

Sweet Wife 231

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 231 Please Help Her

"You haven't got me back all those money I have lost because of you, so how could I divorce you now, you silly?"

His tone was soft, but Jessica suddenly shivered.

When he said these to her, she felt like a cold poisonous snake climbing up from her back, and its mouth was hanging on her neck as if it would bite her in the next second.

She suddenly put on a serious face, because she could feel his finger sliding down from her head to her cheek and was approaching her lips. Jessica couldn't help but raise her hand and push his finger away.

She cursed, "You pervert!"

"Heh!"

Shawn laughed out, "If I am a pervert, then you are the pervert's wife. How about that? Are you afraid of being with a pervert?"

Jessica tried her best to calm down.

She looked at him and sneered, "I can continue to pretend to be your wife, but I'm warning you, you must stay away from me and don't touch me again from this day forwards!"

After saying that, she got up and went to the bathroom.

Shawn stood up with a faint smile on his face. He took out a handkerchief from the trouser pocket, wiped his fingers that had just touched Jessica, and then threw it into the trash.

"Somebody comes to help Jessica clean up the room and buy what she needs."

After saying that, he left.

Jessica couldn't even walk into the bathroom.

After simply washing her hands, Jessica went to the guest room.

The servant bought new furniture and mattresses and cleaned the room for her.

When everything was done, it was already evening. She had just gone back to her room.

At dinner, Shawn's assistant called her and told her that Shawn would live in another villa next door and would not come back for the time being.

When she answered the phone, two servants were there too. They both sympathized with her after hearing their conversations.

It had only been a few days since they got married, and they had already lived apart now.

What a big deal! Why couldn't they just talk to each other?

However, after hanging up the phone, Jessica just went back and continued to have dinner calmly.

She seemed to have changed a lot.

Her family was worried that something bad might happen to her, but after observing her for a night, they found she was just no longer as talkative as before.

So, her family gradually set their mind at rest.

This evening, Jessica was sitting on the terrace to enjoy the cool breeze.

The phone suddenly rang. She looked at the name and immediately picked up the phone.

"You finally call me."

A woman was talking to her softly on the phone. It seemed she also coughed once or twice, and then that woman said, "Sorry, I'm not feeling well lately."

Jessica was expressionless, "So now you have time to help me, right?"

The woman paused for a moment, and then said, "Of course. What do you want me to do? Just tell me."

"I want you to kill a person for me."

The woman froze, obviously a little surprised.

"Who?"

"Natalia Dawson."

Archie had to go on a business trip recently.

Something was wrong with his company's important project abroad. They had some conflicts with their business partners, but the person in charge was sick, so he had to go over and solve the problem himself.

Natalia had already finished the propaganda work some time ago with Vicente, so she was free recently.

Therefore, before his trip, she helped him pack the luggage and drove him to the airport.

Archie was naturally very satisfied. Before leaving, he asked Nancy to take care of herself

After sending him away, Natalia found that it was still early, so she went to the company again.

On the whole, Star Entertainment was developing very well now. Although its scale was still relatively small, its artists were rising steadily. What's more, with the support of Annie International, it would have a bright future.

Laura had starred in a few dramas this year. Her fans following her Twitter had increased from more than 3 million at first to more than 10 million now.

Natalia intended to give her a good script this year, so she could play the lead.

Several other artists were also shooting an online talent show recently. Even though they could not win any awards, they could still be remembered by the audience.

Although they were not really popular in any way, they still attracted a lot of attention. They had almost one million social media followers now.

Although the number of their fans was not very large, they had made progress from a completely nobody to where they were now.

After inspecting the company, Natalia felt very satisfied. Then she went back to Annie International. Seeing that it was already late, she left with Nancy.

"Natalia, are we going home now?"

Nancy asked while driving.

"No. Let's go out for dinner."

She finally had the chance to come out and hang around. Naturally, Natalia wouldn't miss it.

They first went to the nearby Flat Iron Steak House for dinner, and then went shopping at the mall.

Natalia heard that Nancy was an orphan. She had no other relatives, except for a brother who was still in high school.

Now it was the beginning of September, and the high school had just opened. Natalia accompanied her to buy a lot of things and clothes the boys in high school would like, and she also gave Nancy a day off, so that she could go back to accompany her brother to start school.

Nancy was naturally happy. She left that night by plane.

The next day, Natalia went to work as usual.

When meeting a client at noon, she saw Jessica by chance.

Naturally, it was a coincidence. They were in a cafe and coincidentally saw Jessica sitting not far away from them.

Although she thought it was strange, she didn't think much of it.

She always felt that Jessica looked at her in a strange way and she didn't know whether it was her illusion or not.

The more Jessica hated Natalia, the grimmer Jessica appeared.

Natalia knew Jessica hated her, so she didn't pay much attention to it.

After finishing talking about the business, she did not rush back to the company but took a taxi to a very famous pottery store in the east of the city.

She didn't know why Archie had given her a pottery jar a few days ago, and he also emphasized that he made it by himself.

To be honest, Natalia did not quite like his present.

It's not that she didn't like pottery, but this jar was too poorly made.

Its shape was strange, and the painting on it was really ugly.

Archie said that he drew the image of her, himself, and their three children.

He said that this was their future.

Natalia looked at the three twisted children, lapsing into silence.

It was okay that he prepared an ugly gift for her.

But he asked her to give a gift to him too.

Natalia was simply speechless.

So, she could only personally make one for him.

Thinking in this way, after getting into the car, she closed her eyes and intended to take a nap, however, not long after, she felt something wrong.??

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 232 She Was Kidnapped

There was a strange smell in the air. When she just got in the car, she didn't pay attention because it was too light, but as time went on, the aroma became stronger and stronger, even pungent now.

She propped herself up to grab the car door, but she couldn't exert any strength at all. She felt her throat blocked and couldn't utter a word.

Gradually, she began to feel dizzy, and then she couldn't even open her eyes...

At the last second of her consciousness, she saw the driver take off his mask and turned around to show her a ferocious smile.

"You ... you are ..."

Natalia did not know how long she had been unconscious.

She was awakened by coldness.

When she opened her eyes again vaguely, she saw a simple operating room made of cement. She saw the iron-grey walls were shining. An incandescent lamp hung on her head. The pale light made her eyes tingle.

Where was her?

Her consciousness gradually awakened. In her memory, she wanted to take a taxi to the pottery museum. Later, she seemed to smell some kind of fragrance in the car and then fell asleep...

She came to her senses suddenly.

