

Chapter 2121: business

He went out to beg for food every day, living like a dog on the verge of death.

No matter what those people did, they had to pay when they came back. If they didn't pay, they would be beaten up. Of course, if they went missing for too long, they had to be careful of their families, moreover, they would be beaten up even more severely. Even if they wanted to go back, they could only crawl back. Even if they wanted to go back, how could they have the face to go back? He didn't even dare to think about it.

Everyone here had people watching them outside. If they were to discover that they had the intention to run, they would definitely beat them to death.

And during these two years, he had become numb.

And he was also half-dead. He was worse than a pig or a dog. He was numb for two years. It was also two years later when he heard Jin Gen's voice. He touched his waist, it seemed that he could still feel the heart-wrenching pain from that time.

He would never forget for the rest of his life who had harmed him and who had harmed him to such an extent. He would rather plant the land at home for the rest of his life. He would rather be poor than stay here, he would rather be a beggar without dignity and a kidney.

He gritted his teeth and resisted the urge to go out and beat Jin Gen to death with his own hands. He touched the things in his pocket again and forcefully endured the hatred that seemed to overturn the heavens and overturn the seas, even his wounds, which had already healed, were faintly aching.

He recalled what Lei Qingyi had said. If he wanted to save more people, if he wanted to wipe out these teams in one fell swoop, if he wanted to find the others in the village, he had to endure it because they wanted to know.., what other schemes did these people have, and how many people were they trying to harm.

Looking at Jin Gen, he did not know who he had tricked to come here. Of course, his own village did not dare to lie anymore, so he could only lie to the people from other villages.

And he heard Jin Gen still use that kind of flirtatious and disgusting voice.

"Brother Chao, I brought five goods this time. They are all young men in their twenties. Is it still the same? Let's arrange them there."

"En, let's take care of them for a few days first," brother Chao replied. "Your skills have been improving in the past few months. You even managed to get a few young women. Next time, if you want to get a small one, let me try it first."

When Jin Gen heard this, he directly patted his own chest, "Brother Chao, don't worry. I'll go back to my village now. There'll definitely be no problem. I'll also get a few local girls for you to taste."

After a while, there were some sounds. It seemed like brother Chao was counting the money.

“Thank you, Brother Chao.”

Jin Gen’s smile could feel his pride.

“Do well. I Won’t mistreat you.”

Brother Chao obviously liked obedient dogs like Jin gen very much. He didn’t have much ability, but his ability to lie was top-notch. As long as he opened his mouth, he could make up a few stories for him.

And for the sake of being more fierce and more obedient, he was willing to feed this meat.

Jin Gen took the money and went back happily. He really wanted to go back now. He wanted to go back to the village and trick a few women out. However, he didn’t know where the people had repaired the roads in the village. The roads were too wide, it was also because the repairs were too good that he didn’t dare to go back. He wasn’t afraid of anything else now. He was afraid that others would come and investigate him. Therefore, he had been staying outside for the past few years, going to other villages to trick people.

Of course, he really had some ability. He would first scam one person, and then let this person scam other people. Of course, he would scam one person at a time.

A person would have to charge a few thousand yuan for the introduction fee. Of course, this money would also go into his own pocket. After he gave the person to brother Chao, brother Chao would give him a hard-earned fee.

If he added up all this money, it would be tens of thousands of Yuan a year. His small treasury was also getting more and more full. Of course, he was dressed like a dog. It was not obvious at all, he was doing this kind of immoral business.

As for Jin Gen, he did not feel that it was a big deal. Wasn’t this very normal?

In this day and age, animals could be sold, plants could be sold, so why couldn’t people sell them?

As long as they could earn money, they could do anything, but what couldn’t they sell?

In order to earn money, women sold their own. Besides, he didn’t lie to them. He had helped them find a good job. If it weren’t for him, they wouldn’t have been able to get out of those poor mountains, they could even see these big cities with their own eyes.

Brother Chao smoked there for half a day before he took out his cell phone and dialed.

“Hello, Old Ma, it’s me. Business is here. Make some preparations. He’ll be here in about three days.”

After he finished speaking, brother Chao put away his phone and hummed a song he had learned from God knows where. His singing was also a little out of tune, making one’s ears prick. When there was no one else here,.

Changsheng finally stood up from the corner of the wall.

He did not expect that his luck would be so good today. He had just returned and he had already heard such news.

A few more people came over, just like how they had done at that time. They were all holding onto the matter of the pie falling from the sky. They could earn a few thousand yuan a month, or even tens of thousands of yuan. However, Xiao Yan Huan was right.

There was no such thing as a pie falling from the sky. If such a good thing were to really fall, it would be impossible for it to fall on them.

And the thing he regretted the most in his life was listening to Jingen's nonsense. He believed that Jingen could bring them to make a lot of money, and then he got himself into such a situation. If he could not go home for the rest of his life., then what should he do with his mother? Who would take care of his mother until she died? If his mother was sick in the future, she would either be sick or starve to death. Even after she died, there would be no one to collect her corpse.

He did not ask Yan Huan why he had returned to Hai City, nor did he ask about the current situation in the village. Yan Huan had never told him about those things, but he could feel it.

Yan Huan was unwilling to talk about the Li family village. Of course, she did not dislike the people in the village for losing face. It was more likely that the people in the village had done something that made her unhappy, or that his mother had been a jerk.

When he left, his mother disliked Yan Huan because Yan Huan didn't allow him to go out with Jingen. Her personality had also become a little harsher. If that Scourge Jingen's mother was added to the mix, who knew what they would do, he didn't know what they would do.

He waited until he returned to the village before he knew what had happened. Indeed, it was pretty much what he had imagined. It was just that at that time, everything had changed beyond recognition.

Everything had changed. Even he had changed.

Chapter 2122: was finished

"Who is it?" Someone suddenly walked over, and Changsheng also heard the sound of footsteps outside. He hurriedly withdrew his superfluous thoughts and cursed himself for being too careless. How could he leave this place? He should have left immediately after hearing what he wanted to know.

However, his reaction was not slow.

When that person came over, he saw a cripple peeing on the wall and rubbing his eyes from time to time. He did not know if he had yet to wake up.

It was really disgusting.

That person glanced at Changsheng with disdain. "The next time you pee, find another place. I was wondering why this place is getting stinkier and stinker. So it was all because you trash peed on it."

Changsheng pulled up his pants and limped away, as if he hadn't heard anything. If someone saw his eyes clearly now, they would realize that he was more awake than ever, they would also understand.

A few days later, Changsheng still went out to beg for food every day. The money he handed over was also given by Lei Qingyi's people. Therefore, the money he handed over these few days was quite a lot, it also made the people who received the money very satisfied.

In these few days, he had already received a few hundred Yuan from that beggar. If these people were to help him live up to his expectations, these dozens of people would be able to earn a few thousand yuan.

Even if these people were all useless, they also had no ability.

Just handing over a few dozen Yuan was useless. It was not even enough for him to buy a pack of cigarettes.

Changsheng didn't get beaten up. In any case, he had handed over the most money, and if he handed over the least, he would get beaten up again. It was also common for people to have their arms and legs broken. Suddenly, a series of screams came from outside Changsheng gripped his clothes tightly. He knew that these people would definitely cripple one of them.

And he really couldn't take it anymore. He really couldn't take it anymore.

He hugged his head tightly. It was as if he could still hear the painful cries of love. Just like how he was in the past, one of his legs had been broken, and his leg had been twisted to such a terrifying extent.

