Chapter 2 - Did You Hit Her

"Wei Xiaoqing, stop the car!"

How would Wei Xiaoqing stop the car at such timing?

"Isn't it just a voice? What's the big deal? When I get famous, I won't mistreat you. Just sit still, and we'll arrive at the hospital very soon!"

Liang Zixuan was infuriated. She shouted loudly, "Stop the car, or I'll make you!"

Not only Wei Xiaoqing did not stop the car, instead she stepped on the throttle forcefully. The car seemed like it was about to fly up on the road. The speed was so fast that the scenery outside the window could no longer be seen.

Liang Zixuan went to open the door quickly. Even if she had to jump out of the car, it would be better than being framed by Wei Xiaoqing!

With a "Pa" sound, the car door was locked.

Wei Xiaoqing's contempt voice sounded in her ears. "Don't waste your energy. Dad is waiting for us at the hospital. You'd better cooperate obediently else you'll suffer in the future!"

Liang Zixuan turned around and raised her hand to slap Wei Xiaoqing's face. "Wei Xiaoqing, what are you so proud of for doing such a heinous thing?"

Wei Xiaoqing was struck dumb immediately. Since she was young, even Wei Guowei had not once laid a hand on her, but now, Liang Zixuan hit her?

While Wei Xiaoqing was stunned, Liang Zixuan pressed the lock button and unlocked the door. Just as she was about to open the car door and jump out, Wei Xiaoqing grabbed her hair from behind.

"You bitch. You dared to hit me. Today, I will definitely kill you!"

Liang Zixuan's scalp was almost torn off. Her eyes were red from the pain. She grabbed Wei Xiaoqing's hand and dug her nails out. Wei Xiaoqing screamed in pain, but she refused to let go.

At that moment, her cell phone rang.

Wei Xiaoqing looked at the screen and noticed that it was Wei Guowei calling. She humphed proudly and turned on the loudspeaker. "Hey, dad, this bitch is awake. She's fighting with me in the car, quickly come and help me now!"

Before she could finish her sentence, Liang Zixuan had already broken free from her grip, opened the door, and jumped out of the car.

She rolled a few times on the ground before the ear-piercing sound of a brake could be heard.

Liang Zixuan looked on helplessly as a car came to a dangerous stop beside her face. She exhaled deeply and tried to calm herself down.

On the other side, Wei Xiaoqing's car crashed into a fence on the side of the road. With a loud "BANG", the car stopped.

Inside the car, Yao Xiu, sitting in the passenger seat, turned around and asked the man in the back seat, "President, do you want me to go out and take a look?"

The man slowly opened his eyes as he coldly asked the driver, "Xiao Yun, did you hit her?"

Xiao Yun shook his head. "No, she rolled herself in front of the car. I didn't hit her."

The man initially wanted Xiao Yun to ignore this matter. However, when he saw the shining blue gemstone necklace on Liang Zixuan's chest, his eyes narrowed, and suddenly changed his mind, "Yao Xiu, bring her here."

"Yes, President Han."

Yao Xiu got out of the car and saw Liang Zixuan sitting on the ground, staring blankly at Wei Xiaoqing's car. He extended his hand politely towards her, "Miss, our President wants you to get in the car so that we could send you to the hospital to check on your injuries."

Liang Zixuan was indeed injured. Her hands and legs were in great pain. She stretched out her hand for Yao Xiu to assist her in standing up. She got up and walked towards the backseat step by step difficultly with the help of Yao Xiu.

Through the window, she could see the man's face.. She immediately froze on the spot as if she had been struck by lightning.
