

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3841

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3841-After Nalym laughed for a long time, he finally stopped.

His face was full of excitement and mockery, "I wish the bets were already open. I really want to bet on which room this guy will die in!"

Nalym's words definitely triggered some discussion in the crowd.

Everyone was curious as to which room Jagoan would die in as well.

Could he be killed the moment he entered the seventh room?

At that moment, the caretaker's voice was heard again, "The gold difficulty is different from the bronze difficulty. The power level of the three fighters is the same as the ones from the black iron difficulty."

The bronze difficulty increased the power of all three fighters.

Everyone had thought that the gold difficulty would be more or less the same. All three fighters would just become stronger than the bronze difficulty. Yet, it was completely different from what they expected.

The gold difficulty fighters were at the same level of strength as the black iron difficulty, it was just that there was a different number of fighters in each room!

However, that was fine. After all, they had witnessed so many challenges that they already had an estimate of how strong each of the fighters was at the black iron difficulty.

It would be easier for them to understand how hard the gold difficulty was.

A warrior from a second-grade world said, "That's more like it. If it's just like the bronze difficulty, then it would not be nearly as interesting. After all, this is the first time anyone has ever challenged the gold difficulty. We won't be able to tell how strong the three fighters are just from this guy alone."

The others nodded as well. It was just like he said.

If the power level of the fighters in the gold difficulty was the same as the black iron difficulty, then it would be easier for them to see how hard the challenge was.

Crash laughed as he turned to look at Jagoan and said, "Are you afraid?"

Hearing this, Jagoan raised an eyebrow in a speechless manner, answering coldly without turning around, "Can you just shut up? Why do you care if I'm afraid or not?"

Crash's face reddened in anger.

No matter how calm he was, he could not remain cool at that.

That guy's words were just too harsh. If they were not in a restricted area and he was not worried about being turned to ash, he would have grabbed that guy's throat and slapped him a few times to wake him up!

Crash clenched his teeth before he turned around, no longer wanting to continue arguing with Jagoan.

Jagoan felt the atmosphere around them and said in a low voice, "Have you noticed that Jagoan causes waves every time he does something? In truth, Jagoan doesn't want to make a scene... It's just that these warriors who don't know what's going on keep on causing trouble."

Jagoan glanced at Jagoan, "If you didn't know Jagoan, you might have been even worse than them."

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3842

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3842-He was just about to say something when he thought about it and realized that Jagoan was right. If he did not know anything about Jagoan, he would definitely be utterly shocked by Jagoan's actions like most of the other warriors there.

He would feel that Jagoan was just a completely crazy person looking for attention.

The caretaker did not delay things for a moment because of the shock and all the discussions there.

After everything was done, the betting area was opened up.

This time, the betting area's rules had changed because of Jagoan. They no longer betted on who would be able to kill the golden armored fighter the quickest, but whether or not Jagoan would win.

The odds for both outcomes were one to two, and the odds would change based on the bets. The spectator stands were once again in an uproar. Ninety percent of the warriors there started to charge toward the betting area the moment it opened.

Everyone was fighting for the chance to place their bets. After all, the odds would change based on the number of bets.

If they were too late, the odds would drop too much, and they would lose out quite a bit even if they placed their bets. If they weren't worried about the restrictions, they would have started fighting each other.

Everyone wanted to be in front.

Looking at how everyone was fighting over the bet, Crash turned to look at Jagoan again.

He saw Jagoan calmly looking forward, quietly observing everyone rushing to the betting area. Unless Jagoan was really sick in the head, there was no way Jagoan would be so calm at the sight.

To Crash, the calmness must be an act.

Crash pursed his lips and could not help but say, "You're quite good at acting. Just look at everyone fighting to place a bet. Could you be thinking that they're trying to bet on you?"

Jagoan raised an eyebrow, ignoring Crash's words.

Crash was once again annoyed when he saw that Jagoan was ignoring him.

He did not care as he continued to ask, "Don't think that we can't tell what's going on just because you're avoiding the topic. I'm really curious as to why you're doing this. Are you really that suicidal?"

