

Sweet Wife 2001

Chapter 2001: safety ropes

Of course, there was another one. It was none other than Lu Qin. Yes, it was that Scumbag Lu Qin. Lu Qin was the second monster in Yan Huan's heart. It was a monster that she did not like, and it was also a monster that she detested.

Lu Yi took a small table and put it away. Then, he took his notebook over and opened it again. Very quickly, the image of the Sea River was already on it. However, the place where the image passed was indeed a little messy, but it was still better than what they had imagined.

Lu Jin was right. The Sea River did indeed have three lines of defense. The first line had already been broken through, so the road along the river was already flooded. However, the second line was still very stable.

Lu Yi pointed at the location on top. "As long as it's not here, nothing will happen. With the current flood flow, the second line of defense should be able to be preserved at this speed."

Right now, many people were like them, hiding in their homes. They didn't know whether to sit, stand, walk, or not. They could only place their hopes on this line of defense. The first line was actually the most important, if this line of defense was really broken, then the amount of flood was already very terrifying. It was also so large that it was uncontrollable. When the third line arrived, some people might start to flood, this was especially so for those who lived on the lower floors

Although they wanted people to go up to the city safely, they were still worried. After all, Hai City was the root of all of them.

The rain continued to fall outside. This time, Lu Yi did not go out. He would not let Yan Huan worry and be afraid again. It was fine as long as it happened once. It was not his problem in the first place. He was the prosecutor, he was not a riot officer. The last time, he only went over because he had heard some news about the flood from Yan Huan. However, this time, even if he went over, he would not be able to solve those problems, he was only Lu Yi. He was not a god. His people did not have that much foresight. The flood of the sea was not something that she could withstand with just one hand.

Whether they could escape this time would depend on the arrangement of the heavens.

After all, they had done all they could, and all they could prepare for was preparation. However, this time, it was really fierce. Compared to the last time, it was more serious, and of course, it was more terrifying.

The water level seemed to be rising because the rain in the sea city hadn't stopped. There was indeed nothing happening in the sea city, but needless to say, the farmland upstream was probably submerged, this season's crops had also been planted for nothing.

And although they were still relatively relaxed, they could not just stand by and watch such a disaster happen to them. Although nothing happened to them, it was as if something.., just like that, it gently strangled their necks. It was so tight that they could not breathe.

Lu Yi took out his phone and called Lei Qingyi. Lei Qingyi hadn't been doing well recently. After all, as the head of the security department, he had to take care of the security of Hai City, and he also had to take care of the security of Hai City

"Be careful and don't do anything rash. Think about your wife and children," he urged Lei Qingyi.

"Don't worry, I know," Lei Qingyi naturally knew what to do, "I don't want to risk my life. We are all outside the safety line. I don't want my wife to be a widow and my good-for-nothing son to grow crooked. They are still young and healthy. That's because of my fist."

Lei Qingyi wiped his face. The wind that was accompanied by the rain suddenly hit his body, making him shiver.

He hung up the phone. At this moment, he looked at the vast ocean in front of him. Even though he was so brave, he could not help but take a deep breath.

Yes, he would love his life well. He would not let his life be lost here. When he recalled how Lu Yi was no longer around, his entire body trembled. He could not believe it. On that day, his name, Lei Qingyi., appeared on the Tombstone, crying half to death, becoming his parents, his spirit, and his little thunder.

His whole body was shivering, and he could not help but take a step back. So now, he gave everyone life jackets around their waists and tied a safety cord around their bodies, he did not know that his sudden idea this time had saved many people.

"Mayor, tie it on." The Secretary had already tied a safety rope around his waist. This was director Lei's request, and they all had to do it.

"I don't need it." Gao Yuling shook his head. "Don't worry, it'll be fine."

"Better tie it on." The secretary's hand holding the safety rope was sore, "Director Lei has clearly instructed that he will listen to the mayor on other matters. However, he is the director of the Safety Department regarding safety. Therefore, regarding the safety rope, we have to listen to director lei."

"This kid!" Gao Yuling was really helpless about this.

In the past, when he saw him, it was like a mouse seeing a cat. He couldn't even speak. Now, he was bold enough to dare to order him. When he saw the safety rope in the secretary's hand, he could only open his hand, he had his secretary tie the safety rope around his waist. Why was this feeling not called a safety rope but a dog leash.

At this time, Gao Yuling had actually not slept for two days and two nights. The other end of the safety rope was tied to a large truck. Wherever a person went, the truck would go, at the very least, if there was really a flood, the truck would run much faster than a person's feet. The road that the truck drove was also an escape route

Gao Yuling raised his head to look at the sky. At this moment, it was still a torrential downpour. The impact on his face was almost painful and uncomfortable.

He didn't know how much he would lose. He sighed.

As for the losses from the flood, he would forget about it for now. At the very least, there were no casualties so far. This was his greatest consolation. He could buy more things if they were gone, and earn more money if they were gone, if he lost his life, no matter how much money he spent, he would not be able to buy his life back. Moreover, everyone had their families with them now. If he died, he could forget about it, but he would also lose his family.

The wind in the Haijiang River was very strong. The safety ropes around their waists also brought them some mental safety. Otherwise, under such a heavy storm, those who were light-weight might be blown away by the wind. If that was really the case., they did not know where they would be blown to in the Haijiang River. However, in just a glance, they had already disappeared without a trace. It was impossible for them to survive.

The strong wind was still blowing, and the heavy rain was still falling.

Chapter 2002: Line 1

It was another sleepless night. Many people were the same. They couldn't sleep. They were all afraid and worried. It rained the whole night, but fortunately, the rain came at night, it was a little smaller. Although it wasn't much smaller, the water level in Hai City had dropped a lot. In other words, the flood had receded a lot.

If the current rainfall was calculated. If they could maintain this amount of rainfall for another day, then the flood would recede to below the normal water level. After all, Hai City's defense work had been done well, however, this time was really too serious. It was still a little more terrifying than the flood that had occurred in Hai City last time. It was also a little larger. Therefore, they felt that it was somewhat impossible to guard against.

The next day, the rain didn't seem to be much heavier. It was still as fast as last night. Many people heaved a sigh of relief, thinking that it should be smaller, and as long as the rain was smaller., then, for them, all these things were good. As long as they stayed below the second water level, Hai City would be fine.

Lei Qingyi looked up at the sky. The rain kept falling on his face. It also hit his face, making it hurt.

Suddenly, his face hurt again. This time, it was different.

She could feel that the rain was falling faster on his face. Of course, it was also faster.

He stretched out his hand. He could clearly feel that the rain seemed to be getting heavier than before.

"Is the rain getting heavier?" He asked the people around him. Or was it because he was a little silly from the rain recently, so he felt that the rain was getting heavier.

"Yes, director, the rain is really getting heavier," the people around him also answered in discomfort.

The more the rain got worse, the more it got worse. Just now, they were all rejoicing that the rain had finally gotten lighter, and they were finally a little relaxed. They were still thinking that if the rain continued to get lighter., perhaps this time it would be over, and they could also go home. But why was the rain getting heavier again.

Lei Qingyi leaned to the side, as if his entire body was soaked in water. It was as if he had not even worn dry clothes, and he was about to forget what it felt like to wear dry clothes, anyway, if he were to change clothes now, he wouldn't be drenched in the rain, so he would just let it be.

