

No 1 Supreme Warrior

Chapter 3797

His empty core caused Jagoan to go crazy.

Jagoan was completely stunned. He widened his eyes and clenched his fists as he looked at Jagoan with hatred. If looks could kill, Jagoan would already have died a hundred times. Unfortunately, no amount of staring could do anything!

Jagoan did not kill Jagoan, but death would probably have been better for Jagoan. Furthermore, Jagoan did not think his methods were cruel at all. If he could not protect himself, they would have been even more cruel to him.

They could tell that he had a secret, so they would definitely torture him with everything they could. They would make sure they found out everything they could about him.

Jagoan might not talk much, but he was definitely a ruthless person.

Who knows how many people have died due to his ruthless methods?

He deserved everything that happened to him.

Jagoan slowly stood up before he looked at Rowan.

Feeling Jagoan's gaze, Rowan stiffened. His body started to tremble. It was not because he was cowardly, but Jagoan's fate was just too cruel.

Rowan could not help but take two steps back. His breathing got so frantic he was like a rabbit that was in shock.

His voice trembled, "Don't come over! Don't you dare!"

Those words were hilarious, but everyone could understand how Rowan was feeling at that moment. After all, with what had happened before, there was no way he could be calm.

Jagoan's lips curled up, "Do you still remember what I told you before? If you agreed to my request, I'd give one of you a chance to kill yourselves. However, it's only limited to one person..."

Everyone remembered those words.

At that point, they felt like there was something wrong with Jagoan's head for him to say something like that. However, it seemed that there had never been anything wrong with him, he remembered everything he said and done.

Everyone suddenly felt comical. However, it was not because of Jagoan, but themselves as many of them had laughed at Jagoan for being ignorant.

They even said he was crazy, and that everything he did was absurd. They practically insulted Jagoan so much that it was as if Jagoan was not worth anything at all.

Looking back, everything they did made them seem like complete clowns. They had clearly been the ignorant ones, but they were mocking Jagoan instead.

The crowd was strangely quiet, and no one even dared to discuss anything.

Rowan's breathing got heavier and heavier as he stepped back, even backing into the barrier. At that moment, he suddenly slammed his hand into his head. At the same time, the barrier disappeared, and everything was calm again.

Jagoan suddenly laughed, "He really was a hot-headed idiot... He's just good at throwing his temper around, and he actually forgot that the barrier would go away..."

Everything that had happened just now had been in ten seconds. In the end, Jagoan's various actions had completely shattered Rowan's mentality, causing Rowan to kill himself.

Jagoan's words were like a reminder for everyone.

That was true!

They had been too shocked to even remember that the barrier would go away. The moment the barrier disappeared, then the array would shut down, and the stage would be a restricted area again.

Jagoan would not even dare to attack even if he wanted to. No one would be able to do anything.

At that moment, everyone finally understood how scary Jagoan was!

Quite a few people were terrified of Jagoan.