No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3991-Only by becoming strong would they be able to live even more freely.

They would not need to worry about others before they did anything.

The world had always been one where the strong ruled over the weak. Those who were willing to be ordinary were those who ended up being stuck at the bottom.

As the burly man's lips stiffened, he found himself unable to say anything.

That reason was more than enough, and it explained everything.

Lourain lamented the fact in his heart when he heard that.

He put down the tea in his hand and looked up at Jack, "There are many who aren't willing to be ordinary, but there are even more people who see the limits of their strengths after working so hard. They know what they can, or can not do. These people are the ones that will live long and go further. Those who only rush forward will all die in the end."

Jack nodded as he measured Lourain with a smile.

He remembered how arrogant Lourain had been the first time he met the guy. Lourain finally had some realizations and was practically a changed person.

It definitely surprised Jack.

On the last day to sign up for the Radiant Hall, Jack went to sign up with Lourain.

This time, Lourain followed behind Jack as usual. The two of them wrote their names on it. To prevent any unnecessary trouble, Jack did not use his real name. Instead, he named himself North Woods.

The two of them had also changed their looks. As long as they did not fight, no one would recognize them. Even on the final day, the place was still incredibly bustling. Most of them were just watching the commotion. After all, this was considered a major event in the Whirling World.

Plenty of people had done everything they could to open the Radiant Hall, and so many had lost their lives for it. Even though many warriors were still hesitant and uncertain, they still wanted to check things out.

Jack went past the crowd and brought Lourain to the sign-up area.

At that moment, there were various discussions around them. Lourain listened in with interest, but Jack ignored everything.

The Radiant Hall was right in the middle of Violet City. The plaza in front of the hall was vast.

Just looking around, it was large enough to make up two Killing Halls.

The Radiant Hall was different from the other challenges in Violet City. The whole place was surrounded by a thick, purple fog. No matter how one tried, it was impossible to look inside.

The fog obstructed everything. Only after signing up would one be able to enter the fog.

Jack and Lourain quickly signed up, filling up their names and injecting their energy into a circular token.

A masked caretaker then led them to enter the purple fog. After the two of them got their own circular tokens, a wave of information entered their minds.

Lourain and Jack exchanged a look of surprise with each other.

The information was very simple. It was information on all the rules of the first challenge they would face after entering the Radiant Hall.

Lourain's lips twitched, "Isn't the Radiant Hall a chance for regular warriors to improve by leaps and bounds? Why are they still testing this? Isn't it still testing our talent and skill? A test like that means that the talented warriors will still obtain the most rewards, and the regular warriors will remain at the bottom. There's no chance to improve at all!"

Lourain looked very disappointed as he said that. He did not sign up for the Radiant Hall just to be Jack's follower.

He wanted to improve as well. He wanted to become an above-average warrior, or a warrior at the peak.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3992-He knew that he was not that lucky of a person, but if things ended up going his way somehow, then he would be able to soar.

He would not need to rely on anyone else. When he returned to his clan after leaving the Whirling World, he would be able to become one of the strongest chosen disciples, and everyone would admire him!

However, the information just now completely ruined his dreams.

The rules were testing a person's talent and skill.

What difference was it from the other challenges?

He suddenly felt incredibly angry, and Jack turned to look at Lourain.

"We're only just starting. That information is just the first challenge we're going to face. There are still other challenges waiting for you. Since everyone says there's a chance for you to change your destiny, then there will be. Complaining right now won't change your luck."

Lourain nodded a bit reluctantly, but he did not continue complaining.

Before entering the radiant Hall, Jack took out a blank token. That blank token was the reward for passing the Seven Deaths Array. Without that token, the two of them would be sent to different places even if they entered together.

Thanks to it, the two of them would not be separated. Jack poured his true energy inside, and a red string of energy was tied around Lourain's wrist.

