

Sweet Love 3341

Chapter 3341: Sudden Changes (82)

Having an aircraft carrier meant that the military armed forces were powerful!

However, such an aircraft carrier, that was on par with super nuclear power, was like a toy ship to Gong Jie.

This was also the reason why Hurricane Group was so fearsome.

If Hurricane went all out, then their armed forces would be comparable in strength to that of any one of the countries in the 5 joined forces.

Even though they were now a few hundred kilometers away from their destination, it didn't worry Gong Jie a bit.

If he increased their cruising speed, he would be able to catch up in an hour or so.

After all, his aircraft carrier was super nuclear powered.

There was no way Dietris' pathetic ship could compete against this nuclear powered monstrosity!

...

After Mu Yichen sent the location, he stood up and glanced at the captain. "Mommy, can you do me a favor?"

"Uh huh?"

"Right now, I need to locate Youyou. Stay here and keep an eye on him. Don't let him tamper with anything."

Yun Shishi was shocked to learn this. "Youyou... is here as well?"

"Uh huh!"

Yichen nodded. "I came with him! However, I'm worried that he might be in danger, so I'll go rescue him right now."

Yun Shishi hurriedly nodded. "Yes, go quickly!"

Mu Yichen immediately handed her the dagger and pistol. "You must protect yourself well! If he dares to play any tricks, show him these!"

"Alright."

"Mommy should know how to use a gun, right?"

She nodded. "Yes, I learned it while on the set."

"Uh huh, Mommy. I trust you on that."

With that, he left.

...

It was a long way from the cockpit to the VIP cabin, which was the equivalent of going from bow to stern. When he left, he deliberately locked the cockpit door behind him.

The windows of the cockpit were all bulletproof glass. This way, they could ensure that no outsiders would intrude. After all, he was worried about leaving his mommy there alone.

Compared to his mommy, he was more worried about Youyou, given that Dietris, the sly old fox, was vicious and sinister. He did not know how the man would deal with Youyou.

He sneaked all the way to the ground floor. Just as he walked out of the corridor, he ran into three patrolling sailors. Mu Yichen was shocked and immediately retreated.

Before the three sailors could see him clearly, the boy disappeared in a flash, like a vanishing shadow before their eyes. They looked at each other, then cautiously pulled out their pistols and loaded them. Leaning against the wall, they walked towards the stairwell. One turned around and stared, but there was no one there.

“Where’s he gone?”

Just as the three of them were in a state of confusion, Mu Yichen appeared overhead. He grabbed the cabin door beam with both hands, and swung himself using both legs. Then, stiffening his legs, he shot straight at two men in the front.

Both of them were knocked over.

The remaining man nervously raised his wrist to fire a shot, but the boy didn’t give him a chance to aim. He clamped his legs around the man’s neck and rolled over, flinging him to the ground.

Mu Yichen then snatched the gun from the man’s hand and fired at the other man who was about to ambush him from behind.

One should never underestimate the power of bullets!

Especially when shooting at a close distance, a bullet through the head would definitely result in blowing up the brain.

Fresh blood splattered all over his body. He immediately jumped up and quickly loaded his gun. With two loud bangs, he fired a bullet each at the other two men.

Chapter 3342: Sudden Changes (83)

Fresh blood splattered all over his body. He immediately jumped up and quickly loaded his gun. With two loud bangs, he fired a bullet each at the other two men.

One of them was struck in his chest and struggled as Mu Yichen walked up to him. The boy lifted his leg and brought it down on the man's neck. Grabbing his chin with his right hand, the boy broke his throat with a forceful twist.

He tossed the three men into the sea and quickly cleared the ground.

As he passed by the banquet hall, he saw that it was brightly lit. Through the window, he could see many people, all dressed up.

What was going on?

Mu Yichen peered in suspiciously from outside.

The guests were gathered in a hall, but the strange thing was that everyone was wearing a mask that covered the top half of their faces. At first glance, it was extremely strange.