Jagoan raised an eyebrow, “No matter what I say, you’ll just make your own assumptions anyway. The challenge is about to start, why don’t you just watch?”

Crash’s mouth stiffened. He suddenly found himself unable to say anything.

He had wanted to say that he would not be able to ask any more questions once the challenge started.

Lane would be cut apart, and only his corpse would be left.

What would there be left to see?

Crash pursed his lips, really wanting to voice that out. However, based on that guy’s temper, the guy would definitely make things even more difficult for him if he said that. Then, he would just be embarrassed and be made a joke for no reason.

With that in mind, he was forced to swallow his words. Monte stood by the side and watched the conflicted look on Crash’s expression. Even if Crash did not say anything, Monte still understood Crash’s thoughts at that moment.

He said with a cold smile, “You should stop trying to talk to a crazy guy. He thinks you’re annoying, so shouldn’t you shut up?”

Even though Monte was curious as to what Jagoan wanted to do as well, he was not someone who would be stubborn enough to keep asking questions.

Crash’s face reddened in anger, “Stop trying to be snide with me. Are you not curious as well? Once this guy goes in, you won’t be able to ask anymore.”

The betting area was bustling. Normally, only about sixty to seventy percent of the warriors would participate in the bets. Even though betting was something that stirred their spirits, they could not do it without any assurance. Normally, a lot of warriors would not participate in the betting.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3843

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3843-After all, they were not betting in small sums.

If they lost, then they would be left with nothing. Quite a few warriors had gone completely bankrupt from betting. With all those examples to look at, most warriors would maintain their reason.

However, this was a completely different situation. Ninety percent of the warriors were rushing to the betting area. There were even some who had bet their whole fortunes. The odds were rapidly dropping, and they watched as the odds dropped from 1:2 to 1:1.56.

In just a few moments, the odds dropped again, going from 1:1.56 to 1:1.43. Looking at the odds frantically dropping, quite a few warriors started to get anxious.

If it were not for the laws in place, they would have definitely pushed aside all the warriors in front of them and rushed to the front, betting everything they had.

“It’s dropping so quickly! It was just 1:1.43 before, and now it’s 1:1.39. If this continues, it’ll be nothing when it’s my turn,” A man in purple robes anxiously said as he looked at the odds.

Naturally, the side of Jagoan losing was the one that saw its odds drastically dropping.

Compared to how fast those odds were dropping, the odds of Jagoan winning had not moved at all. Ninety percent of the audience had gone to bet this time, and not a single person had bet on Jagoan winning.

The odds rapidly dwindled, but the crowd was still there even after a few minutes. Jagoan stood behind the crowd and sighed. He turned to look at Jagoan.

Jagoan was frowning at that moment. He grabbed Jagoan’s shirt with one hand as if he was worried that Jagoan would run away.

Jagoan said in exasperation, “Can you just let go? Didn’t we say we’d go together anyway? I won’t leave you alone.”

Jagoan was obviously not happy with the situation. After all, no one had ever bet on Jagoan winning the whole time.

The moment someone did, considering how much they were betting, it would cause quite a bit of a commotion. It would attract a lot of attention, and they would suddenly become the focus of everyone there.

It was an unavoidable situation, so Jagoan was already prepared. Even though he did not want to face that situation, he considered that Jagoan would definitely be angry if he left Jagoan alone.

Jagoan had not liked him from the start. Whether or not Jagoan would let him go in the end was already a big question, so no matter how unwilling he was, he still followed through.

Jagoan clearly did not trust Jagoan's character. No matter what Jagoan said, he grabbed onto Jagoan's shirt tightly, worried that Jagoan would leave him to face the crowd.

Time slowly ticked away.

After a few more minutes, it was finally their turn.

The two of them had a helpless look on their faces. Even though they had already mentally prepared for it, they still hesitated.

The two of them were stuck in their conflict and did not step forward.

The person behind them frowned and said unhappily, "Is there something wrong with you two? It's already your turn, so hurry up! If you're just going to stand here, then go away. Don't waste our time. I don't want to keep standing here!"