Turning her head, she saw two rows of glass columns placed around her, with transparent liquid inside. Unknown animal bodies were soaking in the liquid, and many strange and weird things were hung on the wall.

The air was flooded with a sickening smell of blood and formalin.

And she was lying on the operating table in the center now. Her hands and feet were fixed to the table by iron rings, like a lamb to the slaughter.

Where was this?

Natalia's complexion changed. She tried to struggle, but only felt her body was weak, and couldn't exert strength at all. She didn't know whether she was injected with something.

The surrounding was so silent. She was left alone in the room.

But the silence was like the calmness before the storm, making her panic and almost suffocate.

What the hell was going on here?

She was in the car. How could she come here?

Where was this?

And who kidnapped her?

Natalia was confused, and just then, she heard someone was moving toward this room.

"Tap, tap, tap..."

The sound of high-heeled leather shoes stepping on the concrete slab was like the death knell coming from hell, which was quite frightening.

Natalia tensed up.

Was it the kidnapper?

The sound of footsteps was closer and closer, and soon a familiar face appeared above her head.

"Natalia, we meet again."

Natalia's pupils contracted.

Jessica?!

Four stout men were following her in.

She still wore a gentle and faint smile on her face. But her smile looked eerie in this room.

"What? Are you surprised to see me?"

Natalia frowned and almost instantly understood what was going on.

She said coldly, "What do you mean by this?"

“Don’t you know that? Natalia! How dare you still try to play dumb with me now! You’re having fun fooling me, aren’t you!”

After saying that, she hit her chest with a fierce elbow. Natalia was hit by her, and her chest really hurt.

Damn it!

She was going crazy, wasn’t she?

She gritted her teeth, and it took her a long time to get over the pain, “I don’t understand what you’re talking about, but what you’re doing is kidnapping. It’s against the law. Do you know that?”

“Heh! You think I will be afraid?”

Jessica came over and pinched her face. She said fiercely, “If you die in a place like this, who else do you think will know you are dead? Who can get justice for you!!”

Natalia instantly got nervous.

Before she could react, an icy cold blade was pressed against her face.

“Do you know what I hate most about you? It’s that you know how beautiful you are, but you still pretend not to know about it! You pretend to be coldly elegant in front of outsiders, but actually, you can do anything to seduce the men!”

“Heh! If I scratched your face, would Archie still like you? Also, if you were raped here today, would you be unqualified to get married to Archie?”

Jessica’s eyes twinkled with excited and malicious light as she held the knife in front of Natalia’s face.

The blade slid across her cheek and aroused her a cold shudder.

Natalia gritted her teeth and glared at her.

She felt afraid in her heart.

After all, she didn’t know where she was. It looked like an abandoned hospital, and there were probably not many people around.

Although she did not feel that Jessica really dared to kill her, if Jessica stabbed her in the face, it would really hurt!

She said in a deep voice, “Does Shawn know you have done this to me?”

“You don’t need to scare me with Shawn!”

Jessica let out a fierce laugh, “Do you think Shawn really likes you? He just likes new things. He was not reconciled to the fact that her woman has been robbed by another man.”

“But that’s all. It’s just like that even if you don’t want the slippers, you will throw them in the garbage, and you won’t let others take them away. Do you understand?”

Natalia sneered.

"I don't know if I am, but if you think so, it shows that in your heart, you are like a pair of slippers."

"You ... heh!"

Jessica suddenly sneered, "Okay. Until now, you are still stubborn. Don't you know what will happen after coming here?"

Natalia sneered.

Natalia looked at her with contempt, "If I say something soft or simply beg for mercy, you will let me go?"

"Of course not."

"Then wouldn't that be it?"

Jessica was stunned.

She felt angry for no reason.

How could she be like this?

How could Natalia still argue with her in such a situation?

Wasn't she afraid?

Jessica gritted her teeth with hatred, and for a moment, she suddenly smiled.

"You know what? Recently I saw a secret recipe for maintenance abroad. It was said that soaking your face with wine can keep youth forever. The more beautiful the face, the better the effect.

"I have to say that I've seen so many people, but I have never seen a face like yours. When I first saw you at the age of 18, I knew that you were more beautiful than me."

"So, you may never know how much I want your face! Now that I just happen to have this opportunity, don't you think I should take advantage of it?"

When she said, she reached out her hand to caress her face.

Natalia felt her cold fingers were like a snake crawling on her face, which made her scalp numb.

Natalia held back the rejection and impulse in her heart, stiffly curled up her lips, and said coldly, "Then I am very grateful to your liking me. Should I feel honored?"

"Heh! You don't need to talk tough with me. You know, now that you've been here, I won't let you go easily." ???

Chapter 233 Strike Back

"So, what do you want to do?"

"Don't worry. At least you're my sister. I won't really peel off your face and use it to make wine."

She suddenly stood up, took a step back, and pointed at the few men behind her.

“Do you see that? I have prepared everything for you. I just want to see if Archie would really treat you as well as he always did.”

“I won’t kill you either. After these men finish, I will let you go back to see whether Archie will continue to keep you and spoil you or not.”

When Jessica finished speaking, she suddenly took out a syringe from her pocket, drew a bottle of blue liquid from another bottle, and injected the liquid into her body.

Natalia struggled, but what she did was in vain.

She suddenly got a little flustered, “What are you doing?”

Jessica laughed coldly.

“Don’t worry. It would kill you. But it can make you stay a little more comfortable later. After all, I’m not going to let them kill you. I just want them to cripple you.”

After saying that, she smiled and patted her face before leaving.

Natalia’s complexion changed greatly.

Although she was not sure what exactly Jessica had injected into her body, she thought that it would not be something good.

Those men saw Jessica leave, and only then did they all come to her.

Natalia stared at them and shook her head.

“Don’t, don’t come over.”

Her voice was a little weak. Seeing her like this, these men all began to grin hideously.

“Baby, don’t be afraid. We’ll be gentle.”

“Come on. Come on!”

Ten minutes later.

The whole basement was quiet.

Natalia was lying on the floor. She could no longer feel the pain of the wound on her wrist, and she gradually became unconscious

She felt so cold as if her body was being soaked in a pool of cold water.

She knew she was dying.

No, she could not die!

The strong desire for survival made her bite her tongue, and the clear pain called back some of her consciousness.

She heard a painful groan not far away. It seemed there was a man struggling to stand up.

She gritted her teeth and got up. Before that man could stand up, she stepped on his spine, so he couldn't stand up at all.

Only then did she breathe a sigh of relief.

She had got no energy anymore.

She held on to the wall and tried very hard to walk out.

But the more she walked, the more her consciousness became blurred.

