No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3821-Even though the silver armored fighter was not actually human, it was still made of energy.

The coldness did a lot to stop true energy, so the movements of the armored fighter were slowly restricted. It was as if three heavy weights were tied to its limbs!

Looney took a deep breath, "Explode!"

The moment he said that the sound of an explosion came from the center of the blizzard.

Countless ice shards exploded, and the silver armored fighter was suddenly riddled with wounds. Its wounds let out a light, and countless spots of light covered up the silver-armored fighter.

The array in the middle of the room activated, and the silver armored fighter reverted to pure energy and was absorbed by the array.

A rumbling was heard as the mechanism was activated. Even if he did not turn around, he knew that the door was opened again. He had successfully challenged the third room!

Looney let out a long breath as his expression slowly mellowed up again.

Earlier, he had been incredibly tense. Even though he was confident in his own skills, the silver armored fighter's skills still caught him off guard. He had overestimated himself and underestimated the fighter.

Regardless, he had still succeeded in the end! Looney took a few deep breaths before he managed to compose himself. Then, he walked over to the energy crystal in the middle of the room.

He raised his dagger and destroyed the energy crystal like before. There were still two more rooms!

The challenges would get harder and harder, but they were still within acceptable levels.

After doing all of that, he calmly turned around and walked to the corridor.

At that moment, the two other warriors were challenging the same room in their isolated spaces.

Zelter frowned seeing at the scene in front of him.

His whole body was surrounded by flames. The silver armored warrior was stronger than he had expected.

Zelter slashed forward, and their swords clashed in the air. A sharp aura slashed the space around them as the force caused both of them to take a step back!

He could not let it drag on like that. He had already seen what he needed to.

Zelter raised an eyebrow, "It's time to end this!"

The moment he said that, a sharp cry of a bird filled the whole room.

A flaming phoenix suddenly appeared in the air. That phoenix started to fly around Zelter, and countless balls of fire descended from the air. Those balls of fire looked like spirits in the darkness, constantly moving around him.

Zelter took a deep breath. He was surrounded by flames as if he was born from it.

He held his sword with both hands as he slashed right down at the silver-armored fighter's head.

That phoenix descended with Zelter's sword as well, going right at the armored fighter.

Everyone saw the silver armored fighter being surrounded by flames. It was so hot even the space around him was distorted.

Right after that, there was an explosion, and the silver armored fighter exploded into spots of light. The array in the middle of the room activated, and absorbed the light again!

Zelter took a deep breath as he wiped away his sweat.

He finally dealt with that troublesome guy! He had fought against the silver armored fighter for so long because he was trying to test out the armored fighter's strength and see how much he needed to do to deal with it.

Thankfully, everything was within his control. It did not exceed what he expected.

In the third space, Wilde had managed to deal with the armored fighter with a punch to the chest after five minutes as well, dealing a fatal blow.

After that, the fighter was absorbed by the array, and all three challengers managed to get through the third room.

Jagoan calmly looked at everything, not showing much emotion.

Jagoan glanced at Jagoan. Rarely did he ever see the other party show any emotion. Things that shocked him seemed like nothing in Jagoan's eyes as Jagoan would never get excited.

Jagoan pursed his lips, suddenly wanting to curse. Jagoan really did not seem like he had any emotion at all.

Was he not capable of even happiness or anger?

Jagoan would definitely participate. That was without a doubt. After all, the tremendous rewards were plain for all to see even Jagoan would be tempted.

With Jagoan's skills, the black iron difficulty would be incredibly easy.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3822

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3822-However, it was obvious that there was no way Jagoan would choose the black iron rank difficulty.

He would definitely choose the bronze or even the gold rank. After all, he had already seen how ambitious Jagoan was in the Seven Deaths Array. Jagoan had the skills to feed that ambition.

At that, Jagoan could not help but sigh again.

It really was frustrating comparing himself to others. He was not even a weed on the side of the road compared to Jagoan. That would probably be the case for his entire life.

Just as he was lamenting the fact, sounds of an argument were heard again.

He looked to see that troublemaking bearded man fighting against the squinty-eyed man again.

Both of them had furious looks on their faces, looking like their anger was already completely ignited. Neither of them allowed the other to get a word in as they argued without stopping.