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3844

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3844-Jagoan had an angry look on his face as he glared at that person. However, he knew very well that they would definitely incite even more anger if they continued to remain standing there. They might even end up being cursed.

That would just attract even more attention. It was better to just get things done with.

He pulled Jagoan over to the table.

There were three areas in the betting area. Normally, the betting area was meant to see which of the three would kill the golden-armored fighter first, which was why.

There was a scroll above all the regions that showed the betting odds and details. However, this situation was different as only two areas were open.

The left side was to bet on Jagoan losing, while the right side was to bet on Jagoan winning.

Before the two of them, all of the warriors had gone to the left side. However, the two of them needed to go to the right.

As the two of them closed in on the right side, they started to attract a lot of attention.

“What are those two doing? Are they going to bet on Lane winning?”

“I guess there’ll always be those who want to bet on a miracle. If they manage to win, they’ll walk out with an unexpected windfall. Even though it’s possible to win in these situations sometimes, it’s obvious that it won’t be possible this time. There’s no way Lane will win. It’s more likely for the sky to fall.”

“This is just the thinking of the weak. They feel like they don’t want to go with the flow, and might actually win because of it. However, this is a sure thing. The two of them sure are idiots!”

The discussions got louder and louder, and the two of them felt their faces reddening. Even if they did not turn around to look, they could feel the intense gaze coming from everyone there.

The two of them suddenly respected Jagoan a lot more. Both of them were already in this state with all those looks they were getting, but Jagoan always received those looks everywhere.

Facing looks of mockery and laughter, there was no way anyone weak, willed would be able to handle it all. Yet, Jagoan was able to deal with everything so calmly, or rather he was completely unphased by it all.

It did not matter to him how everyone else saw him. No matter what he heard or saw, as long as no one crossed the line too much, Jagoan would completely ignore all of it.

The two of them were not able to do that at all. They steeled themselves mentally as they walked to the right area. The two of them looked at each other before putting in Jagoan's thirty pieces of purple gold without hesitation.

Right after that, they put in an extra piece. Half of that piece of purple gold belonged to Jagoan, while the other half belonged to Jagoan.

They had made a killing in the Capture Hall, so a piece of purple gold was already nothing to them. The two of them had already talked about it before they came over. They decided to put in five million spirit crystals each to total up to ten million, which was one piece of purple gold.

Thirty-one pieces of purple gold were in front of the caretaker, and the caretaker accepted them without any emotion, noting them down.

However, everyone else widened their eyes in surprise. No one could accept seeing those pieces of purple gold on the table.

Thirty-one pieces of purple gold were equal to three hundred and ten million spirit crystals.

What was that?

It would already be impressive if a hundred of them bet that amount. It meant that every one out of the hundred would need to give up three million.

Quite a few people were completely stunned.

What was the deal with those two?

Did they strike the lottery?

Were they chosen disciples from some famous clan?

Did they find some ancient grave?

Even so, there was still no reason for them to throw away so many spirit crystals!

They had bet it all on Lane winning. In the eyes of everyone there, it was equal to just throwing their spirit crystals away. It was even more unacceptable than throwing it into the sea. After all, one would at least be able to hear the gold dropping into the water.

After everything was done, the two of them did not even dare to turn around.

There was a complete buzz behind them as the focus of the discussions shifted from Jagoan to the two of them. They could clearly feel the looks they were getting. It was as if they would be ignited by those looks at any moment.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3845

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3845-The two of them shrunk back subconsciously, but they felt like it was unsightly.

They quickly straightened their backs. Initially, only the warriors nearby had been looking at them, but the news had quickly spread throughout the whole Killing Hall.

Practically everyone was looking over, and there was an uproar of discussions.

“Does anyone know the two of them? I don’t think I’ve ever seen them! It’s really strange. What’s going on today? I feel like all sorts of strange people are popping up...”

“I didn’t get a clear look! Just look at them, they aren’t even turning their heads around anymore. I didn’t notice them at all when they walked over earlier!”