The two of them stepped into the purple fog together. Suddenly, they felt like the world was spinning as the space around them started to quickly distort. The two of them felt their feet leaving the ground, and they were quickly being transferred elsewhere.

The spinning was incredibly quick, and even Jack was in a state of dizziness. They had no way to tell how long they were transferred.

Only after a long time did the dizziness subside.

Their feet touched the ground again, and the distorted space started to settle down. However, it was still pitch black around them. There was only a stone door in front of them that was shining brightly.

Lourain looked at the stone and said, "I guess this is the entrance to the Triple Energy Space."

The challenge that was awaiting the two of them was in the Triple Energy Space. Face nodded slightly, not really sure himself. After all, he had never been to this place.

The two of them wasted no time as they walked right to the stone door.

The stone door had various complicated runes carved on them. Those complicated runes were glowing brightly as well.

The two of them touched the door, and they felt the space around them spinning against it as the place distorted once again. In a blink of an eye, the two of them disappeared from the spot. When they appeared again, they were assaulted by the sound of people.

"Alright! Everyone's here now! Can we start?!" A loud voice was heard. Jack looked up to notice he was in a cave.

However, there did not seem to be an entrance to the cave. They were surrounded by stone, and there was a large stone wall in front of Jack.

There were nine vortexes of energy on the stone wall, arranged in a prismatic shape.

Seeing this, Jack narrowed his eyes.

He was right, this was the Three Energy Space that they received information about. However, it was so much different from what Jack had thought it would be. He thought it would be a chaotic space, but they were surrounded by stone and rock instead.

As Jack examined his surroundings, he noticed that there were not that many people. Including him and Lourain, there were only twenty-nine people. They were the last two to enter the space.

Since they already knew the rules, Jack was not surprised by what was said.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3993

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3993-There were countless isolated Three Energy Spaces within the Radiant Hall. Each one of them had twenty-nine people inside.

The moment the twenty-nine people had entered, the test would start. The other twenty-seven people looked over with measuring expressions at the latest arrivals.

Since Jack had changed his looks, no one recognized him. On top of that, Jack had deliberately hidden his aura, so others could not see how strong Jack was at all. They could only guess that he was in between the level of a regular warrior and an above-average one. It was not worth much notice.

Jack and Lourain exchanged a look before they walked over to the massive stone wall.

Lourain pointed at the nine vortexes and said, "The rules say that only the top three will be rewarded. The others will be given rankings too, but they will only be given rewards in points. I feel like this is so unfair."

Lourain felt like everyone had been assigned to the different Three Energy Spaces randomly. So, there was no way to tell how strong the overall level of the space would be.

There would be some who were not that strong, but just incredibly lucky.

They could end up entering a space where everyone else was weaker, and be fortunate enough to get first place and earn the rewards. There could also be those who were relatively strong, but unlucky enough to enter a space where everyone was stronger, failing to get a reward.

So, Lourain felt like the rules were unfair.

Jack looked over at him and said with a laugh, "So what? Sometimes, luck is a key part of the skill."

Lourain sighed helplessly.

Just like Jack said, so what if it was unfair?

He could not change the rules. He was just able to talk about it. Even if he spoke against it, he would not be able to change anything.

The rules of the Three Energy Space were very simple.

After the test started, the participants merely needed to unleash their strongest attacks into the energy vortexes.

The energy vortexes would light up once they were full. Each vortex granted one point.

The rules of the Three Energy Space would rank everyone based on their individual results, and the highest-ranked three would get a prize. As for what the prize was, it would only be revealed after the final results.

Only then would everyone know what the rewards for getting the top three were. However, even if they did not know anything, they were still incredibly excited. After all, it was the Radiant Hall. Legend had it that there were amazing things that could change one's destiny inside. Even not knowing the rewards, they were still very eager.

He laughed and said in a low voice, "Don't think that it's unfair and don't think that you'll have to rely on luck. Don't you think that the ancient hero who designed the rules thought about that already? Since he still made the rules like this, there has to be a reason for it."

