

No.1 Supreme Warrior by Moneto

Chapter 4137

Right after that, he felt a pain in his back, and Desmond was kicked away from the transfer array.

Jack raised an eyebrow to see Pascal with his leg raised!

Pascal clenched his teeth as he immediately put a few spirit crystals into the transfer array. The space started to distort, and Pascal disappeared into the array!

The rotting energy from the Soul Chains was quickly invading Desmond's body. On top of that, he had been stabbed in the chest.

At that moment, Desmond had already lost all his earlier arrogance.

"That dog! I took care of him for so many years, and he..."

At that moment, Desmond started to cough violently, and blood constantly flowed out of his mouth!

He immediately knew who the person that kicked him was. After all, only Pascal had always been beside him. He could not believe that the loyal Pascal, who was always by his side, would actually kick him aside right before he died to flee!

The betrayal and disappointment stung Desmond.

At that moment, Desmond had already given up on living!

To stop any tricks from Desmond, Jack immediately kicked Desmond's core when he reached Desmond's side, destroying his power!

"Kill me! Kill me if you dare! Jack, you're a coward if you don't kill me!" Desmond shouted out.

Jack's lips curled up into a smile of disdain, "You insulted me for trying to provoke you just now, but what are you doing now?"

He was obviously trying to provoke Jack into giving him a quick death.

Wellis and the others immediately ran over. They had apologetic looks on their faces.

Wellis in particular was the strongest person there, "I never expected Pascal to be so quick! He refused to fight us, and kept on running away!"

Jack had asked them to keep an eye on Pascal, but they had failed in the end.

Wellis suddenly felt like he was useless.

As he sighed, he looked over to Desmond. That was a warrior at the peak and a highly-ranked one at that.

In Wellis' eyes, Desmond was someone that could not be touched. Yet, Desmond had ended up in this state. No matter how strong or talented he was, he was nothing to Jack.

Jack shook his head, not saying anything to Wellis.

Jack had more important things to take care of. He knelt down and stared right at Desmond.

"You must have heard of my methods before. Don't struggle meaninglessly. If you answer my questions, I'll give you a quick death!" Jack said coldly.

"Jack! I won't surrender to you! I won't let you get what you want! I'm not that weak!" Desmond shouted out.

Jack smiled and pushed forward. A wave of gray energy burrowed into Desmond's body.

Desmond's cries of agony immediately filled the skies.

The pain of one's soul being ripped apart was not something just anyone could withstand. Desmond was immediately in shambles as his mind went blank. All that was left was endless pain.

After fifteen minutes, Jack controlled that wave of energy and stopped the destruction.