They were all gathered around the stage in high spirits.

The music playing in the venue background was melodious and the guests were chatting happily. It looked like a simple banquet.

However, Mu Yichen still found something amiss.

A host stood on stage. Behind him, a red screen was slowly being drawn up.

"Next, we will be presenting our third piece of work! The name is "Pearl of the Sea"! The starting bid is 500,000 USD!"

As the red curtain rose, a rectangular iron cage was gradually revealed.

The curtain rose very slowly.

The music came to a sudden stop at the same time, so it was easier to hear the strange sounds coming from behind the red screen.

It was the sound of a person struggling, the sound of metal clashing.

Mu Yichen widened his eyes in horror. It was not because of how bizarre this auction set up seemed, but because in the cage, there was a woman and her hands and feet were bound.

Not only were the woman's limbs bound, her face was also obscured by a mask, and her mouth was taped shut by black tape!

She had clearly regained consciousness and realized that she was tightly tied up. She was both afraid and uneasy as she struggled intensely!

Although there was a mask hiding the top half of her face and she could not speak, her exquisite nose and lips could be seen, and it was quite obvious how stunning she looked.

Her golden hair and fair skin gave hint to her European descent.

"I'm sure everyone can see how exquisite this piece of work is! The starting bid is 500,000 USD, and the work goes to the highest bidder!"

When the woman heard what the host said, she started trembling nervously.

Everyone held their breath and turned their attention to the stage in amazement. Whispers could be heard from among the crowd.

“She’s a stunner!”

“500,000, the starting price is not high!”

“I’ll take her!”

Someone immediately raised the bidder card. “One million USD!”

The host said, “Alright, gentleman number 10, one million USD going once!”

Immediately, another lady raised her bidder card. “2 million!”

The host was starting to flush with excitement. “Lady number 24, two million USD going once!”

“5 million!”

Everyone below stage gasped!

The sudden increase was too great and everyone became nervous.

Mu Yichen did not know the identities of the people gathered here, but they were all either extremely wealthy or noble.

The host shouted, “Gentleman number 10, 5 million going once!”

“5 million going twice!”

“Is there no one else?”

The host shook his head. “What a pity! This is a top-grade stunner.”

He walked to the cage, unlocked it, and slowly removed the mask from the woman’s face.

Her exquisite features were revealed to everyone!

Chapter 3343: Sudden Changes (84)

Her exquisite features were revealed to everyone!

The woman seemed even more frightened and helpless now. Her eyes were wide open, and even her long eyelashes quivered with fear. She shook her head desperately as if she was praying. She looked pitiful, with tears falling from the corners of her eyes!

“10 million USD!”

Someone immediately raised the bidder card and continued the bidding process!

However, the host was no longer in a hurry to respond. Instead, he started to look mysterious as he said, "I wonder if everyone has heard a Nightingale sing?"

As he spoke, he removed the black tape that had sealed the woman's mouth. The moment he did this, the woman could be heard pleading, "Please... no..."

"Heavens!"

The people were dazzled.

"Her voice is sweet like a nightingale's!"

"Hehe! I like her sweet voice!"

"20 million USD!"

...

The auction was in full swing.

Mu Yichen found it unbelievable.

What was going on!?

Auctioning a living person?!

It was simply lawless!

Looking at the exquisitely dressed woman, he suddenly realized why his mommy was dressed in a gorgeous gown!

Could it be...

He finally understood—Mommy is also an "auction item"?

Youyou had previously mentioned that Dietris was the leader of a dark website. He had a huge network under him that was specially used for international transactions.

However, these international transactions did not involve ordinary items, but living people!

He suddenly felt a gripping fear.

He could not think what would have happened to his mommy if he and Youyou had been late.

Would she have been auctioned off like this woman?!

In the end, the woman was bought by a man in his fifties at a high price of 50 million USD.

She was then packaged and sent off somewhere.