At that time, he was also screaming like this. He was also crying so loudly. He had knelt down and begged people. He had even kowtowed to them, but these people's hearts were cold.

They had no heart at all. They were laughing and screaming. He could only roll on the ground. He hugged his leg and cried loudly from time to time. His tears were also mixed in the soil, he wiped them on his face, which had no color because of the pain. However, those people were laughing and talking about which woman was good-looking and which food was good. They were going to eat it in a while.

He had been in pain for dozens of days. They threw his food on the street and asked him to beg for food. If he didn't get it, they would beat him. If he didn't get enough, they would beat him. If he didn't get a hundred Yuan a day, they would break his other leg, or they would break his arm and poke his eyes out.

A Hundred Yuan a day. How pitiful did they have to pretend to be in order to get it? How many people could get it? If they didn't get it, they would steal it, Rob it, and pick up the trash. How could he forget what he had been living these two years, how could he not remember what she had experienced every day and night? The kind of misery that was unbearable to look at, the kind where the sun and the Moon did not shine.

To him, it was like the end of the world. Every minute and every second of pain was torture. He remembered, and he would not let go of those who had hurt him in the past.

A few days later, a doctor came over, and this face turned to dust. He still remembered, because it was this person who had taken his blood, cut open his stomach, and dug out his kidney. He gave his kidney from his stomach to someone else. A person only had two kidneys in their entire life. If one of them was missing, it would be impossible for it to grow back.

He Yibin also said that he did not do the surgery properly. This was the reason why his wound had been in pain all these years. Could such a person still be a doctor, he did not deserve to be a doctor at all, nor did he deserve to wear that white coat.

That doctor seemed to have quarreled with brother Chao. Brother Chao seemed to have said something else. Only then did the Doctor reluctantly nod his head, but his expression did not look too good.

Changsheng was watching coldly from the side. When brother Chao's gaze swept over, he hurriedly hid. At this moment, he was so nervous that his heart was beating a little nervously. He was afraid that brother Chao would find out that he was here, but it was still alright.., brother Chao only took a few more glances at this place before turning around and leaving.

The Doctor walked out with a long face. He touched his pocket. In his pocket, there was the money that brother Chao had given him just now. It was several tens of thousands. However, he had already hated the life here, he did not know when it would end.

Just as he walked out, opened the car door and sat in, there was a click and a handcuff appeared on his hand.

He slowly returned to the spacious area and saw a man with his arms crossed behind him. The man was wearing a police uniform and was staring at him with a faint smile.

The doctor did not feel surprised. As people often said, if one walked too much at night, he would always encounter ghosts. He had been doing this for so long.., in fact, he had already thought about what kind of ending he would have in the future, if one did such heinous things too often, one's life would be shortened. Of course, there would also be retribution.

And his retribution had finally come.

"Police comrades, what do you want me to say? I'll say it. What do you want me to do? I'll do it."

"You're so cooperative." Lei Qingyi put down her arm and reached out to pat the doctor on the shoulder.

"That's right. If you confess, we'll be lenient. If you resist, we'll be strict. Try to be lenient."

The doctor sighed and looked at the handcuffs on his wrist. Although he had been caught, he felt relieved.

He was really relieved.

He was indeed very cooperative. He told him everything he knew. Some of the newcomers had almost been raised. When they were needed, they would usually forcefully take away their kidneys, or their corneas.

"Brother Chao, it's bad..." Jin Gen almost rolled and crawled in.

"What are you in such a hurry for? Are you in a hurry to Reincarnate?"

Brother Chao directly stretched out his leg and kicked Jin Gen's butt. He was in a bad mood today, so if there was nothing else, he should not bump into his muzzle. wasn't he quite shrewd in the past? How could he be so blind now?

"Brother Chao, it's bad, it's really bad. It's over, it's all over..."Jingen started to cry.

"Our Place was destroyed by the police..."

Chapter 2123: was captured

"What?"Brother Chao dropped the cigarette in his hand to the ground.

He suddenly thought of something and got up in a hurry. He was ready to run away.

However, his foot was held tightly by Jin Gen. Jin Gen was like a dead dog. He held onto brother Chao's leg tightly with both hands and refused to let go. Regardless of whether brother Chao pulled or kicked, Jin Gen would not let go, it was like he was holding onto the last straw to save his life. Without this, he would definitely fall into the river and drown.

"Get lost!"

Brother Chao kicked Jin Gen Hard, but Jin Gen hugged him too tightly. He kicked Jin Gen while whipping one of his legs, until he opened it, in the end, a handcuff was placed in front of him.

Brother Chao widened his eyes. He didn't know whether to leave or not. He lowered his head and looked at Jin Gen who was still hugging his leg. Now he knew what a pig-like teammate was.

Jin Gen was an idiot. He didn't even know that the police were following him. He wanted to run ahead of time, but now the road was cut off.

Lei Qingyi stretched out her hands and feet and kicked Jin Gen who was still lying on the ground, hugging brother Chao's leg tightly.

"Hey, you can get up now."

It was an unfamiliar voice. Where did this person come from? Where did this stranger's voice come from.

Jin Gen widened his small eyes and looked up again. When he saw Lei Qingyi, who was as tall as a giant, he rolled his eyes and fainted, however, he still managed to put down brother Chao's leg.

"Take him away."Lei Qingyi kicked Jin Gen impolitely and gestured to the person behind him, this was a case where they caught a person with stolen goods. They even dug up the biggest case in the city, which was almost a shocking case of human organ trafficking. Of course, they also confiscated a lot of dirty money, they also saved a lot of young men and women who had been swindled from other places.

This criminal gang was simply doing all kinds of evil. The police found this black den in one go and caught nearly ten suspects.

Among them, Jin Gen was one of them.

Jin Gen had swindled more than ten young men in the village one after another. On the road, he talked a lot, but when he reached the place, he turned hostile. He took the kidneys of the villagers, disfigured them, and beat them up, then he forced them to become beggars, thieves, or robbers.

Then he used the same method. Within two years, he had lied to more than a hundred people. They took advantage of the simplicity of the villagers and their excessive desire to make money, and successfully tricked them into this gang.

He dug out their kidneys, took their corneas, and obtained countless illegal income.

Brother Chao was the main culprit of this case, and so was Jin Gen. Jin Gen did these illegal things, and even with his few lives, he could not afford to pay for it.

Jin Gen, who was crying for his parents, was also locked up, and what awaited him was the severe punishment of the law.

Changsheng was once again admitted into the hospital. This time, it was thanks to his help that they were able to capture these people so easily. And even in their dreams, they never imagined that within the sea city's borders., in the sea city.

Fortunately, Changsheng was there. Otherwise, who knew how many people would be persecuted.

Originally, Changsheng needed to rest for a few more days before he had to undergo surgery. He did not perform the surgery well back then, so they had to do it again for him. In this way, there was basically no big deal.

However, there were some unexpected circumstances that made their hands tied.

On the other side of Changsheng's kidney, there was also a problem. It might not be too good.

Yan Huan listened to he Yibin's words and did not expect such a thing to happen. It was originally fine, but how did it suddenly become like this.

"Is there any good solution?"

Yan Huan did not have any feelings for Changsheng, but Changsheng had saved her life. No matter what, she had to save Changsheng.

"That's hard to say." He Yibin stood up and took Changsheng's case from the side, "We're still investigating the cause. If it's acute, then it's easy. If it's chronic, then we have to prepare for dialysis or transplant. He only has one kidney to begin with, and it's true. It's not a good thing for a house to have a leak."