Her willpower drove her to move on, but she couldn't move her legs at all.

She couldn't help but shake her head.

She thought that the liquid Jessica injected into her body should be some aphrodisiac drugs.

Now it seemed that it was probably not.

But no matter what it was, it was now making her arms and legs weak.

She couldn't stay here any longer, otherwise later when Jessica came back, she really couldn't leave.

With this in mind, she gritted her teeth and continued to move out.

Then she finally saw the light.

She hurriedly speeded up and finally reached the door.

As she expected, this was an abandoned hospital on the outskirts.

She thought the hospital may have been relocated. What was left here was some waste equipment, and nothing new would be here, so these old equipment had been piled up here.

Natalia struggled to walk out, however, just then, there was the sound of footstep behind her.

Her complexion changed. Without thinking, she knew that someone was coming.

She quickened her pace. Fortunately, the person didn't come this way, so he didn't notice her.

However, when she really came out, she found that she was probably at the seaside.

It may be a sanatorium. But this was not important. What was important was that there was only one exit of the basement where she was held just now.

She was unlucky. When she chose the direction in the corridor, she chose the dead end.

Now, she was lying on the railing. On the left was the endless sea, and on the right was the corridor that someone just passed by.

No matter which way she went, it would be a dead end.

She didn't think that if she was caught by Jessica again, she would still have the luck and strength to escape again by fighting with those strong men unarmed.

Finally, after thinking for a while, she looked at the deep sea, gritted her teeth, turned over the railing and jumped down.

On the other side, in the overseas hotel of McCarthy Properties thousands of kilometers away.

Archie didn't sleep well this whole night. He felt flustered for no reason.

He vaguely had a bad feeling, but he couldn't figure out where it came from.

So early in the morning, he got up from bed at five o'clock and ran along the green road of the hotel, but the feeling of panic was still there, without abating.

He returned to his room with a solemn face and frowned.

Just then, his phone rang.

It was Nancy.

His eyelids twitched, and immediately he knew why he had that bad feeling. He hurriedly turned around to pick up the smartwatch that he had taken off and put on the table before going to bed last night.

He saw that on the screen of his watch, the little red dot that was always online had disappeared, and his pupils tightened suddenly.

"What's going on?" He picked up the phone and said coldly.

Nancy had a guilty conscience and even over the phone, she could feel Archie was in a bad mood.

She was afraid. But no matter how afraid she was, she couldn't delay it. She must report it to Archie.

"Mr. McCarthy, Mrs. McCarthy ... has disappeared!"

"What?"

"It's all my fault. Originally, we had a plan, but then something went wrong"

Nancy quickly told him the beginning and the end of the matter.

Including what Natalia had asked her to do.

After a while, she asked, "Mr. McCarthy, I'm sorry. I know I should take full responsibility for this matter. But now the most important thing is to find Mrs. McCarthy."

Archie took a deep breath and said in a cold voice, "Where are you now?"

"I'm in McCarthy Mansion."

"Immediately get the surveillance video of the whole city. I'll be right back!"

Fortunately, Archie's schedule was to fly to a country in East Asia first and then to the United States tomorrow after finishing his business, so he was not too far away. He directly asked an assistant to request a private plane to come back immediately, which took only three hours.

Three and a half hours later, Archie returned to McCarthy Mansion.

Chapter 234 Save Yourself

Nancy and Mrs. Dottie were both sitting on the sofa in the living room.

Nancy looked chagrined. She never thought that Natalia had planned everything with her before, but finally, she still lost Natalia.

Mrs. Dottie just didn't expect that Natalia would have an accident.

The door of the living room was open, and the handsome man who was fatigued with the journey appeared at the door.

"Mr. McCarthy!"

"Mr. McCarthy!"

Both of them immediately stood up.

Archie glanced at them coldly and then walked straight over.

"Where's the surveillance video?"

"Mr. McCarthy! This is the surveillance video I got ten minutes ago. Mrs. McCarthy should have been taken away by a gray taxi."

"Now I have hacked in the city's monitoring system, but I haven't found the car yet."

Archie took the IPAD and had a look at it. He looked serious.

Nancy still wanted to say something. However, Archie suddenly got up and walked out.

Her eyelids twitched and she hurriedly followed out.

"Mr. McCarthy, I'll go with you."

A few minutes later.

Archie drove the car at full speed on the road.

In the car, Archie took the map and circled out the places where the car might go.

"Nancy, you take some people to the southeast. You should pay much attention to the more remote buildings along the way. The kidnapper can't do it in a crowded place, because it's easy to give himself away, so he will find a private and quiet place."

"You should also remember that they are likely to change their car halfway, so you should pay attention not only to that car but also to other vehicles along the way."

"In addition, call Doctor Hugh to let him get ready at any time. Several hours have passed since she disappeared, and she is likely to be injured."

"I'll be heading the southwest! Keep in touch if you have any news."

Archie calmly and quickly gave orders. Nancy nodded, then got out of the car and drove another car to the southwest.

The phone rang. It was Mrs. Dottie.

Archie frowned, and suddenly got a little impatient.

"Is there something wrong?"

"Mr. McCarthy, should we call the police?"

He froze for that moment.

"Haven't you called the police yet?"

"No, not yet!"

"Then call the police!"

"Huh? Okay."

Archie hung up the phone. He sat in the car and looked ahead. His eyes were cold and filled with hatred.

'Jessica, you better pray it's not you!'

'Otherwise, I will definitely regret it!'

When Natalia woke up, she found that she was still alive.

She felt lucky, but the next second, when she looked around, she couldn't help cursing in her heart.

'Damn it! What the hell is this place?'

She was surrounded by steep cliffs, and she was hanging in the air on a nearly broken branch, with the sea below.

Obviously, although she was not dead, she was almost dead.

Such a thin branch had almost broken because of her weight. As long as she moved a little bit, she would fall down.

The water splashed below, making her trousers wet, and she could even feel the salty smell in the sea.

Well.

Maybe she was hurt by her own doing.

If she had known that Jessica would do it, she should have asked Nancy to follow her closely.

It would be much better than now.

Natalia sighed, feeling a little frustrated for her blunder.

She looked around and didn't see any place that she could step on.

Fortunately, there was a large protruding sharp stone on the cliff. She reached out her hand and tried to hold it. It was very stable and could bear her weight.

So, she moved over carefully little by little. She grasped the stone tightly with both hands, and then left the branch and hung in the air.

She felt a little pain in her arm because she exerted too much strength.

She gritted her teeth. Fortunately, she had learned rock climbing abroad before, and her arms were still powerful.

