

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3571

The three beasts were too strong. No matter how well the three of them worked together, they were unable to gain an advantage.

They were holding on, but it did not mean it would last forever. As time went on, the eight of them would gradually lose.

Jack looked on for a moment before he said to Dagda, "Alright, it's time!"

The moment that was said, Jack attacked again. A hundred Soul Swords condensed into a massive Soul Sword, shooting right at the Ice Toad. The Ice Toad was not as intelligent as humans, but it still had a certain level of intelligence.

Earlier, Jack had dealt with three humans in one blow. The three beasts remembered it clearly, the Ice Toad naturally did not face Jack head on, and immediately dodged to the side.

There was immediately an opening amongst the three beasts, and the eight warriors slipped out of the opening, breaking through the beasts. Jack nodded at the eight warriors and immediately turned around to rush at the concealment formation!

The eight of them quickly followed behind Jack. The three beasts chased after them, and the three warriors in the concealment formation widened their eyes. They were being led toward them! What were they going to do? Did they notice them?

The three of them suddenly broke out in cold sweat as their eyes widened. Their hearts were racing, feeling like it was going to jump out of their throats the next moment.

Morrison was completely terrified, “What are they doing?! Did they notice us? That’s impossible! Concealment formations can shield us from most senses. That guy clearly just walked past us just now, not touching the formation at all. He could not have noticed us!”

Reyes frowned, his expression darkened as well, “He didn’t notice us? Then what are they doing?! That guy should be able to deal with those three beasts with no problem at all, but he refused to kill them, and led them to us instead!”

Goran’s heart was beating rapidly. His eyes were about to pop out of their sockets.

At that moment, he deeply felt what the true meaning of panic was. He did not know if he should flee the concealment formation right away or gamble his life and remain put. He was not sure if those people were targeting them, and if those people noticed them or not!

The moment they left the concealment formation, they would lose their only security net. All of them would be revealed, and the moment they were, the other side would not let them off. After all, they were so close, that guy would definitely start to attack them.

If they did not speak at all, they might be able to stay there! He wondered if they should gamble on the other side to not notice them. If that were the case, then staying there would be the safest!

Time was going by quickly, and the more they waited, the more tense the situation was.

Just as he was hesitating, Jack and the others already appeared in front of them. At that moment, Jack suddenly raised his hand, and Soul Swords appeared.

The three of them immediately understood that Jack had already noticed them a long time ago. Looking at the attack that was coming toward them, the three of them did not even think about it as they immediately fled the concealment formation. The three of them suddenly appeared, and Dagda and the others were stunned.

Airn's lips twitched, "So they really are here. Those dogs were lying in wait to ambush us." The battle earlier had happened too quickly, so they had not been able to think about the details, and had not bothered to think about their opponents' goals.

Looking at the three that were concealed, they were suddenly furious. When Jack told them about it, they might have believed

Jack, but there was still a sliver of doubt in their minds.
