

Sweet Love 1821

Chapter 1821: Father wants to see you.

"If you tell mommy the whole truth straight to her face, she'll be scared stiff for sure! If she finds out that the brother whom she used to love has become such a terror... he he he!" The boy felt a touch of schadenfreude for his uncle's misery!

"Then, think of a way out for me, alright? Tell me how to manage this matter!" His uncle issued an order.

The little lad told him petulantly. "I'm not gonna do that! You find a solution yourself. Settle your problem yourself, and don't push it onto others!"

With that, he stood up eagerly, ready to walk away.

Behind him, Gong Jie suddenly raised an evil grin on his face. "Going to leave now? Alright, then, my dear nephew; I don't mind getting you in hot soup, either! I can tell my sister that you and I are in the same terrorist organization, and you kill and bomb others for a living, too. In fact, you once hacked into the Pentagon's security system and have also been pretty active in arms smuggling. How do you think she'll look at you once she hears that?"

The boy turned his head to look at his uncle abruptly, sending a deadly glint in his direction.

"I dare you to do that!"

"Do you think that I won't dare?!" The man returned his glare defiantly.

Clutching his fists in frustration, the boy tried to second-guess what the man was thinking but had to give up in the end. He could not tell if his uncle would really betray him.

He drew in a sharp breath, returned to the table, and forced himself to calm down as he sat across from the man.

The man gently poured some cola into his glass and pushed it in front of him.

"If I must come up with a solution now, I say... Why don't you put this matter aside first?"

"What?"

"Don't do anything, and don't mention anything about it, either. Let this issue blow over. Later, once this cools down, you can fabricate an identity for her! She'll believe you."

Gong Jie: "...Is it that simple?"

"What do you think? Mommy can be smart at times, but most of the time, she is rather stupid."

The man mulled over his words and nodded his understanding. Suddenly, he looked penetratingly at the boy.

"Youyou!"

“Huh?”

“Can I ask you something?”

“What is it?”

He sidled up to the boy all of a sudden, stared deeply into his eyes, and asked brashly, “Are you willing to follow me back to the headquarters? My father wants to meet you.”

The boy looked at him with a start.

“Your father wants to see me?”

“Well, judging by ranking, he’s your boss, and going by seniority, you should address him as your grandfather.”

The boy only frowned without a word.

He asked with a sudden curiosity, “Why does he wanna see me?”

“As the child genius in Hurricane Group, and one of the developers of ‘Deva Eye’, he is naturally curious to see how you look! He’s been talking to me about it for a long time now, but considering that you haven’t agreed to it yet, I’ve postponed scheduling a meeting between you two. This is a good time to bring up this matter to you.”

The boy remained mum.

His uncle pressed on. “Why? Are you unwilling?”

“No.” He shook his head. “Actually, I wanted very much to meet him before I found out that he’s my grandfather! In my heart, he’s an awesome dictator—an ingenious leader for developing the organization to such a grand scale—and a man I admire greatly.”

He burst into sudden laughter as he continued. “But after knowing that he’s my grandfather, I no longer have the urge to meet him!”

“Why?”

He was truthful. “That’s because I don’t know which identity I should assume before him!”

Gong Jie: “...”

“Unless mommy voluntarily returns to the Gong family; if so, then I’m willing to meet him!”

Chapter 1822: Spurting a mouthful on his face...

“Unless mommy voluntarily returns to the Gong family; if so, then I’m willing to meet him!”

His uncle slowly poured himself a glass of red wine. He seemed to be in deep thought as he ran his slender fingers along the glass rim.

The boy pouted with a smile of resignation.

No matter what, he would hold the same stand as his mother.

If he were to put aside her wishes and follow his uncle back to the Gong family, then his grandfather would likely be able to tell his identity based on his looks.

At that time, his grandfather might trace his identity back to his mother, and that could lead to issues cropping up for her. This was a situation that he did not want to see!

The man sized up the little fellow from head to toe, and upon remembering how his sister had refused to return to their family because of Mu Yazhe, he felt aggrieved and hurt.

Thus, he inquired, “Youyou, tell me, why is it that women can sacrifice everything for the sake of love?”