The bearded man's words were still reverberating in the squinty-eyed man's ears.

At the time, the battle had yet to end, and it was constantly changing, so he was forced to put his thoughts on the scroll. With Looney's battle already having ended, he could not let that guy go!

The squinty-eyed man said coldly, "Open your eyes and take a look! Think about all that crap you said just now! Are you embarrassed yet? Trash like you should just shut up and stand by the side. Do you think you're amazing just because you insist on acting like you can analyze everything?"

"You said that Looney won't be able to win and that he doesn't even have the skills to be in the top fifty! You said he'd be killed by the silver armored fighter! Only someone as brainless as you would believe any of that!"

The more the squinty-eyed man spoke, the angrier he got.

That brainless piece of trash had seemed so full of himself just now when he said all that crap. The more he spoke, the more he felt like he was right.

When others did not agree, he said that others just refused to recognize the truth.

That guy should count himself lucky he was in a restricted area at that moment. Otherwise, the squinty-eyed man would make sure the guy paid for his words!

The bearded man scoffed as he touched his beard. His eyes were full of disdain. It was obvious he was very unhappy.

The bearded man looked at the squinty-eyed man coldly, "What are you saying? Has he already won? This was just a small challenge, do you need to be so happy about it? He did kill the silver armored fighter. Everyone saw that. However, he already spent all his power to do that."

"This is only the first difficult challenge he faced. Don't forget, the golden armored fighter is in the last room. He needed so much just to deal with one silver armored fighter. How could he beat the golden armored fighter? My analysis was not wrong, you're just trying to put words into my mouth!"

The squinty-eyed man's lips twitched. He was so angry his face turned red.

He had thought that this result would have been enough to shut that idiot up, but the bearded man remained stubborn. He still constantly mocked Looney. It was as if he was announcing that Looney would die inside.

He turned to face the bearded man.

Anyone could see that the squinty-eyed man was furious. There was no way the two of them could resolve their conflict!

The squinty-eyed man clenched his teeth and said, "Dog, remember this! From now on, you're an enemy of the Scarlet Dawn Clan!"

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3823

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3823-The bearded man laughed nonchalantly.

He had never heard of the Scarlet Dawn Clan before and did not even know what world that squinty-eyed man was from.

The bearded man was just an absolutely stubborn mule that did not care about the consequences of his actions as long as he had a good time. He did not change at all after hearing that threat.

"You're threatening me now? Can you be more reasonable? Are we not allowed to speak now? We get threatened by you just for speaking the truth?"

You sure are something else! Even the warriors of Star Continent would lose out to you. At least they won't stop others from speaking the truth!"

The squinty-eyed man was absolutely furious.

That bearded man's ability to twist the truth really was top-notch.

The bearded man had clearly been the one trying to cause trouble, but now they were painted as the tyrannical ones. Everyone felt speechless when they heard the bearded man's words.

All of them had seen what happened earlier, and quite a few of them lamented that the bearded man really was a rare gem. He did not realize how he had been clearly challenging the squinty-eyed man the whole time.

How could anyone bear with their fellow disciple being cursed to die?

When he said that, he even acted like he was definitely speaking the truth! Even Jagoan could not take it anymore, feeling like there was something wrong with that bearded man's head. Even if someone was stubborn, they would usually not try to forcibly twist the truth like that.

When he did so, he even looked like he was wronged.

Jagoan pursed his lips and said, "This guy really is a brat, even more so than the warriors from Star Continent! At the very least, the warriors from Star Continent aren't so stupid."

Jagoan glanced at Jagoan and said calmly, "You're wrong... The warriors from Star Continent are so much worse. Even if this guy's words are very harsh, he doesn't force anyone else to do anything. He just likes to talk and think whatever he says is right. However, the warriors from Star Continent impose themselves on others. In terms of that, the warriors from Star Continent are so much more shameless and despicable."

Hearing this, Jagoan raised an eyebrow.

That sounded right. The bearded man might twist the truth with his words and sound like a complete joke, it was just because there was something wrong with his head.

He felt like he was right, which is why he did that. The warriors from Star Continent might not speak as he did, but their actions were much worse. They deliberately pushed others down.