But it was impossible to climb up from here, and it was not suitable for her to do because she did not have much strength now.

With this in mind, she took a deep breath, then looked around and found a large rock not far from her left hand.

Maybe she could have a rest on it for a while.

But the rock was too far away, she couldn't get there.

After thinking over, she grabbed the rock with one hand and quickly unbuckled her belt with the other hand.

It was lucky that she used a leather belt to match her clothes today.

The leather belt was not only of good quality and not easy to break, but also very long. After folding it, she could use it to entangle the rock.

Natalia took a deep breath, blinked her eyes, and tried her best to calm down.

Then she gripped her belt tightly and swung forward.

She felt that her two arms were almost torn apart, but she held back the pain and swung her body in mid-air.

Seeing the distance from the cliff, she found her strength was not enough.

The only thing she could do now was to swing herself up to the cliff with the strength of her waist.

As long as her feet fell to the ground, there was always a way for her to untie the rope and escape from here so that she could survive.

However, at this time, her palms really hurt.

She felt something torn in her palm, and the pain was unbearable.

Natalia's face was pale, and she looked up with difficulty.

The sky was blue. It was already the morning. The thin mist floated in the air.

There were two shocking blood marks in her hands, which were scratched when she exerted strength just now.

She was slightly stunned. At this time, she noticed that there was a buckle on the belt in the palm of her hand. The edge of the buckle was very sharp. Because it was punk style, the metal reflected silver light in the sun.

She gritted her teeth and tried to rip the buckle off.

But she couldn't make it.

She couldn't help complaining that the quality of these brands was so good. The buckle was obviously sewn on the belt, but it can't be removed at all.

She had no choice but sighed. She never thought that she would fall into such a dilemma one day.

Whether she should continue to find a way out herself or just wait here for help?

Her mobile phone, bracelet and all communication equipment were missing. Waiting for rescue was undoubtedly equal to resigning herself to her fate.

She still had a little strength now. Although self-help was very dangerous, as long as she was lucky enough and treated in time, she may not bleed to death.

But if she continued to wait here, not to mention whether her strength could support her to hold up to that time, no one could know she was tied under the cliff.

So, instead of leaving it to fate, it was better to give it a shot.

Since God did not let her die in that secret room, he would not let her die here either.

Natalia had never been a person who was willing to wait, let alone a person who was willing to await her doom.

Therefore, after thinking about it clearly, she made another effort to swing towards the other end of the cliff.??

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 235 He's Always There

Natalia felt her palms hurt so much. The metal cut through her skin and got into the flesh.

Natalia's face was a little pale, but she gritted her teeth and forced herself to ignore the pain.

After swinging more than 20 times, finally, her toes touched the rock on the cliff. She quickly seized the opportunity and stood still with her body close to the cliff.

It was extremely difficult, and ordinary people couldn't do it at all.

Fortunately, she used to practice grappling abroad for a long time. Although she was a little exhausted, she was still skilled and could barely finish it.

After stabilizing herself, she looked around. She found that although the cliff was steep, there were many uneven rocks and weeds on it. It shouldn't be difficult to climb up.

Now the only problem was what was up there?

She didn't want to climb up and be caught by Jessica's people after making so many efforts.

Wouldn't that be too unlucky?

Thinking about this, she saw her bleeding palm. The loss of blood made her body cold and her wrist numb.

But the good thing was that she was very tough and tenacious now, maybe it was because she was in danger. She didn't feel dizzy.

She gritted her teeth and casually tore a piece of cloth and reluctantly bandaged her hand.

But maybe the wound was too deep, her palms kept bleeding. Then, she had a feeling of dizziness and nausea.

She knew it was a sign of excessive blood loss. She took a deep breath and bit her tongue to keep herself awake.

Then, she struggled to climb up.

Whether or not there was someone from Jessica up there, she should give it a try.

If she was lucky enough, she could survive. If she was not lucky enough, she had nothing to regret.

Thinking in this way, she no longer hesitated and kept climbing up.

Originally, she couldn't climb up such a steep cliff when her palms were hurting like this.

But now she had no other way. If she didn't climb up, she could only stand here and die.

Fortunately, there were only a dozen meters.

If she held on, she could climb up.

Natalia struggled to climb up. The cold sweat soon broke out on her forehead, not because of the heat, but because of the pain.

It was really hurt!

But no matter how painful it was, she didn't dare to stop.

Because she knew that as soon as she stopped, she might not have the courage to continue.

She needed to be calm and sensible for that moment.

However, she was still getting dizzy.

The palm exuded blood again because Natalia struggled to climb up.

It didn't take long for the red blood to dye the cloth wrapped around her hand and flow down through the arm.

Almost for a moment, Natalia felt she almost passed out.

But she still bit her tongue, forcing herself to come to her senses.

Hold on!

Almost there! She would be up there soon!

She could survive!

She cheered herself up in her heart, and at that moment, a voice suddenly came from above.

"Mr. McCarthy! Here are some tire marks here, which should be left not long ago."

"Go around and look for Natalia!"

"Yes!"

Natalia felt hopeful and looked up in surprise.

It was Archie! Was he coming here?

His voice was so clear that it had long been engraved into her head, so she couldn't have heard it wrong.

"Archie! I'm here!"

She shouted out.

Above the cliff.

Archie was searching along the tire tracks when he suddenly heard the woman's voice.

He immediately froze. The sea breeze was so strong that he couldn't hear her voice clearly.

"Archie, I'm under the cliff! Come and save me!"

He was wild with joy and quickly rushed towards the cliff.

When seeing the thin figure under the cliff, his pupils suddenly contracted.

"Natalia!"

Natalia tried to look up at him. They were about seven or eight meters away from each other. However, because of the mist in the air, they couldn't even see each other's faces clearly.

Suddenly, she wanted to cry out.

She tried her best to climb up here and never thought of giving up. But at the moment when she saw Archie, she felt the tall wall built in her heart seemed to collapse in an instant, and her strong will was on the verge of a breakdown.

It seemed Archie knew Natalia was crying. He got anxious.

“Natalia, don’t be afraid. I’ll be right down.”

Seeing this, the police officer who followed him quickly said, “Mr. McCarthy, it’s too dangerous. Let us go down there.”

“Get out of my way!”

Hearing the voice from above, Natalia had choked with sobs and couldn’t say anything.

She could only nod her head.

Only then did Archie find that there was a rope buried in the grass beside the cliff. There was no big tree nearby. One end of the rope was nailed in the soil with an iron nail which was usually used to pitch a tent.

