

《Sweet Marriage: Smart Cute Wife》

Chapter 191

The cafe they went to was where song yuezheng used to work. Since her accident, Xia Jinsheng consciously avoided it.

To prevent yourself from thinking. Now come back to this place, there is a feeling like another world.

"Sorry." The man opposite him suddenly apologized, "I almost forgot that this is where your friend used to work."

Xia Jinsheng suddenly became alert. She didn't know the person in front of her, but this person knew her too thoroughly.

I even inquired about song yuezheng.

"What's your purpose?"

The man didn't seem to expect that she would be so sensitive. After a moment of absence, he laughed, and Xia Jinsheng felt more inexplicable. I'm sure others in the cafe think so.

He had restrained his smile and seriously explained: "my surname is Su, and my single name is a thousand words. You don't know me, but don't worry. I mean no harm. "

"Mr. Su, right?" Xia Jinsheng silently remembered the name in his heart, crossed his fingers and joked, "not every bad man will engrave the word bad man on his face."

"You're interesting." Su Qian smiled and looked familiar, which made Xia Jinsheng unable to parry. He stretched out his hand and didn't hit the smiling person.

She said that sentence silently twice before calming down. "What's the matter with me?"

Su Qian avoided answering her question and asked her another question, "should I call you Xia Jinsheng? Or should I call you Xia hazy moon? "

Boom! Xia Jinsheng's brain is empty. Few people know that she has this name. Who the hell is this man?

"What the hell do you want to do?"

She almost couldn't control to leave, but her feet were firmly nailed to the ground and couldn't move. She vaguely sensed that what the man said next was likely to have something to do with her life experience.

"When you were a child, you experienced an explosion, and all your family died in the sea of fire except you. The Gu family took you back and changed your name to Xia Jinsheng. Dramatically, you choose to lose your memory and forget your past. "

Every single word or phrase came into his mind as like as two peas of summer, and he would have some small fragments in his brain.

That's her memory.

In the sea of fire and collapsed ruins, her little body was overwhelmed and fell down, and a fuzzy figure was slowly approaching. Xia Jinsheng wanted to see his face, but there was only a white light.

She couldn't remember what happened that day. Instead, she had a splitting headache. On the day of the explosion, there was another surviving witness. Who was it?

The more you think about it, the more painful Xia Jinsheng will be. A dull pain of thin nerves, subconsciously resisting and remembering the events of that day. She began to feel dizzy.

"Good boy, don't think about it."

A slightly cool hand covered it. Xia Jinsheng was stimulated by the outside world, withdrew from the painful memory, and saw only Su Qian's caring face.

It's very resistant, especially the touch just now makes Xia Jinsheng feel sick. No matter what his purpose, she doesn't want to continue to stay, "Mr. Su, if you just want to say these words, excuse me, there are still things to deal with in the company."

She got up and quickened her pace. Su Qian didn't stop her until Xia Jinsheng's hand touched the doorknob, and then she heard his voice behind her:

"After all these years, don't you want to see your relatives?"

Xia Jinsheng stopped and looked back at him. Probably guessed why Su Qian came and immediately relaxed.

Then she resolutely chose to leave. Su Qianman was stunned and puzzled. Hurried out, "don't you want to see the relatives you haven't seen for so many years?"

"No."

Xia Jinsheng rebuffed him faintly, and then drove away in a taxi. When the family adopted her, they didn't hide her background and told her everything they knew.

For example, why did a family die, and how did relatives compete for their property after death, and then kick her around like a ball.

Before Gu Jun adopted her, she spent some time at a big aunt's house. If you don't have enough to eat and wear, you have to be bullied by your cousins.

When she was a child, she was not easy to handle. She retaliated against her bullies one by one, which led to her being driven out. Offended people, everyone thought she had a bad temper, and slowly she learned to be clever.

Later, Gu Jun returned from his tour. I heard that something like this happened to my former good friend's family. When I inquired, I found that she didn't live well. Being the adopted daughter of the family has become a matter of course.

After all these years, Xia Jinsheng regarded them as his family subconsciously, even though he was still at odds with the old man. In particular, now there is a fat little figure running towards himself.

"Mommy, I miss you so much."

Xiaotuanzi rushed into Xia Jinsheng's arms. Today she became very sticky. Xia Jinsheng likes it very much. The little guy and Gu Nanchen are her destination.

"I haven't seen you for a day, and you miss me?" Xia Jinsheng spoiled and scraped her little nose. Today she has the last play to kill.

