Chapter 1391

In her opinion, this is incomprehensible.

Chris is one of the best marksmen in the world. She has seen her share of target shooting.

Plus, Chris is a warlord commander, so he must be better than her.

What's going on here.

Chris was stunned, "She, she fell into the sea."

Joyce frowned, "Who is she?"

"Nina , Nina fell into the sea!" Chris suddenly shouted as he stood up and tried to dash down to the reef.

Joyce stopped him with a hand, "Wait, you didn't hear the noise? Your special agents down there are exchanging fire with them. We can't go down there now, we'll add to the mess."

She asked again, "What didyou say, Nina? She's escaping abroad with Senator Hughes?"

Chris immediately denied it, "No, it's not. I'll explain to you later, hurry up and save people."

Joyce gave Chris a puzzled look, she picked up the radio on the side of her collar and contacted Karl, "Karl, I've got Mr. Hurley, Mr. Hurley says Nina's off the cliff, when's the marine patrol coming?"

Senator Hughes was lying on the ground, motionless, eyes wide open, dead.

He probably didn't expect to end up dead at the hands of his allies.

Didn't escape the country and didn't enjoy all that money he had, so he died.

Otis squinted at Senator Hughes a look, heart holding fire, let him usually restrain a little, not all day to indulge in sex, do not leave a tail, so as not to be caught in the handle. He is good, drifted, then can not blame anyone, can only send him to meet the King of Hell.

Otis waved the muzzle in front of Luther and Karl.

"Everywhere you guys are. , are you all tired of living?" He sneered, "In case one day I don't hold the gun properly, accidentally, bang, haha, life is gone, aren't you guys afraid?"

Luther was not impressed, "Mr. Robertson, do you dare? Just now, killing the fugitive congressman, you are afraid that the crime is not small. Do you really think you can keep everything down? There comes a time when you can't hold back."

A pause, "I advise you, better restrain yourself. For a hundred years, warlords are THE Heath, not half related to you. People, do not think about what does not belong to you."

Luther is clearly on the verge of exploding.

Karl was on the verge of pulling him out, and being exposed to a gun is actually a very dangerous thing, and there's no guarantee that the gun won't go off.

By the faint light, Joyce caught a glimpse of Luther's expression already taut on the edge.

She smiled lightly, "Otis , I'm married. My husband, standing right in front of you at this moment."

Otis was stunned, he did not know, "divorce is not a matter of minutes to do?"

"Why would I want a divorce." Joyce gazed at Luther with her eyes fixed on him, "I love him. Why would I leave the man I love, the joke."

Although it was just a dislike of Otis' words.

But this was the first time Luther had ever heard her say she loved him to his face.

Leaving Pier 7.

It was close to dawn when Luther and Joyce returned home.

Upon entering the house, Luther couldn't resist hugging her.

"Just now, in front of Otis, was it true what you said?"

Joyce glanced at him, not good enough, "Fake."

What time is it now, and he still cares about that. Grasping at what she said and not letting go.

"With a thud, Luther pinned her against the wall and wouldn't let her go.

"Just now you admitted to loving me. I heard you, don't you dare deny it." He wouldn't relent.

Joyce felt powerless and rubbed her temples, "Or what, to say in front of Otis that the two of us used to be falsely married and had no real relationship?"

Luther felt like she had poured cold water over him, and his excitement was gone.

He grimaced, "Is it hard to admit that you love me?"

Before, she vaguely said it when she was drunk, but that doesn't count.

It was the first time she said it when she was sober, and he had to hear her say it himself.

Chris hadn't slept well for two days. When he closed his eyes, he saw Nina's face when she finally fell into the sea.

In his ears, always echoing her voice, she called him, angel.

Damn.

He slammed his fist into the wall, he Chris , the commander-in-chief who is admired by millions, has never been so worried about a woman. Even if the relationship was unintentional, he shouldn't have been thinking about her. This is not like him at all.

His mind was in turmoil and his breathing was getting heavier.

Karl looked at Chris suspiciously. In his heart, he guessed that something must have happened between Chris and Nina, but Chris wouldn't say anything.

" my. The gene of kindness is so strong, Nina grew up in that kind of environment. It's hard to believe that she hasn't been half affected and has kept her original heart." She exclaimed, "So Senator Hughes always thought Nina was his daughter, and kept manipulating her, and gave all the accounts and information to Nina to manage with confidence? Could it be that Nina knew that her father was not him and had been planning her revenge for a long time?"

Chris shook his head, looking a little confused, "No, she doesn't know."

It was clear to him that Nina must not know, which is why Nina was so determined to die, fearlessly, probably because she felt that she had dirty blood running through her body.

He lurks in the villa, knowing that Nina is faced with Senator Hughes's despicable excesses on a daily basis.

The gene of kindness is really strong. It's not easy for her to come out of the mud and not be stained.

It turns out that she is not half related to those scum.

Karl's dark eyes rested on Luther for a moment.

"Mr. Warner has a point."

Joyce got alert, "What do you want to do? You don't want to get involved."

She doesn't want Luther to get involved too deeply and invite trouble for himself.

"I'm in control and know what to do." Luther looked at her, "What? You're worried something's wrong with me? Heartbroken?"

"Alvonia? Isn't Alvonia a country ruled by warlords?"

"Right, so ah, the commander-in-chief is equivalent to half an emperor, right, but now is also a democratic society. Warlords state will not intervene too much, our country does not also have warlords? The Xia family is not. The Xia family is not involved in politics, too."

"But what is Commander-in-Chief Alvonia doing in our country?"

"I heard that he is a relative of the Xia family, so his coming may have something to do with this warlord split in our country."

". And what does that have to do with this girl we're looking for this time?"

"I wouldn't know about that."

"How do you know these things?"

"Hey, the next village is talking about it. I happened to be playing and heard them talking. They were overheard by the Special Investigation Unit officers who came along and were communicating privately. Someone saw the chief marshal of Alvonía and said he was tall, handsome, with a strong nose, a rare beautiful man, and anyway, he looked very imposing."

"By the way, I remembered, Alvonía is not a semi-military government era ah. The marshal-in-chief had a lot of power. yes, the last marshal-in-chief died early, so this one is especially young, just in his twenties."

"That's right then, it's him all right."

Afternoon.

Chris took the Special Investigation Unit to this small, isolated fishing village.

Previously, someone provided information.

It is said that this side of the fishing village, there is an old couple, deaf and dumb, two days ago to save a person, the details are not clear.

When Chris found out about it, he rushed to the fishing village with his men.

When I first arrived at the entrance of the village, I heard people talking.

"Ken, is that a girl you saved?" Someone asked, gesturing as he spoke.

Ken waved his hand and made a "whimpering" sound in his throat.

"What do you mean? I can't understand it! Is she still in your house?" The others asked again.

Ken nodded, then shook his head anxiously.

Chris saw this and stepped forward, "Where is she? Take me there."

Still no news from Nina.

More than ten days have passed.

Due to the remoteness of the fishing village, there is no surveillance along the road. There is no way to find out where Nina went.

Just when everyone relaxed their control over Hughes residence.

But I found out that Nina had gone back there secretly at some point.

At this moment, Chris is sitting in Karl's office.

"Mr. Gregory, your people are too careless, what makes them think she won't come home and pull their staff out?" He was extremely upset.

Karl, "I didn't withdraw it, the people underneath me neglected to do so. They think Senator Hughes is dead and all the evidence should be extracted. There is no 24-hour control, after all, there are no suspects to be arrested."

"Huh." Chris sneered, "So, Mr. Gregory is passing the buck?"
