No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3891-Seymour took a deep breath as he sipped some tea, "Have you looked into Jack?"

Seymour had been training in seclusion recently and had only gotten out the day before. Desmond had been the one having others investigate the matter.

Desmond nodded, "I've already looked into it. I'm very surprised by his origins..."

Seymour raised an eyebrow curiously.

Desmond was someone who relied on his talent to reach the top since he was young. He was firmly in the top three of the Whirling World. Anyone who could surprise him must not be a simple person.

Desmond did not delay things. He took out a piece of paper from his spatial ring and placed it in front of Seymour. The paper had a lot of information about Jack.

It included the fact that Jack came from Hestia Continent and what rank Hestia Continent was. It also had a detailed list of the opponents that Jack had faced. He had a lot of enemies, but all the enemies that had gone against him had ended with bad consequences.

After looking at that, even Seymour could not remain calm.

Someone that could be at the same level as him was actually from a trashy place like Hestia Continent.

The only thing special about Hestia Continent was the fact that it had been sealed off by special energy tens of thousands of years ago.

No one could enter, and those who were inside could not get out as well. It had basically cut them off from the other worlds. At the same time, it was because of that seal that Hestia Continent's warriors fell so far behind the other worlds.

Hestia Continent had been ranked in the middle of third-grade worlds in the past, but they were bottom feeders at this point.

Other than Jack being a special exception, the other warriors from Hestia Continent were all stuck in level seven cities. Even those who were able to enter level seven cities were already amongst the strongest of Hestia Continent.

A place as small as that was something they would not even bother giving a second look at. However, they were fully focused on it now!

Seymour raised an eyebrow and said, "So how do you plan on dealing with this guy? When are you going to kill him?"

After investigating Jack's background, things became much easier. Even though Jack was incredibly talented and strong, he did not have a strong background. It meant that he was just a lone wolf.

Getting rid of him would take some effort, and they might even need to act themselves, but it was not too much trouble. After all, the moment he dies, there would be no one to take revenge for him.

Somewhere like Hestia Continent, even if it was not cut off from the rest of the world, it could be gotten rid of once they left the Whirling World just by finding a few experts. It was naturally not something they needed to be worried about.

Desmond raised an eyebrow and thought about it seriously, "We can't touch this guy yet. After all, we can't leave this place right now to make sure everything goes well. We'll need to make an appearance ourselves if we're to kill this guy. Otherwise, if things go wrong and this guy notices, then things will be incredibly difficult.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3892-This time, even Desmond had to participate when the Toman Battlefield opened to prevent any problems. Seymour naturally had to join as well. Nothing else was more important than that, and everything needed to be pushed back. The two of them could not deal with Jack themselves.

Desmond raised an eyebrow, "Let him be happy for a few more days. When we make our move, he'll be dead."

There were only so many resources at the top.

For the sake of those resources, they had gone through quite a bit of trouble, even having to sacrifice some things.

Even though they had never met the guy before, they could still tell what would happen if they did not deal with him. As long as he was an ordinary person, he would definitely end up fighting for resources at the top with them.

They could not stand the fact that someone had suddenly turned up to take a piece of all the resources they had tried hard to get!

If they really let him do as he pleased, they would suffer a great deal, so they could not let something like that happen.

Seymour said with a frown, "This plan being given to us looks easy, and should go smoothly as long as things go according to plan. We just need to make sure we assign the manpower carefully then things should go perfectly. However, that's just the surface, it's clearly going to be something laborious..."

As he said that, Seymour had a dark look on his face.

Desmond sighed as he shook his head helplessly, "You can only blame us for being unlucky. After all, this was completely random. We might not need to use true energy to maintain the array, but we still need to put in a lot of effort. If we're not careful and something happens, we'll definitely suffer a lot of complaints."

After thinking about that, Desmond started to get furious.

When they were assigning the tasks, the few warriors who stood at the peak decided to randomly assign the tasks by drawing lots. Then, it would all be down to luck, and no one would have to fight over anything.

