Chapter 1431

"Mommy, do you remember what I told you about the new girl in the class? I got to talk to her, and her name is Fair." Anderson stood up and tugged Joyce out the door.

"I remember, why?" Joyce asked, puzzled.

"I promised her that I would let her come over to my house when it was convenient for her in the future. Invite her to eat delicious steak, codfish. Play computer games with her. She's a digital genius." Anderson said.

"Of course, Andres can have a friend of her own age. But only with her mom and dad's permission." Joyce returned gently.

"But, I know that our family is in a dangerous state and it is not convenient to call her. I don't know when this promise will be kept." Anderson's mood drops and he takes Joyce's hand, "So, I want to buy her a gift first, okay?"

Joyce looked at Anderson in amazement and suddenly laughed.

At a young age, four years old to know how to please girls.

"Yeah." She nodded her head in agreement.

Looking at the time, she said, "How about I take you for a stroll around the neighborhood and have a delicious Planet Shrimp Burger for lunch?"

"Yeah." Anderson clapped his hands straight up in delight.

Joyce happens to want to go out for a walk as well.