It had to be said that the two of them shrinking back was the right choice.

After they placed their bets, they had not turned around at all. It meant that most of the curious warriors did not recognize their looks, and only saw their backs.

Both of them exchanged a look of determination. They decided at the same time that they would not turn their heads around no matter what. The others could say whatever they want to. No matter what, they would not turn around!

It was the only way to prevent any trouble. Even though the two of them were not very significant people, if anyone wanted to look into it, their identities might be exposed. It would be a lot of trouble if that happened. Hence, the two of them decided to quickly hide somewhere once the crowd’s attention was somewhere else!

Jagoan looked over at the two of them and nodded quietly.

The two of them were quite smart. They knew that not showing their faces was the right thing to do.

Time slowly ticked away and the betting area was finally closing. The transfer array beneath Jagoan's feet started to light up.

Looking at that scene, everyone started to get excited again. The challenge was about to commence.

Even though the results could very well be anticlimactic, and the guy might be ripped to shreds in the seventh room, they still wanted to learn something new no matter what. At the very least, they wanted to see how the gold difficulty was.

Monte pursed his lips as he turned to Jagoan and said, "I won't bother saying anything else... Good luck!"

That wish was dripping with sarcasm.

Jagoan's expression did not change at all as he acted like he did not hear it. However, Monte did not seem to mind. After all, Jagoan had acted in the same manner the whole time.

Light started to envelop Jagoan's body, and space distorted around him as the array activated.

After a few breaths, the light that surrounded him turned gold. The distorted space slowly stabilized. When his feet were on the ground, he started to look around at the isolated space.

Unlike the black iron difficulty, where the walls had been made of black stone, the space Jagoan was in was completely golden. Whether it was the walls or the ground, it was all golden.

Looking at the golden stones, they glinted with red runes.

Jagoan walked over to the seventh room, and everyone widened their eyes when they saw that.

"This guy really is something else. Even those warriors who are challenging the black iron difficulty will mostly stop to compose themselves before the seventh room. This guy is rushing straight over. I don't know if he's actually that brave or if he's just ignorant."

"He's clearly ignorant. If he had any sense, he would not have done something like that. Does he think the gold difficulty is child's play? He's rushing in just like that!"

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3846

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3846-The spectators felt like their eyes had been opened that day.

They had never seen someone like Jagoan. He did not care what anyone else thought and did things that were progressively more absurd.

They guessed that everything he was doing was just an act. Yet, Jagoan showed everyone through his actions that everything he said and did was not an act at all.

No one could see any hint of fear in Jagoan. Even the other two participants were looking at Jagoan speechlessly.

They did not know what to say at that moment. Jagoan seemed to be breaking everyone's expectations constantly.

Crash's lips twitched as he said, "Is this guy really that confident in himself? If it's real, then I've never seen anyone so confident in my life. It's no longer just confidence at this point. He's just completely unhinged!"

Crash suddenly regretted not asking everything he wanted to.

He would no longer get the chance to. After entering the isolated space, unless the guy was able to succeed in the challenge, he would die inside.

There were no other possibilities. This guy would definitely die inside.

At that moment, Jagoan was actually not as calm as everyone saw. Even though he had not bothered with what anyone else was saying the whole time, he could tell that the gold difficulty was not to be underestimated.

In the Seven Deaths Array, he had firmly picked the gold difficulty as well. When he made that choice, he had actually not known how hard it would be.

He had been very confident in himself and felt like he would definitely be able to pass.

Yet, when he was going through the challenge, he had a moment of clarity. He had underestimated the gold difficulty. If he had not been careful enough, he would have completely failed.

Just thinking about that caused Jagoan to take a deep breath. He was on full alert. Even though he was confident in himself, he could not relax at all. He needed to face the gold difficulty in his best condition.

He walked toward the seventh room from the corridor. The room was completely pitch black, and he could not see anything.

Jagoan raised an eyebrow, immediately feeling something wrong. However, he was already at this step. There was no way he could have any room for regret.

