Chapter 3614

Jack turned to look at the person that was talking.

That person came from a second-grade world and did not look too great. His mouth was exceptionally big.

That person had mocked him quite a bit before this. Every time Jack said something, that person would add a few words.

Jack narrowed his eyes, remembering how that person looked. If he had the chance, he would definitely make sure the bigmouthed man regretted what he said.

Jack turned around and looked at Jimmy, "I'm not trying to provoke you, I just think that you might not have the guts to challenge me anymore if I go first."

Jimmy was getting frustrated when he heard that, "Hey, brat, stop trying to talk as if you're some amazing master. No one is going to question you if you don't say anything. Can you please look at yourself in the mirror?!"

“Are you even capable of achieving any results with your meager skills? I don’t even think you can pass three stages, let alone six!”

Rudy could no longer hold back.

He started to shout, “Stop looking down on others! If you think he’s wrong, then do as he says and use your results to shut us up.

Otherwise, you’re just feeling guilty!”

Jimmy’s lips twitched. If he did not do as that guy said, then he was feeling guilty.

Was he the one who was afraid of taking up the bet?

What a joke!

How could those two even say that?

Everyone else around them did not even know what to say to that.

They felt like the situation was getting more and more absurd. No one knew where those two got the confidence to say all of that.

Jimmy scoffed, “Whatever! I would be stupid to keep on arguing with you. Since the two of you want to see my results so much,

I'll grant you your wish. I'll take the challenge first, but everyone, don't let them run. If I win, I'll split ten million with all of you!"

Everyone got interested when they heard that. Even though there were quite a few of them gathered there, ten million was not a small number. It was a nice little bonus.

Quite a few of them guaranteed, "Don't worry! Leave this guy to us. Even if he wants to run, we'll surround him and not let him leave until you come out with the Valley Entrance Pass."

Jimmy relaxed when he heard that. He turned to look at Jack coldly. After that, he did not waste any more time as he walked right over to the illusory stone.

Jack should have been the one sitting there, but it was fine. Jack would be challenging it eventually anyway. He would use his skills to show everyone how much of a piece of trash Jack was.

Jimmy sat in front of the illusory stone. He took out a small piece of purple gold from this ring and put it into the stone. Colorful light then shone out of the stone.

After that, Jimmy slowly closed his eyes, and his clone formed in the array!
