

No.1 Supreme Warrior by Moneto

Chapter 4123

"I regret it already, I shouldn't have entered. I should have just listened to my fellow disciple. It's just too dangerous here.... If I was in Shax's shoes, the same thing would have happened to me! Isn't that evil beast just too strange? Even warriors at the peak would have fallen for it!"

As he said that, his voice trembled slightly.

Wellis sighed softly.

He told everyone what he told Jack earlier, and said that a warrior at the peak had also fallen for it. Everyone's expressions soured.

Lourain looked up at Jack before whispering, "Jack, if that evil beast had been attacking you, would you have been able to deal with it?"

Jack shook his head, "I don't know..."

That was true. Even though he was confident in his skills, what happened earlier was just too strange.

The scary thing was that Shax did not even feel it when his legs started to rot.

Jack could not be sure if he would have been able to deal with it. He did not know if he would have managed to feel it at all.

Without experiencing it for himself, Jack could not give a good answer.

Lourain gaped in surprise. To him, Jack was practically capable of anything. He was constantly making miracles happen, but even Jack said he did not know. It was obvious how dangerous this place was!

At that moment, someone asked, "Wellis, how many evil beasts of that level have you encountered before?"

Wellis smiled wryly and said, "I've only met one before. I managed to survive because that type of evil beast seems to not attack anymore after they've eaten their fill. It had nothing to do with my skill."

Wellis had emphasized the part about the eating, and everyone shivered in fear!

"I want to go back. I feel like the Evil Plains is even more dangerous than I thought!" Someone said nervously.

Even though Wellis said that it was only his second time seeing an evil beast like that, it did nothing to soothe their fear. It was one thing to hear about it, but after witnessing it, it was something they would never forget.

Wellis looked up at everyone, "Whatever, I won't stop any of you from going back. I won't make you pay me either."

Right after he said that, some rustling could be heard around them. All of them suddenly looked up. Jack frowned as he immediately sensed danger.

Wellis reacted the next moment, "Not good! We're being surrounded by a lot of evil beasts!"

Many green figures started to go after them. Those green figures were not just coming from one direction but from everywhere!

It was impossible to retreat in any direction at all. The green figures completely sealed off their retreat, unless all of them decided to attack in the same direction to break through!

"What's happening? Why did so many evil beasts suddenly turn up?!"

"This isn't right!" Wellis shouted.

Even after entering the Evil Plains multiple times, he had never seen so many evil beasts together. Furthermore, those beasts had suddenly appeared from all directions and were all attacking them. It was clearly a trap!

"The evil beasts have intelligence?" The man in red robes turned around and said.

Wellis shook his head, "Based on what I know, the evil beasts are only capable of killing. They aren't capable of thought!"

That caused everyone to be even more shocked.

If they did not have any intelligence, then why did so many evil beasts suddenly appear?

Furthermore, Wellis had said that evil beasts were just a generic term. They did not have the same appearance or abilities.