Startled, the boy’s mouth gave a sharp twitch before he replied mockingly, “Uncle, I’m your nephew—not an encyclopedia! There’s no need to ask me everything, is there?”

“It’s just that your uncle finds you smart and a know-it-all; I’m sure you’ll have an answer.” The man propped his head lazily in his palms as he looked at the boy intently.

The latter admitted that by his motion of silence. He slowly stirred the cola in the glass, blew a mouthful through the straw until little gas bubbles appeared inside the container, and gave a vague reply as he took a sip, “That’s because they have different views on love! Love may just be a part of men, but to women, love is everything.”

The man was extremely surprised to hear that as he exclaimed, “Are you an expert on love? You hit the nail on the head with your observation!”

His nephew threw him a spiteful look before commenting frigidly, “I’m no pro, but this is what I’ve read from books.”

Gong Jie smiled, finding his nephew simply too adorable—a tender-looking boy who did not mince his words!

“I still can’t understand women who treat love as their everything!”

Looking at his uncle through his periphery, he threw him an easy question. “Have you fallen in love before?”

The man returned the question with a frown. “Why are you asking me that?”

“I’d like to find out your love history! Why; couldn’t I ask you that?”

“I don’t have a relationship history,” admitted his uncle.

Snorting through his nostrils, the boy added contemptuously, “No wonder; you’ve never been in a relationship before, huh! Then, did you have a woman before?”

“What do you mean?”

“That means... have you ever been in a love relationship with a woman, such as a female companion with an emotional attachment or physical relationship—”

“Pfft—”

Without warning, the man spurted a mouthful of red wine on the boy’s face upon hearing that.

The little lad shut his eyes abruptly as his tender face was baptized by a splash of red wine. It was an embarrassing sight, especially when his thick, long, and curly eyelashes went sticky with the red liquid. Looking displeased, his brows knitted in a tight frown as he tried to calm himself down; he did all he could not to explode at his uncle.

The man looked at him sheepishly and immediately apologized, “Nephew, I’m sorry; your uncle here didn’t do it on purpose...”

“...” Ignoring him, the boy took out his fluffy hankie and carefully wiped his face clean.

“Uncle, may I trouble you to mind your manners? Why is there a need for such an exaggerated reaction?!”

Chapter 1823: A Gifted Child

Gong Jie was in disarray.

Come on. It was not that he was unaware of his manners! It was just because he! Could not! Take! It! Alright?!

What did he mean by physical relationship?!

Who had ever met a seven-year-old who would say such things so casually?!

Did anyone?!

He was not mentally prepared for this at all; thus, he was completely caught off guard!

This kid was really a rascal!

The man laughed uncontrollably as he asked bemusedly, “What do you mean by physical relationship?! Does your little brain know what that term means?”

“A physical relationship means that things happen only on a physical level. It’s an intimate relationship to fulfill sexual desires. Another term for it that is easier to understand is: bed partners.”

The man was dumbstruck.

His nephew tilted his head to the side elegantly as he asked calmly and in an unruffled manner, “What? Am I wrong in my explanation?”

“What nonsense are you thinking about all day with that little head of yours?! How could you... cough— know something like that?!”

He was completely floored, still finding all this simply inconceivable.

Youyou smiled at him. "I'm currently studying psychology and sociology. That's what I've learned recently."

"You're learning this way too early!" he said sternly.

"I am always very ahead."

"It's good to spend more effort in your actual academics!"

"Stop reading all that psychology nonsense. Have you revised your homework?" He laughed.

The boy smirked casually. "I've already prepared my homework for science until high school grade three. That's why, normally, I am rather bored..."

Gong Jie was left dumbfounded again.

"...Liar!"

How was it possible?

He was still in elementary school when he was at this age!

With such profound knowledge being taught in high school, was he able to understand all?

As for this boy, he had readied his homework way ahead of time?!

Was he that gifted?!

The man took a deep breath of cold air; he was still in disbelief.

"These questions are so simple. Once I read a book once, I can understand all the concepts written in it! I'm not that interested in humanities; they're just subjects that require pure memorization. I have no interest in preparing for something like that, too," said his nephew with disdain.