After drawing the lots, Desmond and Seymour had gotten the Toman Battlefield.

Everyone else got different tasks, but the Toman Battlefield was one of the harder tasks. It looked simple, only needing to allocate their manpower and mobilize when needed. However, there was a lot of room for problems to occur.

They had to be careful at all moments. They might even need to personally turn up at important moments. If anything bad happened, they could suffer.

At the time, the other warriors even had happy looks on their faces when they saw that Desmond and Seymour had gotten the Toman Battlefield.

They teased Desmond and Seymour, saying that the two of them would only need to mobilize at the last moments, while they had to try hard to fight.

When he heard that, Desmond almost started cursing at everyone. They clearly had the hardest task, and everyone else was acting like they had the easiest.

They were no idiots, they naturally understood that they were being mocked. However, he was not someone who complained, neither was Seymour.

They merely maintained a cold look on their face, acting like they did not hear anything. However, the more they thought about it, the angrier they got.

Seymour saw the sour look on Desmond's face and laughed lightly, saying, "It's fine, there's nothing we can do about it. What's the point of getting angry? It's better to focus on the task and make sure nothing goes wrong. It'd save us from a lot of trouble in the future."

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3893

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3893-Desmond nodded. Just like Seymour said, they had to accept things as they were.

Desmond sighed, and a sudden thought flashed in his head.

He looked up and said coldly, "It's very possible that Jack will sign up for the Toman Battlefield!"

After that was said, Desmond suddenly had an uneasy feeling in his heart. His heart skipped a few beats.

Seymour raised an eyebrow before he thought about what Desmond said.

He nodded slightly, "You're right. He's in Violet City right now. This news has already spread across the whole Whirling World. If he doesn't have anything urgent to do, he will definitely sign up!"

The moment that was said, Desmond's face darkened completely. The two of them had actually forgotten about something so important.

The Toman Battlefield did not just attract the attention of regular warriors, but also those that were stronger.

Even someone that stood at the peak like Jack would probably be tempted as well. After all, killing a demon king would yield people one piece of purple gold normally, or even as much as two.

A warrior that stood at the peak could deal with demon kings by himself.

If he started a slaughter on the Toman Battlefield, he would probably be able to kill two or three dozen demon kings in seven days. Others might turn around and run if they meet any of the demon kings, but Jack would definitely not.

To him, demon kings were just pieces of purple gold!

Thinking about it, Desmond clenched his teeth in frustration.

"I think there's a very good chance he will sign up! With him around, the two of us will have a hard time! Even though we've never fought him before, just listening to the reports makes his general skill level obvious. If I fight him alone, it will probably be an even battle."

"The two of us should be able to beat him if we work together, but warriors at the peak will have ways to protect themselves. If we're not careful and he manages to escape, then things will be very hard!"

The two of their faces darkened the more they talked about it. They slowly realized that this was not just an incredibly difficult matter, but also something filled with a lot of variables.

Jack was incredibly troublesome.

They wanted to deal with him right away, but they did not have enough time, nor did they have the right opportunity. After all, they could not tell where Jack was at that moment.

If Jack participated in the Toman Battlefield, then he would be the biggest variable.

Seymour took a deep breath and said, “We have to plan for him beforehand..”

The next morning, Jack brought Lourain to the place to sign up for the Toman Battlefield. Every single city had a special array and registration point setup once the Toman Battlefield was opened. Violet City’s sign-up spot was in the southwestern part of the city.

When Jack and Lourain got there, there were already over ten thousand people there. Ever since they entered the Whirling World, what they saw the most were other warriors. It was easy to see tens of thousands of warriors gathered in lower-level cities.

Yet, there were only ten thousand people there.

They suddenly felt like there were very few people. However, the thought felt like quite a joke to Lourain. They were not in a low-level city.

The warriors that gathered in Violet City were all Elites, except for the few who had gotten lucky enough to have someone help them.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3894

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3894-Anyone who entered Violet City needed to pass the Violet Seven Deaths Array. Just that alone would have stopped most warriors.