After getting everyone to fasten their seatbelts, Lei Qingyi wiped his face. He had already picked up the safety rope and tied it around his waist. The rain had come too suddenly, and he had a very bad feeling about it.

Gao Yuling tied the safety rope around his waist again, but he really didn't understand why he had to tie it. He didn't feel that it was very useful, so he really didn't want to use it, however, when he saw the secretary's uncompromising look, he tied it in the end. However, he didn't understand. He was the mayor, not a lei qingyi.

What did Lei Qingyi give his secretary.

At this moment, the rain was really getting heavier.

The secretary wiped the rain off his face. His mouth was filled with the smell of rain. Actually, there wasn't any smell. It was so cold that his mouth was numb.

It was not a good thing to rain so heavily.

Gao Yuling also heard the secretary mumbling to himself. Indeed, it was not a good thing. The rain was also getting heavier. In the end, it was so heavy that even the vision in front of his eyes became blurry, the safe water level was also continuously rising.

The rain was pouring down, causing the secretary's glasses to be covered in raindrops. The secretary had no choice but to take off his glasses. He had no choice but to take them off. The rain was simply testing those who wore glasses, it was obvious that he looked down on those who wore glasses.

Even if he took off his glasses, he did not know what to use to wipe them. His entire body was drenched, so he had no choice but to take his glasses and rub them on his body, however, his glasses were still not clean as if they had been washed by water.

He used his hands to wipe the water droplets on the surface of the glasses. However, when he put them on, it was foggy in the distance. He could not see anything clearly. Of course, he could not see clearly where the water level had risen to, he could only take off his glasses and wipe them again. After taking off his glasses, he was no different from a blind man?

Suddenly, he felt his collar tighten and he was pulled backward. The glasses in his hand fell to the ground. He narrowed his eyes. There seemed to be something under his feet. A huge wave came crashing down, it seemed that someone had fallen.

"Mayor..."

The secretary quickly tried to pull Gao Yuling back, but he himself jumped forward and was swept into the Sea River. He instantly drank a few mouthfuls of water.

Just when he thought that his life was over, the safety rope around his waist was pulled back. He took a deep breath with great difficulty, and in his blurry vision, he could only see the foggy sky..

On the shore, the sound of frantic footsteps could be heard everywhere.

“Quick, get some people to help.” Then, a few people pulled up the ropes and pulled him out of the river.

There was Gao Yuling and his secretary.

Gao Yuling might have drunk too much water, so he was in a coma. The Secretary was fine, but there was no big problem. He couldn't find his glasses, so he couldn't see anything. He was just blind., gao Yuling wasn't in a good condition right now. He had pulled his secretary back a little. Otherwise, his secretary might have been in a worse state than he was now.

Lei Qingyi helped to squeeze the water out of Gao Yuling's stomach. She hurriedly got people to send them to the hospital. He looked at the sea water in front of him, and the hair on his head even exploded one by one.

“Sound the alarm immediately. Tell everyone to go higher.”

The flood had already crossed the second level. Hai city was really in danger.

The image on the computer suddenly changed. Yan Huan opened his eyes and sat up as well. Then, he lay on Lu Yi's lap.

The image on the screen made her feel a little apprehensive. It seemed like the sea water was about to pour into hai city's downtown area.

“Did the second safety line pass?”

Yan Huan asked Lu Yi.

“Yes,” Lu Yi nodded. “The rain is heavy. It passed. Mayor Gao and his secretary fell into the sea water.”

Yan Huan was stunned.

“What? They fell into the sea water?”

Mayor Gao, Xiaomei's father?

“Don't worry. They're fine now,” Lu Yi quickly comforted Yan Huan, “Yes, Everything's fine now. They were all tied up with safety ropes. Lei Qingyi pulled them all up. Now that they're in the hospital, the most they can do is drink a few mouthfuls of seawater. Their lives aren't in danger.”

Chapter 2003: danger without danger

Yan Huan finally heaved a sigh of relief. It was good that he was fine. If something really happened to Gao Yuling, with Mei Ru's current body, she definitely wouldn't be able to withstand it. What would Xiaomei do in the future?

She would become an orphan without parents and no one would love her anymore.

The word 'orphan' had to pierce through Yan Huan's heart. Yan Huan was an orphan herself. If she hadn't met Lu Yi later, she would still be unloved and unloved.

“Don’t be afraid, it’s fine,” Lu Yi comforted Yan Huan, “Even if the third line of defense is broken through, we’re still fine. We’re at the highest point in the entire sea city. The flood won’t reach here.”

However, even though he said so, it had to be said that his current thoughts might not be able to relax anything?

The computer was still boiling with the sea water. It was as if it had grown fangs and opened its bloody mouth wide, as if it wanted to swallow the entire sea city.

The alarm had already been raised. Many families in the sea city district had already taken their belongings and ran to higher places. Those with families were fleeing for their lives.

By the next day, the flood of Hai River had already passed the third line of defense. It had also flooded into the lower areas of Hai City. Many families’ houses had been flooded, however, there was no one in these families’ homes. Everyone had retreated to the stadium of Hai City. Thousands of people were here. No one knew what was happening outside, they didn’t even know how much water had risen in the river.

They were just hiding, hiding, and hiding.

Below Hai city was a lot of flooded farmland and houses. Although the drainage had increased, it couldn’t keep up with the speed of the rainstorm. The water level continued to move up, it also moved up to the hearts of many people. The entire hai city was like a vast ocean. In an instant, it was truly submerged.

In the entire Liuyuan Garden, perhaps only the four children did not know what had happened. They continued to play with their toys, ate their fill, and slept. As long as they fell asleep., they would sleep without a care in the world.

Only when the adults saw these innocent children could they feel some comfort in their hearts.

Old Master Lu looked at his little granddaughter every day. He was afraid that Xun Xun would run to the surface and be washed away by the water. Therefore, he carefully watched his little granddaughter every day and locked the door from the inside, he also had a few nannies keep an eye on the children.

The water level in hai city continued to rise. It was like the knife on everyone’s head. It was moving down bit by bit. If there were a little more, people would die here.

Just as everyone was feeling nervous and difficult, the rain gradually began to subside. Although it was still a violent storm, it was clearly much slower than before.

It was unknown whether it was because they were not downstream and the flood resistance was effective, or because the rain had lessened, the water level began to fall bit by bit. After the third layer retreated, it fell to the second layer, by the time they reached the second layer, it was already considered safe.

The weather forecast said that the heavy rain this time had gradually begun to weaken. It could stop within a few days. This meant that., the rainy season in Hai City had also come to an end. That meant that they were fine.

The rain was getting smaller and smaller. In the end, it became drizzle. Everyone began to move back to their homes one after another.

In fact, according to the internal estimates, there were not many losses in the downtown area of Hai City. There were no casualties or missing people. However, the number of fields that had been washed away downstream was also uncountable.

As for the houses of the residents in the downtown area of Hai City, they weren't destroyed much. Most of them were low-rise residents. Their houses were flooded by water, but they were still very big. It wasn't too serious, so they could still live after some cleaning up, the most serious damage was the damage to the furniture and appliances, but that was all.