Lourain looked up at Jack in confusion.

Jack continued to explain in a low voice, "You haven't entered the other Three Energy Spaces before, and you don't know if the other spaces are as unevenly distributed as you think. It might be the opposite, and we might not have been sent here just by coincidence. After all, there were twenty, even people here before, and we happened to fill up the empty spots."

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3994-Lourain nodded, not really understanding it.

He decided to just forget about the matter for the moment.

Just like Jack said, he had not seen what the other Three Energy Spaces were like, and could not make judgments. Whether it was fair or not depended on the overall picture.

As the two of them talked to each other, there were already people who started to get very eager. A man with a large figure and a round head walked over to the wall and rolled up his sleeves. He looked like he wanted to show off his power.

The others immediately rushed over to look when they saw that.

After the required number of people was there, the test started. The man with the round head took a deep breath, waiting a few seconds in front of the stone wall before he attacked. He started to form seals with his hands.

His hands started to glow in gold, and countless seals condensed around his palms. Right after that, everyone heard the loud roar of a tiger.

A figure rose behind his back, slowly forming a ferocious tiger.

The man grunted and struck out with a roar. The attack was turned into energy as it rushed into the vortex. The first vortex slowly lit up to turn yellow, and everyone widened their eyes at the same time.

Someone said quietly, "It's here. He seemed to have quite a lot of power. He should be able to light up three vortexes."

The man had used up all his energy to get the best results.

He had summoned up all the true energy in his body, and his veins were popping. His expression, which had been quite friendly at the start, slowly turned ferocious as he shouted while he frantically attacked.

Every attack would be converted into pure energy the moment they touched the energy vortexes, and get absorbed. The first vortex slowly turned bright yellow.

After a few more moments, the second vortex had a shade of yellow to it as well. Unfortunately, that shade of yellow did not last for too long.

The man could no longer hold on as his whole body started to shake. He clenched his teeth as he tensed up completely. When he saw the faint yellow glow on the second vortex, he felt greatly impacted.

At that moment, he knew better than anyone that he was already at his limits. However, he refused to admit defeat!

There were nine energy vortexes, and he only managed to fill up the first one! That result was just too bad for him to accept. However, things rarely went the way anyone wanted to in this world.

The reality was harsh and even those who refused to acknowledge it had to accept it.

The man suddenly cried out in agony as his veins started to hurt. The warrior next to him grabbed his arm, "Enough! If you continue, you'll end up hurting yourself. You still have other challenges ahead of you!"

Hearing that, the man reluctantly stopped.

At that moment, he was already completely dried up in true energy. Even the energy circulating in his veins had been exhausted. He felt a wave of pain coming from all over. Thankfully, someone advised him to stop, which prevented him from getting injured and affecting future challenges.

Everyone heard a clear cracking sound, as if a cup had been shattered on the ground. They looked at the source of the sound to notice a name above the energy vortexes.

"Mason Plume, one point. Rank one."

Seeing that, Jack found out that the man was named Mason. Even after using everything he had, he was only able to slightly light up the second vortex.

It did not last for that long, and he had probably only filled up a tenth of the power in that vortex. In the end, he only managed to get one point. As for his ranking, it was only temporary.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3995-After all, he was the first to have tried the test so far.

There were still twenty-eight participants. Mason felt like he had been dealt a heavy blow mentally. He struggled to straighten his body as he clenched his fist tightly. That eager expression he had on his face completely disappeared.

At that moment, he looked like a deflated balloon.

Right then, someone started to laugh. That laughter was filled with unbridled mockery.

Jack looked over to see a man with dragon-patterned clothes looking at Mason with a mocking expression.

Mason's lips stiffened, and his expression darkened.

Before he even said anything, the man who advised Mason to stop suddenly stepped forward and said, "Gulden, you really are so annoying all the time! Even if Mason's results aren't that amazing, so what? Regular warriors make up most of the world. What are you trying to laugh at?!"