Jagoan took a deep breath before he walked into the seventh room calmly.

When he entered the seventh room, the mechanisms started to rumble.

Jagoan turned around to look and noticed that the room had been completely sealed shut.

During the last matches, the rooms were only sealed off from the third room onward. Yet, this room was sealed right from the start.

When everyone saw that, they could not help but speak up.

“The room is sealed from the start. If I was the one there, just the pressure alone would start to make me panic. This guy looks so calm... I don't know if he's putting on an act or if he's just that composed!”

That person voiced out what many of them there were thinking.

Comparatively, the number of deaths in the Killing Hall was not that low. After all, every one of the challengers was already at a certain level. Otherwise, they would be concerned and worried about taking the challenge.

After all, they could die inside if they were not careful. It was not something to play around with. With the shadow of death looming, the changes would put a lot more pressure on anyone. Weak-willed warriors might even find themselves starting to panic. They would be severely affected. It could cause a chain reaction that would lead to their loss.

Everyone stared at Jagoan with widened eyes, but he had no emotion on his face at all.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3847

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3847-It was as if everything that had happened was completely insignificant.

His state caused quite a lot of curiosity. If they could, they really wanted to take Jagoan apart to see what was on Jagoan's mind. Unfortunately, that was not something they could do.

This time, there were not many discussions. After all, the scroll quickly revealed a scene that shut all of them up.

After the seventh room was closed off, the black mist completely dispersed. The challenge in the seventh room was revealed to Jagoan.

Everyone widened their eyes when they saw the sight.

Someone shouted out, "Oh my, it's five steel-armored fighters! Just the seventh room has five steel-armored fighters!"

The five steel-armored fighters lined up in a row, and all of them held back swords in their hands. There was a sharp aura around them as the five fighters stood up straight. They looked like willow trees that would never crumble, standing in front of Jagoan.

Just like the last time, as long as Jagoan did not attack, those fighters would stand by.

The moment Jagoan attacked, then the fight would not stop.

At that moment, the spectators were in another uproar. Five steel-armored fighters might not be anything compared to the golden-armored fighter, but it was just the seventh room!

The seventh room was the easiest challenge, but it was already at this level.

How hard would the other rooms be?

Monte took a deep breath as he looked at the scroll with a tense expression, “The gold difficulty sure doesn’t disappoint. Just the seventh room is already so hard. The black iron difficulty only has one steel-armored warrior in the seventh room, but the gold difficulty puts five in right away. Does that mean it’s five times harder?”

From the situation, it seemed like it really was five times harder. However, it was hard for him to tell before he saw the other rooms.

Thinking about that, he said in a regretful tone, “It’s just a pity that this will be the only room...”

That guy would definitely not be able to beat five steel-armored fighters. Crash had been right, the guy would die a horrible death.

Crash shook his head and said, “I should have asked him all my questions. This guy will die anyway. He can mock me all he wants. Now, I can’t ask him anything.”

Thinking about that, Crash sighed as he looked at Monte, “How long do you think this guy will last?”

After Monte thought about it, he said, “The moment the battle starts, this guy will probably not last ten seconds. Five steel-armored fighters attacking together isn’t something to play around with. Even the both of us would probably barely be able to pass...”

“There’s no way we’d be able to pass the sixth room either. Even if it’s not us and one of the warriors that stand at the peak, they’d probably struggle to get to the last room. The chances of them succeeding is probably less than forty percent.”

What Monte said was quite reasonable.

He could definitely manage five steel-armored fighters with some struggling. However, he would lose if there were any more.

Crash was the same. Even though the two of them had not fought at all, they had heard about each other’s skills.

After thinking about it, they felt like they were probably around equal in strength.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3848

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3848-Crash nodded, "More or less. Do you think we'll be able to see the regret on this guy's face?"

Crash had asked that because he really wanted to see how much that Lane person could keep up with his act.

He had clearly made such an unbelievable choice. That choice was clearly equal to suicide, but that guy never showed any emotion at all.