Gong Jie: "..."

It was no wonder that this kid had such a horrifyingly high E.Q. He had been spending all this extra time studying psychology.

It was too frightening...

When his sister had him, was there some kind of genetic mutation which resulted in such a shocking genius?

"I guess that you've never dated, much less touched another woman, before, and that's why you are unable to comprehend mommy's actions. Women are more emotional in general. Plus, most of them are insecure, so the reason they value kinship so much is something men will never be able to understand, but I can understand her! Mommy is someone who cares a lot about family. In her heart, women should place family first even when they are independent. That's why she's willing to give and sacrifice anything to protect our family..."

Youyou suddenly stopped mid-speech as he disdainfully glanced at his uncle with impatience. "Forget it! You won't understand even if I explain it to you! You don't even understand women."

“You say it as if you truly know all about this,” countered his uncle indignantly.

“Mommy and I have been relying on each other since I was much younger. There’s no one else apart from me who knows mommy the best, yet despite this, I still have no right to speak about this matter?”

The man was tongue-tied.

“I’m just talking over your head right now. Uncle is already so old, but you still haven’t been with a woman. You won’t understand even if we talk about this more!” mocked his nephew.

One could not talk to someone who had limited experience and knowledge.

Chapter 1824: Youyou’s Heartless Mockery

He cast him a sidelong glance full of thoughtfulness. Covering his mouth, he proceeded to snigger. “Is uncle... perhaps a pure and innocent virgin?”

“...”

A ruddy flush appeared on Gong Jie’s handsome face. He furrowed his eyebrows, feigning calmness, yet his body remained truthful with the telltale sign of red on the tips of his ears.

Youyou formed an ‘O’ shape with his mouth as his face lit up in glee. “No wonder! Uncle is actually a virgin!”

He tried to remain stern as he stared at the giggling boy threateningly. “You’re not allowed to laugh!”

“Pfft!”

“You...” He was furious. “Nephew, are you looking down on your uncle right now?”

“Of course!”

“Uncle is already twenty-four, but you probably haven’t even touched a woman’s finger!”

“Not exactly.

“In the past, I was drugged by a lady while I was at a gathering. I almost fell prey to her,” he recounted indignantly.

Noting that there was gossip he could dig out from the man, the lad’s eyes lit up. He drew close to him and asked curiously, “What happened after that?”

“I crippled one of her hands.”

The boy was stunned.

“...”

So violent?

This was definitely his style!

“How... did you settle it?”

His uncle cleared his throat awkwardly and coughed several times before answering unexpectedly, “I kept it in cold water the whole night.”

He was tongue-tied.

“Uncle, why are you so harsh with yourself?”

The man held his forehead.

His nephew smiled as he continued, “Women are enchanting little creatures! To me, mommy was two different persons before and after she fell in love! In the past, she was the ideal career woman. She loved to bear all the responsibility alone, assuming that she’s indestructible and could take all upon herself, but after getting into a relationship, she became a clingy mommy in a flash. Daddy spoiled her into a little princess. I only realized after seeing her in a relationship that she could be so adorable when she acted coy! Women need to be pampered more. Of course, on this point, some single dogs who have never been in love before won’t understand!”

Once more, Gong Jie felt attacked.

Amused by Youyou’s serious and innocent expression, he could not help reaching out and pinching his cheek lovingly. “Little nephew, why are you so adorable? You’re so smart!”

Just then, his phone rang.

He looked at the screen. Realizing that it was his sister calling him, he exchanged glances with his nephew.

The boy gave his uncle a look before the latter picked up the call. “Sis...”

“Xiao Jie...”

Yun Shishi’s helpless and guilty voice could be heard from the other end. “Earlier... I shouldn’t have been so fierce with you! Sis was wrong; I didn’t mean to...”

Her voice sounded helpless and weak. After she calmed down, she realized that her tone had been very hurtful. Feeling extremely guilty about it, she decided to call and apologize.

“I was a little too sensitive... You probably have your reasons for hiding the truth from me, but in my eyes, you will always be my innocent and adorable brother! Whatever I said then was due to anger. I didn’t mean any of it... so please don’t take my words to heart!”