Gulden scoffed as he looked at that person in disdain, "Jerald, can you stop trying to act like you're such a good person?! I'm laughing at him not because of his skill, but because of how he was acting like such an amazing warrior earlier. I thought he'd be able to get some decent results, but he ended up being such a joke."

Jerald's face stiffened as he stepped forward and pulled out his weapon, but Mason stopped him.

Mason was naturally furious at Gulden's words, and he wanted to rip Gulden apart, but he knew that they could not attack there.

Warriors that attacked in the restricted areas would immediately be turned to ashes. That was a rule regardless of who you were or if you were in the right. The moment Jerald was pulled back, he realized that he had been impulsive.

He clenched his teeth and looked at Gulden, "You'll get your dues!"

Gulden already heard many such curses before, so he did not even bat an eyelid. He merely scoffed before he looked at Mason in disdain.

Jack and Lourain watched on from behind.

From the conversation, it was obvious that the two sides had their prior grievances before, and it was no small one either. If they were not in a restricted area, they would probably have started fighting.

Jack suddenly felt like the Whirling World was a place where there were fights everywhere. The short fight did not last for that long before another participant started to attract everyone's attention.

He used up all his strength as well, but he failed to even match Mason. At the very least, Mason had managed to light the second vortex up slightly.

This person only managed to fill up the first vortex. The second vortex did not even light up.

That person's name quickly appeared, and Mason was still in the first place. However, that person had one point just the same.

He was just ranked behind Mason. After just one person took the test, it was impossible to tell how hard it was. However, after two people did, everyone started to have an estimate of the difficulty.

Quite a few of their faces darkened, feeling like this test was too hard.

Seeing that he was still in first place for the moment, Mason was in a much better mood. At the very least, he was not bad enough that he was in last place.

He coughed as he looked at his result, slowly saying, "What can you use points for? It feels very hard to get."

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3996-Even after giving it everything he had, he only managed to get one point. It definitely made Mason feel quite bad.

Jerald looked at the results and said, "The points are probably meant to be exchanged for items. If it's so hard to obtain, then there will probably be some very valuable items if you have enough points."

The others agreed with Jerald's guess, and they nodded.

Earlier everyone had been incredibly eager to go and try their luck.

After the first two results, they started to get worried. They were scared that they would not even be able to fill up the first vortex after giving it all they had. It would be too embarrassing.

Everyone fell into a short silence, but the silence did not last that long before someone could not hold it back anymore. He walked forward to the stone wall.

That person looked quite average and had purple and gold robes on. He took a deep breath before he started to form seals with his hands.

Countless seals danced in the air before they condensed into a blood-red sword, floating in mid-air.

The man let out an angry shout as he pushed forward. The sword had an unstoppable force to it as it pierced right into the energy vortex. The vortex immediately turned yellow, and the man clenched his teeth and widened his eyes.

His eyes stared right at the energy vortex. It was obvious that he was using all the strength he had as well.

The first vortex turned bright yellow in just a few moments, showing that the energy vortex was already full. Slowly, the second vortex glowed faintly as well.

Everyone widened their eyes. At that moment, the man's result was already the same as Mason's. If he continued, exceeding Mason would not be a problem.

The man realized that as well. Veins started to show around his head as he formed more seals, and the second energy vortex started to glow brighter and brighter. From the brightness alone, the second energy vortex was probably already filled up by a third.

Unfortunately, the man was already at his limits. He only managed to last for a moment longer before he was forced to pull back.

Without the energy feeding into it, the two energy vortexes reverted to their original look.

The man was panting as his sweat dripped from his head. He looked incredibly weak. However, he seemed quite spirited as he watched his name appear above the nine vortexes.

Mason's name had been pushed to second place. Even though the man had only managed to get one point in the end, he was in first place even though temporarily.

