

No.1 Supreme Warrior by Moneto

Chapter 4130

Jack knew how Wellis was feeling at that moment. He merely nodded at Wellis, signaling to Wellis to keep his cool.

"I don't care anymore! I might end up in danger if I stay here. I don't want to die here! I'm sorry, Wellis!" After saying that, someone took two steps back and separated himself from Wellis.

Since one person had started, the others moved as well. Morul hesitated for a moment before taking a step back as well.

Out of the nine of them, four of them took a step back. The other five remained in place. They had conflicted expressions on their faces but did not retreat.

Ishak was part of the five who remained.

He stood in place and did not move, and there was no look of conflict on his face either. What the masked man said earlier did not change Ishak's mind at all.

The man in the green mask looked over at Ishak.

He said, "Do you know what the consequences of being stubborn are?"

His tone was ice-cold as if he was announcing Ishak's death.

Ishak raised an eyebrow, and he saw a hint of amusement in the eyes of the masked man, "You can fool the more simple-minded people, but you can't fool me!"

After he said that, there was an interested look in Ishak's eyes as he asked, "I'm very curious. How did you locate Wellis? Did you arrange for people to keep an eye on him? That doesn't really make sense. Wellis' senses are so sharp. There's no way he wouldn't notice someone following him."

"If you didn't have anyone follow him, then how did you know where Wellis would be? What did those evil beasts have to do with you?!"

Ishak spoke the last words very seriously. As he asked, his eyes were fixed right on the masked man.

The man narrowed his eyes, "Stop trying to confuse everyone. We naturally have our own ways to find Wellis. This has nothing to do with you, so why would I answer you? As for those evil beasts you're talking about, I really don't know what you're saying."

Ishak laughed mockingly when he heard that.

Jack turned to look at Ishak meaningfully before suddenly understanding everything.

He took a deep breath and said without turning his head back, "Those who want to leave should leave right now. Otherwise, you won't have the chance anymore."

The moment that was said, those four exchanged a look before looking at Jack again. In the end, they did not say anything as they turned around. Other than the two masked men, only seven people were left.

Those seven already made up their minds, and there was no point in saying anything else to them.

The masked man sneered as he pulled out a sword, "We were trying to be nice, but I guess you didn't appreciate that! Since you insist on acting this way, I'll send you to hell!"

The rest of them pulled their weapons out at the same time.

Jack raised his hand, "You don't need to do anything. Just leave these two to me..."

"How arrogant!" The blue-masked man shouted.

Fighting one against two?

That man was too hold for his own good!

The green-masked man sneered as he looked at Jack with mocking eyes as if he was looking at a dog that did not know its place.

"Do you know what you're saying right now? Do you think you can beat the two of us alone? Do you think you're on the level of warriors at the peak?"

Jack laughed as he waved his hand at Lourain and the others, motioning for them to hide.

The others exchanged looks before they started to move away so Jack could do what he wanted.
