

No.1 Supreme Warrior by Moneto

Chapter 4114

"Why don't you want to go in anymore? With your skills, there shouldn't be any danger even if you go up to forty meters as long as you're careful," Another warrior said seriously.

The man in blue clothes sighed before he reached out and pulled his left sleeve back. He revealed an injury around his arm.

There was a large wound on his somewhat pale skin. The places around the wound were already starting to rot. One could even see some bones.

The others were completely stunned when they saw that, and did not know what to say.

After a long time, one of them said, "How did this happen?! How did you get so injured? Haven't you taken any pills? The injury looks like it hasn't stopped yet."

The man in blue clothes took a deep breath.

He said in a somewhat resigned fashion, "I've tried quite a few things. This injury might look scary right now, but it's already in quite a good state. Initially, I was in so much pain that I couldn't even breathe properly. Do you know where I got this injury?"

They exchanged looks with each other and did not say anything.

The man in blue clothes did not bother waiting for an answer from them either as he continued, "At thirty kilometers! I was definitely careless. I was too arrogant, thinking that the beasts around that area would not be able to hurt me!"

As he said that, he paused with a regretful look on his face. It seemed like he had not just been injured, but almost lost his life as well.

The man in blue clothes frowned and said, "I teamed up with some others to enter. There were three of us, and I was the only one who survived. Even though I was injured quite badly, I'm already quite lucky. At the very least, I managed to come back alive."

He pulled his sleeve back, hiding that injury. However, the others remained looking at his arm.

They fell silent as they exchanged looks of fear with each other.

The Evil Plains really were quite dangerous to them, but they had thought that they would not meet any evil beasts that were too strong as long as they did not venture too deep inside. They assumed that their lives would not be in danger, but they were beginning to wonder.

Lourain sighed, "If you weren't around, I probably wouldn't have entered the Evil Plains."

Jack nodded. That was the safest choice. Even though Lourain would lose many opportunities, his safety would at least be guaranteed.

There were many challenges in the Radiant Hall. Some were more dangerous, while some were safer.

Lourain did his best to choose the safest challenges. Even though he could not get a lot of points, he could at least assure himself of his safety. He would only have a future if he survived. If he died, then he would have nothing.

"He's out! Wellis is back!" Someone shouted out.

That was the second time Jack heard Wellis' name. Someone had said that Wellis was very expensive, but there were still quite a few people who wanted Wellis to lead them.

Even though he asked for a high price, he was good enough that those who followed him into the Evil Plains rarely died.

Just the low rate of death alone could attract quite a few warriors. Even though his prices were high, there was an unending stream of requests for him.

"Five of them! All of them came back safely!" Someone said loudly.

Wellis was not that tall, and his body was very large and round. He looked like he had an honest face, but his gaze was sharp. It was as if he could see through a person's heart with just a glance.