Ye Shuyun and Lu Jin also took some time to return to the Lu family. They hadn't been back for a long time. They didn't know what was going on in the house, and whether it had been flooded. When they opened the door..., only then did they heave a sigh of relief. Everything in the house was normal. The water did not reach this place. It was the same place as before. There was no difference, not even much dust.

When night fell, they also moved over. Old Master Lu naturally followed them back.

People were really strange. Old Master Lu was originally unwilling to leave his residence garden no matter what. However, he actually did not want to stay in the residence garden for a day. He left the residence garden to Yan Huan and Lu Yi.

Of course, he wasn't stupid. The children had to go to school in the end. It wasn't like he didn't know if they spent more time in the Lu family or stayed in the residence garden, of course, he had to see his grandson's granddaughter every day. The children were still young, and it depended on who he saw more. if he dared to not see his great-granddaughter for a month..., his granddaughter would probably forget about him, so how could he do that.

Therefore, without saying a word, he brought the guards back. Of course, including Xiaomei, there were four children. They were also brought back, so it was normal for the children to go back. The Sky had just cleared up, it was also a clear sky with no clouds. Compared to the gray weather not long ago, this weather seemed to have a glimmer of hope. It had gradually calmed everyone's hearts and calmed them down.

Furthermore, this time, there was really no danger. The water level had also receded. Of course, the damage caused by the flood was still very heavy, especially in the downstream areas, which relied on land to survive, after the flood, there was nothing left. There was no farmland, no village, and even no house.

Yan Huan called Yi Ling and asked her to help her donate the 50 million yuan. All of Linlang's artists and Linlang had also donated together with Yan Huan. In total, it was around 100 million yuan, they were all donated to people downstream, so that they could tide over the difficulties and start a new life.

In the television interview, Yan Huan became famous once again. She had always done her best and was very generous in the face of natural disasters. Every time, she would think of ways to help, if she could give more, she would give more. If she could help more, she would help more. Otherwise, it was impossible for her to always be ranked first on the national charity rankings.

Chapter 2004: bringing some kids over

She wasn't putting on a show. She just felt that her rebirth in this lifetime was a great opportunity. and behind this opportunity, perhaps it needed such merit to be offset. Now That Yi Ling was alive and Lu Jin was alive.., she was also alive and had three cute children. So it was always good to accumulate more merit.

By the time the kindergarten started, Mei Ru's illness had also recovered. After all, she had been ill for a while. Moreover, it was because Gao Yuling had almost met with an accident, which had scared her so much that she fell ill again. She had also lost a lot of weight, this kind of weight was very sick. Yan Huan's heart ached when he saw it, and he felt uncomfortable.

"Don't worry, I'll be fine."

Mei Ru smiled weakly and held her daughter's little hand. "My Xiaomei is still so young. How can I let her not have a mother? I'll Live Well, so that she won't be bullied by others."

Yan Huan no longer had a mother. He knew how pitiful it was to have a child without a mother. When she heard Mei Ru say this, she also felt relieved. A mother was strong. Don't underestimate a woman's maternal love.

For her sake, her mother was willing to become a rich young lady's nanny for others. She used her piano hands and her drawing hands to learn how to do housework. She could also comb her daughter's hair, she could dress her daughter up beautifully from a young age. She could look at her daughter and see that she had the same appearance as herself. Then, she would grow up little by little. She would call her mother and start to talk to her mother, she would tell her mother on purpose, and she would also learn to love her mother.

This was much happier than being a rich young lady. Even if their lives were very hard, even if she had already passed away long ago, she still had a daughter in this world, and she also had her own daughter at home.

Of course, it was also like Yan Huan herself. When she became a mother herself, she knew that no matter what, for the sake of her three children, she had to live on. Even if she could only see her children from afar, she would not abandon her children.

Mei Ru took Xiaomei away. Xiaomei held her mother's hand, clearly much livelier than before. She told her mother about the matters in the Lu family, what meals she would have every day, how her grandmother was, how her grandfather was.., there was also the old grandfather. The old grandfather was the best to her. He even secretly gave her and Xun Xun good food. If Old Master Lu knew that he was also on Xiaomei's good people list, he would be so proud.

As for Gao Yulin's health, it was not a big deal. He had already returned home to recuperate. Of course, this time, he would definitely be praised. There was also Lei Qingyi. He had saved a lot of people's lives, he could also remember a great merit.

Of course, Lei Puqing was very proud now. Who asked him to save the Mayor's life? No, he also had to add the mayor's secretary's life. Of course, there were also many people's lives. Now, no one dared to say that he was only tall, he did not have a brain. His brain was clearly quite smart, right?

Haijiang had also calmed down. Compared to the madman from not too long ago, it was now like a shy little girl. It was still quiet as the Secretary of State moved forward. The river water had also gradually become clear, however, many street lamps and guardrails had been destroyed by the roadside.

If they wanted to fix these things, it might take a long time. These things could be fixed. As long as there was time, only people would still be alive.

Therefore, although it was dangerous this time, there were no casualties. This was their greatest victory.

The lives of the people of Haijiang city seemed to have returned to normal. They went to school, to work, and of course, they also went to kindergarten.

"Yanhuan, I'm going abroad. Do you want to go with me?"

Zhu Meina comfortably took up more than half of the sofa, and her entire body was lying on it. She was half-dressed in one of her high heels, and now she was shaking it bit by bit. She was holding her phone, while talking to Yanhuan, she was playing with her fingers.

"I've been suffocated by this rain recently. It's been raining for about a month. It's not like you don't know that if I don't go out and don't buy anything for a day, my whole body will feel uncomfortable. Moreover, it's been almost a month. I'm going to be moldy, and now I feel uncomfortable everywhere. How about it? Do you want to go?"

She shook her shoes again, "Let's go abroad to sell things, Okay?" "You don't know the best way for a woman to relieve her stress. It's not anything else, it's just buying and buying. The experts have said that buying and buying will increase a woman's IQ. Look at me. She pointed at her face. Haven't I become smarter?"

"I'm not going." Yan Huan was busy in the kitchen. She put her phone aside and turned on the speakerphone. She was cutting vegetables. Today was Lu Yi's first day at work and everyone was shocked. She was going to cook more dishes, the dishes were sent to the procuratorate. There were more than twenty people in the procuratorate, so it was enough to sit at two tables. She treated everyone to a meal to calm everyone down.

The dishes were almost ready. She, Auntie Gu, and a sister-in-law from the farm came over to help. It was very quick.

As for Zhu Meina asking her to go out and buy things, to be honest, Yan Huan wasn't interested at all. She wasn't a woman like Zhu Meina who had nothing to do and no one to worry about. She was now supporting her family, but she couldn't be compared to Zhu Meina.

Zhu Meina pursed her lips, "Sigh, a middle-aged woman like you can't be compared to a beautiful young girl like me. Fine, if you don't want to go, I'll go myself. But you don't have to worry, I'll bring you a gift. Of course, I'll bring you back the three children." Zhu Meina lifted her foot, she kicked her shoes and her high heels fell to the ground. When she sat upright, she found an old man who was as dry as tree bark and as old as a ghost, when did this old man come? Why? He still had to eavesdrop. How long had he been eavesdropping.

And who was this ghost?

Besides Su Qingdong, who else was in the Su Family?