It proved that the man was stronger than Mason.

Mason's face stiffened, looking like he had just swallowed something bitter.

In truth, he knew that he would be pushed out of first place. However, he never expected it to happen so quickly. It was only the third person, and he was already in second place. He did not know how far he would fall as the test progressed.

With someone breaking the silence, the others were not that afraid anymore.

They needed to take the test eventually anyway. It was far better to know their results beforehand.

Jack and Lourain remained standing behind the whole time. The two of them quietly watched as the others took the test.

Everyone's results were quite average. Most of them were only able to fill up one energy vortex, barely managing to light up the second one. However, they failed to last for that long.

Some skilled warriors managed to fill up the second vortex, but that was already the limit.

The third vortex was like a goal that no one would dare to even think about.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3997-As the first person to take the test, everyone thought that Mason's results were laughable. Yet, after they took the tests, everyone knew that Mason was already quite decent.

After over twenty people took the test, Mason was ranked in eleventh place. It was not eye-catching, but not an embarrassing result either.

"Since that's the case, what's the point of having nine energy vortexes?! Just five is enough!" A man with large ears frowned and said unhappily.

He had just finished the test, and his results were around the level of everyone else. He was barely able to light up the second vortex, managing to fill about a fifth of it up.

That result was quite average when it came to the people there.

After seeing his results, the large-eared warrior had an unhappy look on his face. However, the results were plain for all to see, and he could not make himself look any better.

He was just unhappy about it, so all he could do was complain. However, what he said seemed to resonate with everyone else.

Right after that, someone said, "That's right! Even though our skills are quite average, and we only managed to fill up one energy vortex with all our might, then it still means that those above-average warriors or warriors at the peak would be able to fill up five at most."

"So, why would you need nine energy vortexes? Is it really possible for any of the warriors who entered the Whirling World to fill up nine vortexes? I don't believe it!"

Just filling one vortex up already used up all of their strength.

Among those, some warriors were already above average. Even they had only managed to fill up two vortexes. Filling up nine vortexes seemed like something absolutely impossible to them. They refused to believe anyone would be able to do it. After all, they had just felt how difficult it was.

The man with large ears continued, "This test really is frustrating. We can't even find anyone who can fill up three vortexes among all the people here. What's the point of setting nine up?"

He sounded incredibly bitter, and everyone could tell that he was just trying to make an excuse for his results not being that great.

He threw his frustrations on the rules instead. In truth, his words were not that bad.

Most of the people there would just forget about it after listening to his frustrations, and would not judge him for them. However, that was just most people.

Gulden was clearly not a part of those people. After hearing what the large-eared man had to say, Gulden narrowed his eyes and looked at the man in disdain.

He scoffed and said, "Just because you can't do it, does it mean that everyone in the world is a stupid pig like you are? Your skills are average, but you're blaming the creator for everything. Do you think you're smarter than the hero who created all of this?"

The moment that was said, the large-eared man looked like he was choking as his face started to redden. He could not say anything at all.

Gulden waved his hand in disdain, making the man move aside.

As he did that, he said, "Go away! You're questioning the rules with your tiny bit of skills? Look at yourself in the mirror first! Do you think you're worthy of that?"

The large-eared man's whole body was shaking from anger, but he did not dare to argue against Gulden.

Read No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3998

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3998-He only dared to voice out his bitter mumblings, but would never dare to go against Gulden.

Jerald looked at Gulden. He did not like how Gulden was acting, but he did not say anything.

Gulden was someone who never relented. If the two of them argued anymore, Gulden would definitely get his friends to constantly pester Jerald.

Jerald was from a notable background as well, but he did not want to cause so much trouble for himself.

Gulden did not care about how anyone else was looking at him. He walked over to the stone wall with a pleased smile on his face. He held his head high, and his whole body exuded arrogance. It was as if everyone else was trash.

