Chapter 3597

Jack had not lowered his voice when he said that, so everyone heard Jack clearly.

Quite a few of them widened their eyes as they looked over!

Who was that?

How could he talk to Case like that?!

Did he not know that Case was from a holy grade clan in Swelling Tide Continent?!

Case was among the top five chosen disciples there!

Normal warriors would never dare to provoke Case. Swelling Tide Continent was not just united, they were also among the stronger second-grade worlds.

Case widened his eyes in disbelief. He could not believe that someone had actually denied his order and even spoken to him so harshly!

Octavius, who was behind Jack, immediately stood forward.

He glared at Jack, “Brat! Do you want to die?! How dare you talk to Case like that?!”

Jack took a deep breath, already thoroughly angered. Jack was not afraid of anyone anyway, no matter where they were from.

He scoffed and said, “Who do you think you are? What gives you the right to have me make way for you like that?! If you want to get tested, shouldn’t you be queueing up? What’s the problem with what I said? Are you not trying to cut in line? Are you not shameless?”

The moment that was said, everyone around Jack suppressed their laughter.

Quite a few of them already disliked the Swelling Tide Continent. The whole continent tried to use their unity to do whatever they wanted.

No matter who had a conflict with them, those people would start acting like mad dogs! With all the laughter, the three of them looked absolutely furious!

Case looked at Jack with clenched teeth, “You should be glad for the rules in Cloud City! Otherwise, we’d have already ripped you apart!”

Jack’s lips twitched helplessly as he evaluated the three of them, “Stop trying to disgust me.

Who do you think you are?! Can you stop acting like a fly and disturbing me?!”

Case had already lost his temper completely.

If looks could kill, Jack would have already died a thousand times. No one had ever talked to Case like that!

He needed to teach Jack a lesson and have Jack pay a price for his behavior.

He clenched his teeth and looked at Jack, “Brat! If you kneel and beg for mercy right now, I’ll leave your corpse intact! Otherwise, you’ll die a horrible death!”

Jack shook his head in exasperation, “I hear threats like that too often. Let me say it again!

Can you please just get lost and stop disturbing me? I don’t care how strong the Swelling Tide Continent is. If you have the skills, then come fight me. However, let me warn you, once you do anything, it will be too late to regret it.”

Cloud City was not Chaos City. They could not attack in groups. Even if they wanted to cause him trouble, they would need to do it within the rules.

There were some things they could not do at all. To Jack, it would be very easy to destroy them!

Case sneered at Jack's words, looking at Jack, "What did you say? We'd regret it? Do you even know what you're saying?"

Case even wondered if he had misheard Jack. Jack actually said they would regret it.

What a joke!

Was that guy crazy?