The fact that ten thousand people were gathered there was already quite a big number.

Many of them were eagerly heading to sign up, writing down their names in excitement before they quickly stepped on the transfer array, waiting to be sent to Toman Battlefield. They were all quite excited. After all, in their eyes, as long as they moved carefully, Tornan Battlefield was somewhere they could definitely make a profit.

After killing the demons, it was not certain how much of a reward they could get.

If they were lucky enough, it was possible to get millions from just one green demon. That would be a complete jackpot.

A million spirit crystals were not that much for warriors at the peak or above average warriors.

However, for most regular warriors, it was a completely different thing. A million spirit crystals were enough for resources that could bring them to a new level. There were quite a few warriors there hoping to get lucky.

Looking at everyone's expressions, Lourain merely sighed.

If Jack had not told him, he would have been one of them, dreaming just like everyone else. Yet, they were all falling into a trap.

Lourain took a deep breath before he said calmly, "Once word gets out and all the warriors realize it, they'll fight back! If they want to get more Heartblood, they need to use cruel methods to torture someone. This plot will definitely cost a lot of lives..."

"When word gets out, even regular warriors will get angered by this. The backlash will be immense. Those warriors at the top will definitely pay a price!"

As he said that, Lourain clenched his teeth, practically hissing the words out. It was obvious how angry he was.

Jack turned to look at Lourain and said, "You're thinking about things too simply. Do you think they wouldn't have thought about that?"

"They're already prepared. Furthermore, no matter how bad the backlash is, they won't be the ones dying. It won't put them in much danger either. What's a bit of loss compared to the rewards of the Radiant Hall?"

Lourain's heart chilled as he suddenly turned around to look at Jack.

He looked like he wanted to say something, but could not form the words.

Jack was right.

What could the regular warriors do even if they fought back?

They could not enter a level one city. Even though the Toman Battlefield was a challenge from a level one city, they would be sent back after they completed the challenge. They would not be sent to Toman Battlefield, but where they originally were.

It meant that they were just there for a challenge. There was no way they would enter a level one city. If they wanted to enter a level one city, they needed to have enough talent and power. Just that alone stopped almost all of the warriors.

The ones that were left were clearly on the same side as those who stood at the top. They had the same goal, and they would not care about the lives of the regular warriors as well. They would even feel like it was perfectly reasonable for just a few people to die.

Lourain got angrier as he thought about it, and could not help but clench his fist. However, he knew that the anger was only limited to his heart.

With his skills, he could not even make those warriors at the top itch, let alone pay a price.

Jack patted Lourain on the shoulder, "You should stop dreaming, it's pointless anyway. Just pay attention to what's in front of you."

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3895

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3895-Lourain nodded, no longer thinking about that.

At that moment, Jack had put on an elaborate disguise. As long as he did not attack, he would not be recognized.

Lourain was far simpler, he just put on a mask. With that mask, no one could see what he looked like.

The two of them queued up together and signed up after an hour then stepped onto the transfer array. It was the largest transfer array Jack had ever seen.

It looked as large as a lake. It would be no problem for thousands of people to be on it. The two of them were not early, but not late either. They were forced to stand by the outskirts, and that was when Jack saw a familiar face.

It was the square-faced man they had seen at the inn.

At that moment, the square-faced man was waving his hand to someone.

Jack and Lourain looked to where he was looking and saw the man with a unibrow in the crowd.

The man with the unibrow had an incredibly bitter look on his face. He looked incredibly conflicted as helplessness and pity were evident on his face. Both of them had seen everything that had happened at the inn. On top of that, the two of them already guessed what was happening behind the scenes.

They naturally understood how helpless the man with the unibrow felt.

The square-faced man shouted, "Don't worry! I'll be fine! I'll make sure to be very careful. I won't act recklessly at all!"