Jack raised an eyebrow, feeling something familiar from Gulden.

A thought flashed in his mind, and Jack quickly frowned as he sighed. It seemed like he would need to figure something out.

Just as he was deep in thought, Gulden started to attack. He started to form seals with his hands, and they danced in the air.

With a wave, the series started to fly around Gulden's hands like butterflies.

The seals quickly merged into two drakes in the air. They circled Gulden's hands. With a shout, the drakes suddenly spat out a ray of light, the ray of light got brighter and brighter, covering Gulden's body in a layer of gold.

Gulden then shouted out again as he quickly summoned up all the true energy he had, frantically attacking the first energy vortex. There were a few bangs, and the first vortex was filled into an intense yellow.

Right after that, the second vortex was filled up as well. The third vortex started to light up.

Everyone widened their eyes. No one had managed to get to this step. Even though he did not turn around to look at how everyone else was looking at him, Gulden could still feel the looks of shock and admiration from everyone else very clearly.

His lips curled up slightly as a pleased smile appeared on his face.

Those pieces of trash all thought that they were going to be favored by fate, and actually started to even curse at the rules. He really wondered where they got the guts to do that.

They were clearly so weak that they were not even worth mentioning, but they felt like the rules had set the difficulty too high. He would teach them a lesson.

Gulden let out another shout as he quickly started to form seal after seal. The two drakes around his hands started to expand as the seals around him spun. They slowly got as wide as an arm.

Gulden let out a deep breath before he frantically attacked the energy vortex.

The third energy vortex slowly turned a bright yellow from the faint yellow it had been. After a few moments, it completely turned bright, representing the fact that the third vortex was already filled with energy.

Everyone widened their eyes and held their breaths.

Other than a few people there, almost everyone had already taken the test. They knew how difficult the test was. When they saw the third vortex being filled up, most of the ones there suddenly had a completely different impression of Gulden.

Before this, they only felt like he was too arrogant for his own good. However, it seemed like he did have the right to be arrogant.

No wonder he acted like that. This was not even Gulden's limit.

He started to form seals again as he started to resonate with the space around him. The fourth vortex started to glow faintly, and most of the people there could no longer say anything.

Most of them were already happy with being able to make the second vortex light up. The fact that Gulden managed to light up the fourth vortex meant that they were forced to acknowledge the gap between him and them.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 3999-That large-eared man who had been so bitter earlier looked like he was choking on his words.

He could not say anything. After all, he had been so adamant that the test only needed five energy vortexes just now, but Gulden managed to light up four of them.

No matter how strong Gulden was, he was just an above-average warrior. There were many who were stronger than him, especially those warriors that stood at the peak. They were all definitely much stronger than Gulden.

Filling up five energy vortexes should not be something that hard. Even the sixth and seventh ones were possible to fill up as well.

Gulden clenched his teeth as he let out a roar.

At that moment, he was already at his limits. After holding on for a moment, he stopped.

He managed to fill up a fifth of the fourth energy vortex. Even though he was still some distance away from completely filling up the fourth energy vortex, his results were enough for him to stand above everyone there.

Gulden's name quickly appeared on top of everyone else, and he managed to get three points. His result was very eye-catching, and everyone shot Gulden looks of jealousy.

Gulden looked at his result and took a deep breath.

Even though everyone thought he did very well, he was not that happy with the result. He managed to put his energy into the fourth vortex, but he had failed to fill it up, and only got three points in the end.

No one knew what the points were meant for yet, but it was obvious that the points would definitely be very useful in the future. It might end up being related to the opportunity to improve themselves by leaps and bounds. Gulden sighed as he put those thoughts aside.

He put on his confident smile again before he looked over at Jerald by the side. He measured Jerald with a challenging expression, "What are you looking at? Are you not happy with my results?"

Jerald frowned as anger flashed in his eyes again. That despicable man constantly annoyed him.

