

No.1 Supreme Warrior by Moneto

Chapter 4101

In truth, Carville had wanted to follow up with his attack and strike Jack while the other party was injured. Yet, before he could do anything, the chain flew out from around that guy like a dragon!

"Brat! Don't think you can scare me just by putting up a bit of a show!" Carville said coldly.

A gentle breeze blew past, and the mist around Jack was dispersed. Jack's figure appeared in front of Carville yet again.

At that moment, Jack looked the exact same as before. There was not much of an expression on his face, and his body was completely straightened.

Carville took a closer look, and not even Jack's clothes had any signs of wear. Even after he had gone all out, that guy was not injured at all. His expression suddenly changed.

That guy was much stronger than he thought. The guy's defenses were several times better than he expected! Carville narrowed his eyes as he started to get serious again.

Jack's lips curled up into a faint smile.

That smile seemed especially glaring to Carville's eyes. He felt like Jack was mocking him, mocking him for being unable to even damage Jack's clothing even after an all-out attack. That caused Carville's anger to flare again.

He clenched his teeth as he glared at Jack viciously. "What are you smiling at?! I'll rip your face off!"

Jack's smile had shattered Carville's logical reasoning. He took out a sword from his spatial ring as he clenched his teeth.

Jack raised his right hand and the rattling of the chains was heard again. Before Carville could even react, the chain was already right in front of Jack. Carville tried to counterattack. He pushed forward, summoning countless petals to attack the incoming chain!

The sounds of the petals exploding could be heard. He had thought that they would be evenly matched just like before, but what he expected did not happen. The moment the petals touched the chain, they completely shattered to dust, turning back into pure energy before disappearing into the air.

He summoned up even more petals, but the moment they touched the chain, they would turn to dust!

It was like moths going right into a flame!

Looking at that, Carville widened his eyes in disbelief.

How could that be happening?

They were clearly evenly matched before, but there was such a sudden change in strength!

Bountiful Life was a lower ultimate god rank technique. It was not a middle ultimate god rank technique, but with his world avatar, it was not weak at all. Yet, why did it seem as fragile as a paper at that moment?!

Carville's mind started to race as his heart beat wildly. He was frozen in place from the shock, and the Soul Chain easily wrapped itself around Carville.

In just a few moments, Carville was completely wrapped up. Only then did he snap out of it. Sweat started to drop from his head as he finally realized he had made a huge mistake.

The person in front of him was not someone he could afford to offend. Just from that exchange earlier, that person was absolutely a warrior at the peak!

He could not believe that he had offended a warrior at the peak.

No wonder that man had been looking at him with such a calm expression!

No wonder that man had spoken like that!

That person turned out to be a warrior at the peak. In front of that person, he was just a dancing clown!

At the time, he had assumed that person was infuriated with what he said. Yet, it seemed like everything that person said was true.

He had just been too ignorant to see it!
