Chapter 1351

The day before, they had confessed to Anderson the fact that Julia was unconscious.

Since it can't be hidden, only let Anderson learn to accept it. Grandma was once in a coma too, and with a top medical team taking care of her, there will definitely be a miracle.

Joyce returned, "godmother is doing better today than before, detecting a new neurological response. Shows she is gradually recovering, have faith in her Andres, she is so optimistic, she can surely overcome."

"When can I go see her?"

Anderson's crystal eyes were filled with anticipation.

"Is it okay to take Andres to the hospital after dinner?" Luther looked to Joyce for her opinion.

Joyce felt a little speechless.

He now knows to seek her advice and make a show of respecting her.

And before that, did not see him consult his own opinion?

Sure enough, men are animals that think with their lower bodies.

"Good. Let's go to the hospital after dinner." Joyce promised Anderson with a smile.

By the time we arrived at the hospital, the crowds were much smaller and only the doors to the emergency room were open.

From time to time, ambulances whistle in to bring in emergency patients.

After Luther parked the car, Joyce carried Anderson out of the car.

Come to the vip care ward.

Julia was lying in the hospital bed, all the tubes had been removed from her side except for the heart monitor and the oxygen supply respirator in her nose. She looked like she was asleep and recovered quickly from her wound after the incision.

Right now, she looks and looks much better than two days ago, her cheeks are flushed, and her lips have a hint of color.

Anderson was the first to enter the room, and he ran to Julia's bed.

Milk voice shouted twice, "Godmother, you wake up, look what I brought you?"

When he finished, he took a rainbow lollipop out of his pocket.

"Although, every time, Julia finds a reason to excuse herself. But being a mother is still not clear? It must be my son's responsibility. And I don't know what he can't let go of. It's been dragging on for four whole years."

Michal grumbled in a small voice.

Cecelia gently patted the back of Michal's hand and said soothingly, "What's the point of bringing up the past? Look how attentive Karl is now, he has been with us until just now, if not for the urgent matter of the Special Investigation Unit, he would have been here all along."

"The young couple is in a good place, so don't worry too much." Cecelia added.

Joyce was silent for a moment.

The eyes were bleak.

Four years. Karl had dragged his feet for four years before getting married, and she knew why.

It was her responsibility, she delayed them. I didn't expect to see them get married, but because of herself, Julia was put in danger, so that they could not be together at this moment.

Chris came alone to the W University neighborhood, a beautiful school where the warmth can be felt even though it is winter. There were groups of students coming and going, some walking alone, and some couples clinging to each other.

This gave Chris, who grew up in military school, a touch of freshness.

He has always been trained, almost militarily, and has not been exposed to a free and easy academic environment such as this one.

Not long after, his target appeared.

Nina wore a blue dress in the same style as before, but today she wore a gray jacket. She also wore a pair of large black-rimmed glasses.

The whole person looks a little more old-fashioned.

Chris was slightly surprised to see her on the bus without her glasses if he hadn't seen her first.

The one in front of her is no different from the ugly girl.

Did she do it on purpose? Entering the school, avoiding people's eyes, so, deliberately wearing a pair of large black-framed glasses?

No one expected him to do that.

After such a toss.

Nina's black-framed glasses fell to the ground, revealing her delicate and graceful features.

The boy at the head of the group froze for a moment before reacting.

"Yo, not an ugly girl, quite a sign. What? What are you afraid of? Still trembling? I'm not going to eat you. What's your name? Which department?"

Nina was too scared to look at the boy in front of her and just trembled.

The head boy, with his hand outstretched, tried to molest her.

Suddenly, "Ah" he screamed, and then was forced to let go of Nina.

It turned out to be the ball just now, and I don't know who kicked it over.

The head boy was hit right in the face, the force of the force, directly knocked him to the ground, a sudden heavy blow, he covered his face in pain, blood continued to come out of his nose, pain on the ground screaming. I'm afraid the nose bone is broken.

"Who, who did this! Come out here!" The head boy shouted in pain.

Chapter 1356

This morning, Joyce woke up and finished her breakfast.

Anderson has gone to school.

She called Kane, "I'm not going to the office today, the design is basically finished and the wiring work is being carried out on the site in parallel. When you're free, go and keep an eye on it so you don't make any mistakes."

Kane responded, "Sis, no problem, is there anything else I can do?"

"There is. All our vehicles, and Luther's vehicles, the company, the home, including the vicinity of Andres's kindergarten, find a way to press on surveillance, or tracking systems. Also, look for what other hidden devices you can use on Andres to track his location in real time." Joyce said.

"Sis, the best way is of course to implant it under the skin, but it's too painful for Andres to get anesthesia. My suggestion is that it's better to hide it in a watch or shoe." Kane suggested.

Joyce refused, "I'm not going to the office today, I'm going somewhere."

Luther looked at her in amazement.

Joyce thought about it and thought she should let Luther know to save him from being careful afterwards.

So he confessed, "I'm going to find Justin."

As expected, Luther's face immediately fell.

"Didn't you already make it clear to him last time? Why do you still want to see him?"

Joyce is speechless, I knew it would be like this when I told him.

She explained, "Last time he was so emotional that I didn't say much. Today I went to try to make it clear to him not to give Otis any more financial support, and because of his withdrawal, I also wanted him to be wary of Otis retaliating against him. That's all."

"He's an adult, not a child. Things have gotten so bad, doesn't he know to stay away from Otis?"

Luther found it unbelievable.

Joyce sighed.

Joyce drove to the Emperor Hotel, room 8808.

Knocked on the door for half a day, no one opened.

She had a bad feeling in her heart.

As he was about to leave, Bobby, in the opposite room, opened the door.

When he saw Joyce, he called out respectfully, "Ms. Knowles, how do you do?"

Joyce nodded gently, last time we met, Bobby is Justin's assistant at the Capital, although the work years are not long, but for the heart, work is also very serious.

", Mr. Henderson, isn't he in the room?" Joyce asked.

"Mr. Henderson seems to be going to see someone important this morning." Bobby looked at his watch, "But he's been gone for over an hour, he should be back soon."

"Meet someone?"

Joyce's heart inexplicably "jumped", now at this time, Justin will see who?

The Henderson family bank's primary business is not at the Capital.

Justin's purpose for coming to the Capital was actually clear to her.

As she approached, she sniffed and sensitively smelled an unusual odor of smoke.

It's a cigar.

The smell of this cigar is very strong, very recognizable, definitely not Justin smoking cigars, but the people around him smoking, his clothes above stained with this smell.

She was flabbergasted.

What a familiar smell. She seemed to have smelled it somewhere.

It occurred to me, Otis, that this is a cigar that only Otis smokes!

So, Justin just went to see Otis?

How is it possible that Justin is still in contact with Otis?

She didn't want to be suspicious and asked, "Justin, who were you meeting with?" Bobby said you were meeting with someone important.

Justin finally turned around at this point.

Joyce left the Emperor Hotel and drove back to Cloud Bay Tower.

JK Intelligence's expatriate staff has returned to Mufron, and the office that belonged to Joyce is now empty. Only Kane comes by occasionally to take care of business.

The rest are all Luther's people.

As construction progressed on site, Casey was able to deploy additional staff from Khebury and the office came alive.

Joyce has not come to the office for some days.

As they walked in, the front desk staff all stood out respectfully and called out, "Hello Ms. Knowles."

Other employees, although they have never met Joyce personally, but all have heard of it, the president's wife, who does not know?

Too much enthusiasm, but let Joyce feel a little uncomfortable, there is a feeling that she came to work at Luther, obviously she already has her own business ...