Natalia was small and thin, so that iron nail could bear it, but if he also held the rope, the iron nail couldn’t bear their weight.

He turned around and shouted, “I need two people over here!”

Someone had already heard the noise and ran over here.

Archie handed the rope to them and said in a deep voice, “Hold it! When I tell you to pull up later, you just pull!”

“Okay!”

The people he brought here were all bodyguards trained by their families since childhood. They were all very strong.

Archie climbed down along the rope.

He was very fast. He was like a nimble monkey on the steep stone wall. It didn’t take him a long time to get to her side.

When he saw Natalia’s embarrassed appearance in front of him, especially the arms that were still bleeding, he felt his heart ached. It seemed someone had grasped his heart tightly and made him out of breath.

Natalia had already felt discouraged. She almost hung on the cliff with the last trace of her willpower. After seeing him, her remaining will seemed to break down in an instant.

She only called out his name, and then she felt her leg was feeble. She was going to fall down.

Fortunately, Archie had already stretched out his arm to hold her waist and grab her into his arms.

Natalia couldn’t judge how he felt from his expression. But being held in his warm arms, she felt at ease and didn’t need to worry about anything.

“Can you hold on for another minute?” He asked in a deep voice.

Natalia nodded.

Archie quickly tied a knot with the rope and put it around her waist, then he held her with one hand and shouted, "Pull the rope!"

The rope began to move. He let her hang on himself and quickly climbed up the cliff.

Natalia had never thought that a person could climb so fast with only one hand and two feet and even there was a person in his arms.

She hugged his neck tightly. Her two legs hung around his narrow waist, and her body was like an octopus that had lost its viability.

The man's firm chin was right in front of her, and there was a faint cool smell from his body.

Chapter 236 What Should I Do

Natalia held him tightly and buried her head on his shoulder.

Feeling the attachment of the girl in his arms, Archie hugged her waist more tightly and said in a deep voice, "Don't be afraid. I'm here."

"Well."

Natalia nodded, with a twang in her voice. "I'm fine."

How could she be fine?

Her palm kept bleeding. Unlike Archie's hands that were full of calluses because he often used sports equipment, Natalia's hand was soft.

She had never done such intense exercise, so her tender hands were badly worn after she held the rope, swung up the cliff and climbed for a long time.

She wouldn't have been able to make it here if it hadn't been for the numbness in her hands.

Archie understood it so he felt more worried.

He was so distressed that he couldn't even blame her for her carelessness.

When they reached the ground, Natalia finally lost all her strength and fell into a coma. Archie untied the rope around her waist and asked in a deep voice, "Where is the ambulance?"

"It is parked by the roadside. Doctor Hugh is also there."

Hearing that, Archie strode toward the ambulance with Natalia in his arms.

Natalia had no idea about how long she had been in a coma.

When she was in a daze, a man with a strong British accent had her wounds dressed.

She was in a warm embrace.

The familiar fragrance and breath made her feel relieved. The pains seemed to be under her skin and deep in her soul.

"It hurt..."

She groaned.

Archie held her in his arms and gave a cold gaze at Doctor Hugh.

"It hurt. Didn't you get it?"

Doctor Hugh said helplessly, "I can't give her painkillers. She was injected with some cyanide. If she had painkillers, it would produce some unnecessary side effects in her. If you don't mind, I can use them."

"No need!"

Archie answered coldly, and held the girl tightly.

"Natalia, hold on. It won't hurt soon."

Natalia's lips went pale. Hearing his voice, she pursed her lips and stopped crying.

Archie reached out to wipe the sweat on her forehead. Looking at her weak and pale appearance, he felt heartbroken.

He wished he could stand the pains in her place.

Just then, the phone rang.

Once he picked up, Nancy's voice came, "Mr. McCarthy, Jessica did that. She knows that Mrs. McCarthy has escaped, so she has her men searching everywhere."

Archie sneered. "Searching? Why does she have the nerve to catch my wife?"

Nancy paused for a moment, "I know what to do."

When the phone was hung up, Doctor Hugh, who was sitting opposite, heard their dialogue and felt a little frightened.

"Archie, calm down. Though the people kidnapped your wife, fortunately, she is safe and sound now. You can just catch that woman and leave the innocent alone."

Archie looked at Doctor Hugh coldly, "Leave the innocent alone? Do you know who kidnapped my wife?"

Not knowing much about Natalia, Doctor Hugh subconsciously asked, "Who?"

"Her sister."

Doctor Hugh's blue eyes widened and his mouth opened in surprise.

"Do you believe that her family is innocent?"

Doctor Hugh was silent.

If they were sisters, their parents wouldn't know that they were on bad terms with each other?

That was impossible.

He sighed and said nothing more.

Natalia in Archie's arms fell asleep. Archie looked down at her, with softness and distress in his eyes.

Doctor Hugh was even more surprised when seeing that.

"Archie, is this the girl you met five years ago in California?"

Archie nodded.

"She looks so small. Is she underage? You like underage girls?"

Archie's face suddenly darkened.

He frowned, "Do I look old?"

"You're almost 30 and she looks less than 20."

Archie was lost for words.

He didn't bother to say anything else.

Before long, they arrived at the hospital.

Although Doctor Hugh had her wounds dressed and done some check-up, Archie was still worried.

For fear of any injuries on her that couldn't be discovered easily, Archie had a female doctor check on Natalia's body. Only after that did he feel relieved.

Natalia finally woke up at four in the afternoon.

When she woke up, the sunshine outside came in from windowsill. The air conditioning cooled the room.

She blinked for a few seconds before adjusting herself to the light and sat up with the help of her hands.

Unexpectedly, she felt a sharp pain in her hand.

It reminded her of the fact that she got injured in her palms. She raised her hands and saw them wrapped in gauze, like two bear paws.

Her face darkened slightly

The door was pushed open.

The tall man appeared at the door and his face turned gloomy as she sat up.

"Who allowed you to move?"

His tone was very bad, and he came over with a long face.

Natalia was stunned for a moment and felt a bit guilty.

"I, I didn't mean it. I just wanted to sit up. I feel a bit numb after lying down for so long."

She hastened to explain. Hearing that, Archie's expression softened.

But he didn't look very good.

Looking at her hands, he said in a cold voice, "Can't you ring the bell if you want to sit up? Why do you always try to show off your strength?"

Natalia was silent.

She stared at him with big dark eyes, a little wronged.

Archie called the doctor over to check Natalia's body.

Soon the doctor finished the physical examination. Natalia was fine, and the injection was cleared, but it would take her some time to recover from the injury in her hand.