"Will it get better after the transplant?"

Yan Huan didn't quite understand this sentence, but he still said that it would get better after the transplant.

"No." He Yibin shook his head, "You're thinking too simply. Even if it's really a transplant, it's hard to say how long the transplanted kidney will last. It could be more than ten years, or it could only be a few years. At that time, we'll need to carry out a second transplant."Putting aside the cost of the transplant., after all, he yibin knew that Qian Yanhuan would pay for the transplant. No matter how many times it was transplanted, Yan Huan would be able to afford it. However, Changsheng was still a young man. He was not even thirty years old., the transplant would only improve his quality of life. However, he still had to take anti-rejection drugs for the rest of his life. This was a terrible burden for his body, moreover, the current condition of Changsheng's body was not that good. It had been so cold for a long time, and his meals were not enough.

It had already caused his body to suffer a terrible loss. This was not something that could be recovered overnight. Even if he was cured in the future, he did not want to do any heavy work, not to mention that his leg was also crippled, although it was not broken, it had become like that. In this life, it was either a walking stick or a wheelchair.

Now, everything was really put together.

"Let's wait for the result."He Yibin was still somewhat confident about this. "Perhaps it isn't that bad."

The result would only be out in a few days. It would depend on whether the inflammation could still be eliminated. He hoped that it would be acute, because acute was completely treatable.

And their hope now lay in this.

Changsheng was completely unaware of his illness. He still stayed quietly in the hospital. Xunxun liked to play with this uncle, so Yan Huan often brought her over.

Changsheng stroked xunxun's little head, "When I go home in the future, I'll work hard and earn money. At that time, I'll marry a good wife and give birth to a beautiful daughter, just like Little Xunxun."Murakami liked boys, they were all old-fashioned ideas, but now that Changsheng felt that giving birth to a daughter was really good, he was very envious. Lu Yi could pick up his daughter with one hand, and then there was the little girl, calling out to her father in a baby voice, and then there was the small appearance of her chattering with her father.

It was really very cute, really unbearable love, and also made people unable to resist wanting such a little girl to come out.

Chapter 2124: owe him

"As long as you want, there will be."Yan Huan then placed the dishes he had cooked in front of Changsheng, "Eat, eat more. You can go home after the surgery. The people in the village are living very well now. They are connected to water and electricity, and the roads have been repaired. The village has started a forest farming industry, and the lives of the villagers are much better. When you go back, you don't need to farm. You just need to raise chickens and harvest eggs."

"Xiaoyan, thank you."Changsheng felt his nose turn sour, and his eyes turned red.

He knew that it was Yan Huan who had done all this. It was Yan Huan who had helped their village build the road and connected the water and electricity to their village. It had also given them a way to earn money, and they no longer had to be like their ancestors., their ancestors had faced the yellow earth for generations, and it was all because of her that they were able to live such a good life. She had saved him, as well as their entire village, and every generation after that.

Yan Huan really did not know what to say. She had seen what he looked like before he became immortal. He was a very simple and honest young man from the countryside, and he did not have any bad intentions. However, could it be that now.., was he really going to take this crippled leg and a kidney that was not his? was he really going to take medicine for the rest of his life?

Right now, she only hoped that it would be just as he yibin had said, that he could still be cured and that he would not have to go to the stage of having a kidney transplant.

After the results were out, he Yibin handed the examination report to Lu Yi, "The results are better than we expected. It may be because the previous operation was not done well, which is why another kidney was damaged. We will immediately arrange for a repair operation for him. If he recovers well, there is no need for a kidney transplant."

Lu Yi placed the examination report on the table, and he also heaved a sigh of relief.

"Lu Yi, I don't quite understand you."

He Yibin touched his chin. Why did he feel that Lu Yi was like a freak from somewhere.

"What do you not understand?"

Lu Yi took his phone and was ready to tell Yan Huan about this matter so that she could rest assured. She was going to record a show today, but she was still worried about longevity.

"Aren't you jealous?"

He Yibin still did not know how Lu Yi's head grew out. He really felt that there was no one else in his heart. Now, his wife was thinking about other men.

"What Huanhuan owes him, I owe him."

Lu Yi took out his phone and made a call to Yan Huan. Not to mention that Yan Huan was worried about Changsheng, he was the same.

If it wasn't for Changsheng, his child wouldn't have a mother and he wouldn't have a wife. Changsheng saved Yan Huan's life, which was the same as saving his life. And this life, he had to return it for Yan Huan.

He Yibin didn't understand this couple, and of course, he couldn't understand why Lu Yi would marry Yan Huan in the first place and why Yan Huan could marry Lu Yi. They might have been fated in their previous lives.

In this life, they should be together. Otherwise, he really did not know who else he could marry with Lu Yi's character?

That was not right. He Yibin thought about it and thought too much.

If Lu Yi had not met Yan Huan, then Lei Qingyi would not have met Yi Ling and would not have married Yi Ling. It was also impossible for him to know Luo Ling. They might even be three old bachelors now, not to mention that they all had successors now.

If that was the case...

Then Changsheng was not only Yan Huan's benefactor, but also his benefactor.

He stood up and prepared to take another look at Changsheng. He also wanted to think about when the surgery could be carried out. This feeling of owing someone was really not good, so it was better to return it early. Moreover, with Changsheng's current body, he had no choice but to carry out the surgery early. Otherwise, he would not be able to save his remaining kidney.

He Yibin took the time to tell Changsheng about this surgery.

Originally, he wanted to wait a little longer, but he realized that it was no longer too late. He himself should know about Changsheng's bad surgery.

Changsheng nodded. He knew that he yibin had told him about this matter. However, it did not mean that he could rest for a few more days or talk about the surgery. As for the surgery., in fact, he was still afraid and fearful. The surgery two years ago, which he knew nothing about, had also caused him to lose a kidney. Although he knew that they all wanted to save him this time., however, he still could not get over that chop in his heart.

"Your other kidney has been affected."

He Yibin seriously analyzed with Changsheng, "If you don't perform the surgery, your remaining kidney, if it continues like this, the final result might be a kidney transplant. Do you know what a kidney transplant means?"

He Yibin explained, which was to transplant someone else's kidney to changsheng.

Changsheng knew, but he didn't know who his own kidney was given to?

"It's not as simple as you think." He Yibin pulled a chair over and sat down. "Don't think that just because you have a new kidney, you can get it done once and for all."

"This transplanted kidney has a lifespan. The longest it can be is more than ten years, and the shortest is about a year. It may have to be retransplanted, and it will have to take medicine for a lifetime."

These words made Changsheng's face turn pale.

"Doctor he, you must save me." Changsheng raised his hand and pulled he Yibin's sleeve forcefully.

He did not want this. He did not want to take medicine for a lifetime, and he also did not want to worry about this kidney that was not his every day. One day, he would replace it, and one day, he would have to cut open his stomach and replace it with another kidney, he wanted his own kidney. He wanted his own kidney. He did not want anyone else's.

"Don't worry so quickly." He Yibin quickly comforted changsheng. He was afraid that Changsheng would scare him to death if he did not die of illness. In fact, it was not as scary as you imagined.

“We brought forward the time of the surgery in order to save your own kidney. How can it be better to use someone else’s kidney than to use your own? That is something in your body. It is a part of your body. Naturally, it has to serve you and work for you. However, if it were someone else’s kidney, it would belong to someone else after all. Therefore, you still need to take medicine in order to exchange for its work.”