The man with the unibrow's mouth twitched. He had a bitter look on his face. He opened his mouth to say something, but nothing came out in the end.

He could only nod, indicating that he had heard what was said.

Lourain shook his head helplessly.

He whispered to Jack, "I can understand why that man was so insistent on joining."

Jack raised an eyebrow, looking at Lourain curiously.

Lourain said with a wry expression, "Warriors like us who haven't really stepped into the realm of being strong, always have the mentality of trying to get lucky."

"We won't let up any chances, and we'll go ahead unless something wrong happens! Even though we know how dangerous it is, we still have to give ourselves a chance despite it so we can improve!"

As he said that, Lourain smiled bitterly, saying after a pause, "That's the sad thing about being weak. Before arriving at the Whirling World, we were all considered quite talented in our respective worlds..."

"After all, there are a limited number of geniuses in any given world. We were raised with praise and admiration around us as well. We entered the Whirling World under the hopeful gazes of all our elders. Yet, when we arrived here, it was so different."

“There are geniuses everywhere. We ended up being between regular warriors and above average ones. It’s so hard to accept, that’s why all of us lose our minds. We clearly know that something’s wrong, but we’re not willing to give it up at all.”

Thinking about that, Lourain had a melancholic look on his face.

Jack nodded. He could understand Lourain’s complicated feelings.

Danger always existed alongside opportunity, but the warriors present would end up falling into danger eventually if they acted recklessly.

Even though he understood Lourain’s feelings, that was not a good reason to lose control of their own fates. In a world where the strongest ruled, one would only have more chances if they survived!

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3896-Time slowly ticked away.

After four hours, all of the warriors who signed up stepped on the transfer array.

A purple light shone beneath their feet, and space started to distort. The transfer array had been activated.

While no one was noticing, Jack put his true energy into the nameless badge.

The badge shone immediately. The light condensed into a thin line and slowly circled Lourain. At the final moment, the transfer array’s light would surround everyone individually, sending everyone to a different spot

However, with that thin line, Lourain followed Jack the whole time!

After fifteen minutes passed, the distorted space finally settled down. After the scenery stabilized, the two of them once again found themselves standing on solid ground. It felt gray and barren all around them. Even though there was a river and mountains in front, it felt devoid of life.

Looking up, there was no blue sky or white clouds, there was only gray fog. They looked like dark clouds that had been dispersed, floating in the air.

Lourain gulped subconsciously, feeling his body stiffen.

They were at the foot of a hill. There were some short trees sparsely littered around the place. They would constantly hear the sounds of birds chirping. However, when they heard that, Lourain merely shuddered as a strange feeling crawled up his body.

He sighed and said stiffly, "Jack, there are some animals, and there's water and even some trees. It has a lot more life compared to Chaos City, but I feel like this place is far more terrifying than Chaos City."

They could clearly see signs of life around them. Even though it was not bursting with it, it was still better than Chaos City. Yet, everything still felt strange to Lourain. If Jack was not next to him, he would have started shuddering.

Jack quietly studies his surroundings.

He raised an eyebrow and said, "That's because the air of death here is much thicker than in Chaos City. It's not just filled with murderous and cold energy, it's also filled with all sorts of chaotic energy flows. There should not be any life here, but there is, so it feels incredibly off."

Lourain nodded earnestly, Jack woke him up!

That uncomfortable feeling came from the wrongness of it all. Everything around them felt wrong. It was all just incredibly strange, which caused him to shudder.

Jack patted Lourain's shoulder, "Let's determine our direction first. After that, he'll head to the center. Have you looked into what I asked you to?"

Lourain nodded, "I asked all I could. Demon kings won't appear in the outer regions. Even if we hurry up, we won't be able to find where the demon kings are more active. Only after the battlefield shrinks three times, which is the third day, will we be able to find nests of demon kings."

Saying that, Lourain pursed his lips.

There was just too much of a gulf between people. To warriors like him, looking into where demon kings were would be to avoid stumbling into them, for risk of being ripped apart.