Archie seemed relieved. After the doctor left, he sat down by the bed.

He pulled her hands that were dressed and asked, "Does it still hurt?"

Natalia felt a bit distressed, so she shook her head very unhappily.

Archie raised his eyebrows, noticed that she was in a mood, and a smile flickered in his eyes.

However, he pretended to put on a long face and said in a deep voice, "Do you feel wronged?"

Natalia said nothing.

But her grievances were shown on her face.

"You're wronged. Have you ever thought of me? She is a woman that I can get rid of easily. Why do you risk your life to fight with her? If anything should happen to you, what should I do?"

Chapter 237 Set A Trap

Natalia was stunned and looked up at him.

She saw his deep gaze on his serious face. His eyes were sunken. Obviously, he didn't sleep well last night. Moreover, he was worried about her the whole day, so he looked a little tired.

She felt softhearted and even a little guilty.

She hurriedly explained, "Sorry, I should have thought about it more carefully. Next time I won't be so rash!"

Archie cocked his brow. "Next time?"

Natalia was lost for words.

She reached out to pull Archie's sleeve, but failed since her hand was wrapped up. She could only rub against his arm.

"It won't happen again. Don't be angry."

"You promise?"

"I promise!"

"What if you break your promise?"

Natalia thought for a while and said seriously, "You can punish me at your will. I won't hold a grudge."

Archie's face softened. He reached out to touch her little nose.

"Next time, I'll keep you in chains, so you can only stay beside me!"

Natalia hurriedly nodded, "Good idea. You have the final say."

Knowing that he cared about her very much and didn't want her to get hurt, she was willing to agree to all his requests.

She didn't refuse to be bound up in fetters of love.

She was willing to be bound up with him for the rest of her life.

Her docile look pleased Archie. A smile was in his eyes. He asked, "Are you hungry?"

Hearing that, Natalia did feel hungry.

After all, she hadn't eaten anything since last night.

She hurriedly nodded.

Archie went out to give an order. A few minutes later, a meal was delivered.

She couldn't hold the spoon, so she let him feed her.

Considering she was weak, so Archie had his men buy some porridge and chicken soup.

He was very patient. He scooped the porridge and blew on it before he put it into her mouth.

Natalia leaned on the bedhead and was somewhat embarrassed, but she could only take it since she was injured in hands.

His gaze went deep as the porridge went into her small pink mouth.

"How was it? Delicious?"

Natalia nodded, "Not bad. You buy it in the restaurant?"

"Yes."

Archie knew that she would be hungry, so he had asked his men to buy some food there. It was kept warm, so that she could have something hot to eat when she woke up.

Natalia's eyes were bright, perhaps because of the joy of being a survivor, or the satisfaction after having the food.

She suddenly got close, kissed him on his cheeks, and said happily, "Archie, you're so nice."

Archie's eyes went deep and he took a deep breath.

"You just knew it?"

"No, I've known it long before."

A sly smile flickered in her bright eyes. Archie chuckled, suddenly pressed the back of her head and kissed her on the lips.

His lips were cool, carrying the breath that was unique to him. Natalia did not resist but enjoyed herself.

Archie was soft at the beginning. As Natalia was so beautiful and seductive, he could no longer control himself.

He didn't stop until someone coughed at the door.

Natalia finally came back to her senses, immediately opened her eyes wide, flushed and hurriedly pushed Archie away.

However, she let out a cry since the wounds in her palms were torn at.

Archie's eyes went deep.

He threw a cold gaze at the door.

Brian put on a grieved look.

He didn't mean to, as he didn't know they were kissing. Besides, it was Archie that instructed him to make a report as soon as he got the information.

But he didn't have the guts to argue for his own.

He could only say in an embarrassed manner. "Mr. McCarthy, we've found the kidnapper's car."

Natalia was stunned slightly.

Archie said, "What are you waiting for? Hand it over to the police."

Brian made a reply, was ready to turn but suddenly stopped by Natalia.

"Wait!"

She helped herself up and said, "Not yet."

Archie slightly frowned and looked at her, "You have other idea?"

"Yes." Natalia nodded, "I escaped myself. Even if we call the police, she could get away with it easily as long as she insists she did nothing wrong. Or, she could hire a scapegoat."

Archie snorted, "She can't get away with it."

Natalia pursed her lips.

"If you use power to get her into the prison, some people won't be convinced. By then, the McCarthy family may be involved. The public opinion may simply backfire."

Archie was silent.

At present, no family could be parallel to the McCarthy family.

However, the tide of public opinion was an invisible constraint for the McCarthy family.

No one wanted their family to be the topic of any gossips.

Natalia smiled, "So, I have a better way."

"What?"

She smiled.

"I'll let her tell what she has done to me!"

That afternoon, someone got the news that Natalia was kidnapped and missing, so he posted it on the Internet, causing a sensation.

It was not a rumor. Not long after, Star Entertainment released a statement that Natalia had been kidnapped.

It called on netizens not to make ungrounded speculations, or affect the police.

The Julio police retweeted the statement and called on everyone to provide any information they have. If the information was true, they would be rewarded.

It quickly caused a sensation. #NataliaKidnapped soon became a trending topic.

Vicente and Victoria were both worried when knowing that.

Victoria was so anxious that she called Archie. Archie answered the phone and told Victoria that Natalia was fine and hung up.

Victoria was confused. After thinking about it for a while, she got it.

Natalia must have set a trap for Jessica.

Knowing that Natalia was fine, Victoria felt relieved. Since Natalia was going to entrap Jessica, she just needed to sit back and watch the show.

Archie asked the police to be cooperative. When Natalia was rescued, the police were there, so he couldn't hide it from the police.

Therefore, he would cooperate with the police to catch whoever was behind this kidnapping.????????????????

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 238 Exposed Recording

Natalia did not know how Archie persuaded the police not to release the news that she had been rescued.

Since they had made a deal, she had to carry out her plan.

So, that night, when no doctor or nurse was in the ward, Natalia let Nancy help her put on a simple disguise, sneaked out of the hospital and went back to McCarthy Mansion.

Archie raised no objection, since Natalia was not severely injured and there were excellent doctors at home.

When they got home, Archie let most of the servants have a week off. Only Mrs. Dottie and a kitchen maid were left there.

Mrs. Dottie did not know their plan. However, she was not a talkative person after all, so she didn't ask further.

There was a rumor that Natalia was kidnapped.

Everyone made speculations about who could have possibly kidnapped her and why.

Some said that she offended some people at work, while some said that it was done by someone jealous of Natalia.