“Surgery, I’ll move, I’ll move right away.”

Changsheng wanted to live, he still wanted to go home, he still wanted to see his mother, he still wanted to find a wife, and then give birth to a cute daughter. He couldn’t just die like this, he would be a coward for the rest of his life, he really couldn’t wait any longer.

“Don’t worry, everything will be fine.”

He Yibin patted Changsheng’s shoulder. In fact, in his heart, he also quite liked this simple and honest young man. It was just a pity, how could he meet a person like Jin Gen, and who would have thought that Jin gen was actually such an inhumane person, he even dared to lie to his fellow villagers. Did he have a conscience? Did he have a conscience?

Chapter 2125: Liangzi

A person like Jingen might have eaten his conscience and conscience into a dog’s stomach by now.

When Changsheng was lying on the operating table again, he no longer knew who he was?

When the shadowless lamps hit his face again, he only stared blankly. His body was constantly trembling and convulsing. It was unknown whether he was afraid of the cold or afraid.

He took deep breaths from time to time, trying to calm himself down. He told himself that they were saving him, not harming him. Yes, they were saving him, saving him.

His eyes slowly closed. In fact, he was worried that he could wake up again. Would he die just like that.

He moved his fingers, but it was still as weak as the last time. It was the same pain.

“Changsheng, Changsheng, is it you?”

The sudden voice made Changsheng suddenly open his eyes, and he instantly woke up.

Why did this voice sound like Liang Zi’s.

There was a slight pain in his abdomen, but it was not like last time, where he felt a heart-wrenching pain. This kind of pain was still painful, but it could be endured.

“Changsheng...”it was this voice again. It was too familiar, and also too unbearable.

“Liangzi?”Changsheng looked forward and indeed saw Liangzi standing to the side. He seemed to be smiling at him, but there was no light in his eyes. His eyes were like two fake eyes., there was nothing inside. Others could see what was in his eyes, but he could not see what was outside.

Liangzi stretched out his hand

Changsheng used one of his hands, which had not been injected, to hold Liangzi's hand tightly. His grip was very tight, but his heart was in great pain. His nose was also very sore.

"Liangzi, you're still alive?"

"Yes, I'm still alive."

Liangzi smiled, but a moment later, a big man burst into tears.

Changsheng realized that Liangzi seemed to be different from before.

"Liangzi, your eyes..."

"My Eyes?" Liangzi touched the corners of his eyes.

"Didn't you see that my eyes are blind? They took away my cornea, so I can't see anymore."

"Changsheng, don't worry." Liangzi clenched his brother's hand. "I asked the doctor. Your surgery will be ten times more successful, but there will be some pain. However, it will be better after the pain."

"Oh, you're Awake?" He Yibin pushed the door open and walked in. He first checked Changsheng's wound, "The healing is not bad. There's no bleeding and no cracks. Remember not to move around in the near future. A few days of pain can buy you peace in the future. It's worth it."

"Thank you, doctor he." Changsheng actually did not feel any pain now. It did not matter how much it hurt. Just as Liang Zi had said, he had experienced so much pain in the past. This kind of pain... was no longer considered pain.

"You're welcome. This is what we doctors should do."

"Oh right, Liangzi," he yibin finally said to Liangzi, "Follow me back for a check-up. I'll take a look at how your cornea is doing. Can it be transplanted again?" He Yibin was currently worried, when Liangzi's cornea was removed, those doctors were only focused on removing the cornea and did not notice the patient. Then, even if the cornea could be transplanted back, the eye would still be injured, and it was possible that the patient would not be able to see it.

"Doctor he, can my eye recover?" Liang Zi's voice became nervous.

He had already been blind for two years. could he still see it?

Liang Zi suddenly bent his knees and groped his way to kneel in front of He Yibin.

"Doctor he, I beg you. You have to save my eye. I don't want to be blind for the rest of my life." He did not want to. He wanted to see the light, and he also wanted to go back to see his sister. If it was not for him, his sister would have been destroyed.., who in this world could treat his sister as if she was his own.

"You get up first." He Yibin really couldn't help a person up, especially since this person had to kneel. Even if he helped him up, he might kneel down again later.

"I want to help with the examination first. After the examination is over, we'll talk about other things."

“Thank you, doctor he. Thank you, doctor he.”

Liangzi hurriedly stood up. His face was covered in tears. He was a man, but he was also crying like a woman. He really pitied him.

He Yibin helped Liangzi out. Changsheng also felt that his face was a little cold. He reached out and wiped his face. It turned out that at some point, even he himself was also covered in tears.

He Yibin let Liangzi lie down, and his eyes suddenly became a little cautious about everything. He did not even dare to breathe heavily.

He Yibin found an ophthalmologist for him and asked this expert to help Liangzi check.

He Yibin was his physician, so he was not very good at ophthalmology.

“Have you found the cornea?”The ophthalmologist asked as he examined it. “It’s fine. It didn’t hurt the nerves. It’s just that the cornea is missing.”

He Yibin also heaved a sigh of relief. It was fine as long as there were no other injuries. He was just afraid that there would be some other injuries. Then, even if the corneal transplant was successful, it would be meaningless.

“Can we carry out the corneal transplant?”

He Yibin asked the Doctor from the ophthalmology department.

“Yes, it can be done.”

The ophthalmologist nodded. “If the transplant is carried out, there will be no problem at all.”

“That’s good.”He Yibin patted Liangzi’s shoulder. “Liangzi, don’t worry. We will quickly find a donor for you to touch the horn. You should accompany Changsheng to recover for a few days first.”

“Okay.”Liangzi wiped away his tears and let the nurse at the side hold him up as he went to talk to Changsheng.

The two of them really needed to have a good talk. They needed to talk about what had happened in the past few years and think about what they should do in the future.

Cornea? Lu Yi placed his finger on the corner of the table and gently tapped it.

“Corneas?”

“Yes.”He Yibin nodded, “His eyes are still pretty good. They’re better than longevity. As long as he carries out a corneas transplant, there won’t be any major problems. Perhaps his vision might be a little lower, but it’s not too bad. It’s also much better than blindness.”

“It’s just that the corneas need to be lined up in advance. You have to go through the proper procedures first.”

Lu Yi tapped the corner of the table again.

“There’s no need to wait. Lu Yi, don’t do anything else. You’re a prosecutor. Be careful of committing a crime.”

He Yibin’s face darkened as he warned Lu Yi.

“It won’t.” If Lu Yi could say it, he could naturally guarantee that it wasn’t something illegal. If he said there was, there was. And if he said there was no need to wait, then it meant that there was really no need to pretend anymore. But what did he mean by there was no need to wait?

“Where would there be corneas?”

Chapter 2126: paying with one’s life

“Wasn’t that Jin Geng sentenced to death?” Lu Yi said faintly.

“Yes.” He Yibin obviously knew about this. “That kind of person really deserves to die.”

“Use his. It can be considered as doing a good deed.”

“He’s willing?”

He Yibin sat down and touched his chin again. There were probably not many people who were willing, right?

“He is willing.”

Lu Yi still said the same thing. He would be willing. A dead person could be used to redeem some of his sins before he died. It could also be considered as the last good thing he did for society. Otherwise, he would be careful of going to hell.

He knew Jin Gen’s character very well.