But if she wanted to eavesdrop, then so be it. She didn't say anything. She didn't plunder other people's wealth or harm other people's lives. In any case, it was impossible for them to live better than her. In the future, they would die earlier than her. In the future, the Su family would still be hers.

She was still young. It was already unfair enough for her to marry an old man. Couldn't she rely on buying some things to fill the gap in her heart?

"Can you bring the child over?"

Su Qingdong hesitated for a long time before he said to Zhu Meina.

"Bring the child over?" When Zhu Meina heard these words, she felt as if she had heard a joke. Child? What Child? You said he was my son. If you want to see him, why don't you go see him yourself? You want me to bring him over, how can I bring him over? Do you want me to crash into him, or do you want me to crash into him, or do you want me to drink poison?"

Chapter 2005: invited everyone to dinner

"You know exactly what I'm talking about?"

Su Qingdong's face darkened. He didn't like to argue with Zhu Meina here. Why was he pretending to be stupid?

"How would I know what you're talking about?"

Zhu Meina was pretending to be stupid. Actually, everyone knew, and everyone understood. Of course, no one was stupid. Even if they knew, even if they understood, she wouldn't agree. He was dreaming.

Yan Huan had nothing to do with the Su family. How could he bring the child here? if she dared to bring the child here, no matter who she brought it for, Old Master Lu would definitely get someone to throw her out next time.

In the future, she would not be able to see her godson Xiao Guang again.

Don't look for her for this matter, and don't harm her. Zhu Meina would not do it. She was not really big-breasted and brainless. She would not do such a stupid thing like digging her own grave.

She put on her high heels and walked upstairs. Don't think that just because they were husband and wife, they could sleep in the same room and bed. No matter what they did, she still disliked Su Qingdong for being old. She was also afraid that she would disgust herself to death.

She walked into her own room and found a suitcase. She stuffed all her clothes into the suitcase. Then, she took out her passport and ID card from the same drawer and threw them inside.

She kicked off her high heels and prepared to go to bed. She would go out early the next morning. She had already booked her flight ticket. It was a pity that Yan Huan couldn't go. She wouldn't be able to find a friend who shared the same taste, no matter what, she had to go to this country.

She covered her head. It was still noon outside. Why did she feel that she was tired of living? She felt that she was really tired of living such a drunken life.

However, if she had to choose, she would still choose this kind of day.

She was not Yan Huan, nor could she be such a good wife and mother. People like her had big breasts and big brains. This was the path she had chosen back then. Even if she had to kneel, she would definitely finish it.

She then covered her head with the blanket. She really hoped that she could sleep until the next day.

The sunlight outside was still a little weak, but it was able to penetrate through the glass and refract a lot of warmth for her. Compared to the heavy rain a few days ago, the weather was really much better now.

Perhaps it was also because of the rain that the sky was extremely clean. Of course, the air was also quite fresh, and the air was also somewhat moist.

Yan Huan touched her face. Her face was very wet. This was also because the air was still filled with the rain from a few days ago. So, when she touched her face., it felt like there were water droplets on her face. It was actually very comfortable.

The car was driven by the new bodyguard that Lu Yi had found for her. It came from the same place as Baizhi. The name was also simple. It was called Ah Shi.

Ah Shi was very young. She was only twenty years old now, but her skills were very good. Yan Huan touched her face, and she hurriedly took out her small mirror from her bag, she looked at her own mirror for a long time. Sigh, she was actually quite young, wasn't she?

Compared to the twenty-year-old Ah Shi, she was about the same age. At the very least, Ah Shi wouldn't call her aunt.

Ah Shi turned around and glanced at Yan Huan. "Miss Yan, what are you comparing?"

Yan Huan put away her mirror.

"Nothing. I just feel that my face is a little itchy."

"Oh..." Ah Shi didn't ask much. She was even more silent than Bai Zhi. Usually, other than necessary words, she didn't want to say anything else.

Yan Huan really wanted to ask, as bodyguards, could it be that they were all so quiet? Or was it that Lu Yi liked to pick people with the same temperament as himself?

And today, they were driving Lu Yi's car. Because there were a lot of vegetables on the car, and the vegetables were all hot, it was just right to bring them there. There were also a bunch of dishes in the kitchen.

They had agreed to treat everyone to a meal. Of course, she couldn't really cook two big pots of noodles and buy dozens of big steamed buns. Then, she would say, "You guys eat as much as you want. The steamed buns will fill you up. This isn't treating..." This was feeding the pigs.

She had never thought of throwing Lu Yi's face in the prosecutor's office, so this time, she had prepared very well. Even the matching cutlery was very particular.

If everyone liked her dishes, then she decided that as long as she had the time, she would treat them to a meal. It was also to thank them for taking care of her Lu Yi for so long.

Actually, if her words of taking care of him were to be known by others, it would really make the people in the procuratorate ashamed and ashamed. What did she mean by taking care of Lu Yi? It was clearly Lu Yi who was taking care of them, okay?

The procuratorate did most of the work on their own. In their hands, there was not much. Otherwise, they might have to work overtime to death, they could not reach the working ability of Lu Yi.

This person could not be compared to others.

They could not be compared to Lu Yi's ability. The wives they found were not less capable than the wives they found.

Of course, the so-called abilities needed to be paid for. At the very least, none of them could jump into the sea river to save their wives. When they chose life and death, they would give their lives to their wives, and death was given to them.

Of course, no woman could take so many knives for her husband and die for him.

There was a kind of husband and wife that was just like this.

The car had already driven into the prosecutor's office. As it was Lu Yi's car, the license plate on it was also Lu Yi's, so there was no need for the car to stop to check inside the prosecutor's office. Yan Huan rolled down the car door, he smiled at the two guards at the door.

"I made some dishes. Can you eat together?" She knew their working hours. They had to stand here all the time. Unless another group of people came over to replace them, they could only eat together, therefore, it was not easy to do any job, especially for guards like them. They had undergone specialized training. Those who could stand here were not ordinary people. This was because an ordinary person definitely could not do it. They could stand here for a few hours without eating or going to the toilet. They could not even move.

The guard shook his head and did not speak. However, this action told Yan Huan the answer.

Yan Huan gave them an OK sign. "After you guys finish your shift, I will leave you guys behind."

The guard still did not say a word. However, the light in his eyes flashed. The dishes that Yan Huan cooked could really be compared to a chef. They had also been lucky enough to eat it a few times, it really tasted like entering a big hotel.

Chapter 2006: not full yet

Of course, it was the same. Yan Huan's culinary skills were not learned from others. She was a student who had been taught by a special first-class chef in the country. Moreover, she liked to steal from others. If she felt that something was delicious, like something that Lu Yi liked to eat., she had to think of ways to learn it. Therefore, the dishes she made now were not inferior to ordinary chefs. Of course, she also liked to share her cooking skills with others.

The car drove in, and a conference table was already moved out.

Yan Huan was really shocked by this scene. She asked Lu Yi and Yu Bo to help take out the things in the car. Of course, she did not forget to leave a portion for the two police guards, she went to make a cup of milk tea for everyone. The milk tea machine was placed in Lu Yi's office. It wasn't too difficult to make more than twenty cups. It wasn't like he had never made it before.