Some said her ex-boyfriend took revenge on her.

After all, though not unsurprisingly, all kinds of topics about Natalia's relationship had been trending for a few months.

Many people were sympathetic to her.

She just made a debut, but immediately got herself kidnapped.

Wouldn't it be a pity if something happened to her?

Though there were many speculations. No one thought it was done by Jessica.

It was because she had just been remembered by everyone for her gentleness and innocence. Though so many scandals about her broke out recently, most people only thought that she may not be as gentle and simple as before. However, it was hard for them to believe that she kidnapped Natalia.

On the evening of the second day, a celebrity posted a sound-only video.

The recording last nearly ten minutes. Although the voice was processed, people could tell that it was a girl's voice.

The girl detailed that she was ordered by Jessica to frame Natalia.

She not only photographed Natalia, but drugged Natalia and Vicente. She intended to slander them having an affair.

The girl also talked about some things that happened at the filming site.

Jessica asked her to bribe the staff so Natalia could only get the worst meal.

The staff only prepared cold drinks when Natalia was having a period. If Natalia asked for hot drinks, the staff could answer the electricity was off and there would be no hot water for a while.

Though they were some trifles, people felt them disgusting.

As soon as this recording came out, it shocked the whole entertainment circle.

Netizens did not expect that Jessica who seemed gentle, polite and kind would have done so many terrible things.

Natalia once tried to quash rumors by explaining that she was drugged. Few people believed her.

Now, it became more credible.

However, some questioned the authenticity of the recording.

After all, everyone could make a recording to slander whoever they disliked.

More and more people raised questions. Jessica's fans even asked the owner of the voice in the recording to come out.

In the afternoon, a girl called Rosa admitted that voice was hers.

Rosa was Jessica's assistant and had worked for Jessica for several years. Jessica's fans knew that.

Every time her fans attended a meet-and-greet or picked Jessica up at the airport, her fans could see Rosa beside Jessica.

So, many people knew her.

They were very surprised when Rosa stood out.

Natalia, who had been staying at home for two days, was also very surprised.

At that time, Natalia just wanted to get some evidence from Rosa.

Natalia knew that Rosa was loyal to Jessica because Jessica promised to pay for her mother's operation.

Therefore, Natalia gave Rosa money for the evidence.

After that, they no longer contacted each other.

In order not to get Rosa involved, Natalia even had Rosa's voice processed.

Natalia was afraid that Rosa's voice would be recognized, and her life would be disturbed once the recording was published.

However, Rosa stood out to confess.

Natalia went to watch the video of Rosa being interviewed.

Rosa had a baby face. Though she was not very beautiful, she looked pretty.

She looked into the camera and said earnestly, "I chose to listen to Jessica and made a lot of mistakes because of my mother's illness. I apologize to Natalia and the netizens who were deceived."

"I am here because Jessica broke her promise to pay for my mother's operation. Natalia, who was hurt by me, took out the money and saved my mother's life."

"A lot of people may question me, and I may be criminally liable, but I won't regret it."

"My mother told me that we still had to hold up to our integrity though we are poor. So I just have to make up for what I have done. I don't know if Jessica kidnapped Natalia. At least I can plead guilty for what I've done."

In the video, the girl's eyes were firm and her face serious. She didn't look as coward as before.

Natalia leaned on the sofa and sighed helplessly.

Archie just brought up a plate of fruit, saw her sigh, walked over, and forked a piece of Hami melon into her mouth.

"Why do you sigh?"

Natalia adjusted the screen, opened the video and showed him.

Archie finished watching, silent for a while.

He said, "She's young, but has the backbone."

Natalia nodded and sighed. "Unfortunately, she underestimated the public opinion and power."

Jessica was nothing for Archie.

However, Jessica was very powerful for Rosa.

She could change Rosa's future and life if she should wish so.

Sometimes life was unfair. The world was a jungle. The only law was the law of tooth and claw.?????

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 239 Money Eyes

Archie also knew that and said in a deep voice, "Since she dares to stand out, she should know the consequences. She has done so many bad things to you before, but she pleads her guilty, now she can start with a clean slate."

Natalia was distressed, but she didn't argue because Archie was right.

The video of Rosa went viral. Everyone knew it soon.

Jessica had watched the video. She was surprised and angry!

Rosa was indeed caught by Natalia when she was missing.

When many people raised questions, Natalia had no evidence to prove her innocence. Therefore, Jessica had thought that Rosa's missing had nothing to do with Natalia.

Now Jessica understood that Natalia just waited for an opportunity to cut her to the quick.

Jessica flustered. That recording had caused a great impact on her.

Now her former assistant had come out to admit it. Without doubt, everyone would choose to believe Natalia.

Damn it! What a bitch!

Jessica was anxious. She called Julia to think up a way.

Julia was at a loss for what to do. She had never met an artist like Jessica who messed things up just so often.

She even lost the bait along with the fish.

This time, she not only failed to scheme against Natalia, but also destroy her own reputation.

Julia was lost for words.

Seeing Jessica anxious like an ant on a hot pot, Julia thought for a while and said, "You cannot get away with it anyway. Since Natalia chose to post Rosa's recording now, she may have other evidence."

"If you denied it, the situation would be worse once she presented other evidence. So, you might as well admit it."

"After all, you have a lot of fans. You can argue for yourself. There were some conflicts between you and Natalia. You were haunted by ghosts and made such mistakes."

"Then, you apologize to Natalia on the Internet. At least, the situation won't become worse if you do so. It's the best way."

Jessica's eyes widened. She looked at Julia in disbelief.

"Julia, I called you here to think of a way instead of asking me to make an apology.

"If I want to apologize, why will I call you here? I can talk to the media myself."

Julia frowned.

"What do you want to do?"

"Have the news quashed. Delete those videos and recordings!"

As Jessica went crazy, Julia sighed.

"The videos and recordings have been viral. There's no point in deleting them."

"Everyone has known that. Netizens are not that stupid. If such a trending topic just disappeared suddenly, everyone would know it's you."

"By then, they would only think that you made a fool of the audience, and everyone would think you are just being stubborn. Do you really want that?"

When Julia said that calmly, Jessica felt herself like a drowning woman with not even a straw to clutch at.

"Julia, I can't apologize that easily. If so, it would be more difficult for me to stage a comeback."

"My grandma, parents and Shawn don't want me to have such an ending. Century Entertainment invested so much money. If it was in vain, he wouldn't let go of me."

Julia looked at her and frowned.

"But..."

"To look for Natalia!"