When he was in the Li family village, he would never forgive what Jin Gen and Jin Gen’s mother did to Yan Huan. Not only did Jin gen have designs on Yan Huan, he even stole Yan Huan’s only rice. People like them only thought about themselves, they only wanted to take advantage of him, but they never thought about what would happen to others if they did not have the rice. They would die, yes, they would die, they would starve, and they would freeze to death.

A criminal on death row was a sinner for the rest of his life. Therefore, he would leave his useless body to the people he owed.

He owed Changsheng a kidney, Liang Zi a pair of eyes, and he owed so many people their lives. If he did not return it, who would help him?

At this moment, Jin Gen, who was locked up in prison, didn’t know how serious his crime was. He really thought that he was fine. In any case, he was just going to prison for a few years, so he was eating, drinking, and sleeping here. He was still thinking.., what about the money that he hadn’t spent yet? The money that he had hidden, he didn’t know if anyone had found it. Those were his last resort.

However, when he found out that he had been sentenced to death and that he had to carry out the sentence immediately, he was dumbfounded. His mouth was wide open, and even his saliva flowed out unconsciously.

He, died..

Death Sentence?

That was, he was going to die.

“I don’t want to die, I don’t want to Die! Police sir, I don’t want to die. I have money, I have a lot of money. As long as you can let me go, I will give all my money to you. I have hundreds of thousands of dollars...”

He had originally planned to build a few more floors at home and marry a young and beautiful wife. He had not married a wife and had not had children yet. He was the only child in the Jin family, how could he die? How could he die?

So, he did not want to die. Yes, he absolutely did not want to die.

As long as he did not die, he did not want anything else. He only wanted to keep his life.

However, the law did not allow mercy. He had made a mistake, so naturally, he had to take responsibility for it. This was not a plea. It could pass, and life could not be bought with money. Otherwise, who would pay for the lives of the people he had harmed?

The warning told Jin Gen that he was about to be executed. He asked if he wanted to see his family, such as his mother.

Jin Gen was now scared silly. Who else was he going to see? His mother was so useless, she would wear a gold necklace everywhere for no reason. If he saw her, would she be able to save him?

He did not want to die. He did not want to die at all, so he kept shaking his head, but he was so scared that he could not speak.

This made the police think that he did not want to see her and gave up this last right.

On the day before Jingen was executed, Jingen was already like a pile of mud. He was dragged along by others. His legs were pulled to the ground, and his face was as pale as gold, obviously, he was scared to death.

He shook his head no matter what they asked him.

Until he saw Changsheng. Changsheng was sitting on the wheelchair. He was so cold and expressionless as he stared at him. His eyes were as cold as a ghost, without any warmth.

When Jin Gen saw Changsheng, he rushed over and knelt down to beg for changsheng. He said that he did not want to die, that he was wronged, that he was only threatened by brother Chao, and that all of this was forced on him by brother Chao.

These words were so nice, pushing everything to others.

Brother Chao forced him to do it. Then why didn't he say it when he took the black-hearted money? It was also brother Chao who forced him to take it.

In that instant, Changsheng's face was devoid of any sadness or joy, but his heart was the same.

Dead was dead. Even if he wanted to let it go, the others wouldn't be willing, not to mention that he didn't want to let it go either.

This kind of person deserved what he got, and he deserved to die privately.

In the Chen family village, Jin Gen's mother was counting money under the lights of other people's homes. This money was given to her by her Jin Gen, and it was already several thousand yuan. Every household in the village was now connected to the lights, only her family did not have it. Even so, she did not move out. Why would she move out? She could receive a lot of money a month here. As long as she said the word, those who worked outside would ask for money. This was not..., the money was kept in her pocket. At first, Jingen said that she would only accept it if she accepted it. Later, even if Jingen did not say it, she would accept it herself.

The people in the village were all rich now. Every family raised chickens and sold eggs. They had a lot of money in a month. Although she couldn't raise them and no one asked her to raise them, it was fine as long as she had the money, with money, wasn't she afraid of not being able to buy chickens and eggs?

She licked her fingers and counted the money she received.

In the end, she thought of something and put the money down. Then she opened a drawer and took out an envelope from the drawer. This was the summons for her son's death sentence. Her son refused to see her, and now she was asked to collect his body, she couldn't read, and this was all done by the people at the foot of the mountain. At that time, the way they looked at her was as strange as it could be. She also looked at them as stupid as they could be.

Because, she really felt that it was too ridiculous. Her son was sentenced to death. who made this stupid joke.

Her son was clearly alive and well. If she knew who wanted her son to die, she would let her family forget about peace. Her Jingen had even sent her a few thousand yuan a few days ago, and she still saved it.

Of course, there was also the money that the villagers gave her. In the past, this money was not easy to ask for, but now it was too easy to ask for. Anyway, as long as she stretched out her hand, they would give it to her.

She threw the letter in her hand aside. She did not even want to bother with it. This kind of letter should have been thrown away a long time ago. What was the point of keeping it.

In the end, just as she counted the money, she heard someone knocking on her door.

"Coming." She stuffed the money under the Kang table and then patted her own clothes, "Who are these people? Why are they knocking on the door at this time? Are they screaming? They broke my door. Are you going to fix it for me?"

Just as she opened the door, a group of people squeezed in and started to beat and scold her.

“Mother Jin Gen, have you lost your heart to the dogs? We are all from the same village. You should compensate my son, compensate my son’s life...”

Chapter 2127: was as long as he was alive

“Mother Jingen, if my son loses a leg and an arm, I’ll chop you into minced meat and let the dog eat you.”

The longevity mother also stumbled in and stretched out her hand to slap Mother Jingen, “Mother Jingen, I’ve really been blind all my life. I actually trusted an old witch like you. Mother Jingen, how did my Changsheng Offend You Guys? You dug out his kidney and even broke his leg. Aren’t you trying to kill me...”

Changsheng’s mother patted her own chest. It hurt so much that her heart ached. Her heart ached so much.

She had a perfectly fine son. How had he been tortured to such a state? She only had one son, Changsheng. In the future, who was she going to rely on? who was she going to rely on to take care of her old age and send her to her death?

Mother Jingen was beaten until she was in a daze, but the villagers’ fists were still not afraid of smashing into her body. In just a short while, they had already smashed her until her nose was bruised and her face was swollen.

Not long after, the village chief came. This was the only way to get people to pull away from that group of people. However, each and every one of them was crying, crying until the village chief’s heart was in a bad mood. It was not easy for the village to have an easy life, but what had happened? If he had known earlier., he should have chased Jin Gen’s family out.

Thinking of those children in the village, each and every one of them had grown up under his watch. This time, those who came back were either missing an arm or a leg. Those who were so thin were all dried up, which was really heartbreaking.

Among the young lads in the village, there were thirteen who went out with Jingen at that time, and only five came back. Each and every one of them had their kidneys dug out. They were either missing an arm or a leg, or they had lost their eyes.

Each and every one of them was as thin as skin and bones.

“Mom, Mom...” Changsheng directly pushed the wheelchair towards Changsheng’s mother.

Changsheng’s mother hurriedly picked up her son and burst into tears with Changsheng.

“Mom, Don’t cry. Look, am I not doing very well? Changsheng comforted Changsheng’s mother. I’m living well, am I not?”

“Yes, yes.” Changsheng’s mother almost burst into tears. But that was how it was. Compared to the other families, at the very least, he still had his son. There were thirteen young men, but only five of them returned. Compared to the others., her changsheng was really much better.