The emcee returned to the stage and the red curtain fell. He raised his glass and finished it in one gulp. Then, he said, "Next up, it's the finale piece tonight, 'Yun Shan Shi Yi'! Keep your eyes peeled, everyone!"

Yun Shan Shi Yi...

Little Yichen's heart skipped a beat. Just from the name alone, he could tell that this so-called finale piece must be his mommy!

The host whispered to a woman next to him. The woman nodded and left through a secret doorway.

Seeing this, Mu Yichen immediately knew that this woman was probably heading to the dungeon.

However, Yun Shishi was no longer around!

He didn't know which way that woman had gone. There were many secret passageways on the cruise ship and there was no way he could know her whereabouts.

No, he had to save Youyou as soon as possible. Otherwise, if he stalled for more time, the consequences would be unimaginable.

"Who's there!?"

A man shouted from nearby.

Mu Yichen turned around and looked at the man with a smile. "Passing by, passing by."

"Passing by?!"

Little Yichen spoke in Mandarin, so the man did not understand him for a moment. However, when the boy jumped down from the box by the window and was exposed to the moonlight, the men saw that he was covered in blood and had a sinister smile.

"You—"

Before the men could react, Little Yichen had drawn his dagger out from around his waist. A cold light flashed past...

A few seconds later, several bodies fell to the ground. Before they could close their eyes, they took their last breaths.

Little Yichen wiped the blood off the tip of his dagger and tucked it away in his belt, then quickly left.

Chapter 3344: Sudden Changes (85)

Inside the cockpit, Yun Shishi was drenched in perspiration. Her palm, which was tightly gripping the pistol, was covered in sticky cold sweat.

Fully alert, she watched the captain's every move.

The captain pretended to be calm as he steered the ship, but he kept looking at her out of the corner of his eye. He reached out tentatively and randomly pressed a few buttons. The lights on the console immediately lit up.

Yun Shishi did not know much about the controls on the panel, but she remembered that one of those levers activated an alarm.

Little Yichen had said that things were fine as long as he didn't push that lever.

Hence, Yun Shishi watched his every move guardedly. What she did not know was that there was more than just that manual way to activate the lever. There was also a way to move that lever by pressing a few buttons.

There was only a squeaking sound. No one knew what button he had pressed, but the push bar slowly slid down!

In an instant, an alarm sounded in the cabin. Yun Shishi heard the alarm outside the cabin door. When she looked at the lever, she realized it had moved!

Mu Yichen was on his way back to the cockpit when he heard the alarm and frowned.

Yun Shishi was even more exasperated as she questioned the captain, "What did you do?!"

However, the captain continued to act as if nothing had happened. She gritted her teeth and tried to push the lever back, but it was locked and she could not move it at all.

No matter how hard she tried, the push stick remained in place!

Yun Shishi suddenly raised her gun and aimed it between his eyebrows. She ordered, "Stop the alarm!"

But the captain was unmoved. He still looked calm and collected, as if he was sure that she would not fire the shot.

It wasn't hard to figure that she did not know how to steer the ship. He was the only captain on the entire cruise and only he could keep the ship sailing. If he died, everyone on the cruise ship was finished.

Seeing that he was not threatened by her at all, Yun Shishi snorted, "Do you think I don't dare to shoot?!"

She loaded the pistol and pulled the trigger. The captain glanced at her out of the corner of his eye. With a violent wave of his hand, he knocked her pistol to the ground. He raised his leg and kicked her, catching her off guard and sending her to the ground.

She felt a sharp pain in her chest and the gun slipped and slid a short distance away. She immediately got up to retrieve it.

The captain stepped hard on the back of her hand. She cried out in pain as her face turned red!

One of his hands was handcuffed, but his other hand was free. He immediately reached out to snatch the pistol!

In the current situation, if he got his hand on that gun, their situation would be reversed!

And she would definitely be killed by him!

"No!"

She must not let him have his way!

