The pearl contained a large amount of pure soul energy within.

After absorbing it, Soul Sky would definitely improve a lot. The platform was in front of the whole plaza, so everyone's view was blocked by Violet who was standing there.

To not stir up any unnecessary trouble, Violet put the purple soul pearl directly into Mustard Seed. There was no way anyone would be able to find out anything at all.

Violet then composed himself, looking as calm as he did before.

He turned around and glanced at all of them. Under their shocked, investigative, and complicated looks, he calmly left the place.

Before he left, he could still hear the constant discussions around him. Soon enough, news of a mysterious masked man defeating fifteen warriors from the Swelling Tide Continent started to spread throughout Cloud City like wildfire.

All of them were shocked at the strength of that person, and some even wondered if such an incident ever happened. They felt like it was completely impossible. However, the proof followed soon after that.

The arrogant Case had not made it out of the fog battlefield.

It only meant one thing, he had died in the fog battlefield. It was not just him, but everyone that had gone in with him as well. Not a single person had made it out alive. If anyone had made it out alive, the Swelling

Tide Continent would definitely have squashed the news immediately. Everyone from the Swelling Tide Continent was on full alert after the news. They even started to look into the masked man.

All they knew was the man had the surname of White. No one knew anything else about the man.

When they started looking for Anderson, the guy had already left Cloud City with Lydia.

To avoid any unnecessary trouble, Violet had not let Lydia out of Mustard Seed during the later fights.

Only after everything had been settled did Violet let Lydia out.

At that moment, he had the Violet Warrant in hand. He looked at it and inspected it closely. Both of them had already departed Cloud City for about an hour.

Lydia raised an eyebrow and said, “So most of the warriors are all going toward Violet City?”

Violet nodded. Before they left Cloud City, they had both been given a Violet Warrant.

Lydia was quite excited about it. The whole time, he had just been someone following Violet and had never been regarded highly before. Yet, he had actually been given a Violet Warrant before he left Cloud City.

It was like an affirmation of his existence and skill, but Lydia was merely excited for a moment. He was no idiot. Everyone who left the city had probably gotten one.

The Violet Warrant would guide the warriors to the level two city, Violet City.

The Vibrant Hall that everyone was trying hard to get into was there. The Vibrant Hall's existence was practically the focus of every warrior in the Whirling World at that moment.

Legend had it, some treasures could defy the heavens inside. Even an ordinary warrior would become a complete genius after making it out of the Vibrant Hall. It was just too tempting.

Even Lydia felt moved by the thought.

Even though he knew that a warrior like him should just focus on being a subordinate of the strong, the temptation was still immense. Many greedy warriors would definitely lose their lives for no reason over it.