Hearing that, the man smiled gently. His heart felt soft.

He replied slowly, “Sis, I should be the one saying sorry. Perhaps my actions have been too extreme... It was a rash act on my part because I just couldn’t stand anyone bullying you.”

Chapter 1825: I finally found you.

Her expression softened at his words.

This brother of hers had always been like this.

When they were still children, he never let her be bullied by others. Like a guardian angel, he would often be the first to appear when she was under attack by thugs.

She still remembered how, for her sake, he once got into a fight with a big group of boys. Overpowered by that bunch, he was badly beaten up. Her voice went hoarse from crying as she watched him get beaten to a pulp, his face badly bruised, yet he would stop her whenever she tried to intervene in the fight.

The group only dispersed when the adults arrived to stop the fight, but he was on the verge of passing out from all the beating by then.

That was the worst she had seen and the most memorable.

She told him, "I know."

"As for my identity... I'll let you know in due time!"

"Alright!"

After hanging up the call, the man gave a celebratory high-five with his nephew.

"Haven't I told you? Mommy will regret her harsh words! She's very soft-hearted." No one knew that woman better than this son of hers.

...

After the ceremony was over, Jiang Shen did what he had promised earlier by giving her a big, fat red packet. She opened it to discover a generous seven-digit gift. A wry chuckle escaped her throat; she could almost imagine the guy's aggrieved expression over her harmless joke!

She did not expect him to take her words for real!

Returning to her room, she looked at the heap of presents with contentment and happiness.

Now, she finally understood why a bride was the happiest woman in the world on her wedding day.

This was probably because every relationship had its ups and downs, and it must be pure bliss when the relationship eventually bore fruit, where the woman got to settle down with the man she loved finally.

A phrase from a song's lyrics that she knew came to her at this moment,

'I finally found you; I'm glad I didn't give up.'

One would treasure happiness that was hard to come by!

Suddenly, footsteps could be heard from behind her.

Her attention returned to the present abruptly; she was about to turn around when a pair of strong arms wrapped around her waist tightly.

From the back, Mu Yazhe embraced her. Burying his face and eyes in her crown of glory, he sniffed greedily at the soft, fluttering fragrance.

“What are you thinking of?” he asked gently, pressing close to her ear. His warm, moist breath soared and tickled her elegant, captivating shoulder. She retracted her shoulder under the coy attack. Suddenly, he bit her cute, little earlobe coquettishly, sending her heart throbbing wildly.

“You...”

“What about me?”

“Don’t do this...”

She gave a little push. Finding his actions ticklish, she cried out petulantly, “It’s ticklish when you do this!”

“What to do? Who asked you to be so seductive in the first place? Do you think I’ll allow you to reject me now?”

The man smiled and pressed in further amid her resistance. He bit her earlobe, and soon, her face flushed hotly under his intimate actions. The heat radiated from her cheeks down to her ears, and even her body started to get hot!

He absolutely adored her shy reaction.

Chapter 1826: Every minute and second counts.

“Don’t...”

She could not withstand his tickling actions anymore and burst out in a string of pearly laughter.

She was about to beg for mercy from his relentless attack when he suddenly caught her by the shoulder and twirled her around to face him while clutching her firmly by the waist.

He dipped his eyes to admire her shy demeanor, especially her clear orbs and fluttering eyelashes which were too alluring for good.

“Little fool, what do you know?”

Staring at her from such proximity, where their noses and lips were touching, he could catch every action from her every eyelash.

This intimacy only made her heart pound faster, where she could almost hear the thudding sound reverberating in her ears.

With his mouth touching her petal-like lips, he panted words that made her blush further. “You are so seductive and beautiful now!”

She was so shy as she clenched her fists nervously, not knowing how to react to his ministrations!

Although this was not her first time getting intimate with him, her reaction was like a naïve and shy girl still—she was always unsure of what to do next.

Her hands clasped tightly behind her, with her petite lips firmly pressed into a thin line.

His coquettish compliment only highlighted his lust for her, so much so that, despite her clumsiness, she could tell how he longed for her from the way his body turned stiff and tense!