Yet, Jack was looking for demon kings because he wanted to rip the demon kings apart for rewards!

Jack frowned, "We'll have to wait for the third day?! It doesn't seem worth it to waste our time on moving. The battlefield will shrink as time goes on anyway, and everyone who's still alive will be moved. We'll use the time for the smaller demons then. They're still worth something."

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3897

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3897-After hearing what was said, Lourain's eyes twitched.

If anyone else heard that, they would be so shocked that they would be rendered speechless. In their eyes, unique demons and crimson demons were already hard enough to deal with.

Regular warriors would even need to form teams to be able to deal with them. Yet, those three types of demons were small in Jack's eyes.

Jack felt like they were barely worth it.

If Lourain did not know Jack's skills, he would have thought that Jack was a complete braggart. They were a bit unlucky, but they had been sent to the furthest fringe of the place.

After the two of them determined their location, they walked forward for around two hours. They did not even see a single green demon, let alone crimson or unique ones. The two of them even wondered if they were really on the Toman Battlefield.

Even Lourain got a bit anxious.

The two of them walked past some shallow water, and there was an endless field in front of them. There were various kinds of flowers there. They had walked past rivers and forests, but other than the sounds of some birds and bugs, they had not seen a single living thing.

Just as the two of them were wondering about things, a few figures suddenly appeared. Lourain was immediately on alert. He turned to look at Jack and immediately discarded the notion. He really was too anxious.

Since the Seven Deaths Array allocated their teammates randomly, and thanks to his conflicts with Jack, he had not been able to move around freely. He was already separated from his fellow disciples.

He would always have to move around with them before this, but no matter what, his fellow disciples were nothing compared to Jack. Even if they were stronger than Lourain, they were not that much stronger.

They were above average at most and were like ants in front of Jack.

Every time, they were always on full alert when they went anywhere dangerous. After all, there were so many strong warriors in the Whirling World.

If they were not careful, it would end in disaster. Yet, there was no need for him to be that afraid at that moment.

Jack was like a huge guardian. As long as he made sure to rely on Jack, there would be no surprises!

The figures quickly sped toward Jack.

Lourain raised an eyebrow before he said, "I think these people are probably trying to form a team with me."

Most of the warriors that entered the Toman Battlefield were regular warriors, some of them could barely even be considered that. If they wanted to kill any high-level demons, they would need to form teams. Even though they would need to split up the rewards, they would be able to guarantee their own safety.

A total of four of them were coming over.

As the distance shrunk, Lourain clearly saw how they looked.

When he saw them, Lourain immediately froze. The four of them froze as well.

However, they quickly started to look much different.

There was a pleased smile on their faces, "What a coincidence! I've been looking for you and your fellow disciple for a month. I thought I wouldn't be able to find you, but I can't believe I meet you here. It'll save some time. I won't need to try and tempt you out of the restricted areas!"

The warriors in front were looking coldly at Lourain as he spoke.

Lourain's mouth stiffened as he clenched his teeth, "Taios! Don't talk like you're all that strong. I know very well what level you're at! If the two of us fight alone, you might not be able to beat me!"

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3898

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3898-Taios was clearly angered by what was said.

He narrowed his eyes, "Brat! Do you have eyes? You're still trying to argue with me?! It's fine, you'll regret it soon! All of these men behind me are my fellow disciples!"

"I was really lucky. After I was sent to the isolated space, I managed to find them very quickly! I came over because I wanted to ask some strangers to join us in hunting the demons, but I can't believe I met you instead!"

The two of them talked amongst themselves, and Jack more or less guessed their relationship.

Lourain still looked at Jack anxiously. He had not even done anything for Jack, but he had already caused trouble. If he was Jack, he would definitely not be happy about the situation.

Lourain tried to look at Jack's expression, but Jack remained calm. It was hard to tell anything from it, which made him panic even more.

The more emotionless Jack was, the harder it was to determine what Jack was thinking.

