

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3725

The black-robed man was obviously a stubborn person who would not be controlled.

That man was probably quite confident in his skills as well. Otherwise, he would not have such a firm attitude.

What Rowan did earlier really did cross the line. It was one thing to ask them to give up their places, but he even used such a tone with them.

He had not been treating them as humans at all. He even mocked them for not being worthy of sitting there. Even though they did not want to offend the Star Continent, these warriors still had their pride.

They would not be humiliated like that.

The black robed man just happened to be the most resolute out of all of them, and he had voiced what they were all thinking.

Rowan started to laugh out loud when he heard that. It was just that his laughter never reached his eyes. The more he laughed, the colder the aura around him was.

Rowan had yet to deal with the matter, so Nymm and the others looked over it as well. As the strongest of the warriors there, Percy and Randall would naturally not deal with something like that alone.

They would just leave all of this to their subordinates. However, as more and more time passed, the two of them were naturally feeling angered. To stop them from getting angry, Nymm immediately rushed over. He coldly looked at all of them.

“We’ll give you one last chance! If you still refuse to stand up, then I’ll make sure all of you regret stepping into this world!”

The black-robed man clenched his teeth tightly. Those people were really crossing the line.

“Let me say this again! What gives you the right to make us give up our seats? Everyone managed to sit here according to the rules! Why are you trying to cause a scene? Don’t forget, we’re not allowed to fight here. If you dare to attack, you’ll be turned to ashes no matter how strong you are! Come attack me if you can!”

Nymm was stunned. He did not expect to meet someone so stubborn. However, it did not matter how stubborn that person was, anyone who offended them would suffer the consequences!

Nymm coldly said, “Very well! I’ll announce that all of you have made it to the Star Continent’s kill list!”

Those words were obviously very threatening.

Quite a few of them could no longer stand it as they slowly stood up from their seats, giving way to the warriors from Star Continent. Even though they were unhappy about it and felt like they were being humiliated, they still had to do it. when they considered the consequences.

Stefan looked at Nana before he stood up in the end. In Violet City, he was someone insignificant. He could not afford to offend anyone. There was no way Nana would defend him from anyone else.

Viola sighed as he looked at Nana reluctantly, standing up in the end. The two of them went to the side to stand after they gave up their spots. Only Nana and that black-robed man remained in their seats.

Rowan’s eyes got colder. He could not believe that there were still two guys who refused to stand up at this point.

It was just an absolute challenge to the honor of Star Continent. The black-robed man was completely stubborn. Those people were actually quite easy to deal with. However, he did not know about the other man. He looked at Nana and saw the mask on Nana’s face.

Nana had not moved since the start, as if none of them existed, or as if he could not hear them at all.

Rowan said coldly, “Are you planning on being stubborn until the end? Brat, I’ve already given you a chance. You’ll pay a terrible price if you don’t treasure it!”