When it came to the two, Jagoan suddenly felt like the bearded man was much better. Probably because Jagoan was already used to going against Star Continent, he had not lowered his voice when he said all of that.

Nalym happened to walk past and heard all of that. He had just been walking over to see what the commotion was about, and Jagoan happened to be close to the bearded man. So, he heard Jagoan's words when he walked past.

Nalym widened his eyes!

That guy was actually calling the warriors from Star Continent shameless and despicable.

How dare he!

Nalym narrowed his eyes and said coldly, "How dare you?! You dare to insult Star Continent?! Are you sick of being alive?"

Nalym had just been yelled at by everyone just now, and he was feeling incredibly frustrated.

The moment he heard Jagoan's words, it was like a bomb had been ignited inside of him!

Jagoan's lips twitched helplessly. He had seen Nalym's argument with everyone else just now. He clearly remembered the man's voice, so he did not even need to turn around to know who it was.

Jagoan let out a sigh as he almost laughed. The warriors from Star Continent would definitely try to get revenge on him. That was already a fact, but Jagoan could calmly accept it.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3824

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3824-However, all those troublesome things were secondary to his primary objectives.

Before he fought them, he needed to complete the challenges in Violet City.

To prevent any unnecessary trouble, Jagoan had changed his looks. Yet, even though he tried to avoid it, he still ended up in conflict with the Star Continent.

Nalym exploded again when he heard Jagoan laugh.

How dare that guy laugh?

How dare he?!

Nalym quickly decided that he would teach that guy a lesson. Otherwise, everyone would start challenging Star Continent's authority.

Jagoan had already slapped Star Continent in the face before this, and they had become a joke.

At this point, it was one thing for others to mock Star Continent, but the man actually laughed when Nalym admonished him.

The man clearly did not think much of Star Continent at all. It was an insult to Star Continent's honor.

Those thoughts surfaced in his head, and Nalym had put a death sentence on that man's head. He rushed over to Jagoan and glared at Jagoan angrily. He looked like he wanted to rip Jagoan apart.

Jagoan's expression was completely calm. He had composed himself as he looked at Nalym coldly.

Nalym took a deep breath before he pointed at Jagoan, "Brat! Who gave you the guts to mock Star Continent like that? Are you suicidal?! When others challenged Star Continent before this, we would normally not be too harsh. We'd just chase them out and be done with it, but you dared to insult our honor! I announce that you're going to die!"

Nalym raised his voice when he said that so everyone could hear it. He needed to win back Star Continent's honor!

Jagoan raised an eyebrow, "Don't put yourself up on such a high pedestal. Who do you think you are? So what if you're from Star Continent? Don't think you're invincible just because you're from that place, and that you can do whatever you want!"

Nalym's face started to redden quickly.

He had thought that the man would definitely shrink when he sentenced the man to death, but the man had actually completely ignored his threats and even mocked him. Nalym was absolutely furious.

He would not let that guy go!

Nalym shouted out, "How dare..."

Before he could finish, Jagoan interrupted him, "Can you shut up? You just turned up, and you're already so annoying. You never stop talking about the Star Continent. It's just disgusting. If Star Continent accomplished anything amazing, I'd be happy to listen. However, all you do is bully the weak. You don't even have the guts to challenge the strong. What's there to be proud about?"

Those words almost choked Nalym to death.

The warriors around them all widened their eyes, and some of them even clapped.

Jagoan's words resonated with what all of them thought. Star Continent was not some respectable existence in their eyes. It was just that no one wanted any conflict with them.

Just like Jagoan said, the warriors from Star Continent only bullied the weak. They never dared to go against anyone strong and never dared to act too rashly against them. They only threw their might around those warriors with no power or background.

Nalym clenched his teeth angrily, and his eyes widened so much they threatened to pop out of their sockets.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3825-If looks could kill, Jagoan would already be dead a few thousand times over.

Jagoan raised an eyebrow and said, "You can continue to threaten me, but I'd advise you to shut up. Your threats are nothing to my ears. Otherwise, let's see who gets more frustrated arguing here."

Nalym's lips shook. He suddenly found himself unable to say anything. He was already used to threatening others, and it always worked out for him. Anyone who dared to cause him trouble or dared to disrespect him would usually shut up in fear after hearing his threats. Otherwise, they would apologize and start to hide.

