

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3731

“Get lost! How dare you cut my spot in the queue?! Do you want to die?! I’m from the Swelling Tide Continent. If you’re not careful, the whole continent will end up targeting you!”

“So what if you’re from the Swelling Tide Continent? I’m not an insignificant man either! The spot belongs to whoever gets it. If you work with your continent against me, I’ll have my companions target you, too. I’m going to fight for what’s mine this time! I refuse to make way!”

“Let me through! I’ll kill you all!”

Everyone was arguing frantically for the spots that were left, but no one actually attacked anyone. They were just shouting at each other. After all, they did not dare to challenge the rules of the Whirling World

Everyone’s eyes were wide open in anger, and if looks could kill, all of them would have been dead.

In the end, the skeletal masked caretaker spoke up, “Silence, all of you. Register based on your position in the queue. Anyone who fights will be punished by the rules!”

The moment the caretaker spoke, everyone went quiet. No matter how bold they were and how high their respective positions were in their respective worlds, none of them dared to challenge the caretaker. After all, the caretakers were all apathetic.

They did not care who anyone was or what kind of achievements they had. As long as anyone went against the rules or disobeyed any orders, the warriors would be turned to ash.

With the caretaker, everything went by much more smoothly after that.

After the number of participants had been filled up, the battle started immediately. All of them walked over to the stage, and a barrier covered up the stage. After the battle started, the barrier would only go down after ten minutes.

Everyone immediately started to look on with great interest. No matter how much the other warriors hated the warriors from the Star Continent, no one could deny how strong Percy was. The battle would definitely be interesting.

Everyone naturally believed in Percy’s skills, but the purple-feathered beast’s earlier performances showed that it was not weak either.

It was difficult to tell who would win in the battle between man and beast. After the barriers were up, the betting period started. Practically everyone was lively. Based on the rules, everyone started with 1:2 odds the moment the bets started.

As the bets increased, the odds would change as well. Of course, it was obvious who would get the most bets for this battle. Anyone with half a brain would be betting on Percy.

Practically everyone in the spectating area was rushing over. Bets could not exceed six million.

Most of the warriors seated there had their fortunes. They were not at a level-five or level-six city. Plenty of warriors there could produce millions of spirit crystals without any problems. Quite a few of them bet everything they had on Percy.

After the caretakers’ orders, the warriors in the spectating area all stood up and rushed to the betting area. Most of them were quite excited. After all, this was a gamble that was practically unlosable.

Percy’s skills were plain for all to see. The other nine had no chance!