Lu Yi took out all the things from the car. Each type of dish was placed in a bag. He divided the dishes into two portions and placed them on a plate. There was chicken, fish, and many other special dishes, in any case, they were all very beautiful and delicious dishes. Although they weren't made freshly, they weren't cooked for more than a few minutes. If the dishes were eaten now, it would be scalding to the mouth.

In a short while, the dishes were placed on the table. Of course, Yu Bo didn't forget to leave two portions for the two guards. Each dish was left for them. There wasn't much left for them, however, they couldn't bear the fact that there were so many dishes. There were already more than twenty dishes, and they had already prepared two big bowls for them. No matter how big their stomachs were, they would still be able to eat their fill.

Lu Yi then opened the trunk of the car and took out a huge wooden barrel. This was the rice that Yan Huan had steamed. The rice that was steamed from the wooden barrel had an original taste and had a unique fragrance, of course, it was also very fragrant when eaten.

Yan Huan brought out milk tea from Lu Yi's office. Each person had a cup, which was just enough. A large conference table with more than 20 dishes was divided into two portions. One portion was placed on each side as if there were two tables, the table was filled with dishes. It was more like a restaurant than a restaurant.

There were more than 20 dishes on each table. There was also a small hotpot in the middle. The bottom of the pot was a small electric stove that Yan Huan used to make Shi Guo. Of course, there was a small portion of crayfish in it. This dish was really everyone's favorite, there was no one who did not like seafood. When it entered their mouths, it was both spicy and spicy. The taste was really good. A few people were fighting over the pot of crayfish. However, some wolves had more meat and less meat. There were only about 40 crayfish in a pot, those who were fast could snatch two or three, but those who were slow could not even grab one. Just like that, they still had to pick out a few from the pot and leave them for the two guards. There were so many of them, but they all wanted one pot, however, they were not as good as the other guards. Even if they did not snatch them, they still ate more than them.

Although Yan Huan did a lot, he was also patient. They were all young men. They ate a lot, their appetite was good, and their culinary skills were great. Compared to Yan Huan., the food cooked in their cafeteria was simply unpalatable.

After all, there were only so few people in the procuratorate. Apart from those who had to go home to eat, for example, Lu Yi and a few others who were closer to home only ate for a dozen people a day, it was impossible to cook a good meal for them. Of course, it was not like they could eat whatever they wanted. They only wanted to eat until they were full, not to eat well, and not to eat until they had diarrhea.

They had not eaten meat for a few days. They were so pitiful that they almost cried. Because it was so delicious, they no longer envied Lu Yi's work ability, instead, they envied how Lu Yi's wife gathered together. To be able to cook such a delicious table of dishes, they had been eating out every day for their entire lives. They were surrounded by happiness every day. As good as they could get., wasn't this kind of life a little too comfortable.

The plates on the table were all swept onto a CD. Just like that, there were a few people who were still thinking about the two guards' lunch boxes. They were now placed in the cafeteria to keep them wet. When the guards changed shifts., they could eat, but they were not full yet. Could they share some more.

However, it was a pity that they could only think about it. They wouldn't touch the food of the two guards. If anyone dared to touch it, they would definitely be beaten to death.

Everyone had already washed the plates on the table. They couldn't just let the guards cook the food and then wash the plates for them.

Yan Huan didn't feel full until she finished eating. These people were really too gluttonous. She felt that if she wasn't Yan Huan, they would probably treat her like a cook.

Back in Lu Yi's office, Yan Huan opened a cabinet and took out a bag of snacks to eat. There was nothing she could do. She was not full, and she was not used to fighting for food with others, Lu Yi did not seem to be full either.

"I'll Cook a bowl of noodles for you later."

Yan Huan said to Lu Yi.

Alright, Lu Yi was indeed not full. At most, he was only 50% full. Half of his stomach was still empty. Moreover, there were still a few hours before he got off work. If his stomach was empty., it would not be easy to endure.

Yan Huan stuffed all the snacks in her hands into Lu Yi's arms. She told him to eat this first before she went back to cook noodles.

Lu Yi took out a piece from the snack bag and placed it in his mouth.

"This tastes pretty good." It had been a long time since he had eaten this thing. He had been looking for more to eat. Later on, even Yan Huan liked to eat it.

"Your daughter likes it. How can it taste bad?"

Yan Huan took out another slice and ate it himself.

“Finish it first. I’ll be there in a while.”

Yan Huan prepared to go back again. The car was very fast, and it was only a few minutes’ drive. She asked Auntie Gu to prepare the noodles first. She would cook it when she went back, and Lu Yi could eat it in half an hour at most.

She would cook fried noodles when she got back. This was the fastest and easiest way.

Also, she did not bring all the meatballs that she fried in the morning. Initially, she had thought that this was for Lu Yi to eat at night. Fortunately, she fried quite a lot, so she could add another portion for him, the rest would be eaten at night.

When Yan Huan came out, the guards at the entrance had already changed shifts. Of course, it was very easy for her to enter and exit now, and she did not need to stop to do any inspections.

She returned to the detention center and came back in less than fifteen minutes.

“So Fast?” Lu Yi stood up and went to the faucet to wash his hands.

Chapter 2007: She was actually there to learn from him

“Because it’s simple. I’m starving.”

Yan Huan divided the noodles in the lunchbox into two portions. The portion she ate less, and the portion Lu Yi ate more.

There were also balls in the hard egg fried noodles. Anyway, she would know next time. If she were to treat everyone to a meal again, then she would have to leave some for herself and Lu Yi. Both of them could not compete with others.

However, the atmosphere in the Procuratorate was really good. At the very least, no one was like other places. When they saw their leader, they did not dare to speak, nor did they dare to tell the truth, much less lie, however, it was completely different for Lu Yi. Lu Yi was the biggest official in the Procuratorate. Although these people were afraid of her, they did not put Lu Yi in their eyes when it came to food. When it came to food., they all dared to fight with Lu Yi.

This was good. Lu Yi picked up a ball directly. He loved this the most.

“We still have food for tonight.” Yan Huan also picked up a ball and put it in his mouth. “I’ll make the Ball Soup for you to drink, and then I’ll make braised balls for you to eat, okay?”

“Okay.” Lu Yi was too satisfied with his dinner now. He really felt that it was great to be able to marry Yan Huan.

“I want to participate in a gourmet program in a few days.” Yan Huan propped up her face on the table and picked up the meatballs from her bowl and placed them in Lu Yi’s bowl.

However, Lu Yi picked them back up for her.

“Eat by yourself. Don’t mind me. I have enough to eat.”

Not only did Lu Yi not eat what Yan Huan picked up, he even picked up a few more meatballs from his bowl and placed them in Yan Huan’s bowl.

Yan Huan recalled a story that he had heard from others before. A man and a woman entered a very expensive restaurant. Because it was too expensive, they ordered a meal and the girl gave the meal to her lover, in the end, her lover unceremoniously ate the meal all by himself. At that time, the girl left and also broke up with this man.

What was this kind of man who only cared about himself and didn’t care about others going to do?

Therefore, to be able to choose a man like Lu Yi was the greatest blessing in Yan Huan’s life.

It was just a blessing. Although there were a few more twists and turns in the beginning, it should be fine now. She would continue to be like this with Lu Yi. She would be a good mother and a good wife, she would cook the best food for Lu Yi and his three children.