No matter what happened, he never showed any expression on his face. Even after entering the isolated space and facing the five steel-armored fighters, he still looked incredibly calm. It was as if it was not five steel-armored fighters in front of him, but a helpless child.

It was in complete contrast to the shock felt by everyone else.

Crash merely felt like Lane was just too good at acting. He was so good at acting that none of the spectators even knew what to think anymore.

The spectators finally found the time to discuss things.

A man with a goatee sneered and said, "I think this guy will probably not even last two seconds before he's killed. When he's dying, we'll finally be able to see what he really feels. I think we'll just be full of regret at that point."

After that person said that, the bearded man that had quarreled with the squinty-eyed man before suddenly said, "What are you talking about? Don't cast your judgment if you don't know. If this guy knows how to regret his actions, do you think he would do something so absurd? In our eyes, he's just suicidal for choosing the gold difficulty."

"Yet, this guy is acting so calm. I thought he could be acting as well, but I don't think you would still keep up the act if you're trying to die! So, I'm sure that this guy is just completely crazy. Even if he's killed, he won't regret it at all."

This time, the bearded man's thoughts gained the agreement of quite a lot of the people there.

Many of them thought the same as him and were sure that there was no way Jagoan was an ordinary person. No ordinary person would do something so absurd. It was just suicide.

If he was not crazy, there was no way he would do something like that. Since he was crazy, then there was no way he would feel any normal emotions.

The man with the goatee was quite angry at being admonished like that.

He wanted to fire back, but he could not figure out the words to say. After all, the bearded man's words made a lot of sense this time.

He could not figure out a way to refute him. He just glared at the bearded man viciously before he shut his mouth.

After Looney had gotten his rewards, he did not leave the Killing Hall immediately. He continued to watch the challenges with the squinty-eyed man.

The squinty-eyed man immediately told Looney about the conflict with the bearded man right after Looney exited. He told Looney all about what the bearded man did.

Looney was not someone willing to just accept things as it is. It was a world where the strong preyed over the weak, and everywhere was filled with conflict.

The fact that the bearded man had dared to curse him like that meant that he definitely needed to find a way to shoot back at the bearded man.

When he saw the bearded man earning everyone's approval, Looney said in an even tone, "You sure are blind. You seem to think like you're the only one who is allowed to have an opinion. You're saying that others are just making blind judgments? Others might be able to say that, but you definitely can't..."

"Before you say that, can you please clear your mind a little? Think about how you were blindly judging me too. You assured everyone that I would definitely fail the challenge and I would die inside. Why aren't you saying that anymore?"

The bearded man had been feeling very pleased with himself when Looney's words caused his expression to sour.

Suddenly, there were waves of laughter everywhere.

Looney's words were like a complete smack in the face.

The bearded man's face reddened in anger, but he found himself unable to say anything back.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3849

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3849-After all, that really had been his judgment of Looney, and he had made an enemy of the squinty-eyed man because of it. However, the bearded man was definitely not someone willing to admit defeat that easily.

He clenched his teeth and said coldly, "It's not like you can say that my judgment was wrong. My analysis was sound, it's just that you're slightly stronger than I thought. After all, I've never seen you fight before, and I can't say how strong you actually are. The judgment I made was completely reasonable!"

The bearded man was trying hard to find an excuse for himself.

Looney had a cold glint in his eyes, looking at the bearded man like he was looking at a dead man.

The squinty-eyed man could not stand it when he heard that, "Cut the crap! If the situation is different from what you said, you say you don't know how strong the other person was. You just keep on acting like you're so good at reading the situation. Even if the outcome isn't like you said, you're always the one with the most logic. You sure know how to come up with excuses for yourself!"

If the situation had allowed it, the squinty-eyed man would have rushed over to slap the bearded man.

The bearded man's lips twitched as he gulped and said, "It's not as bad as you say..."

Before he could even finish, there were exclamations everywhere. The crowd turned to see that Jagoan had already started his attack.

They were once again fixated on the scrolls, and the conflict was set aside.

At that moment, there were a hundred Soul Swords around Jagoan. The hundred Soul Swords were filled with the light of the soul attribute.