“Do you know how long I’ve been enduring it? I want you so badly...”

His seductive words next to her ear were almost too much for her to bear!

She had not realized how seductive and lethal he could be with his provocative words!

With her heart pounding hard and fast, the corner of her lips twitched a bit before she made an attempt to resist half-heartedly. “Now? It’s not so good, right... The night isn’t here yet!”

“You don’t need to bother with that!”

He tried to fix his mouth on her ruddy lips, which could not stop moving, while hugging her, but she ducked hurriedly. His desperate attack made her want to laugh and roll her eyes!

“Wait a minute! The curtain... isn’t drawn yet!”

She blushed and spouted an excuse, stealing a glance at the wide, full-length window next to them. She dropped a hint for him to draw the curtain!

Her words, alas, fell on deaf ears. Ignoring the window completely, the man held her captive in his arms and forced his way onto her silent, beckoning lips!

He could not let go once they started kissing; his penetrating kiss only made her blush even more.

“Mmph... W-Window...”

He had no patience to listen further. No man liked to be interrupted in such an affair, especially when he had endured long and hard up until that moment. After getting rid of his bothersome gang of brothers, he finally had a brief period of alone time with her. Under such a circumstance, every minute and second counted!

Hence, he lifted her single-handedly. As he walked past the window, he swept the thick curtain close until the spacious room turned dark under its shrouding.

Chapter 1827: I like your voice.

Her heart settled down somewhat as her body relaxed in the next second that it dropped onto the large and soft bed. Due to its elasticity, her body bounced on the mattress a couple of times before sinking in.

The man placed his big and broad frame on top of hers, and this quickly immobilized her.

She cried out piteously, "Hey... you're heavy!"

Just as she said that, she heard his baritone laughter in her ears. He hugged her the next moment and flipped her body over; by the time she regained her composure, he was already lying in bed while she was straddling his torso in a provocative manner.

At a certain spot on his body, she could distinctively make out a slight movement, which got her heart pumping fast and furious!

He teasingly clasped her hand, interlaced their fingers, and mockingly asked, "Do you want to try being proactive this time?"

She blushed when she heard that.

It was good that the room was nearly pitch-black; this way, the man could not catch her embarrassment in plain sight.

She was unused to straddling him. This position agitated her and made her feel helpless.

In this regard, men were usually the active ones, whereas women were passive.

Generally speaking, it was difficult for women to conquer men, and this was even more so for her!

He was very interested to see how attractive she would look if she was on top.

It was with this intention that he turned the table on her this time. Unfortunately, she was too slow and dumb in this aspect as she could only sit and stare at him.

He reached out for her cheeks before sliding down her neck to her shoulders; eventually, his hands worked to release the knot on her back. Her gown slipped down from her shoulders to reveal her breasts.

The woman lowered her head while biting her lower lip helplessly, looking lost and embarrassed. Her forlorn look made him laugh inwardly.

"Why; don't you know what to do next?"

She blushed at his question and simply kept her head low, not knowing how to respond or what to do next.

He let loose a chuckle. "How silly!"

He removed her clothes, inched close to her shoulders, and explored her body downward!

Her face burned as she bit her lower lip further. With her gown thoroughly removed, her goodness was presented completely before him!

Helpless, she sat motionless while he checked her body out. It stiffened involuntarily when his fondling went far and deep.

The man gave a devilish grin. He loved her coy manner. Forcing her lips to part, he kissed his wife ferociously as he ventured deeper.

“Nng...”

She let out a soft groan and immediately reprimanded herself for the indiscretion.

I... Why didn't I try to control it? How could I allow...

Sipping her lips tightly, the more her thoughts ran, the more embarrassed she felt!

“I like hearing that.”

He kissed and urged her.

“I like your voice; you're not allowed to restrain yourself!”

While she kept her lips close, she sensed the stiffness in his voice.

Without realizing what she was doing, she had closed in on his throat and was now planting seductive kisses on his Adam's apple!

Chapter 1828: Have I not told you to exercise more?

This was his most sensitive spot.

She was silently tempting him the moment she kissed him on that spot!

He could feel an electrifying current shoot through his four limbs.

