turns out to be Jack!

The Jack that regular warriors from third-grade worlds all regarded as a hero. He had saved the warriors from third-grade worlds more than once but was like a lone wolf that rarely moved in any groups.

After accomplishing something, Jack would immediately disappear. No one knew where he was going. They could not believe how lucky they were to meet Jack at such a crucial moment!

Airn was starting to breathe heavily. He admired Jack a lot. He knew that Jack was from Hestia Continent.

The fact that Jack managed to reach such heights in terms of skills truly was worthy of respect. Even if Jack had some secrets, he still needed to rely on his own talent.

Jack frowned and said, "Don't act surprised! We can't let them guess it!"

The moment he said that, all of them realized that Jack had taken off his mask after turning around to not alert their opponents of his identity. He planned on catching them off guard. When Jack saw that the eight of them were very obedient, he quickly assigned their tasks!

All eight of them nodded, assuring that they would do their best to accomplish those tasks. With Jack by their side, all of them were full of confidence.

Jack turned around again, and the three beasts were starting to move again.

Earlier, his sudden attack had instilled fear in those beasts, but it could still not dissuade the three beasts from wanting to kill the humans. Unless they felt that their lives were in danger, they would absolutely not turn around and run!

After all, they would be able to get blood beads just by killing humans. After absorbing the blood beads, they would become even more powerful. Humans were basically moving treasures in their eyes that they would not let go of easily!

Jack ignored those beasts as he looked at the three warriors!

The short-haired man stared right at Jack. If looks could kill, Jack would have already died a hundred times.

Jack shot Dagda and the others a look, and the eight of them nodded at the same time.

Jack smirked as he started to form seals. A ring that was the size of a head appeared in front of Jack.

Red runes that constantly changed were on the ring, and the glow illuminated his face, giving Jack a sinister look to him.

He shot forward incredibly quickly. His target was those three who were incredibly quick!

The other eight would hold back the three beasts so the beasts would not trouble Jack.

The three of them were stunned when they saw Jack rushing at them alone. They had seen Jack giving out orders as well, but they never expected Jack to ask the eighth warriors to hold back the three beasts while he attempted to fight the three of them alone!

At that moment, they felt incredibly amused.

The other party might be skilled, but they had three of them, while he was alone. They felt like he was just committing suicide by rushing at them!