Mu Yichen had entrusted this place to her. How could she let him down?!

Suddenly, a bout of strength welled up from within her. She suddenly clung on to the captain's leg and bit down hard with all the strength she could muster.

The captain kicked her reflexively, sending her tumbling to the ground. Her shoulder was dislocated from the kick, but she ignored the pain and sat up with a face full of sweat. She lunged for the pistol and closed her hand tightly around it.

Got it!

She was secretly surprised and immediately rolled to the side to put the pistol at a safe distance. Then she stood up, raised the dagger in her hand fiercely, and brought it down, plunging it into the captain's thigh!

It took all her strength.

"Arggghh!!" The captain screamed in pain!

Chapter 3345: Sudden Changes (86)

The captain screamed in pain!

Yun Shishi ruthlessly wiped away the blood on her face, stood up, and pressed the dagger against his neck. She said slowly and as clearly as she could in English, "I'm warning you. Don't play any tricks! Disarm the alert!"

The captain was in so much pain that his eyes turned bloodshot. He shouted at Yun Shishi, "Kill me if you dare!"

"Are you not afraid to die!?" Yun Shishi clenched her jaw and tightened her grip on the dagger. The sharp blade quickly cut through a layer of his skin and blood gushed out!

The captain was dumbfounded. He could now no longer feel the pain on his neck. However, the sticky blood flowed into his collar, making him realize that she was being serious!

He gritted his teeth and stared at her for a long time. When she raised the dagger in her hand again, he immediately hit a button to reset the lever!

The alarm went off immediately.

Little Yichen stood rooted to the ground for a long time. Initially, he was worried about Yun Shishi and wanted to return to the cockpit to check on the situation. However, with the alarm halted, it meant that his mommy was safe and sound.

This was a safety signal she had sent him!

Mu Yichen did not dare to delay a second longer and charged towards the VIP cabin.

...

When Dietris heard the alarm, he stood up abruptly and walked to the door. He opened the door and looked around.

He grabbed a sailor guarding the door and questioned, "What happened!?"

"I, I don't know..."

"Go take a look!"

Dieteris returned to the VIP room. He thought about it and felt that something was amiss.

Youyou was sitting on the sofa, his hands cuffed to the armrests. He could not move. He heard the alarm and was puzzled by it.

What happened?

Did something happen to Mommy and Little Yichen?

He was a little worried, and while he was in a daze, Dietris walked up to him and grabbed him by his collar, warning the boy, "If you dare play any tricks with me, I will definitely take your life!"

"Dietris, you must be kidding, right?" Facing him, Youyou did not panic. Instead, he said coldly, "What tricks can two kids and a mother play?!"

"I've been thinking of just that! You two kids actually dared to board my ship. This in itself is very unbelievable!"

"I don't have any weapons on me. What threat can I pose to you?" After a pause, the boy continued dryly, "Dietris, I didn't expect you to be such a wuss."

His unconscious provocation thoroughly enraged Dieteris. The man raised his hand and gave the child a solid punch. The impact caused Youyou's head to spin to the side. Just as he was about to hit him again, the flustered voice of his subordinate was heard from the doorway.

"Boss! Bad news, she's gone!"

Dietris snapped back to reality and glared at the other man. "What do you mean?!"

"The finale act of the auction... she's gone!"

Dietris glared at him furiously. "Gone!? How could she be gone?!"

"We sent someone to the cellar and only saw a few corpses. The person you captured is no longer there!"

"Impossible!" Dietris hollered in a rage.

How was that possible?

He had a few of his big and strong men to watch over one person. There were two locks, and one of them was a joint device. Once the handcuffs on Yun Shishi's hands were removed, the bomb would be activated.

It was impossible to escape!

Chapter 3346: Sudden Changes (87)

How could a living person just disappear into thin air!?

“The lock on the cage door has been pried open. In the cage, we found the handcuffs and the dismantled bomb...”

A bomb!?

Youyou turned ashen with fear upon hearing this!