She would let others remember that she was once a celebrity and that she was a very good chef.

“Why are you thinking of participating in some gourmet program?”

Lu Yi took over a cup. Inside was the milk tea that Yan Huan had brewed. This was the real milk tea. It was not brewed with milk tea powder. There was also the matter that Yan Huan had just mentioned.

Why was she going to participate in a show? Didn’t she hate this kind of variety show the most in the past?

“You can learn a lot,” Yan Huan laughed like a cat that had stolen a gorilla. It was obvious that she had ulterior motives. She was going to be a referee, but of course, she was also going to steal a teacher.

“You’re the smart one.”

Lu Yi pinched Yan Huan’s face. “Alright, go ahead.”

“There’s only one show a week.” Yan Huan had obviously calculated the time. “I’ll record the show for a day. Auntie Gu will take care of your food. You Don’t have to be afraid of not being able to eat.”

Actually, she was only thinking about whether she could get a new chef for the Procuratorate. The food she made was a little disgusting. In fact, she had really wronged the chef. The young men here had bigger appetites than the others, each of them could eat more than the other. It wasn’t like there was no other way. In the beginning, they might have been meticulously prepared. In the end, this wasn’t enough, and the one who couldn’t eat his fill could only eat one pot in the end, trying to make it simple and fast, that was how the taste became.

Actually, it wasn’t that difficult to swallow. It was just that it was a little worse than ordinary food. Of course, it couldn’t be compared to the food she and Auntie Gu made. That was why Lu Yi’s mouth had already been raised, it was also true that it was a little hard to swallow.

Yan Huan naturally felt sorry for Lu Yi's stomach. So, no matter what, she wouldn't let Lu Yi's stomach suffer, right?

In any case, she wouldn't let Lu Yi eat the food in the canteen. It wasn't nutritious, and it wasn't delicious.

Yan Huan took her phone and it was Zhu Meina calling again.

"Yan Huan, are you coming with me or not?" "I've already booked the plane tickets. I can still add another one now. You still have a few minutes to consider. It's too late. After this village, there won't be this shop anymore."

Zhu Meina was playing with her set of keys. She thought about it, but she still didn't want to go alone. If she had someone to accompany her, how great would that be? Yan Huan would be the best choice, Yan Huan's aesthetic judgment was not bad. He could even give her some good advice. At the very least, if she went with him, she would not buy the wrong one. Although she did not care if she bought the wrong one, she still wanted to buy the right one.

"You go alone. I'm not going." Yan Huan picked up his chopsticks and ate his noodles. "I still have to record the program. I'm not going."

"You Old Woman, you really can't be compared to a young and beautiful girl like me."

Zhu Meina sighed. She could only sigh. Yan Huan was already old, and she was still young.

The gentleman had not given birth to me, and I had given birth to the gentleman

When I was still in my prime, the gentleman had already hung up on me.

However, she seemed to have forgotten that while she was sighing about life, she had also forgotten that Yan Huan was actually younger than her. That was why she said that they were both women.

Yan Huan hung up the phone. She couldn't finish her food.

"I can't finish my food." She placed her bowl in front of someone. This action was very obvious. She would have to settle it herself.

Lu Yi didn't mind that this was Yan Huan's leftovers at all. He directly picked up Yan Huan's bowl and placed all the noodles in it into his own bowl. He finished all of them.

I went to read a novel. Yan Huan ran into the small lounge inside and lay on Lu Yi's small bed. Then, he took out his phone to read a novel.

After Lu Yi finished eating, he also washed the bowl. When he went in, Yan Huan was holding his phone. Why? He said that he was reading a novel, but in the end, he fell asleep.

"Huanhuan..." he gently patted Yan Huan's face.

"I want to sleep," Yan Huan mumbled. She hugged the blanket and didn't want to get up.

Anyway, she would sleep comfortably wherever there was Lu Yi. Of course, she didn't want to wake up. Lu Yi not only gave her a sense of safety, but also a sense of peace of mind.

As long as Lu Yi was around, no matter which place it was sent to. In fact, she could sleep very well, and she could also sleep at ease.

Lu Yi could only take the phone from Yan Huan's hand and place it on the table at the side. He then let her sleep well and pulled the blanket for her. Only then did he walk out and prepare to continue working.

Chapter 2008: 'The last time'

And this busy period ended when she got off work.

As for Yan Huan, she actually woke up in the middle of the day. This was her normal lunch break, so she slept for too long. However, she saw that Lu Yi was busy outside, so she didn't disturb her. She was alone.., she read books here, played games for a while, and waited for Lu Yi to get off work. And now, she was still thinking about what kind of delicious dinner she would make for Lu Yi with those meatballs in the evening.

Lu Yi also liked to eat the meatballs that she fried the most. The children would only come over on weekends, and Auntie GU had to go back to her own house, so at night, there would only be the two of them at home.

As for Zhu Meina, who was making a racket, Yan Huan had already thrown her into the clouds. That Woman's life was not quiet at all.

If she didn't make a fuss for a day, she would feel uncomfortable.

If she didn't make a fuss for two days, her entire body would feel uncomfortable.

If she didn't make a fuss for three days, she would be considered dead.

It had already been a month. She hadn't gone out to shop properly. If she wasn't allowed to go out again, she might really suffocate to death.

And according to Zhu Meina's character, if she didn't shop for a month this time, she might not even come back.

Zhu Meina could do it. She was self-exiled anyway, but Yan Huan couldn't. If she didn't see Lu Yi or her three children for a month, she would suffocate.

She was already a good-for-nothing woman. She couldn't leave her family.

Zhu Meina threw her phone away and lay on the soft bed. She pulled the blanket over her head and fell asleep. What was she supposed to do if she didn't sleep? She had to rest and recuperate. In the next two days.., perhaps she wouldn't be able to rest properly. She had to take the plane and adjust her jet lag when she arrived. This meant that she would need at least two days.

The next morning, she woke up and threw her suitcase in the car. Then, she drove the car to the airport. As for the car, she threw it in the parking lot of the airport and asked Yan Huan to drive it back for her, she could just leave it at the Liuyuan Park. After all, it wasn't like Yan Huan didn't have the keys to her car. She wasn't willing to leave her car in the parking lot. What if her car was scratched and damaged? This was her beloved car.

She parked the car and took a photo of her car and sent it to Yan Huan. Of course, she didn't forget to type a few words.

Remember to get someone to drive my car back. First, I'll leave it at your place. Then, I'll enter your car park. Remember, don't get my car wet. This is my favorite car. After saying that, she pressed send and kissed her phone. Alright, done. She set off immediately

Just as she was about to leave, she received a text message.

"You want to see me?" She pursed her lips, "You want to see me? Don't tell me I want to see you? What do you take me for? Do you still think that I'm the Zhu Meina that you and your daughter could come and go as you wish? What do you mean by the last time? The last time you want to see me is to see your father. What do you mean by meeting your stepmother?"

She immediately deleted the text message. Of course, she had never thought of meeting anyone. However, just as she was about to board the plane, the text messages were sent one after another.

Zhu Meina's brows were furrowed even more tightly now.

"I'm afraid of You?" Zhu Meina sneered at the text message on her phone. "How can I Be Afraid of You? I'll See You Then. You're just a half-dead woman. Do you really think I'm afraid of You?"