No one has ever acted so nonchalantly like this, and the man even got worse. He did not seem to care about Star Continent at all.

Nalym clenched his teeth as he glared at the man in front of him. He looked like he wanted to skin Jagoan alive.

In truth, Nalym was a bit afraid as well.

If this guy did not bother with Star Continent at all, then could he be someone he could not afford to offend?

Thinking about that, Nalym looked at Jagoan seriously and noticed that Jagoan's attire was quite ordinary, and he did not have the marks of a second-grade world warrior either.

It proved that, unless the man was deliberately hiding his identity, he was a warrior from a third-grade world. Third-grade worlds were trash in Nalym's eyes. Only a few of their warriors were worth any notice, so he was not afraid of them at all.

If that man was just a warrior from a third-grade world and dared to go against him like this, then that man was probably just as crazy as the bearded man just now. It was simple then, it was easy to deal with people like that.

However, if that was not the case, and the man did all of that because he had the background and the skills, possibly being the chosen disciple of some major clan, then it would be problematic!

If he was Jagoan, he would not be afraid and he could do whatever he wanted to, but he was not.

He was only so arrogant because he had his brother, Nymm, who had the favor of Jagoan. However, he could not just offend anyone either.

If he offended someone he could not afford to, then he would be done for. Furthermore, this guy did not seem to care about his threats at all.

If they continued to argue, Nalym would just look like a joke. He clenched his teeth and pushed back the anger in his heart. He would not argue anymore. He decided to find out who that man was.

If that man was just an idiot, then he would not let that man off!

Their argument had not affected the bearded man and the squinty-eyed man's argument at all.

The bearded man had already rushed over.

His fellow disciple tried so hard to stop him, but he completely ignored it, even calling the man to shut up. He really wanted to fight the squinty-eyed man.

The squinty-eyed man was quite furious, so he looked at the bearded man with clenched teeth. The atmosphere was tense between the two of them. If not for the restrictions, the two of them would have started fighting on the spot. No matter how rowdy the spectator stands got, it did not affect the challenges in the isolated space at all.

At that moment, the three challengers were sitting down and composing themselves.

Before the third room, they had never faced the silver armored fighters before, even if they had seen others do so. They were not very confident, but after facing one, they were much more composed.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3826

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3826-Knowing how difficult their next step would be, the three of them sat down to rest at the same time.

Meanwhile, the spectators outside grew rowdy as they looked on with great interest, and they talked about who would survive all the challenges and kill the golden-armored fighter.

The bearded man and the squinty-eyed man continued to argue intensely, and at one point, the argument escalated to the point they looked like they wanted to rip each other apart. The squinty-eyed man's face was red with his anger.

Jagoan looked on curiously, and he felt like waiting was no longer that boring.

Seeing this, Jagoan sighed helplessly.

Compared to those who were just watching the commotion, he was more interested in a quiet environment. All this bickering only annoyed him. Furthermore, the two of them did not need to argue at all.

They just needed to wait patiently for the result to see the truth, yet the two of them were clearly letting their frustrations get to them. They seemed like they would rather beat the other party with their words.

Their argument gained everyone's attention as both men did not even bother looking at the images on the scroll.

Jagoan raised an eyebrow and said, "Even though this bearded man is a stubborn idiot who's harsh with his words, you have to admit that some of the things he's saying make sense. It's just that there's no real way to see who'll win the argument right now."

Jagoan and Jagoan watched on with interest and even started to evaluate their arguments.

Jagoan frowned and said coldly, "Those two are just throwing a tantrum, not a single one cares who makes more sense. They just needed to quietly wait for the result to show who was right, but they don't care about that anymore. They just want to argue and fight, which is a complete waste of time."

Jagoan was exasperated by their fight.

All the seats were full, and the area was full of people as well. He would have needed to squeeze through the crowd if he wanted to leave, so he was forced to patiently watch the match as the two of them constantly argued.

After 15 minutes, fortunately, the two of them finally stopped.

It was not because they were finally done arguing but because Zelter was shown to have walked into the second room.

At the same time, Looney was back to his best state as well. The two of them stepped into the second room almost simultaneously.