This Dietris was so ruthless as to plant a bomb on Mommy?

However, when he heard that the bomb had been dismantled, he guessed that Little Yichen must have defused the device, and heaved a sigh of relief!

Dietris stomped up to his subordinate in disbelief. His face was red and bore a hideous expression. “What did you say?! Don’t be telling me that an eight-year-old child can defuse a bomb with his bare hands!”

He paused and thought of the alarm. He suddenly reacted and shouted, “Check the cockpit!”

“Y-Yes...”

The man scrambled away in fright.

Dietris returned to the room, walked over to grab the boy, and threw him to the floor. He stepped on his chest forcefully.

“Little devil! I knew it. That you guys dared to barge into my cruise ship, you don’t come from a simple background! Indeed, I underestimated you. You actually have such capabilities!”

Youyou’s chest was crushed so hard that he could barely breathe. His face was flushed red and his forehead was covered in cold sweat.

He gritted his teeth, his face turned red and his eyes were bloodshot.

As if he still felt that this wasn’t enough to vent his anger, Dietris punched the boy again!

The force exerted by an adult is something that a child would ordinarily not be able to withstand!

Youyou was physically weak and could not withstand his second punch. Hence, he was already in a daze!

His vision swam, a trickle of viscous liquid flowed slowly out of his nostril. He lifted his hand and wiped it away as hard as he could and sneered, “You lost, Dietris.”

Dietris glared at him fiercely. “Shut up! You pathetic bug, are you still so arrogant when death is at hand? Do you believe that I can crush you to death!”

Behind him, the door suddenly flew open!

Dietris spun around in surprise. Before he could clearly see who had made the sound, he heard a loud bang. The two men who had been ordered by Dietris to check on the situation in the cockpit were suddenly kicked into the room by Little Yichen.

When Dietris looked at them, he noticed that both of them were no longer breathing. They were limp and dead!

“Youyou!” Little Yichen’s eyes reddened at the sight of his brother on the floor, his shirt stained with blood. He pulled out his pistol and was about to load it when Dietris darted away.

Two gunshots rang out!

One shot was aimed at Dietris’ calf, tearing through his calf muscle. The other shot was aimed at the handcuffs that were cuffed to the armrest. The bullet accurately broke the chains, freeing Youyou immediately!

The pistol was already out of ammunition.

The boy tossed the pistol aside and rushed over to pick up Youyou in his arms and examine his injuries.

“How are you feeling?”

Youyou weakly curled his lips and tried to comfort his brother. “I... I’m fine...”

Fine?!

How could he be fine?

He was bleeding so much!

Little Yichen’s hands trembled with heartache.

He put his arms around his brother’s shoulders in frustration and said in a choked voice, “I’m sorry, I should have been here earlier...”

He heard footsteps behind him.

Little Yichen jerked his head back, only to realize that even though Dietris had been shot in the leg, the man had sneaked up behind him with a machete in his hand. He lunged at Little Yichen!

Chapter 3347: Sudden Changes (88)

Little Yichen jerked his head back, only to realize that even though Dietris had been shot in the leg, the man had sneaked up behind him with a machete in his hand. He lunged at Little Yichen!

“Be careful!” Youyou felt a surge of strength as he sat up and pushed his brother away roughly. Seeing that the machete was about to come down on Little Yichen’s neck, Youyou instinctively reached out to block it.

There was a crisp sound as the sharp edge of the knife struck the purple crystal necklace on Youyou's wrist, suddenly halting the path of the blade. However, the necklace was also cut off. With a crashing sound, the purple crystals fell to the ground.

"Ah... the necklace..." Panic flashed in his eyes.

Even when he was abused by Dietris just then, he did not show a trace of nervousness. But when he saw the necklace break, he was instantly helpless and panicky. He reached out to catch the broken crystals as they fell and rained onto the ground.

This was a gift from Little Yichen!

