

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3660

“Could you have just seen an illusion?” came the voice of one of those present, evidently in sheer shock and disbelief.

The man, shakily continued, “It’s not that I’m trying to question you, but... This is all a shock fest. If the nine of them had been regular warriors, we would’ve accepted it, but all nine of them are strong warriors in our eyes, all from the Swelling Tide Continent...”

“Even if they’re not as strong as Case, they’re not that inferior either. The nine of them together would be incredibly powerful. I doubt that even the strongest of warriors would be able to withstand an attack from all of them at once!”

The question he was asking was also what everyone else was wondering.

If those nine had been ordinary warriors, they would have learned to accept it, but they were all above average. Even if they were no match for the ones who stood at the very peak, they were still a level below them.

The nine warriors working together could not be underestimated, yet they had all lost to the masked man.

No matter how they thought about it, it was absolutely absurd. They could not accept the fact at all!

They did not even know who the third-grade-world masked warrior was.

Was he that strong?

Could there be something else at play?

The man took a deep breath and said impatiently, “Why would I lie to you? Even if I’m not as strong as those warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent, I’m not a dolt. I can tell what’s real and what’s not. On top of that, he has fifteen skeleton badges in hand. Surely that can’t be faked. He’s already getting his treasure!”

The frantic discussions filled Nana’s ears, their voices raised as they debated among each other.

He had a good sense of hearing, so he naturally heard their discussions.

However, it was not important to him at all. All his thoughts were focused on the platform at that moment.

The 15 skeleton badges broke a record. No one had ever gotten that number before him!

What valuable treasures would he earn?

As he was thinking about that, Nana suddenly got a message in his head. The message was very simple, asking Nana to pick the attribute for his treasure.

Nana smirked, feeling even more interested as he picked the soul attribute without any hesitation.

He still had the supreme soul wisp in Mustard Seed, which was the treasure he had obtained after exchanging all his golden keys from Chaos City. The supreme soul wisp was still with Paul, not absorbed.

It was too valuable. Nana needed to absorb it at the right moment, or it would be a waste.

Suddenly, a vibrant light came from the platform. Nana looked up to see the light intensified before a purple pearl appeared. After a moment, the light disappeared, and the treasure revealed itself to him.

“A purple soul pearl!” exclaimed Paul, unable to refrain himself.

This was a valuable treasure, no doubt, it was actually a purple soul pearl that could be found in secondgrade worlds. Third-grade worlds could not produce them at all.

In second-grade worlds, it was an incredibly valuable treasure.

Nana took a deep breath to compose himself before he put the pearl in his hand.

The pearl glowed with incredibly dense soul energy.
