

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3741

Quite a few people abandoned the idea, but there were still those who felt like even a tiny amount of profit was still a profit.

The fervor in the betting area did not last for that long. After everyone placed their bets, the battle officially started.

On the stage, Leonardo had his back straightened as his back faced the audience. Even if no one could see his face, everyone could feel how confident he was. The others stood around Leonardo with Leonardo at the center, and all of them were facing the center of the stage.

Wings could be heard flapping from the middle. A wave of red energy surged in the air from the center of the stage. The energy split into countless minuscule dots as they filled half the arena.

Suddenly, the light turned solid, and the purple-feathered beast appeared in front of everyone again. At that moment, the purple-feathered beast was already in its fully recovered state.

The feathers around its body were not damaged at all. Its eyes had a golden glow in them as it looked around. It was like a war god that had won countless battles.

At that moment, the participants were all on high alert. Even though Leonardo was the one who would lead them to victory, none of them dared to be careless. After all, the purple-feathered beast really was that strong. If they were not careful, they would end up like the man from before.

They did not want the purple flames crawling up their body and to get heavily injured. It would affect their future in the Whirling World.

“It’s starting! It’s finally starting! I was already getting impatient!” A warrior from a second-grade world said excitedly.

The warrior next to him laughed and said, “Don’t worry. With Leonardo’s abilities and everyone else helping him, they’ll definitely be able to kill the purple-feathered beast in ten minutes!”

Quite a few of the warriors there had blind confidence in Leonardo. Even though they had never seen Leonardo fight before, they believed that Leonardo would definitely be able to kill the purple-feathered beast and win the battle from Leonardo’s name and the results he had gotten from the other challenges.

“How many Life Points do you think Leonardo will get in the end? I think we’ll be able to get at least five! He might even be able to get Seven! If he manages to get Seven, then he’ll be able to get the Twinleaf Heartgrass to exchange for other resources. Those resources will definitely lead his skills to the next level...”

“Just thinking about it is making me drool. This really is the world of the strong. The strong can use their skills to get even better rewards, while we can’t even get anything.”

Everyone lamented the situation as they looked at the stage with admiration.

However, no matter how loud the discussions were at that moment, it did not affect Leonardo at all. His sharp gaze was fixed on the purple-feathered beast.

Before the registration, he had already decided that he would definitely kill the purple-feathered beast. It was not just for the sake of obtaining the Life Points, but for the sake of Star Continent and his own reputation as well. He wanted all those insignificant fools to worship him!