They each had one, but now his was broken! All he could think about was the necklace and he could not focus on anything else.

Little Yichen's eyes were filled with hatred when he saw that the necklace was broken. He swiftly got up and snatched the machete from Dietris. With a backhand swing, he accurately ran the blade across the man's thighs, severing his meridians!

"Arghhhh..."

Dietris clenched his teeth tightly and let out a painful groan. He immediately stood up again. Mu Yichen got up and kicked him hard in the chest.

The man fell to his knees with a thud.

"Dietris!" Little Yichen shouted through gritted teeth. Grabbing his collar, he raised his fist to deliver a punch!

But Dietris suddenly extended his arms with clenched fists. Between his fingers, he held two thin steel needles, thick and long, and thrust them at Little Yichen's abdomen!

Mu Yichen swiftly grabbed his hands, but he was too late. One of the steel needles pierced his abdomen.

"Umph..."

The boy's body swayed slightly. Due to the pain from the stab, he subconsciously curled his body. Dietris seized the opportunity and gave him a fierce punch. Instantly, Little Yichen's body flew a few meters away like a rag doll and fell to the ground.

The man slowly got onto his feet and walked towards the body on the ground.

Little Yichen struggled to stand up and held his bleeding abdomen as he stared at the man with burning eyes!

He saw the man pick up the machete from the ground and then lunged at him!

"Go to hell!!" Dietris roared, but just as he lifted his arm, Youyou raised a vase with both his hand and from behind the man, smashed the vase right over his head!

Bam!

The vase shattered.

Dietris' entire body jerked violently. His grip loosened and the machete fell to the ground. Mu Yichen immediately stretched out his leg and hooked the machete over, holding it tightly in his hand.

The next moment, the man collapsed to the ground and passed out.

Youyou stood up and made his way over to his older brother, and extended his hand to him.

"Looks like big brother isn't that omnipotent after all. You can't do without me!"

Mu Yichen looked at him and grinned. "Yes, I won't be able to make it without you, Youyou."

He held out his hand, and the two little lads clasped their hands tightly together.

Mu Yichen struggled to stand up. Seeing the bloodstains on his abdomen, Youyou hurriedly helped him to steady himself and instantly became nervous. "How are you feeling? Are you badly hurt?"

Chapter 3348: Sudden Changes (89)

"How are you feeling? Are you badly hurt?"

Mu Yichen shook his head and consoled his brother, "It's alright. It's just a small injury."

Noticing that Youyou was still anxious, Little Yichen said helplessly, "Youyou, I've suffered more serious injuries than this. It's alright! Don't worry, okay?"

"Okay..." Youyou nodded, looking rather guilt-ridden.

Little Yichen rubbed his hands on his trouser legs until they were clean of blood, then he reached out and patted his younger brother lightly on the head. After this, he got up and walked over to Dietris, and pulled off the man's tie.

Youyou watched this from the side. He saw Little Yichen position Dietris' hands and legs to the back and bind the man's limbs tightly together in that position.

This method of tying was different from what the boy would usually see. It appeared to be a professional method of tying up criminals.

The cords crossed and circled around in such a secure manner that there was no way the man would be able to break free.

He also drew out a pair of handcuffs. As his actions were vigorous, it affected his wounds. However, the boy tolerated the pain and did not make a sound. He handcuffed Dietris to a pillar to further secure the man before turning to Youyou, saying, "Let's go look for Mommy!"

"Uh huh!"

Youyou nodded and asked worriedly, "Where is Mommy?"

"She's in the cockpit. We have to hurry over in case anything goes wrong!"

"Have you sent a signal to Daddy?" Youyou suddenly asked nervously.

Little Yichen was highly amused and replied, "Youyou, do you think I'm that dumb? I already sent our location information to Daddy right after I rescued Mommy. It's already been more than half an hour. Daddy and Uncle should be here soon."

Youyou was finally relieved when he heard this. The two little lads held hands as they walked toward the cockpit.

...