And Jingen's mother was directly beaten out of the village. When Jingen's mother heard that her son had really been sentenced to death, she immediately became a pile of mud. and the people in the village still found tens of thousands of dollars in cash in Jingen's home, this money was all the money that Jingen's mother had used as an excuse to ask the families of those young men.

The village chief returned all of this money to them.

"Mother, we don't want this money."

Changsheng said to mother changsheng, "At least, I'm still alive, but they..."speaking of this, Changsheng couldn't help but sob. They were all gone. All of the money was given to their families. Among the people who had gone., the people who had returned were really too small. Other than him and Liangzi, they couldn't find anyone else. Among the thirteen people, many of them had followed Jingen.

Lei Qingyi had helped to look for them for a long time, but only three of them were found. Not many of them had a piece of good skin on them.

So..

He did not want the money. Although he had lost a kidney and a crippled leg, he still had limbs. He was not afraid that he could not support himself. Moreover, Xiaoyan had given him a large sum of money.

He did not want the money, but he could not take it either. His life was saved by Xiaoyan, and the medical fees were paid by Xiaoyan. How could he have the face to ask for her money again.

However, Xiaoyan had said that she owed him two lives. The first time, he fished her out of the river, and the second time, he picked her up and brought her home.

Therefore, she gave him the money and used it as capital. It could let him live comfortably for the rest of his life. In the end, he took the money.

She wanted to tell Xiaoyan that when the money was in his hands, he would forget about Xiaoyan in the future. He would use the money and live well. He would also live like a human.

Indeed, if he did not do anything, the money Xiaoyan gave him would be enough to feed him for the rest of his life. However, he did not want to. He still had his life. He did not have a leg, but he still had his hands.

He could still work. He could still do many things.

However, he had his dignity as a man. No matter what, he could not take the money.

Therefore, in the end, he secretly passed the money to he Yibin and asked he yibin to return it to Yan Huan. In the end, he chose not to take the money. Perhaps everyone felt that he was a fool. It was already a few million, however, he did not take a single cent. Instead, he wanted to return to the village and live a hard life.

Actually, don't blame him. After experiencing so many things, he had lost everything. The only thing that remained was this little bit of self-respect. Liao was also the last thing that he had left.

He no longer wanted to beg for food anymore. Taking Yan Huan's money was like he was still begging for food. No matter what Yan Huan said, he could never reach this step. He couldn't reach out his hand, and he also couldn't take that money, he was going to be a beggar for the rest of his life.

He knew that if he took back the money, then his life would probably be very good. He didn't even have to do anything, and he could live like a golden root in the past.

However, when he dreamed in the middle of the night, he would always remember the days when he used to beg for food. He was neither human nor ghost, and he was neither a dog nor a dog.

If he didn't reach out that hand, he would think of a way. He could work hard, and he could live a dignified life. He wouldn't let himself become a beggar, and he would never have a dignified life.

Moreover, he had made a deal with Liang Zi. Their village was such a big place. How could they not have a chance of surviving? They had also thought about raising chickens in the village in the future and growing mushrooms.

They would learn the skills of mushrooms. The land in the village was ready-made. Now, the roads all led to the foot of the mountain. It was easy to walk. Cars could also drive in. They could sell mushrooms to the city, they could also make mushroom sauce and dry mushrooms.

Of course, this was only their initial thought. As for how far they would go in the future, they did not know.

He and Liang Zi were not normal people. Liang Zi's eyes were fine, but his eyesight had decreased. It was still good. At the very least, he had all four skills. As for his leg, even if he had surgery, he could not go back to the past.

However, he was still alive. He could still return to the village and see the changes in the village. He could see the villagers' lives getting better and better.

Changsheng's mother was also sad. She hugged her son and burst into tears. Just as Changsheng's mother had said, Changsheng was still alive at the very least. However, the other families were all gone. If there was one less person, there would be one less home, it was possible that he was the only son in the family. This was not the absence of a person. This was the end of the line.

Chapter 2128: the son had grown up

The Changsheng family really did not want this money. It was all given to those who had lost their sons. The village chief had also taken some money from the village wages and added some into it. However, what was the use of this much money, it was still not enough to exchange for the life of a living person.

Changsheng was in the village, learning how to raise chickens together with the others. Although he was crippled and disfigured, he was still a diligent young man. Coupled with his intelligence and eagerness to learn, it was likely that he would become an expert in raising chickens within a year or two.

It was something that they had thought about for a long time, but now they couldn't do it. They thought that things were too simple. If this really started, they would have to invest tens of thousands of dollars. And now, in their hands., they simply didn't have that much money.

But there was no rush. weren't they young? First, they were like the people in the village, raising chickens and ducks. When they earned money, they would talk about growing mushrooms.

Until one day, he received a package. Inside the package were three piggy banks.

On top of them were immature but very serious handwriting.

"Uncle Changsheng, this is our new year's money. Give it to uncle. Thank you, uncle, for helping our mother, so that we can have Mommy's love."

Changsheng suddenly felt his heart ache and warm.

Xiao Yan's three children were all good.

He opened one of the piggy banks and was shocked. There was a lot of money inside, but he could guess that these children were the treasures of the family. Their backgrounds were not ordinary. One was from the Lu family, one was from the Lei family, one was from the Ye family, and one was from the Su family. The four famous families in Hai City all had some connections with these three children. How could there not be a lot?

After the three piggy banks came down, there were more than three hundred thousand yuan.

Changsheng did not dare to spend this money, but when he thought about it, it was better to spend the money. When his days were better, he would be able to pay it back. In fact, a life for a life. Yan Huan had already paid it off, but he did not, it was only because she was worried

Don't worry, he will be fine. He will definitely be fine.

He used these 300,000 plus people to build a big house for his family. He also bought a car and specialized in the delivery business. He also sent the pollution-free eggs of the Chen village to all parts of the country.

He also planted dozens of acres of mushrooms and started a small factory together with Liang Zi. He made these mushrooms into mushroom sauce and sold them very well. The more they sold, the more famous they became in their local area, of course, the more money they earned, the more they earned.

Chen village's eggs and mushroom sauce were very famous, and the people of Chen Village also began to become rich, just like Changsheng. Although one leg was inconvenient, it couldn't stop him from being diligent. He was a good young man..., and in the future, his days became better and better.

Later on, Changsheng got married and married a girl from a neighboring village. Later on, he had a tiger-like son. Changsheng's mother took care of her grandson every day and got along quite well with her daughter-in-law, although there were always conflicts between mother-in-law and daughter-in-law, on account of her grandson, Changsheng's mother was able to think things through.

And sometimes, Changsheng's mother would think that if he had treated Xiaoyan a little better back then, would they have been able to live a better life? However, on second thought, their current situation was already good enough. They had hands and feet..., in the end, they would live a better life than others.

The lives of the Chen family village, the lives of the Chen Family Village People.

And Yan Huan's life indeed had nothing to do with them.

A plate of dishes was brought out from Yan Huan's kitchen.

"Mom, let me help you." A child with long hands and feet hurriedly stood up from the table and carefully took the plate from Yan Huan's hands.

"Mommy, be careful. Don't drop it."

Yan Huan patted his son's small head.

"Both of you have grown to such an age, but mommy is really old." She touched her own face, as if she was really old.

"Mommy is very young."

Lu Qi sighed helplessly at Yan Huan's incessant aging. Could his mother be any more hypocritical?

"Do you really feel that your mother is young?" Yan Huan pinched his son's little face.

