

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3754

With everything that happened, the Star Continent's warriors found themselves at a disadvantage the whole time, even feeling like they were being led around by that guy. Even though they were not willing to admit it, it was still the truth. If they continued, they would probably explode from anger at everything Geena was saying!

With that in mind, Chyntia turned to look at Nymm.

Compared to how hot-tempered Rowan was, Nymm was more mature and calm. He would usually look at the bigger picture and rarely lost his temper.

However, Nymm actually stood up from his anger just moments ago. It felt like he was struggling to hold onto his rationality. If he had not managed to hold on, he might have attacked Geena on the spot.

That man had a true talent for provoking people.

Chyntia took a deep breath. He thought this had to stop.

Geena sneered at Chyntia. It was not just those from the Star Continent, but everyone else had calculating looks on their faces as well. It was obvious to Geena what they were thinking of, even if he did not look into it and despite their silence.

All of them wanted him to join the next battle.

They were sure that they would be at an advantage the moment Geena stepped on stage. They were confident he was nothing more than a lamb for slaughter the moment the battle started.

Geena raised an eyebrow and said, "You should stop wasting time. I know what I said before this, and I'll make sure to follow through. You should forget about those little tricks of yours. I've never liked to waste time talking; it's just pointless."

Rowan gritted his teeth. It was not the first time Geena said they were wasting time.

Who did he think he was?

Everything he said was just so rude. Even the most mild-tempered person would not be able to stand it, let alone Rowan.

Rowan narrowed his eyes. "Quit with the act, you brat. Just ask all those around you. Who'd believe that you'd keep your word? Do you think you can beat Chyntia?!"

He should have kept those words to himself, but Rowan no longer had a grasp of his composure.

He could not stand how Geena was putting up an act in front of them, insulting them as he put himself on a pedestal. He wanted nothing more than to rip that fake mask off Geena to show everyone his true face.

Geena suddenly laughed at Rowan's frantic actions. "Chyntia might look like a warrior that stands at the peak in your eyes, but he's just a bit stronger than most in mine."

Everyone hissed at that. Geena was crossing the line he should not have even neared. He spoke as if Chyntia was nothing special, only slightly stronger than regular warriors!

When he said that, his eyes even glinted in disdain. It did not seem like he was pretending to have such bravado at all, as if he meant what he said.

Quite a few people widened their eyes as they looked at Alder, and discussions of conflicting nature arose.

"Surely not! This guy is so arrogant. Does he even know what he's saying? Even though Chyntia's not as strong as Edgar, he's not that much worse. They can be considered to be on the same level. Warriors at this level can be considered in the top ten of everyone who entered the Whirling World. Why does he seem to think they're as weak as beggars on the streets?"

"That's right! I don't know what this guy is doing. Is this done on purpose? Maybe he thinks he'll be able to make himself look better by doing this! After all, there aren't many warriors at Chyntia's level. If he makes it look like he's better, he'll pull up his reputation!"