At that moment, Jack suddenly said in a low voice, "You know each other?"

Jack naturally already knew that they did, and knew that they had some past conflicts as well. He only said that to give Lourain a chance to explain things.

Lourain was no idiot, he had naturally understood what Jack meant.

He quickly tried to explain things simply, "Before entering the Whirling World, I got to know these people. However, we're not from the same world, but we still ended up having some conflicts because of some competitive reasons.

After that, my fellow disciples ended up conflicting with us because we were fighting over golden keys in Chaos City..”

“Those guys were worse than my fellow disciples, and Taios’ hand was almost crippled. He had a younger disciple called Cayden as well. That guy’s skill is around my level. At the time, we had the number advantage, and Cayden was heavily injured by me. However, it’s already been a month, so he should have already recovered.”

Jack nodded. There were constant fights in Chaos City. With the allure of the treasures that could be obtained, quite a few people had died in the city before.

Conflict and death were the mainstays in Chaos City.

Lourain did not know the other two who were behind Cayden and Taios at all. However, that did not stop the four of them from attacking together later. After all, they were all fellow disciples.

Taios and the others were looking at Lourain angrily, wanting to rip Lourain apart.

Lourain merely sighed helplessly before he looked at Jack.

He was very afraid that Jack would not bother with it. After all, he was the cause of all of this, even if there was nothing they could do about this chance encounter!

Just as Lourain was praying for Jack to help him, Taios suddenly said, “A warrior from a third-grade world? I guess the two of you are part of the same team. Since that’s the case, I’ll deal with you as well. After all, it’ll only cause trouble if word gets out.”

“If you want to blame anyone, blame the person next to you. You wouldn’t die if you weren’t with him. When you’re in hell, don’t forget that you died because of him!”

After that was said, Lourain immediately shut his mouth. There was a glint of excitement in his eyes

That idiot had helped him at the right time. He had actually decided to attack Jack. If Taios had not said all of that, he would have needed to beg Jack, but it was all unnecessary at that moment!

It really was such a stupid thing to do! Lourain almost laughed at that moment.

Looking at Lourain's rapidly changing expression, the three of them were stunned!

That guy was feeling happy?

Was he crazy?

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3899

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3899-Taios frowned, "Brat, what are you acting so excited for?! Do you think that you'll be able to stand up to the four of us with just you and a warrior from a third- grade world?"

After that, he paused for a moment before he laughed coldly, "You really are falling further and further down. Even if you formed a group with others to kill demons, you should have chosen a warrior from a second-grade world. Most warriors from third-grade worlds are all rubbish."

"This time, the Toman Battlefield is open to everyone in the Whirling World so any idiot can join. You just randomly decided to team up with a warrior from a third- grade world, but he can't even beat a servant!"

Those words were all targeted at Jack, basically describing Jack as being completely useless. He did not bother to hide the mocking tone in his voice.

After Lourain heard all of that, he could not help but desperately stop himself from laughing. After all, this guy mocking and laughing at Jack was just completely disrespecting Jack.

He would never dare to do that, but this guy really was hilarious! Lourain's face twisted as he tried to resist laughing.

Taios' lips stiffened, realizing that there was something wrong with Lourain.

Could there be something different?

However, no matter how he thought about it, he could not figure out what was wrong. He felt like Taios was probably just trying to scare them, showing that expression to confuse the four of them!

If that were the case, then it would be much easier to understand.

Taios took a deep breath, “Don’t think we’ll be afraid just because you’re acting like this. No matter what happens today, you won’t be able to escape our grasp! However, if you kneel and beg me right now, I can make it so you die a quicker death!”

Lourain raised an eyebrow and said coldly, “Who do you think you are, asking me to beg you just like that? Remember what you’ve said. You’ll know very soon who the one begging for mercy should be!”

Taios frowned as he looked at Lourain coldly.

He appraised Lourain a few times, “What do you mean? Are you saying you’ve improved so much that you’re already firmly amongst the strong right now?”