Lu Qi turned his little face to block his mother's hand as well.

"Mommy, Little Qi has grown up. How can he not pinch his face?"

His little face was solemn. He had the exact same temperament as Lu Yi. He had always been like this since he was young. It was a pity that his little face, which was clearly very soft and cute, was so stingy that he even gave others a smile.

Yan Huan was not a mother who would give up so easily. She reached out her hands and rubbed her son's face.

He was already nine years old now. When he grew up, he did not even have the right to pinch his face anymore. As the child grew older, he had more and more thoughts. He had his own thoughts and his own secrets, he did not want to tell his mother.

She kneaded his little face like she was kneading dough.

As Lu Qi stood there, he couldn't help but sigh. Why did he feel like he had nothing left to live for.

Yan Huan had kneaded his son's little face enough. Then, he took out a few plates of dishes from the kitchen. The food that their family ate every day was meticulously prepared by her. It was delicious and nutritious.

Lu Qi glanced at the dishes on the table. He then touched his belly. He needed to work out more with his younger brother.

There was a gourmet mother at home. The two brothers had a high chance of gaining weight. His younger sister would learn to dance every day. Compared to his younger sister, their activities seemed to be less. Hence, starting tomorrow.., he wanted to pull his younger brother along for a good run.

"Xiao Qi, go and call Xiao Guang out." Yan Huan took out a plate and placed it on the table.

He could only play on the computer for an hour a day. It wouldn't do to have too many.

Xiao Qi had a quiet personality. She had always been very disciplined since she was young, but Xiao Guang was a little lacking. Not only did he like the computer very much, but he was also exactly like his father. His pair of small hands were typing on the keyboard, even she, his mother, could not compare to him.

However, Yan Huan did not really like Xiao Guang to always touch the computer. The biggest reason was that something had happened to Xiao Guang's eyes when he was young. Although he said that he was fine after his annual physical examination, Yan Huan was still worried.

However, Xiao Guang was also a child who liked to play with computers very much. Xiao Guang, who had inherited his father's talent in numbers, liked computers the most. If he was not allowed to touch them for a while every day., he might not even be able to eat.

In the end, Yan Huan had no choice but to give him an hour every day.

They had agreed on an hour, which was an hour. One more minute was not enough.

Yan Huan entered the kitchen again. In a while, Mei Ru would bring Xiao Mei over, and the Yuwen family would bring their children over for dinner. Including the three from their family, they would have five children, therefore, her burden today was a little heavy. She had to cook a lot of food. Fortunately, her family still had two aunts to help. Aunt Gu was old, and now she had to go home to take care of her grandchildren.

Chapter 2129: mother is very scary

Yan Huan did not look for a nanny anymore. There were two aunties who would help clean up the large vegetable ground outside. She was cooking all the food in the house. Unless she was too busy, she would only ask them to come over and help.

Yan Huan liked to live such a life instead of stretching her hands out for food.

Lu Yi and the children were also used to eating the food that she cooked. If a chef suddenly changed to cook, not only the children might not be used to it, but even Yan Huan himself might not be used to it.

Lu Qi turned around to look at his young and beautiful mother. When he thought of his sister's little face that looked exactly like his mother's, he was already beginning to worry at such a young age.

This was because some young boys had already begun to give gifts to his sister.

Their sister was theirs, and no one could take it away from them.

It was their sister, not someone else's sister.

They were still too young and did not know that their grown-up sister would eventually get married. And now, all they thought was probably the thought that the adults had instilled in them.

That was to protect their younger sister well. They could not let her be snatched away by other little boys, so they had to keep a close watch on her.

Xiao Qi opened the door and saw Xiao Guang's little hand on the keyboard, his fingers rapidly tapping on it. His hand speed was very fast. His little hand was not big enough, but when he typed, it was not inferior to the adults at all.

His computer knowledge was taught by Lu Yi. Later on, he liked to ponder on it himself. That was why he was able to master this fast typing speed, they were nine years old this year. The eldest son of the Lu family was still growing up in the same way. The second son of the Lu family could be said to be a computer genius. As for the third son of the Lu family, he was a girl. Everyone doted on her, they also doted on her. She didn't need to receive an elite education. She just needed to grow up and be beautiful.

Of course, the third son of the Lu family grew up little and beautiful. He didn't have any intention of becoming disabled. Of course, she couldn't become disabled because she grew up according to her mother's face. According to the normal height of the Lu family, she wouldn't be short, she wouldn't be too tall, and she wouldn't be ugly.

Lu Qi walked over and stood in front of Lu Guang.

Xiao Guang was still focused on the computer. The blue light on the computer screen landed on his face. In that instant, his childish face also grew up a little.

However, he was still young. He was still a child, a primary school student, a primary school fourth grade primary school student.

"Lu Guang, your mother is angry."

Lu Qi said faintly. He was clearly still a child, but the sharp light in his eyes could not help but make people's hearts tremble. They felt that this child was too mature, so mature that it was a little scary. Of course.., it was also a way of growing up that made people sigh.

When Lu Guang heard this, he hurriedly closed the computer. He also stood up in a panic. In the end, he did not stand properly and knocked his head on the table.

Lu Qi looked coldly at his handsy younger brother, who had the exact same face as him.

Lu Guang frowned at his childish little face. Of course, such an expression was never seen on Lu Qi's face. As Lu Qi grew up, his personality became more like Lu Yi's, he was the real miniature version of Lu Yi. As for Lu Guang, his personality was a little livelier and he liked to smile a little. He wore this harmless little face every day and only knew how to fool his mother, who obviously didn't have enough brains, and his brain was just as stupid as his mother's.

Lu Qi reached out and placed his hand behind his brother's collar. He also lifted his brother up. Of course, he was the same height and weight as his brother. The two of them had always worn the same clothes and shoes, they had the same hairstyle, but no one would mistake them. It was just that their personalities were too different.

Lu Qi did not like to laugh, but Lu Guang was a bright young man. One was quiet, and the other was jumpy. Therefore, after being with them for a long time, it was easy to know that they did not look like each other except for their looks, moreover, the longer they grew, the more their personalities grew in opposite directions. Lu Qi did not like to laugh, but Lu Guang liked to laugh.

Didn't they say that not only did the twins look alike, even their friends looked alike? But why did the twins of the Lu family grow more and more strange.

"Brother, you can't Tell Mom." Lu Guang put his arm around his small shoulders. "When mom is angry, it's very difficult to handle."

His mother was even more terrifying than his teacher.

Of course, Lu Guang did not dare to say such words in front of Yan Huan. If Yan Huan found out about this, his originally scary mother would immediately turn into a monster.

Lu Qi pulled his sleeves out from Lu Guang's hands.

Then, he turned around and walked out.

Lu Guang stuck out his tongue and hurriedly followed him. Of course, he was not afraid that Lu Qi would tell on him. Unless it was necessary, his brother would be willing to say more.

Of course, he would not take the initiative to complain to his mother.

Just as Lu Guang went out, he found that Yan Huan had already prepared two tables of food. Moreover, they were all his favorite dishes. Of course, he had to praise him again. This was a child who was not picky about his food. His mother's dishes were all delicious, they were also his favorite dishes.

"Mommy..."

Xiao Guang ran over and immediately threw himself into Yan Huan's arms.

Thank you, Mommy. You've made so many food for Xiao Guang. Every dish was Xiao Le's favorite. Xiao Guang was really, really, really happy.