Jagoan merged the hundred soul Swords into a single massive one, and he lifted the gray sword in his hand.

With a wave, that Soul Sword started to hum and shake as it merged with the sword in his hand.

The energy frantically merged into the sword, and the sword started to hum.

Looking at the scene, all the warriors there seemed to take a deep breath at the same time. They had thought that Jagoan would stop for a moment. Yet, he had started to attack before too long.

He really was crazy!

They could not figure out what he was doing at all.

The five fighters immediately seemed to be triggered to move the moment Jagoan acted. They pulled out their swords at practically the same time, rushing at Jagoan.

The most shocking thing was that the steel-armored fighters were not just fighting at the same time, but even working together.

As they rushed forward, they slowly fanned out to surround Jagoan causing him to not have an avenue to retreat at all.

The crowd gasped in shock at that, "These five fighters actually know how to work together. It means that it's even harder. I thought that Lane would be able to take a few blows, but it looks like he won't even be able to last a single attack. He can't even run away."

He could already see how Jagoan would be cut apart. It would definitely be incredibly bloody, but he deserved it anyway. Jagoan had signed up for it.

If it was the black iron difficulty, that guy might have been able to get to the third or second room, but he had decided to just raise it to the highest difficulty.

Being killed in the seventh room was what he deserved!

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3850

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3850-Facing the five steel-armored fighters surrounding him, Jagoan's expression did not change.

He rushed to the left, arriving in front of the fighter that was closest to him. Even though the fighters had surrounded him, they were not the same distance away from him. That was a chance for Jagoan.

Looking at Jagoan rush over, the fighter did not hesitate to slash forward. The intense aura of its sword did not even cause as much as a frown on Jagoan.

Jagoan slashed out, and everyone heard a crack before the sword in the steel-armored fighter's hand was snapped in two by him.

A wave of gray energy immediately crawled into the steel-armored fighter's body through the sword. The wave of energy crawled up like crazed vines.

In just a moment, it enveloped the fighter's whole body. The wave of energy was like a rotting force, and the steel-armored fighter's armor started to crumble.

There was constantly black smoke coming out. The steel-armored fighter suddenly stopped moving when it was surrounded by that energy.

Right after that, the fighter started to turn into light, floating in the air before it was absorbed by the array.

After that was settled, Jagoan charged at the second fighter, quickly slashing out again. Just like the first one, its blade was snapped by him, and Destroying the void's energy started to surround the second steel-armored fighter.

In just a moment, the steel-armored fighter was completely swallowed up by the energy, exploding into small spots of light, and was absorbed by the array again.

Jagoan attacked incredibly quickly, and after just two seconds, all five of the steel-armored fighters had crumbled to him.

Everything had happened far too quickly, and the spectators all widened their eyes, unable to react at all. They even wondered if they were seeing an illusion.

They only reacted when the mechanism sounded again, and the seventh room's door was once again open!

"Hey, pinch me. Am I seeing things? Is this an illusion? That guy killed the steel-armored fighters with one slash each! It has to be a dream! Otherwise, why did something so strange happen," a man in red robes said with a hoarse voice.

His fellow disciple frowned, only saying after a long time, "Just look at everyone else. Everyone is thinking the same as you. You're not dreaming, this guy is just incredibly strong!"

As he said that, his voice was trembling. Everything that had happened just now played in his mind.

That Jagoan person was incredibly quick, and every one of his slashes killed a steel-armored fighter each. The steel armored fighters were like paper in front of him.

If they had not witnessed how strong those steel-armored fighters were before, they would have doubted the strength of those fighters!

It was just absurd!

The crowd, that had been laughing at Jagoan, suddenly found themselves at a loss for words. All of their eyes widened, and their bodies froze!

They had already thought that they had seen the most absurd thing, but this was even more absurd!

Lane Woole, that they thought would be killed in a flash, was actually this strong!

It was completely different from what they had thought.

Five steel-armored fighters were killed by Jagoan in just a matter of seconds!