He had been holding himself back since the ceremony. By the time he reached this stage, there was really no need to hide or be bashful about anything anymore!

Hence, he simply ripped off her gown to revel in her beauty. This woman looked more stunning now than when she was in her gown to him!

His body reacted in excitement, and he overcame her right there and then. At first, he was slow and gentle, but toward the end, when he could barely keep himself under control, he turned fast and furious.

“Mu Yazhe...”

She was made disheveled by his ferocious attacks and called out his name involuntarily. Unbeknown to her, her meek voice, like a kitten, was a further enticement to him; his lust tumbled out all at one go and buried her under the waves of debauchery.

Her helplessness could be seen in their endless lovemaking.

During climax, he stuck close to her ear, bit her earlobe, and called her name over and over again.

“Shishi...”

His soft, sexy, and enigmatic voice was too irresistible, so she let herself close her eyes to savor this moment of pleasure!

While awash in debauchery, she slowly felt her energy let up. Soaked in perspiration, her breathing became hurried and dysrhythmic.

“Don’t...”

“Slow... down...”

Unable to hold up to his aggressive stance, she could only use her remaining breath to plead for mercy!

Unfortunately for her, he was too carried away by his carnal desires that her pleading fell on deaf ears.

By the time it was over, she had long collapsed in his arms. With every bit of strength in her body gone, she lay helplessly and out of breath like a sick person in his embrace!

Looking at her, he found her demeanor cute and funny!

This was only round one, and already, she was out of the game. Honestly, he did not know what to say to her!

“Haven’t I told you to exercise more? Your physique is too poor!” he grumbled. Still, his tone held undeniable, loving indulgence.

She panted, still in a daze. Unable to take in a word that he just spoke, she concentrated on regulating her breathing.

The man really felt sheepish and decided not to torment her anymore. Hugging her in bed, he caressed and rubbed her back to ease her discomfort.

He knew that she did not sleep well last night.

Hence, the woman ended up in such an embarrassing state now!

As he held her, his five fingers tousled her hair. Bringing her head to rest on his chest, he could feel that something inside him was still unsatisfied; however, he could no longer bear to tease her!

He could wait for her to recover her energy for the next round!

He knew he must not overdo this.

Just in case he scared her off in the future.

Under his comfort and assurance, she slowly regained her breath as she rested her head on his chest. When she had her eyes closed earlier, she felt herself lifted to the heavens on the brink of suffocation!

This man was powerful in this aspect and had the capability to tear her apart literally!

At this moment, he was lying back with his head on the high pillow, admiring her lovely countenance in front of him. The more he observed, the more love he felt!

Footsteps sounded from outside the door out of the blue.

Chapter 1829: A false alarm!

Footsteps sounded from outside the door out of the blue.

Suddenly alert, the man gave a frown.

A series of knocking was heard at the door. Soon after, Little Yichen's voice reached their ears from the other side.

"Daddy, mommy, are you in there?"

The woman heard her son's voice, and shock rudely awakened her from drowsiness.

Before they could react, the sound of the door being opened echoed about. Hearing no reply, the boy had taken the initiative to walk into the room from outside openly!

"Daddy, mommy?"

Sounding a little desperate and lost, the little lad walked through the door.

When she heard her son walking into the room, she almost let loose an exclamation of fear!

Oh, my gosh!

Why isn't the door locked?!

The man, on the other hand, remained calm and composed. He quickly drew the quilt over her body, while he casually and elegantly pulled his suit over his torso as a way of 'masking'!

He remained calm and alert, expecting the worst, not knowing that his son had no intention of venturing further into the room.

The room was divided into two sections.

The cloakroom and hall were joined as a section, whereas the bedroom was a separate section. These two sections were divided by an arch corridor, with the bedroom furthest away from the main entrance.

Hence, when the boy walked into the hall and did not find anyone around after making a round, he decided to leave.

This simple-minded boy did not realize that his parents were having hanky-panky at the back of the room!

Having been brought up to mind his manners, he did not explore the place further.

After all, he had been taught that it was improper to enter anyone's bedroom without permission.

Hence, he did not venture further into the bedroom. Once he realized that no one was around in the hall, he left the place and closed the door behind him.