Anyway, he had to praise him first and then admire his mother like a torrential river. His mother would definitely be happy, and he would forget about that small mistake he made today.

Actually, he wasn't wrong, right? It was just that he loved to play a little too much, and it just so happened that he was interested in it, so he couldn't stop playing for a while. He only played for half an hour more. Next time, he wouldn't dare, and he definitely wouldn't dare, if his mother was angry, she would throw him to his grandparents. Then, he wouldn't be able to eat the delicious food that his mother cooked, and he wouldn't be able to see his beautiful mother.

Yan Huan bent down and stared at Lu Guang's smiling eyes. When he smiled, his eyes were curved and very cute. Of course, they were also very bright, black and white, and incomparably clear.

Of course, it was good that he did not ignore all of his little thoughts.

Lu Qi was a well-behaved child, while Lu Guang was a child who had a devious heart. The heart of the entire family might have been lost by him. His small mouth was sweet and could talk, otherwise, how could his grandfather and grandmother let him play on the computer for an hour a day? If it was on Yan Huan's side, he would not be able to play for more than an hour, not even a minute.

Chapter 2130: the older the wiser

He was only a nine-year-old child. Why was he playing with the computer? If he was nearsighted, he wouldn't be able to take it off for the rest of his life.

Meanwhile, Lu Guang was still smiling. However, he wouldn't be able to smile for a while. Although he had grown a lot of shrewdness, and of course, he had the most petty thoughts in his family, he was still young after all. No matter how much his mother was, she wasn't an ordinary mother, their mother had already lived for two lifetimes. Although she wasn't very smart, it was more than enough to deal with him.

Yan Huan still had a calm expression. No matter what Lu Guang said, she wouldn't answer.

Lu Guang secretly cursed in his heart.

What wasn't Good? His mother... was angry.

"Lu Guang, how many hours have you played today?" Yan Huan stared into Lu Guang's eyes and asked. "Give a good answer. If you confess, you'll be lenient. If you resist, you'll be punished."

Lu Guang's face fell. He didn't dare to say anything else.

"Speak!" Yan Huan knew that this kid had lost track of time and went to play with his computer again. Lu Yi's laptop retreated very quickly, and there were still one or two spare computers at home.

It was impossible for Lu Guang to have his own computer now, but he could use the spare computers at home, and they were already used very well. What were other children doing when they were his age, they were looking at a pink piglet. They were looking at a big-headed son, a big bear, or a lumpy man.

However, Lu Guang was different. Even Yan Huan did not know what Lu Guang was busy with on the computer every day. He did not play games or watch cartoons. What was he doing? was he practicing typing?

The structure of the Lu family's children's brains were indeed different. It was just that Xun Xun was more like her. Other than Xun Xun's memory of numbers being more like Lu Yi's, everything else was like her. In other words., she had inherited her not-so-smart brain, so of course, she looked like her. She could be considered to have let her daughter down. Although her family's Xun Xun was not a particularly smart child, she had a pretty little face.

Towards Lu Qi, he was too well-behaved. The eldest son of the Lu family seemed to have to grow up this way. Meanwhile, Lu Qi was also a child who had completely followed the requirements of the Lu family's eldest son. He was basically the same as his father, Lu Yi, they were pasted and copied.

As for Lu Guang, he was the most narrow-minded and had many tricks up his sleeve. Of course, he was also very greedy for money. After he knew what money was and what he could do, his pocket money was also under his control. At such a small age., he began to know how to sell his mother's photos. Sometimes, he would save the snacks that his mother made and not eat them. He would also sell them to his classmates.

Therefore, the small treasury in his hands was quite full. It was just that he was too good at hiding it. Even his mother didn't know where Lu Guang's small treasury was and how much money he had in his hands? No matter what, he had to sell his mother's face and the cookies that his mother made to earn the money. Shouldn't he give half of the money to his mother? However, Lu Guang, this young man, was a little money-grubber, he had really taken a good look at his own little treasury. Up until now, Yan Huan still did not know where he kept that little treasury?

And now, they would not talk about other things. They would just talk about now.

"Lu Guang, go to your uncle he's place tomorrow."

Yan Huan smiled lightly. The corners of his lips curled up slightly. His smile was also like a spring breeze. He did not seem to express anything. However, Lu Guang could not help but shiver and shrink his little neck, then, he obediently stood to the side and did not dare to move.

"Go... go to uncle he's place for what?"

Lu Guang swallowed his saliva and asked cautiously in a low voice, "Mom, Xiao Guang is not sick. Xiao Guang is a very healthy child. He can't be given an injection." They were rarely sick now, only when they were given an injection every year would they be given an injection.

Wouldn't his mom really send him to the Tiger's mouth? She would give him two more injections on his butt. No, he was afraid of getting an injection.

Go check your eyes.

Yan Huan stared at Lu Guang's eyes. They were so beautiful and had such a magical watch. But don't give him her myopia. If she really was nearsighted, she would definitely beat him to death.

"Mom, my eyes are very good."

However, Yan Huan still did not speak.

Lu Guang stomped his foot. "I've been fine for a long time."

When he wanted to argue with Yan Huan again, he saw Lu Qi who had been standing at the side. Lu Qi just stood there quietly and waited. However, his small face was overly calm, what Lu Guang was most afraid of was that Lu Qi's face would change into this expression.

Don't forget, they were twins. Of course, they had a psychological connection. Although they had different hobbies and temperaments, no matter how different they were, they were still blood-related brothers, they were blood-related brothers born in the same year, the same month, the same day, and the same second.

If he couldn't even see through Lu Qi's warning, then he wasn't Lu Guang.

Lu Qi's meaning was very clear. That was, don't talk back to your mother. Whatever your mother says will be true.

Lu Guang tugged at the corner of his shirt. He stood still and did not dare to move. Of course, he did not talk back to his mother. He was admitting his mistakes and repenting. He would also change. Although he would change every time he made a mistake, there were some mistakes.., he changed, but it did not take long for him to make the same mistake again.

He pointed at his little finger. "Mom, Can Xiao Guang go down?"

"What do you think?" Yan Huan patted his son's face, but his narrowed eyes made Xiao Guang take a step back in fright. She only said these few words and walked into the kitchen. She did not have the time now.., she was here to discuss with Lu Guang what a mother was and what a son was.

Yan Huan was a woman who had absolute authority over her two sons. As for what their mother said, she would definitely do it. Normally, she was their mother, but when it came to absolute authority.., it was the empress dowager.

So, if the empress dowager did not agree to their marriage in the future, Lu Qin and Lu Guang's wives would not be able to marry into the family.

Moreover, with such a young and beautiful celebrity mother-in-law who was not old, how could she not feel pressured to be her daughter-in-law?

When Lu Guang heard that Yan Huan wanted him to think for himself, he immediately heaved a sigh of relief. Fortunately, his mother did not speak. Otherwise, he would have cried in a moment. He turned around and ran into his room, the two of them had grown very tall. Beside their classmates, they were already very tall. Of course, they were also of normal height.

Fortunately, they did not look like Little Thunder, a primary school student who was 1.8 meters long. It was not that there were no such primary school students. In fact, there were many of them, but they could not be primary school students. They were too tall.., even the school uniform needed to be custom-made.

And the two of them were very normal.

Lu Guang hurriedly opened the door of his room. In fact, his hands were a little itchy. He really wanted to play computer games. Recently, he was researching a new small game. When it was developed, it could be sold for money.