Jessica suddenly thought of something, widened her pupils, grabbed Julia by her hand and said hurriedly, "Go to her. Ask her about what she wants. As long as she comes out to clarify that these are false, I can give whatever she wants. Go to her!"

Julia was in a dilemma.

"Will it work? After all, this is..."

"It will!" Jessica sneered, "You don't know that woman. She loves money. She could stand Shawn's betrayal and admit it was all her fault just to get some shares."

"I believe that she'll do anything for the money."

Julia was a little puzzled.

"Rumor has it that she has been kidnapped. Where shall I look for her?"

"She has been rescued!"

Jessica realized that she shouldn't have put it bluntly. Her expression changed slightly as she swallowed her tongue back.

Julia had heard that and looked at Jessica in disbelief.

"How do you know she has been saved? Are you involved...?"

"No! Don't be ridiculous!"

Jessica hurriedly denied, but her eyelids flickered, indicating she was guilty.

Julia almost fell apart.

"Are you crazy? How can you do such a thing? If it's exposed, it hurts your reputation, and you might end up in jail. Do you have any idea what that would mean?"

Jessica snorted, with a disdainful look.

"I didn't kill her, did I? She was so fortunate that she escaped herself. Even if she accused me, she had no evidence to prove it was me."

Something flashed across Julia's mind. She hurriedly asked, "Have you destroyed all the evidence?"

Jessica nodded.

"Don't worry! I'm not that stupid enough to leave the evidence. As soon as she left, I destroyed all the evidence. Even if she comes back, she could get nothing to prove that I kidnapped her."

Hearing that, Julia felt relieved, but Jessica's bold move frightened her.

"You'd better tell Shawn about that. Though you destroyed all the evidence. Something unexpected may happen, you can handle it together if you tell him in advance."

Jessica's face froze and she looked uneasy.

"No need. I can handle it myself. Don't bother to tell him."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes." Jessica was impatient, "Let's not talk about it. You better think of a way to stop people talking." ???????

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 240 Flee Away

Julia nodded, "Alright, I'll get down to this thing first. Be careful and don't make any other trouble. To stay away from troubles, you'd better stay at home. Wait for good news."

Jessica heaved a sigh of relief after hearing that.

She nodded, "I see. Thank you, Julia."

After Julia left, Shawn called Jessica.

Jessica looked at the name on the screen with a cold gaze.

They'd broken up. It would be good that he didn't take her as an enemy. How could he love her as before?

However, looking at the name, she couldn't help but feel sorrow and pain as if some part of her heart had been scooped out brutally.

She took a deep breath and answered the phone.

Shawn's voice was gloomy.

"Did you do that?"

Jessica reluctantly tugged at her lips and put on a cold smile. "Don't you know that long ago? I got the drugs from your man. Don't tell me he gave me the drugs without your consent."

Shawn said in cold voice, "You bribed my assistants, didn't you? I turned a blind eye to it and didn't want to dispute with you. Now you pass the buck to me?"

Jessica paused for a moment.

She chuckled.

"You're questioning me now?"

"Can't I? Century Entertainment has invested so much in you. We let you play the role in this series. You're about to sign the endorsement contract, but you make such a disturbance. How do you explain to the partner?"

Jessica paused.

Her eyelids drooped. Then, a cold smile touched her lips.

"I am thinking a way to solve it. Why are you so anxious? You're anxious because you feel sorry for your ex-girlfriend whom you've abandoned and now love so much?"

"Jessica!"

"Don't call me so angrily. It will make me feel that my guess is true."

She put on a long face. There was peace and coldness in her eyes.

Their relationship had been completely broken.

It was like a mirror broken into pieces that could never be pieced together.

After that, Jessica hung up the phone calmly, took a deep breath and went out for a meal.

Natalia learned that Julia wanted to see her.

Julia did not dare to come to McCarthy Mansion for Natalia, though Julia knew Natalia would be there now that Natalia was saved.

McCarthy Mansion was not a place that anyone could just walk in.

She was likely to be refused to enter, so Julia went to Star Entertainment, and told Elsa to call Natalia and asked Natalia out.

Elsa didn't know Natalia had been back.

She felt displeased after hearing Julia's request. After all, rumor had it that Jessica had Natalia kidnapped.

Though Elsa felt it impossible, she disliked Julia very much.

"Everyone knows my boss has been kidnapped, but you look for her now. Isn't that ridiculous? I do want to know where she is. If I do know, do I have to be so anxious?"

Julia was somewhat embarrassed.

Thinking of her task, Julia could only swallow her pride.

So, she asked earnestly, "Please call her, or you give me her number."

Elsa sneered.

"Why should I give it to you?"

Julia looked at Elsa seriously.

"Don't you want to know where your boss is?"

Elsa paused.

She looked at Julia suspiciously and felt something wrong with the whole thing.

The police announced that Natalia was missing and hadn't been found yet. Why was Julia sure that she could get through to Natalia?

Since Elsa was concerned about Natalia, she made the phone call finally.

Unexpectedly, the call had been put through.

Elsa was happy. Then, a cold voice came from the other side.

"What's up?"

It was a male's voice.

Elsa immediately realized who that male was.

Her mouth widened. She realized Julia stood outside, so she held back screams.

"Nothing, Is Natalia alright?"

Archie sat on the sofa and looked at Natalia, who was using facial mask.

Natalia gestured at him, and he said, "She's fine. Don't tell anyone."

Elsa nodded, "I see."

Then, the call was cut off

She stared at her phone for several seconds before she came to senses.

She was a bit confused, but ecstasy had filled her heart.

She took a deep breath and stood for a few seconds before she was able to calm down. She went out with an indifferent look.

Julia stood there, saw Elsa coming out and hurried to her.

"Well? Miss Elsa, is Natalia willing to see me?"

Elsa frowned, and looked at her suspiciously, "What makes you think that my boss has come back?"

Julia was stunned.

She forced a smile, "I heard that from somebody, so I came to ask you."

Elsa sneered.

"Really? Which bastard is talking nonsense? I called her but no one answered the phone. Then I called her home, but her family told me that Natalia is still missing."

"I don't know who you had heard this nonsense from. I think that guy must know something. Why don't you tell me who he is? I ask him myself."

Julia's face changed and she felt a little flustered.

She forced a smile, "I just heard others talking gossip. If you can't get through to her, just forget it. I'll come over another day."

Then, Julia hurried to leave.

Seeing Julia's back, Elsa heaved a sigh of relief.

Natalia took her mobile phone and had turned it off, so as to avoid being got through.

Just now it occurred to her that an important document was in her phone, so she asked Archie to turn on the phone for her to get the document out.