The second room had a silver-armored fighter and a steel-armored fighter. They would need to deal with both of them to destroy the energy crystal.

Jagoan raised an eyebrow. In truth, the black iron difficulty was quite simple. It was not two silver-armored fighters in the second room but a silver and a steel one.

The second room was not that much harder than the first. As long as the challengers were careful, they would surely succeed.

Just like Jagoan thought, the three challengers did not take that long to complete their challenges.

The three of them walked into the corridor before they started to recuperate again.

This time, they were about to face the greatest challenge in the Killing Hall. The golden-armored fighter was much stronger than the silver-armored fighter, and the three of them needed to make sure they were at their best.

At that moment, the three of them had serious looks on their faces as they were evidently guarded. In any normal situation, the three challengers would have waited five to ten minutes on the last corridor. Not only did they need to recover their true energy, but they needed to make sure they were in the best state of mind and have any trace of fear within them eliminated.

When fighting, a person's mentality was vital as well. If one's heart was seized by fear, it would be very easy to make mistakes out of nervousness.

They tried to compose themselves so they would not make any mistakes.

After just three minutes, someone suddenly shouted, "Widde is pressing the button!"

The moment that was said, everyone went silent as all of them looked at the scroll again.

Widde had been the slowest one to complete every challenge.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3827

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3827-Furthermore, there had been nothing special about the moves he had been using at all.

In every challenge, he seemed to be using all his might. In particular, he spent twice as much time as everyone else in the third room before he killed the silver-armored fighter. In the end, he sustained a few mild injuries before he destroyed the energy crystal while panting.

After seeing that, everyone was certain that Widde was the weakest warrior out of the three challengers. It was even possible that he would not be able to kill the golden-armored fighter and would instead perish in the fight.

Everyone grew disinterested in Widde, and some even ignored him. Yet, he was actually the first one to be ready.

The last room needed all three of them to press the button before it would open.

The betting was on who would be the first to kill the golden-armored fighter after it was opened.

Those warriors that placed their bets on Widde regretted their choices, believing they had made a mistake and that they would never be able to regain the spirit crystals they had bet. It would be an accomplishment for Widde to walk out alive, let alone be the first to kill the golden-armored fighter.

Angry complaints started to be heard.

“I shouldn’t have placed my bets on Widde. That guy looked like he was using everything he had even in the third room. He didn’t look like he was in good condition in the second room, either. He’s the weakest among the three challengers there. Heck, he’ll probably be killed by the golden-armored fighter.”

It was highly likely. Some of the warriors that placed their bets on Widde were deeply regretting their choices. He was in the worst condition out of the three of them. Even if he was the first person to get ready, not a single person felt like he could kill the golden-armored fighter the fastest.

When the final moment was about to start, the spectator stands were clamorous.

Jagoan frowned. When the betting had been open, about 80% of the warriors there had taken part in the betting, so all of them were naturally anxious at the final moments. After all, this concerned their profits.

There were those who were anxious and even those who were praying. There were even those that were cursing loudly. The noise was like thousands of flies buzzing around.

Jagoan frowned in frustration, but there was nothing he could do.

Jagoan looked at Jagoan and asked curiously, "Jagoan, who do you think will be the first to kill the golden-armored fighter?"

Jagoan raised an eyebrow and thought about it for a moment before he shook his head, saying seriously, "I can't tell. The three of them have been holding back. It's not easy to say who's stronger."

Even Jagoan could not tell what would happen, let alone himself.

Jagoan sighed and decided against making quick judgments.

They waited until the final battle commenced when all three of them pressed the button after five minutes.

In the last room, the mechanisms clicked as the inside of the room was revealed to the three challengers. The last room was very large, twice the size of the rooms before this.

The golden-armored fighter stood in the middle. Its calm gaze coldly looked at the challengers. It had a golden sword in hand, its posture straight. Golden armor covered its whole body, and just looking at it made one feel pressured.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3828

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3828-The three of them were focused as they walked into the room.

When Looney, Widde, and Zelter entered, the mechanism activated again, and the door was shut behind them. Unless one party died, the door would not open again.

Jagoan looked at Looney, being interested in him the most among the three challengers. It was not because he felt like Looney was very strong but because long-range warriors were hard to come by.

All of his opponents had been close-range warriors.