What if that was the case?

Even if Lourain was already an above-average warrior, he was still probably at the tail end of those at that level.

The four of them might not be above average, but if they worked together, Lourain would still be no match for them no matter how much he had improved.

After thinking about that, Taios looked at Jack again.

At that moment, Jack had already changed his looks, putting on a handsome appearance. He looked incredibly ordinary and introverted, not seeming any different from a regular warrior.

On top of that, he was dressed quite ordinarily, not having any symbols of a second-grade world on him. It was hard to think of him as someone strong.

Taios frowned before he pointed at Jack and said, “Are you two trying to fool us? You need to think about your acting skills first. This guy clearly looks like he’s not very capable.”

Jack coldly looked at Taios before he said, "If you have so much to say, are you going to fight? If you are, then just attack right now!"

They were not in a restricted area anyway, so there was nothing to be afraid of.

Normally, Jack would always let his opponent make the first move. It was not because of any particular reason. It was just because he wanted to witness and experience other techniques. That was even though those techniques would not be threatening to him at all.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3900

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3900-There were various benefits to seeing more techniques.

Jack felt like he still lacked a lot of battle experience. The Whirling World had various rules in place, so he was naturally unrivaled within.

However, once he was out of the Whirling World, he would definitely face warriors that were stronger than him. It would be much harder at that point. If he had enough experience, he could come up with strategies on the fly that would help him.

Taios widened his eyes, not expecting the plain-looking man would dare to talk to him like that.

He was acting so arrogantly, asking them to attack!

It was as if he was the strongest person in the Whirling World!

Taios clenched his teeth and said, "I've really seen everything now. It's my first time seeing someone as suicidal as you!"

When he heard that, Lourain's lips constantly twitched. He had a lot to say, but he swallowed those words. Taios' words were just too funny for Lourain.

Taios mocked Jack for being suicidal!

It was more and more amusing the more he listened to it. However, he thought about how he had said similar things before as well.

At the plaza in front of the city, he had met Jack for the first time. He had completely looked down on Jack because Jack was from a third-grade world, and had mocked Jack quite a lot. At the time, Jack did not even want to bother with him.

Thinking about that, Lourain took a deep breath, discarding all his errant thoughts. Various emotions were playing in his head.

Jack did not even bother looking at the eyes that were fixed right at him in front of him. He did not show any emotion.

Taios' lips twitched. It was hard to blame him for having reservations.

Mainly, Lourain's expression was just too strange. Unless that guy was changed by something, there was no way Lourain's expression would be like this when he met the four of them.

Taios realized with some surprise that, the more he said, the stranger Lourain's expression got.

The hint of mockery in Lourain's eyes grew. That mockery was not fake, it was completely sincere. If it was sincere, then there was definitely something strange about the situation.

Taios' lips twitched and his expression stiffened a bit.

At that moment, various thoughts were playing in his head. He constantly made guesses, but he did not have much to go on!

The only thing on his mind was that Lourain had improved himself to the peak in just a month. Even the four of them together would be no match for Lourain. Otherwise, there was no way Lourain would look like that.

Cayden thought the same as Taios.

He had a frown on his face as well, looking right at Lourain the whole time. Various thoughts constantly played in his mind, but he could not figure it out at all.

It was like countless threats were entangled together, unable to be cut off and being incredibly chaotic.

Cayden looked at Taios and said, "What is this guy doing? Is he really not afraid of the four of us working together? Could the third-grade warrior next to him be someone very strong?"

Thinking about it for a long time, that was the only thing he could come up with. Taios frowned as he looked at Lourain.

After that, he looked at Jack, carefully trying to make sense of it all.

Jack looked incredibly ordinary. Whether it was his looks or demeanor, nothing seemed particularly out of place.

If it was not for Lourain's strange expression, he would have completely ignored that person. That person just felt completely inconsequential. No matter how one thinks of it, that person should not be strong at all.

The fact that he came from a third-grade world only reinforced the idea.