Yun Shishi had been watching over the cockpit. She stared intensely at the captain, and could see that he was exhausted.

He struggled to hold the helm as his wound continued to bleed. She could not help worrying if he had lost too much blood.

"Are you alright?" She asked with narrowed eyes. While she was worried, she also suspected that he had something up his sleeve.

Could it be that he was deliberately getting her to let down her guard so that he could do something?

The captain's lips twitched violently. He suddenly staggered and fell over the helm!

Startled, Yun Shishi cautiously stepped forward and prodded him on his shoulder. He slumped to the side and fell into his seat without moving.

He's dead!?

Yun Shishi was scared out of her wits. She immediately reached out and placed her hand on the helm to steady it. For a moment, she was at a loss for she had no idea how to control a ship, much less such a large cruise ship. Hence she immediately reached out to pat his face.

"Wake up!"

When her fingers came into contact with his face, it was cold!

He had seemingly gone into a shock from having lost too much blood!

If a person loses too much blood and does not take any measures to stop the bleeding for a prolonged period, he may go into shock from excessive blood loss, resulting in brain death.

Is a human being... so fragile?!

She sighed deep down inside!

She found this quite unbelievable. She gripped the helm with her hands and looked nervously at the dashboard. Several lights were flickering although she had no idea why. She could only grit her teeth and try to make out the markings.

However, there were some labels that she could not understand at all. She did not know what they were used for, so she did not dare to touch them.

Looking ahead, she was unable to determine if the calm surface of the sea meant it was safe.

She only had a vague understanding of the radar map on the screen.

Yun Shishi was flustered, but she could only barely stabilize the rudder and did not dare to act rashly.

Chapter 3349: Sudden Changes (90)

Yun Shishi was flustered, but she could only barely stabilize the rudder and did not dare to act rashly.

The captain had fallen to the ground and had not moved since.

Normally, it takes a lot more than the captain alone to control a cruise ship.

In the cockpit, the captain does not operate the cruise ship. The helm was mostly operated by sailors. Just now, there was a slight malfunction in the cockpit. The captain, the first mate, and the third mate had stepped in to inspect and give command.

Little Yichen knew a little about maritime affairs. When he saw that the captain was also in the cockpit, he knew that something special must have happened for the captain to personally take over the helm. Thus, he spared his life and let him control the cruise ship.

The captain was bold because he knew his own importance and was certain that Yun Shishi would not lay her hands on him.

Yun Shishi did not want to lay her hands on him, but she knew that if she did not do so, she might be the one ending up dead!

However, given the current crisis, there would be too many uncertainties without a sailor at the helm.

Under normal circumstances, a cruise ship would be left to drift on its own without any accidents.

But that was under normal circumstances.

Cruises have a fixed route, however. Only by following a fixed route would they avoid many dangers.

The sea was unimaginably huge. Seventy percent of the world was made up of the oceans, and humankind's mastery over the sea was very limited. The dangers posed by the depths were also unpredictable. If they so much as deviated a tiny fraction from the route, and failed to avoid a storm, they could capsize at any time.

Now, she was the only person in the cockpit, steering the course.

Yun Shishi went through the buttons and switches. Earlier, when she observed how the captain operated the ship, she had difficulty understanding the complicated dashboard and telling one button from another.

Navigating a cruise ship was different from driving a car. It would be impossible to understand it just by looking and not understanding.

At this point, an alarm sounded from the screen. A red light kept flashing. Yun Shishi walked over and looked at the screen, only to see a bunch of random codes appearing on it. She was confused.

She thought they were English words, but after looking at them for a long time, she could not understand what the numbers on the screen meant.

On the screen, there was only a vague route. After the red light flashed for a long time, Yun Shishi did not dare to touch it. Not long after, an exclamation mark surrounded by a red border at the top right corner of the screen started jumping.

How did that happen?

She broke out in a cold sweat.