Choosing a technique to learn required a lot of thought, and most warriors would never choose long-ranged techniques. It was obvious that warriors focused on long-ranged techniques would always need to be on alert, and they needed to always be wary on the battlefield.

Of course, the benefits were obvious as well.

Long-ranged attacks were indisputably more powerful. Many warriors felt like long ranged attacks could safeguard their lives in crucial moments. After all, close-ranged attacks were typically swift and precise, while long-ranged attacks covered a large area, even though they were comparatively slower.

If they were slow enough, a long-ranged attacker could die the moment an opponent got close enough, hence the need to always be on guard. Even if their opponents were weak, they had to maintain a certain distance.

At that moment, Looney was doing the same as before. He entered the room before he steadied himself, pulling away from the golden-armored fighter as he took a deep breath, looking at the fighter's cold eyes.

There was no reason to drag this on, things would unfold the way it was intended.

He had a bright future, and he could not allow himself to die there. Even though he was very confident in his skills, things could always take an unexpected turn.

Looney quickly flipped through some seals, and the blue seals started to condense in the air.

A chilling wind started to rise from the air, rushing toward the golden-armored fighter.

There was a cold glint in the fighter's eyes as it suddenly shot forward, swinging its sword that contained immense power.

The howling wind crashed onto the fighter's body like a tidal wave, and the golden-armored warrior was covered in the blizzard. Countless shards of ice glowed in a blue light.

The spectators were astounded by the sight. This same blizzard defeated the silver-armored fighter in his previous fight!

All of a sudden, everyone heard a sharp sound as a golden slash split the blizzard. The sharp aura did not dissipate for a long time.

The blizzard amalgamated once more as it slowly consumed the golden-armored fighter. However, the slash was just too sharp, and the blizzard was dispersed every time it tried to freeze the fighter.

The golden-armored fighter narrowed its eyes, and it shot forward at Looney again. Looney immediately activated his silver crystal anxiously at the sight.

A blue cyclone formed beneath his feet, lifting him before speeding away, but the golden-armored fighter continued its pursuit.

The fighter chased after Looney, and after a few moments, Looney was shocked to notice that the distance between had been cut in half!

The golden-armored fighter was just too quick, so much so that Looney was caught off-guard. If that continued, he would be within 20 meters of the golden-armored fighter before too long, and the situation would be dire.

Many warriors watching the scene started to feel nervous for Looney.

That was the sad thing about being a long-ranged attacker. The moment their opponents closed in the distance, they would find themselves becoming sitting ducks.

The golden-armored fighter was much stronger than a regular warrior as well. The moment it closed in, Looney would not be able to survive, guaranteed.

At that moment, the squinty-eyed man was in no mood to argue with the bearded man. His heart was beating rapidly as he started to pray for Looney. Even though he was confident in Looney, he was still worried something unexpected could happen.

Looney would never allow the golden-armored fighter to chase him. Otherwise, his life would be in danger. He gritted his teeth and started to form seals. The faint blue lights started to circle him rapidly.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3829

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3829-Three gigantic walls appeared in the skies as Looney frantically retreated. He formed seal after seal, and he clapped his hands. The three walls merged into one, and everyone heard a crack as the ice wall separated the two figures.

This, however, did not elicit any reaction from his opponent as it quickly pulled out its sword and swung toward the wall.

With the golden glow of the sword, the golden-armored fighter easily shattered the ice wall into pieces.

Everyone watching the scene was shocked by the sight.

They remembered how the silver-armored fighter had struggled with the ice wall. The ice wall recovered so quickly that the silver-armored fighter was not even able to pull out its weapon. Its combat ability weakened greatly as the ice shards got to it.

This was not the case with the golden-armored fighter as it easily shattered the three ice walls. The wall only impeded the golden-armored fighter for a second!

“He’s done for now! Looney’s using the strange strategy as before. He knows that the ice wall can’t stop the golden-armored fighter, but he just used it as an obstacle so he could catch his breath and pull even further away...”

“The ice wall that could trap the silver-armored fighter was as fragile as paper against the golden-armored fighter. It only managed to stop the fighter for a moment! Looney could barely go any further!”