The woman's heart finally resumed normalcy after the false alarm!

The scare had made her break out in a cold sweat!

Dipping his head to look at her, he could not help mocking her for the fretful expression. Pinching her cheek, he asked, "Were you scared stiff? What a coward!"

"You..."

She glared at him petulantly.

Does he still have the cheek to mock me?!

Rendered speechless for a moment, she knocked him at his shoulder and cried coquettishly, "Why didn't you lock the door when you came in?!"

"I forgot!"

When he opened the door and saw her, he was too mesmerized to remember such mundane stuff.

All he could do was stare at her with her back to him!

Nothing else mattered.

"Forgot?!"

She did not know whether to cry or laugh at that. "If our child walked in and caught us looking like this, do you know how embarrassing it would be?"

His casual excuse had resulted in a big scare for her.

He was not in the least bothered. "No worries! He doesn't understand what this is."

Yun Shishi: "..."

He knew that that son of his was totally ignorant about romantic relationships. If he entered and saw them, he probably would turn red in the face, though having no clue as to what they were doing!

She did not know what else to say!

She prompted him. "Go and lock the door!"

He gave a teasing grin and caressed her cheek. "Lock the door? Why? Are you thinking... of continuing?"

She turned defensive immediately. "That's not what I mean!"

Chapter 1830: Chief is a man show, huh.

The man seemed bent on teasing her; hence, despite her scolding, red face, he continued. "Then, what do you mean?! Aren't you worried that someone may disturb us in our act if the door isn't locked?"

She was almost shamed to death by him. Pushing his shoulder, she could only glare angrily at him when words seemed to fail her!

“Well, you can continue to bully me in this way! What to do when I’ve entrusted my entire life in your hands now!”

Her coquettish reply held a hint of contented smile.

This man was out to tease her, but she could do nothing to stop him. Even though she knew very well that he was using her for self-entertainment, she could only let him do as he wished because she was too easy to shame.

He hugged her and said smilingly, “What d’you mean by entrusting your life into my hands? You sounded resigned when you said that!”

“Well, isn’t it the truth?!” she exclaimed coyly.

“Alright; whatever you say!”

Putting aside their petty argument, he cajoled the woman as he embraced her.

He then got off the bed and walked to the door to lock it.

It was only when the door was locked that she could relax wholly. Without it being locked, she did not feel safe and secured.

As he turned around, the suit slipped off his torso and dropped to the ground. His impeccable, godlike body was instantly exposed in thin air in its full glory.

That did not embarrass him the slightest, though, and he merely stepped forward sans any qualms.

Her gaze fell on his body with a proportion that could rival any international model. The man with his sexy abs and Apollo’s belt, as well as his sturdy and strong biceps, was exuding suffocating and seductive, muscular charms.

As she looked at him, her face turned beet-red!

Although they had been intimate countless times, she would still blush whenever she saw his naked body!

He saw her doe eyes staring at his body furtively, and his lips curled into a mischievous grin.

“Have you seen enough?”

Startled, she regained her composure and found herself staring into his teasing eyes.

“You...” she said with a pout, “should wear your clothes!”

“Wear my clothes?” He sniggered playfully. “And here I thought that you like seeing me naked, considering that you’ve been staring at my body for the longest time; I truly thought that you enjoyed the view.”

“Mu Yazhe!”

He was teasing her again!

Her anger quickly turned into laughter.

He walked up to her and held her tightly. At this moment, he only yearned for their time together—no matter how short it was.

After fooling around on bed again and he had thoroughly exhausted her, she finally fell asleep in his arms.

Seeing how tired she was, he decided to take his leave. The man covered her with a quilt, kissed her on her forehead, and left the room.

By now, it was close to evening.

When he stepped out of the room, Lu Jinyu and Jiang Shen were already waiting for him at the door. Looking at how sprightly he was in his smart attire, they could immediately detect the slight shift in his demeanor sans a word!

Their brotherhood was strong enough for them to catch this change in their chief. They knew at once that the couple had a raunchy time in their room earlier!

The two exchanged gazes with knowing smiles. In this regard, their chief was probably more risqué than he looked!
