Chapter 1401

Chris didn't answer.

The look is increasingly dark and sullen.

Joyce gets up, walks over to Chris and gently pats him on the shoulder.

"Get up. Come out with me and we'll have a talk."

Chris looked back at Joyce and got up to follow her downstairs.

When we arrived at the Special Investigation Unit, we ran into Luther.

"You and Karl are done talking already?"

Joyce nodded, "There's nothing new. I was planning to talk to Mr. Hurley."

She gives Luther a wink that she wants to talk to Chris alone.

As if Luther hadn't read Joyce's implication, "I'm with you. what's confusing about Mr. Hurley? Maybe I can help."

Joyce rolled her eyes.

She wanted to inquire about Chris's personal relationship, and was it appropriate for him to get involved?

Luther, "Since she's avoiding you, it means she knows exactly where she stands. You can't give her a future, so why are you obsessed with finding her? Finding and then abandoning her afterwards would be a new hurt for her. I think you should let yourself calm down and sort out your feelings. Think about what you plan to do after you find her. Then go back to her."

Once again, Chris was silent.

After a pause, Luther continued, "There is no future, it is better to let go. If you let go now, you can still have good memories of each other. After all, your status is special, I am a businessman, I do not have as many restrictions as you. Your future wife, who belongs to the public, has to stand in front of people all over the world, she has social phobia, is she suitable? You have to think it over."

As Luther spoke, he couldn't help but wrap Joyce around himself.

Right now, it's clear that Chris no longer poses a threat.

The words he said just now also came from a sincere suggestion.

Businessmen, after all, are different from the political world. Even if Joyce is really an orphan and has nothing, as long as he likes it, he can marry her regardless of everything. What's more, when he fell in love with Joyce, he had no idea that she would be the real the Heath family's daughter.

Although he had also moved to join the marriage. But then he did not see his heart clearly.

"So, Mr. Hurley, you still need to see your heart first." As someone who has been there, Luther gave the final, pertinent advice.

Inside the elegant room, only Joyce and Luther were left.

Joyce sighed quietly and rubbed her brow.

"Too many people are involved because of what happened to me. If Chris hadn't come to Pascaylia, how could this have happened? In the end, it's all my responsibility."

Luther shrugged, "It's not necessarily a bad thing. I think he has feelings for her. So just now some words, but also to stimulate him a little. It's so important to recognize your own heart. I don't want him to make the same mistake I did."

Joyce froze.

It's a good point, but why is it about her again?

Sure enough, Luther wrapped his arms around her like a lost and found treasure and refused to let go.

Joyce had a black face.

In the blink of an eye, more than ten days have passed.

Still no news from Nina.

It was as if she had disappeared from the face of the earth. All the churches and monasteries had been searched, but there was no news.

It is true that there is no way to find someone who is trying to hide in a sea of people.

Joyce goes through all the information about the warlords in her office.

The work progress has been nothing to worry about, the most important thing now is, step by step, as soon as possible to solve the situation of chaos within the warlords.

Since Otis shot Senator Hughes directly in the head.

She realized that the situation had become increasingly dire. Both sides had secretly declared war, and the so-called intermediary mediation was just a chance for both sides to catch their breath in the first

"What do we do?" Joyce asked.

Luther took her into his arms, "I'll figure it out. If we can get Gina out, Eugene might fall to us."

Joyce doesn't agree.

"Once Gina is rescued, Otis will be the first to know. Killing Eugene directly , is the best option. We will get nothing at that time."

Luther nodded, "So it's not easy, both sides have to be hidden. I need to plan well."

Joyce was deep in thought.

Now, it seems to be at a dead end again, with almost no progress in the last twenty days or so.

The father is still in Otis's hands, so does this continue day by day?

Chapter 1406

Late afternoon.

Joyce went to pick up Anderson and Luther from kindergarten together.

We came to the Military Staff House.

Cecelia has prepared a sumptuous table of dishes.

After Anderson arrived, we played with Cecelia for a while until we were very hungry, and then we dined together.

Cecelia , "Recently I have been visiting Julia in the hospital every day , Michal has been there."

"Has there been any progress?" Joyce asked, who hadn't been there for two days.

The more you go, the more anxious you get.

Cecelia sighed, "It's strange, all the tests were done without any problems. The most powerful brain specialist abroad decided that she should be able to wake up last week. But she just couldn't wake up. Even Dr. Price was at a loss."

Joyce's eyes dimmed.

Cecelia looked at Joyce thoughtfully.

Suddenly he said, "You're not, what, pregnant?"

Luther was eating when he heard Cecelia's words and dropped his chopsticks on the table with a clatter.

He turned sideways excitedly and took Joyce's wrist.

The voice could not be suppressed, "Really? You're pregnant?"

Joyce's face turned red and burned like fire.

"Don't be ridiculous, how could it be? I ..." she stopped talking, it was true that they had made love to each other frequently lately, but then before. The earliest time they had sex was here, in Heath residence, in her own room.

She shook her head, embarrassed, and said, "No way."

It can't be that coincidental, that one time, it hit? She's pregnant again.

However, every time Luther was with her, it seemed that there was no contraception and it was only a matter of time before she became pregnant.

She got chagrined. She had been too careless.

"Go back and test yourself." Cecelia looked at Joyce with a smile, "Haven't you had your monthly period lately?"

Joyce greatly embarrassed, openly asked her such a question, but also in the face of the real Luther, she stammered, "I have always been not allowed, two or three months to come back to a possible. So, I ..."

"Got it, I'll take good protection measures in the future." He promised.

In fact, there are usually done to protect the measures, think up and do, excited when it does not care.

So ...

Joyce was even more furious, "What the hell is the use of doing it now!"

I really want to hit him to hit him.

"Stop spinning, it's going to make you dizzy and throw up." Joyce whimpered.

Luther stopped in a hurry and carried her to the top of the sofa.

The hand wrapped around her waist and refused to let go.

"Is the test paper accurate? Should we go to the hospital now and check again?" He was obviously a little agitated, a little afflicted, afraid that all this, was not true.

"Andres, it's time for you to go to bed." Joyce got up from Luther's arms, took Anderson's hand, and walked to the second floor room.

After Anderson climbed into bed, "Mommy, can I touch the little baby?"

Joyce laughed, "It's still too small to touch."

"It's okay, I want to touch it." After saying that, Anderson put his hand on Joyce's stomach, and although it was flat, he showed a magical expression.

"Does Andres want a younger sibling badly?" Joyce asked gently.

"Hmm. I want it so much. I know, just nine more months, and then I'll breastfeed the baby, okay?" Anderson was full of anticipation.

"Hmm." Joyce nodded gently.

Luther came into the room at this time. He walked up and helped Anderson tuck in the corner.

"Good girl, go to sleep. Daddy still has something he wants to say to Mommy."

"Okay." Anderson nodded good-naturedly.

After Anderson fell asleep, they left the room.

After closing the door, Luther picked Joyce up in a fierce cross-legged hug.

A few days later, Emperor Hotel.

Luther had previously promised Joyce that he would go and talk to Justin personally.

At this moment, he arrived at the Emperor Hotel, the door of the room was open and not closed.

Before coming, he had already said hello to Justin's assistant Bobby, who should have known that he was coming today.

Walk into the room.

Sure enough, Justin stood in front of the huge floor-to-ceiling glass window, staring out at the flowing view of the Capital, stunned.

Hearing a movement behind him, Justin knew it was Luther coming.

He held a wine glass in his hand, and the deep red wine liquid swayed slightly.