“He can’t put out an unending stream of ice walls. After all, his energy is limited. The fighter will catch up to him before too long, and when that happens, he’s done. That’s the problem with long-ranged attackers,” remarked a warrior from a second-grade world with a frown.

The others nodded at what he said.

If Looney did not have anything stronger, only death awaited him. The golden-armored fighter was not to be underestimated.

Whether it was in terms of speed or power, it was more than twice as strong as the silver-armored fighter. Something that was able to trap the silver-armored fighter was useless against the golden-armored fighter!

Even Jagoan could not hold back from saying something.

“If this continues, Looney will die. He’s in a worse situation than the other two. The other two can still fight back after being pursued, but Looney can’t. The moment he gets closed in on, he’ll die! Why did a long-ranged fighter like him want to challenge the Killing Hall?! Isn’t it just suicide?”

Jagoan frowned. “We still don’t know what’s going to happen. He’s not dead yet, and you’re already acting like he is. Why are you being as stupid as that bearded man?”

Hearing Jagoan’s words, Jagoan was instantly provoked. He wanted to fight back when an angry shout was heard from the scroll.

The three of them looked over to see Looney’s veins becoming visible through his skin.

His hands constantly moved as he formed seals at a quicker pace. Even afterimages of his hands could be seen.

Countless seals started to form cyclones in the air. The silver crystal let out an intense light. The light was so bright that everyone started to lose sight of Looney as a mountain of ice appeared behind him.

The mountain of ice glowed in a blue light, and the laws of ice flowed around it.

Someone said loudly, “Is that Looney’s world avatar?! Oh, he’s talented, alright!”

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3830

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3830-To form a world avatar, one needed to be massively gifted.

Most of the warriors there were not incredibly talented and were not that compatible with the laws of the world. Those warriors wanted to enter Cloud Valley so badly but were not capable of it. They were not able to pass either test.

In truth, they knew that even if they entered Cloud Valley, they might not even be able to form a world avatar. Every time these people saw someone using a world avatar, jealousy would cloud their minds.

After all, world avatars were a sort of proof of talent for warriors, like wearing silk robes among commoners. They would look immensely nobler.

Looney was at his wits' end, and it would be bad for him if the situation continued in this route.

He needed to kill the golden-armored fighter as soon as possible. Even if he could not kill it, he needed to heavily injure it to stay alive.

In the other space, Zelter was doing everything he could as well. Three gigantic flaming beasts were dancing in the air, surrounded in flames, as they spun around Zelter.

Zelter let out an angry roar before a fire cloud rose behind him. That was his world avatar, and everyone was shocked to see it.

Truly, warriors that stood high in the rankings would mostly have formed world avatars. They were far above regular warriors.

At that moment, some among the spectators were envious. In the end, it felt horrible comparing themselves to others.

When they matched themselves up against warriors on the stronger side, they felt like they were just dirt.

Right at that moment, a massive explosion came from the third scroll, attracting everyone's gaze.

"What just happened?! Did Widde just defeat the golden-armored fighter?!" exclaimed someone among the crowd, his eyes widening in shock.

Those words caused everyone to shake.

Suddenly, they felt like he was saying something absurd. Nonetheless, they quickly pushed that thought aside.

In the third isolated space, Widde was clutching his chest, but his back was straight as he panted. The golden-armored fighter in front of him had already turned into light and was absorbed by the array.

It was obvious what that represented. When everyone saw what happened, their jaws slackened in shock.

The spectator stands fell into complete silence.

Everyone had been focused on the first two scrolls earlier.

Looney and Zelter's skills had been too interesting. On top of that, Widde had not done anything special the whole time.

Most of the warriors there felt like it was a reach for Widde to even kill the golden-armored fighter, let alone be the first one to do so. However, no matter how much they talked about it, it did nothing to change the truth, and the truth smacked especially the skeptics in the face.

Those who said that Widde would die during the challenge all fell silent. Not only had he survived, but he was the first one to kill the golden-armored fighter.

He seemed like he was injured, but he could still stand up straight, which meant the injuries were not fatal.

"How did he do that? I was so focused on Zelter and Looney that I wasn't paying attention to Widde at all. He seemed like he was already struggling to even kill the silver-armored fighters. It looked like he was reaching the limits of his power in the second and third rooms! How did he suddenly..."
