

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3585

They were about two kilometers away from the battlefield, so they could observe the battle without getting involved.

Rudy looked incredibly excited. 226 golden keys were amazing. If all of them were used to exchange for resources, it would earn them a treasure that even a divine solidifying realm warrior would want!

With that in mind, Rudy was even more excited than Jack. After all, Jack was his greatest benefactor. The stronger Jack was, the safer he would be.

Rudy looked at Jack and said excitedly, “This was worth it!”

Jack nodded as he looked at the battlefield.

Rudy looked at Jack curiously, “I thought you’d kill those two.”

Jack shook his head.

He had been hiding by the side and only walked over because he was sure that the three of them already decided to leave. One of those three, Olesm, was heavily injured as well.

Even though the man named Calruz was unwilling, he forgot all of that the moment the golden python rushed over. After the three of them finished their end of the deal, they would definitely leave right away, so he did not need to kill them to silence them.

Rudy frowned and said, “I thought you were planning on striking quickly, killing as many enemies before they noticed you so they won’t get to do anything. Even if they worked together, they wouldn’t be able to beat you.”

Jack could not help but laugh at that.

He turned and said in exasperation, “How could it be so easy? Do you think they’re idiots? I came out after an hour because I was worried they’d notice something strange...”

“Just look. Even after so many have died, even after I killed so many beasts, the battle hasn’t dissipated. There are still so many of them there. How many would I have to kill to turn the tides?”

To Jack, it was impossible.

Rudy raised an eyebrow. “Aren’t we going to leave? I thought you’d be in a hurry to leave Chaos City and go to Cloud City to get your world avatar...”

Jack looked at Rudy. “No, it’s still not time yet. Didn’t I tell you I’d be the biggest victor in the battle?”

Rudy was stunned again when he heard that. He looked at Jack with a puzzled expression. “You’re planning on continuing?”

Jack shook his head, but stopped himself and nodded. Rudy was confused at that.

Jack smirked and explained, “This battle will probably not last for much longer. All sides are keeping track of their losses. If they fight until only a few dozen from each side are left, the losses will be too disastrous.

Eventually, they’ll realize that the battle is costing them just as much as it is their enemies. The moment they notice that, the battle will stop, and the strongest ones will try to save themselves...”

Saying that, Jack shut his mouth as a look of interest flashed in his eyes.

At that moment, his eyes were fixed on the most important figure in the battle-the massive Black-scaled Tiger.

The Black-scaled Tiger was more than six meters tall. Compared to the other massive beasts around it, it was not that tall, but was nonetheless massive against humans. Its agile body constantly danced around the warriors, attacking them, its two claws filled with energy.
