

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 15 Setting up her own business

"Miss Dawson!"

"Natalia, you... don't be impulsive!"

"Miss Dawson, Mr. Miller doesn't mean that!"

As soon as Natalia finished her speech, all of Glory Group's senior executives changed their faces.

They all started to persuade her.

After all, they were only jealous and discontent when seeing her being as a manager at such a young age, especially when achieved all these by her own efforts.

But nobody expected she really asked to leave.

After all, she got a great talent, and in the past two years, it was because of Natalia that the PR department was able to get better and better.

The stronger the PR department was, the less job the artist department and the brokerage department would do.

Especially the brokerage department, the thing that they feared most was something went wrong with the artists they took charge of. And once something really happened, they could turn to Natalia for help because she could handle it perfectly, and sometimes, bringing a good consequence to the artists.

But now, she was going to resign!

Not to mention what the other two departments would turn to after she left, Julia, although she was famous, they never cooperated with them, and they didn't know enough about her.

What if she was not as good as Natalia?

Everyone panicked at once, and Shawn's face darkened.

"Natalia,

Stop making jokes!

This is not something to make joke of!"

Natalia sneered, "I'm joking?

It was Mr. Miller who wanted to propose a resignation by myself in order to prove that you were not that ruthless.

I've been so cooperative, what else do you want?"

Shawn's face was as black as the bottom of a pot.

"I told you, I'm not trying to force you to resign!

Julia is more qualified than you, and the position of PR manager should be hers."

Natalia shrugged indifferently.

"It can be anyone!

Actually, I'll quit even if you don't bring her today!

Mr. Miller, I wish Glory Group to become better and better, and make further progress!"

After saying that, she sneered, dashing closed the book in her hand, and then walked out without looking back.

With the sound of "CLANG",

the door of the conference room was shut down.

It was as if the office still held the residue of the woman's legacy, cold and overwhelming.

Shawn clenched his teeth and hands.

He had expected the consequence before he brought Jessica and Julia today.

He just didn't expect she left so decisively.

Looking at resignation letter in his hand, Shawn's eyes were cold, but after a moment, the sense of pleasure vaguely rose from his heart.

In the past two years, although Natalia worked really hard for the company, her words were more powerful than his.

She was the manager of the PR department, however, she always discussed with him privately about the future plans of the company and its current situation.

He got really annoyed sometimes, the kind of annoyance was not because she was wrong, but because she was right about everything!

He didn't want to feel that he was actually inferior to a woman when it came to run a company.

Yeah, it was better that she left.

At least in the future he wouldn't feel that he had to rely on a woman to make Glory Group get such an achievement.

After a long time, Shawn's face gradually eased.

The assistant beside asked him in a low voice.

"Mr. Miller, what should we do now?"

He took a deep breath and turned to all the executives.

"Since Miss Dawson insists on leaving, none of us can retain her. From now on, the PR department will be managed by Julia, and she will also be Jessica's agent. Lisa, take Julia to go through the procedures."

The senior members looked at each other surprisingly and no one dared to say anything anymore.

Natalia left the conference room and went straight to her office.

At this time, Glory Group's executives were still in the conference room, so there were only ordinary employees in the office.

When Howard saw her walking out with a cold face, he felt there was something wrong and hurriedly followed her.

"Miss Dawson, did Mr. Miller really announce that he's going to let that Julia manage our PR department?

So you're leaving?"

Natalia stepped into the office and let him close the door before nodding.

"Well, you guys have to let her take charge from now on, I don't know what her character is, but her ability is great. Maybe a decade ago it would take you a large sum of money to probably be her assistant, so seize this chance and do a good job!"

Howard sniffed, almost crying out when hearing this.

"Then what about you?"

"I..."

Natalia raised her eyes and smiled, "Of course I can go to somewhere else. Glory Group is not the only entertainment company in the world?"

"Miss Dawson, are you going to another company?"

Natalia narrowed her eyes and smiled.

"Well... I'm not going to be the employee of any company, instead of being an employee, I'll start my own business, don't you think so?"

Howard was shocked.

Natalia patted his shoulders and smiled, "Just work hard, and we can gather around when we're available."

She had already gathered her belongings, taking her coat off the rack and sliding it over her arm to leave.

Suddenly, Howard ran over to stop her.

"Miss Dawson, are you going to start your own company?"

Natalia held out a finger, and made a "Quiet" posture.

"Don't tell anyone. If we hush up before doing anything, it is hard for it to be successful. Stop getting me troubles."

He looked at her and nodded heavily.

"I know, Miss Dawson, when you open your company, you'll definitely hire people, right?

Then I will come over and work for you!"

Natalia froze, a little surprised.

Honestly, because of her cold character, she didn't have any henchman in the company.

Howard was loyal to her, but it was only because she was a rookie, who had just graduated from college.

So she didn't anticipate that he would make such a request.

She looked into his sincere eyes and smiled.

"Running a new company will be tough, a hundred times tougher than at Glory Group, aren't you afraid?"

He shook his head firmly.

"I'm not."

After a pause, she whispered.

"Miss Dawson, although you aren't getting close to everyone, I can tell that you are a good person. And you always help others when they meet difficulties. I think I can learn something from you even if there will be hardships.

But that Julia is different, I heard this morning that she is selfish and mean, and likes to squeeze the staff. The credit is all hers, but the hard work is for others. I am not willing to work with such a boss."

Natalia looked at her face and smiled.

"That's fine, but it still takes time for a new company to start. I'll call you if you're willing to do the job later."

He immediately broke into a smile.

"Deal."

"Well, deal."