He had just wanted to ignore him if Gulden did not cause him any trouble. Yet, Gulden insisted on flaunting in front of him.

Jerald raised an eyebrow as he got louder, "Don't you think you're being a joke right now? Why would I not be happy? Do you think you're worth making me unhappy? The result is decent, but it's not that amazing! It's only enough for you to show off in front of these people."

After he said that, Jerald ignored the angered Gulden as he walked to the stone wall.

Gulden stood next to Jerald, and his eyes widened so much that the eyeballs almost popped out of their sockets. He glared at Jerald viciously, looking like a wild dog.

He shouted with a hoarse voice, "Jerald! You should just die! You sure talk very arrogantly. However, let's see if you can even beat me! Who do you think you are to act like this in front of me?!"

Gulden was incredibly angered. Jerald looked at Gulden coldly, "Make way! Don't interfere in the tests of others!"

Gulden's lips stiffened, and the anger was even more evident in his eyes.

He wanted to shout at someone but swallowed his words in the end. It was pointless to argue with Jerald at that moment. That guy looked like he was about to try and show off.

No. 1 Supreme Warrior Chapter 4000-Gulden scoffed.

Rather than arguing, he would rather let the truth prove to Jerald that Gulden was better. So, Gulden shut his mouth and said nothing as he gave way.

Jerald took a sword out of his storage ring. His gaze was incredibly serious as he let his aura leak out. He raised his power to the limits as he started to form seals with his left hand. Countless seals were floating in the air.

The sword was exuding an incredibly strong aura. The sharp aura filled up the room, and everyone could clearly feel it.

Quite a few people widened their eyes in surprise.

Just from the aura alone, it was obvious that Jerald was incredibly skilled.

At that moment, a cold crescent moon slowly rose from Jerald's back. The moment the crescent moon appeared, the temperature around them drastically fell. It was as if they entered a land of ice.

When the crescent moon rose to its highest point, the moonlight shone right into Jerald's sword. The sword was suddenly enveloped in a cold silver light. Because there was too much energy, the sword started to shake and buzz.

Jerald was completely ignoring everything around him as he stared right at the nine energy vortexes on the wall. He let out a shout before he slashed forward. The sharp aura pierced right into the energy vortex, and the first one lit up immediately.

In just a moment, the first one had been completely filled up by Jerald, and the second vortex started to light up as well.

Just that alone already set him apart from most of the warriors there.

Other than Jack, everyone widened their eyes.

Jerald grunted as he continued to slash out a few times. The aura constantly shot into the energy vortexes. In just a few moments, the second vortex was filled up, and the third one started to light up as well.

At that moment, even Gulden, who had been looking down on Jerald earlier, held his breath.

His eyes widened as he stared right at the energy vortexes.

The third vortex was filled up, and the fourth one was starting to light up.

At that moment, everyone took a deep breath. He was already getting incredibly close to Gulden's result. Other than the buzzing that was heard from the energy entering, not a sound could be heard.

When the fourth energy vortex started to glow, it slowly started to be filled. The faint yellow hue slowly got brighter.

Jack turned to look at Jerald and saw that Jerald was clenching his teeth at that moment. His eyes were starting to turn red as well. It showed that he was already getting close to his limits.

Gulden clenched his fists tightly as he constantly hoped that Jerald was already exhausted. He did not want Jerald to hold on.

Gulden hoped and prayed that Jerald would not be able to beat him. He constantly cursed in his heart, but his expression was very obvious.

Anyone could tell what Gulden was thinking. As if it was thanks to his cursing, Jerald let out a shout before he stopped.

He was breathing very heavily, and his whole body trembled. Even his breathing sounded like it was trembling. His face was pale, and he looked very weak. It was obvious to anyone that Jerald was already completely spent.

At that moment, the whole place was silent other than Jerald's breathing. Everyone looked up at the stone wall, and Jerald's name immediately appeared after he stopped his attack.