The alarm in the cockpit caught the attention of the second mate in the other cabin. Realizing that the door to the cockpit was locked, he became suspicious. He approached the door and took a look inside. He was instantly shocked!

He saw the bodies of several people strewn all over the ground, the floor was a bloody mess.

Yun Shishi heard a sound at the door and spun around to take a look. Immediately she saw someone, whom she assumed to be one of the sailors, standing right at the door. She was startled and took a step back. She subconsciously tightened her grip on the pistol in her hand and stared at the door vigilantly.

“Open the Door!” The man outside the door shouted to be let in.

Naturally, Yun Shishi was not stupid to the extent of doing what the man demanded!

“The alarm has been triggered! Let me in!”

Yun Shishi understood what he meant. Thinking of the mess of codes and exclamation marks on the dashboard screen earlier, she speculated that the second mate must have heard the alarm and rushed over after learning that the ship was in danger.

Chapter 3350: Sudden Changes (91)

She raised her gun and aimed it at him. The sailor outside the door saw that she had a gun and subconsciously put his hands up over his head. He explained, “I... I just... I just came to take a look at the situation! I hope you know that if the ship encounters danger, we will all die!”

“I know!” She swallowed nervously. “I’ll let you in, but don’t threaten me or I’ll kill you!”

The sailor nodded in fright.

With her gun aimed at him, she reached for the door, only to realize that it was locked from the outside.

When the second mate realized the same, he immediately reacted. He took out a bunch of keys, found the one to this door and inserted it into the lock.

All the time, Yun Shishi warily aimed her gun at him.

The moment the door opened, the sailor lunged at her. Caught off guard, she was thrown to the floor. She was about to fire when the man punched her in the corner of her mouth. Bam! She did not expect this and arched her body in pain. However she clung to the pistol to keep him from snatching it.

The sailor drew his saber from his waist and gripped it tightly. He raised his hand, but suddenly... the ship let out an ear-piercing screech as it shook violently!

The entire cabin shook violently!

Yun Shishi was shocked as she felt the entire cabin spin!

What was going on?!

A great sense of fear overcame her.

This huge movement caused the tip of the man's knife, which was initially coming straight at her chest, to deviate its path and instead plunge into the deck next to her.

The tip of the knife sank into the deck viciously. Because the man's center of gravity was unstable, he was unable to dislodge the weapon immediately.

Yun Shishi reacted quickly and took this opportunity to deliver a solid kick to the man. She tightened her grip on her pistol but before she had the chance to aim, there was another loud bang. Through the deck, she heard an ear-piercing tearing sound coming from the bottom of the ship. Her heart turned cold!

The sailor couldn't care less about her. He quickly got up and rushed to the screen, shouting that something had gone wrong!

"Shit!" He cursed and started his attempts to salvage the situation.

Yun Shishi had no idea what was going on. In her confusion, she heard an ear-piercing sound. The ship shook again. This time, the turbulence was not as violent as the previous two times. In an instant, darkness engulfed the entire cockpit.

The circuit system had been struck, plunging the entire cabin into darkness!

Little Yichen and Youyou encountered the strong turbulence as they were on their way to the cockpit. The cabin shook continuously and Youyou almost lost his balance. Little Yichen immediately reached out to steady him.

"What's going on?!" Youyou looked around nervously. Under the dim moonlight, the waves were surging and crashing against the ship.

Little Yichen walked to the railing and looked down. When he saw that the waves were abnormal, he frowned and said in shock, "I'm afraid we've hit a reef."

"Hit a reef?"

"Uh huh."

"Is the situation serious?" the boy asked curiously, not understanding these things. He suddenly realized that he knew too little and sometimes had to rely on Little Yichen.

Yichen nodded solemnly and said worriedly, "Judging from the situation, it must be rather serious."

A ship running into a reef can be a very serious matter.

On the surface, the sea may seem calm and flat but sometimes, there are reefs under the water. Some of them may be more than ten meters deep underwater and can only be detected by devices.