She calculated the time again. The plane was about to take off. She rolled her eyes, "Hmph, I'm going to go shopping now. I'm going to buy something. Who cares about you? Even if I want to see you, wait for me to come back from abroad first."

In the end, she had only sat there for a few minutes when she heard the broadcast say that the plane she was on would only arrive three hours later due to the weather.

What kind of bad luck was this.

Zhu Meina took out her ticket and waved it in front of her eyes. The time of boarding was written on it repeatedly. It was half an hour later. Now that she could board the plane, the result was good, she was three hours late.

Three hours. Three hours. She could sleep and eat delicious food. Did she have to spend all her precious time here? What did she think she was?

Her phone rang again. She took out her phone and opened a text message.

Instantly, her red lips lifted up. It was up to her luck. If the plane wasn't late, who would want to see a half-dead piece of trash like her.

Zhu Meina stored her belongings in the airport. Originally, she wanted to go to the underground car park to get her beloved car, but she thought about it.

Forget it. There were so many people here. What if the parking space was gone when she returned? Wouldn't That Be Terrible? She had already sent the photos to Yan Huan. Perhaps Yan Huan would come over to get the car in a while. If he saw that her car wasn't there, she didn't know how to scold her.

Even if she didn't come over, could it be that she would have to take some more photos later? Wouldn't that be even more troublesome? Yan Huan would say that she was playing with her, and she naturally wouldn't dare to play with Yan Huan. After all, Yan Huan was her creditor.

Back then, she owed him a million dollars, so she had sold her entire life to Yan Huan. So what if she, Zhu Meina, was rich now? Yan Huan could still kill her in an instant.

That was why she had to live under Yan Huan's oppression for the rest of her life. Who asked Yan Huan to save her life? Who asked her and her son not to only owe Yan Huan their lives.

She walked out of the airport and hailed a taxi to get in.

Of course, she didn't think about how long she would have to chat with that person. It wasn't like they were talking about ideals, about life, and then about the value of life. Sorry. Zhu Meina said it nicely, but her breasts were a little big. However, her IQ wasn't good enough, so she simply called them big breasts and brainless.

She did not have that much culture. She just liked money and liked to buy things. She only knew how to spend. As for the rest, really, don't look for her. They did not have anything in common.

Along the way, she looked at her phone from time to time. She was still thinking about when she would be back. Perhaps she would come back directly when she reached the agreed location.

She really had nothing to say to that person.

The taxi stopped, and she walked out in her high heels.

But, was it here?

"Hey..."she was about to ask the driver if he had found the wrong place, but the driver quickly drove away with a whoosh. Before she could even say it., the taxi had already sprayed exhaust gas all over her face and smelled like gasoline.

Chapter 2009: she fell into the trap

In the blink of an eye, the car was gone, and so was the person. She did not say a word, but of course, no one answered her.

"There must be a mistake."Zhu Meina kicked a stone hard, then stepped on her high heels and went back. Of course, she also had a bad feeling in her heart. She had once heard Yan Huan Say., if the place you were asked to Go was not open and aboveboard, no matter who that person was, you had to be careful. You had to be careful of that person's ill intentions. You had to be careful of that person's ulterior motives. You also had to be careful of that person's unfavorable intentions.

Zhu Meina really wanted to slap herself right now. How could she have forgotten about this matter? It was all her fault. When she had nothing to do, why would she look at her phone? She clearly felt that the road was a little bumpy, but she did not pay attention to it, in the end, it was fine as long as she did not pay attention to it. She had already fallen on it once in the past. Could it be that she was going to repeat the same mistake?

She stepped on her high heels and walked forward with difficulty. In the end, she turned left and right and almost broke her heels.

It was all that Yan Huan's fault. He cursed her every day. Sooner or later, he would die on the heels. If she really died on the heels, she would not let Yan Huan off even if she was a ghost, it was all her bad mouth.

No matter what her reaction was, she had to leave this place first. She could not believe the words of that damned woman. What was wrong with her brain that she would actually believe the words of that woman.

And she even obediently ran to such a place that even a turtle was unwilling to go ashore.

Although the road was not very easy to walk on, she still had to walk with difficulty on her 15-centimeter-high heels. She only hoped that that woman was just here for a prank and was not like her mother, they all wanted to take her life. No, they did not want her to die at all. They wanted her to suffer a fate worse than death.

Could it be that this was really inherited? What kind of mother could produce a daughter.

Mothers were all vicious and merciless. How could a daughter be any better?

"Bah Bah..." she quickly shook her head to stop this kind of not-so-good idea. What was she thinking about? How could she curse herself? This was impossible. She, Zhu Meina, was very lucky?

Yan Huan, that woman, had a jinx mouth. However, it must be a good spirit or bad spirit. She was clearly a beautiful girl who was extremely lucky.

She calmed herself down. However, she was very annoyed with the shoes on her feet. Why was it that she did not wear a pair of good shoes when she came. It took a lot of courage and perseverance for a woman to wear 15-inch high heels every day. She had to stand on these shoes for another day. Such a woman was definitely not called a woman, she should be called Supergirl.

She took off her shoes and held them in her hands. Then, she walked forward barefoot. However, after a few steps, her feet hurt. She really didn't feel like it was easy to walk with shoes on, even if it was high heels. At the very least..., the shoes rubbed against her feet, but it didn't hurt. In the end, she had no choice but to throw her shoes on the ground and put them on. No matter how capable she was, no matter how superhuman she was, no matter how hard she could run around the entire Hai City in a pair of high heels every day..., however, it was impossible for her to climb the mountain and run a marathon in high heels. She didn't have the courage. She could walk on the mountain every day because there were hard conditions. The roads in Hai City were as flat as they could be. However, this wasn't a road..., the rocks and soil were bumpy. She was not walking, but climbing the mountain in high heels.

Just as she was cursing that woman in her heart, she took out all her ancestors and walked on the mountain. However, she heard a strange voice.

“Why are you here? Do you want to leave?”

Zhu Meina’s body stiffened. This voice, that woman, was playing with her?

Didn’t she say that she was about to die? Didn’t she say that she was going to meet someone? Why was this person her, the one who was about to die?

Her forehead couldn’t help but break out in cold sweat. Had she seen a ghost or someone?

She suddenly raised her voice and suppressed the trembling and fear in her voice.

“I’m not leaving. Am I going to stay here to be a disaster for you?” She finally felt that she had really been schemed against by someone, and the person who schemed against her was none other than that damn Su Muran.

She turned around, and before she could curse out loud, she hugged her handbag tightly, lifted her chin, and shouted angrily, “If you like it, you can stay here...” “I’m not that interested in eating dirt here.”.

After saying that, she turned around and left. She also heaved a sigh of relief in her heart. Fortunately, there was only Su Muran here. With Su Muran’s half-dead body, how could he fight against her? She could crush her to death with one hand right now, however, didn’t they say that the woman would not be able to live for long? Why was she still alive after so long?

The eyes of the few vipers behind her followed her like shadows at all times. It made her scalp go numb and her entire body felt uncomfortable.

Who was the one who said that the woman, Su Muran, was about to die? Was it Su Ancheng? Yes, it was Su Ancheng. He did not say it clearly, but he showed it to others that his daughter was about to die.