Now, of course, I'm going to the set. I'm worried that she will be hungry later. Xia Jinsheng took out the sandwich bought in advance and asked, "fill your stomach first and let the nanny aunt cook delicious food for you when you get home."

"I want to eat a lot of red." Unlike other children, xiaotuanzi especially likes the food cooked by his aunt at home. Every time, it will be a little more than usual.

"Well thought."

Xia Jinsheng kept in mind the rule that it was not easy to eat too much at night. Even if she spoiled the little guy, she couldn't make an exception.

Coincidentally, Mo Nanfeng's play is also finished today. The director specially prepared flowers and delicious food for the two of them. The small group pestered Xia Jinsheng to take a group photo of them.

"Be sure to shoot beautifully. Otherwise, I, I will... "

She didn't tell me why for a long time. She wanted to threaten Xia Jinsheng and didn't know what to threaten.

"All right, I see." The smelly child doesn't know whose genes he inherited. It's definitely not her anyway.

After filming, Mo Nanfeng suddenly asked about her women's clothing company, "did you get a women's clothing brand?"

"Why, are you interested?" Xia Jinsheng came back and looked at him jokingly. If a 1.89-meter-old man said he had a hobby in some way, she wouldn't believe it.

Just thinking about Mo Nanfeng's appearance in women's clothes, Xia Jinsheng couldn't help beating a cold cicada.

Mo Nanfeng guessed what she was thinking from her trembling, and wanted to open her brain to see what was in it.

Helpless way: "you think too much, I have always been. If you need it, I can help promote it for free."

Hearing this sentence, Xia Jinsheng's eyes burst out two brilliant lights. His eyes at Mo Nanfeng suddenly changed, flattering, expecting and longing... It's like looking at a moving gold mine.

It's no wonder Xia Jinsheng is excited at the thought of Mo Nanfeng's fans. Mo Nanfeng can't wear women's clothes, but most of his fans are women and can definitely wear them.

Star effect blessing, the huge consumer market can be described as quite objective.

Xia Jinsheng put his hand on his shoulder like a money slave. His actions were very heroic and his words were very stingy.

"How much is the endorsement fee? Give me a discount."

"No, I just said free endorsement. I still have some decision-making power over the company. "

No matter how she insisted, Mo Nanfeng didn't charge Xia Jinsheng for his endorsement. Although they had a good relationship, she didn't want to take advantage of him in vain.

The light suddenly appeared in his mind. Xia Jinsheng thought it was quite OK. Then he stood on tiptoe and attached it to Mo Nanfeng's ear and said a word.

“ .....

After saying this, she clearly saw that Mo Nanfeng's ears were suffused with a suspicious blush, and Xia Jinsheng immediately looked like beating chicken blood. She just mentioned it casually. Unexpectedly, Mo Nanfeng was so innocent, but why is it so cold behind her?

Maybe it's cooling down at night.

Mo Nanfeng saw the people behind her, consciously opened the distance between the two people, gave her a look of self-help, and then went to get together with the crew.

Before he left, he said, "design it and send it to me."

Sample, it's not necessary yet. Sure enough, he wants to try that. Just thinking about the effect of her reward, Xia Jinsheng couldn't help laughing.

"Are you happy?"

The low magnetic voice is particularly clear at night, and it is surrounded by your ears repeatedly.

Hoo

A hot breath hit, and the neck was crisp and numb. Xia Jinsheng trembled all over. It was clear that someone was standing in her ear because of the dark.

And she is not a stranger to that person, Gu Nanchen.

No wonder Mo Nanfeng's eyes were so deep, and her whole body was tense.

"Were you happy just now?"

"I'm very happy."

"What did you just say?" Even though he knew that Mo Nanfeng had a master of the grass, he couldn't stand seeing Xia Jinsheng so close to a person, "do you have to be so close to speak?"

"In order not to let others know." Xia Jinsheng smiled mysteriously, like a sly fox, "but do you really want to know?"

Her smile told Gu Nanchen that there must be nothing good. She still nodded, "HMM."

Xia Jinsheng stood on tiptoe and put his lips directly on Gu Nanchen's ears. The atmosphere was extremely ambiguous. His red lips opened slightly, like a tempting criminal goblin in the dark night. "In fact, it's nothing. I just promised to design some clothes for him."

"Huh?"

If it were just a few clothes, Xia Jinsheng's expression would not have so much connotation.

"The kind of fun..."

Gu Nanchen tightly held Xia Jinsheng's waist. For a moment, the two people's bodies stuck together. He raised his head and bumped into his burning eyes. Her whole body became hot.

The atmosphere is beautiful and beautiful“ Mommy, come here! "
