

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3687

The green breeze surprised the three of them. The appearance of the breeze told them that the array had been activated. They were about to face the challenge.

Lourain could even feel his heart beating rapidly. His mouth trembled slightly and he gulped.

This would be the greatest challenge he ever faced. He could die if he was not careful. Even though the rules clearly stated that they would not get injured or die from the challenge, there were no guarantees.

Rose had raised the challenge to the highest level.

Lourain felt like not many people would have dared to pick that. He had only been able to survive the black-iron challenge because of its low difficulty.

The gold challenge would be different. He might not even have his body left behind if he was not careful.

Just thinking about that made Lourain feel incredibly miserable.

He met someone as strong as Rose and no matter how he tried, he would still be a burden to Barne. Someone like him should have just remained where it was safer. To him, Rose was a magnificent existence. Compared to Edgar, he was so weak that he was nothing.

The sound of leaves rustling could be heard all around them. All of them were on high alert as they looked around their surroundings.

No one knew what would happen the next moment. It was possible that many lethal techniques would suddenly appear.

Lourain felt like his hands were trembling.

Just as he was on alert and his thoughts were trembling, he suddenly felt something beneath his feet.

Lourain hurriedly looked down. At some point, the ground was suddenly filled with vines.

The green vines were the thickness of a wrist. It was moving around their feet, growing around them.

Lourain shouted out, "What is this?!"

The three of them looked down at the same time.

Marth said with a hoarse voice, "It's a wood attribute killing array!"

This time, they had encountered a wood attribute killing array of the gold difficulty. Just thinking about the wood attribute instilled a sense of life in someone.

Compared to the metal attribute, the wood attribute was much warmer. However, the three of them would definitely not ignore the danger just because of that.

Rose frowned and said immediately, "Two of you! Get up in the air right now!"

They did not know how the vines would attack. However, they needed to distance themselves no matter what!

The two of them did not think that much as they immediately gathered their true energy to their feet. They soared into the air. Yet, at that moment, the vines suddenly launched forward and grabbed their feet at an imperceptible speed.

The vines were just the size of a wrist, but their strength was not to be underestimated. The moment the vines curled around them, they were immediately pulled down. They started to slash down with their blades.

The sound of a sword hitting wood could be heard. In just a few moments, they already started to wrap around their legs and waist. The two of them were sweating in fear.

After that, they lost all rationality as they hurriedly struggled against the vines.

The two of them crazily started to form seals with their true energy. They were using all the energy they had at that moment, trying to use their greatest attacks!

The two of them were using lower ultimate god rank techniques. Even if they were not very versed in it, they were not weak either!