To think that they actually believed him. Su Muran was about to die. Even if he didn’t die, he was still half-dead. This Old Fox was indeed an old fox. This was to make them lower their guard and not deal with Su Muran, right?

This kind of indifference. At first, she thought that Su Ancheng had given up on his granddaughter. But now that she thought about it, they were all deceived by this old fox. Su Ancheng didn’t give up. He did it to protect his daughter, he had not been targeted or harmed by others.

She spat. Only that shameless woman, Su Muran, would harm others.

When she returned, she would see how she would kill Su Ancheng and Su Qingdong, those two old foxes. She had to buy a few more packets of rat poison and poison them to death. Even a good rat poison could kill a tiger, it was likely that even a rotten fox would not say anything.

Anyway, she would not let Su Ancheng, that damned Old Fox, off. Oh right, she also had to tell Yan Huan that that Old Fox did not treat her as a granddaughter at all, in that lifetime, she had been thinking about the eldest daughter of the Su family.

She was clearly living well, yet she insisted on telling others that she was already on the verge of death. This was not to win Yan Huan’s sympathy, but to tell everyone that my daughter was already on the verge of dying from illness, you should never seek revenge on her again, right?

Was there any point in haggling over the same person who was about to die?

If you wanted revenge, you could only wait until your next life.

Chapter 2010: ghosts have no shadows

The more Zhu Meina thought about it, the angrier she got. But now, whether she was angry or not, what she wanted most was not anything else, but to leave this place, to leave this damned place. In the future, she would never believe in these nonsense., the words these ghosts said were all made of clay. It was no wonder Yan Huan always said that she had big breasts but no brain. She just did not have a brain. If she had a brain, she would not have met this woman.

However, just as she was about to leave, a person blocked her way. He was so thin that he looked like a living ghost. He was also wearing black clothes that were empty. Compared to Yan Huan, who was addicted to drugs at that time, he was still thinner. He was almost as thin as a skeleton. And this person felt more like a skeleton than a skeleton.

“Get out of the way!” She pretended to be fierce. In fact, it was just loud thunder but little rain. She only knew how to shop. She only knew how to spend money. She did not know how to fight. She also did not know how to save her life. Moreover, even if she ran now., she needed a pair of powerful shoes.

It was her shoes. Only the heels could be used to smash people.

What are you waiting for? The strange and angry voice of the woman behind her made Zhu Meina feel a little disgusted. Damn it, where did this disgusting thing come from.

The Man took off his sunglasses, revealing a face that was whiter than a ghost and more disgusting than a ghost. They were both uncomfortable faces.

Zhu Meina looked as if she had seen a ghost, and cold sweat broke out on her forehead. She also felt that the clothes on her back were already wet.

“Ghost, Ghost...” she cried out in pain. She was so scared that she almost fainted when she rolled her eyes.

When that man heard the word “Ghost,” the facial features on his face also became distorted, so distorted that he had become a living ghost.

To Zhu Meina, this face was extremely familiar. Perhaps to many people, it was also familiar. This was not someone else, it was Lu Qin. It was actually Lu Qin. However, Lu Qin was clearly dead., even his body was lying in the hospital’s morgue. Moreover, his DNA had been tested. Although it was completely unrecognizable, it was Lu Qin’s.

Zhu Meina quickly lowered her head and looked at the ground. Didn’t they say that ghosts had no shadows? It was fine if she didn’t look, but when she did, cold sweat broke out on her forehead again.

There was no shadow. She suddenly felt a pain at the back of her head. Then, she turned around and saw Su Muran holding a stick. Before she could react, the stick in Su Muran’s hand smashed down again.

In the end, the moment she lost consciousness.., it was the gray sky above her head, just like the weather in hai city a few days ago. There was no sun, no blue sky, only wind, and only rain.

Then, without the Sun, how could there be a shadow?

At the airport, the plane was still delayed, and Zhu Meina had not returned.

Not long after, Ah Jin had arrived at the underground parking lot of the airport. It was this, right? She walked to the front of the latest red sports car. Yes, it should be this one.

The color was right, the parking place was right, and the model of the car was right as well, so it just so happened that this was the only one. There shouldn't be any problems with this, but such a sexy car.., only a sexy woman like Zhu Meina could drive it.

She took out the car keys from her pocket and pressed them with her hand.

The sports car's lights flashed, and the car reacted to her, and the car door opened.

She found the right one. Ah Shi opened the car door, sat in the car, and directly drove away. Of course, she didn't notice that the plane Zhu Meina was on was also delayed, it was still delayed by three hours, but Zhu Meina had never come back. Of course, she had never boarded the plane.

Not to mention her, even Yan Huan didn't know which plane Zhu Meina was on or which country she was going to. In any case, she had been living like this for the past few years, running outside every day, she did not know that she could not just stay at home. However, when she thought about it again, why did she not run outside? Could it be that she was looking at that Old Man Su Qingdong every day? She did not want to disgust herself to death.

That was why she did not go home all day and went wherever she wanted. It was because she did not want to face that Su Qingdong whom she hated to the core. She was annoyed, and she was disgusted.

When she went out, it was normal for her to go out for a month or two. Of course, it was normal for her to not be able to contact her for a month or two. However, because of this, no one really thought about it, if she did not contact him for a long time, then something had happened. Perhaps, she was drunk and dreaming somewhere.

Therefore, even if she really went missing for a month or two, no one would know. When others found her, they would probably be too stubborn.

Zhu Meina believed that the only person in the world who would be tempted to look for her was probably Yan Huan. Her parents were currently enjoying the rich life that she had exchanged her whole life for. How could they possibly care about her, she was spending money and smiling on the surface, but in her heart, she was looking down on her. Yes, she was looking down on her because she had slept with her uncle.

This was how people were. When you were rich, they would think of you, but they would not shame you.

When Zhu Meina slowly woke up, her head was also in pain. It was so painful that she almost vomited the food she had eaten the night before, which made her feel dizzy..

“What do you want to Do?” She stuttered and struggled to ask. She gritted her teeth and stared at the adulterous couple in front of her. It was them, it was them, this adulterous couple who did not have much life left.

With a slap, she received a slap on her face. However, it didn't hurt much because the person who slapped her was Su Muran. How much strength could she have? Her face was as pale as a ghost. Every few steps she took, she would stop a few steps, stop two steps., she would also gasp for breath. It was obvious that she was about to die., as for Lu Qin, he was like a ghost. His eye sockets were deeply sunken and his eyes were black and blue. Even his back seemed to arch up.

After Su Muran slapped Zhu Meina, he wanted to raise his hand again to slap Zhu Meina to death. However, she really didn't have the strength to do so. She didn't even have the strength to raise her hand. Now, she even stood up., she could only sway a little. What else could she expect?

“Hit him,” Su Muran roared at Lu Qin. It wasn't like he was calling a man, but more like he was calling a dog. And now, Lu Qin was a dog in front of her. She saved him., she didn't want him to watch the show, but she wanted him to be a dog obediently.

Lu Qin walked over. His eyes were open like a dead snake. He didn't even have any emotions. When he reached out to hit someone, his expression changed, and his lips trembled.

“Give it to me...” he reached out to Su Muran. Tears and snot flowed down his face. It was very disgusting
