

Chapter 2391: secretly auditioning

Of course, Yan Huan would also become her mother's pride. In the future, she would be even better and make her mother even better.

Early the next morning, Ye Rong woke up. In the morning, she casually ate some food and fed her daughter some water. Then, she sent her to the kindergarten. In the morning, the kindergarten ate breakfast together, therefore, she also sent her daughter there early.

Of course, it was also just in time for Ye Rong.

After sending her daughter off, Ye Rong could go to work. There was still about half an hour before she went to work. She did not need to take a bus and could walk to the company. Of course, she could also save on the fare of one yuan, don't underestimate this one yuan. If she lost one Yuan a day, wouldn't that be thirty Yuan a month? Thirty Yuan would be enough to buy a lot of eggs.

It would be enough for her daughter to eat for a period of time.

Yan Huan, who was in kindergarten, naturally ate until her stomach was full.

She spent her time in kindergarten like this.

She ate, played, studied, watched TV for a while, then slept, then ate. Finally, her mother picked her up and brought her home.

When she was watching TV today, she heard a piece of news. There was a movie that now publicly selected child stars. It was about three to five-year-old girls.

Yan Huan remembered this incident and the location happened to be nearby.

This was a free opportunity for her. It would be foolish not to.

When Ye Rong left the ye family, she happened to come to this place. Although this was also Hai City, it was quite far from the Ye family and the Lu family. It was almost a small and unknown place, however, it still belonged to a corner of Hai City. However, it was already in the outer regions. Moreover, she had used Yan Nuo's identity to live here for so many years, but no one had been able to find her.

It was likely that neither the ye family nor the Lu family could have imagined that she would hide in such a small place and breathe the same air as them. However, they had never seen each other even until death.

When it was the weekend, Ye Rong brought her daughter out to the streets to buy clothes for her. Because Yan Huan had never wronged her small belly in kindergarten, she grew much faster now. The clothes from last year.., could no longer be worn.

And Yan Huan deliberately brought ye Rong to the place where the child star auditions were held.

"Mommy, there are many children there. I want to go take a look."

Yan Huan pointed to the front and said. This place was where she had lived before. Now that she had grown up in the first place, she had found some sense of it, so she was also familiar with it. Of course, she had actually passed by the place a few times before and after the audition, she also knew where the audition place was. Although it was still a little off from her memory, the general direction was not that far off.

“Okay.”

Ye Rong held her daughter’s little hand tightly, afraid that she would lose her daughter. She was also curious as to why so many parents would bring their children over, and why every child would be dressed fashionably and beautifully. There were even children who put on makeup for their children.

What kind of makeup would such a young child put on?

Ye Rong lowered her head and saw that her daughter was very fair and beautiful. No matter how much makeup those children put on, no matter how well they dressed, they all felt that they lacked some of the unique vitality of a child, they also had some maturity and arrogance that they shouldn’t have.

Her Little Huanhuan was still the best. This was the character that a child should have.

In reality, she was really thinking too much. Yan Huan was the child that was the most unlike a child in this world. Her mature thoughts made people feel afraid.

Ye Rong actually didn’t want to go in, but Yan Huan kept pulling her along, so she could only bring her daughter in. After entering, the person outside gave her a number and she placed it in front of her eyes, was she still going to call a number?

However, after walking inside, she actually felt a little regretful. She wanted to go out, but there were too many people coming in from behind. She had no way to squeeze out, so she could only find a place to sit first.

She carried Yan Huan up and let him sit on her lap. Then, she took the number in her hand, but it was still used for something.

“Mommy, is it possible to collect things?”

Yan Huan asked curiously. In fact, in her heart, she really had a headache over this kind of acting cute. Really, when would she be able to grow up? If this continued, she really felt like she wanted to die.

It was possible. wasn’t it going to be June 1 soon.

Ye Rong Thought for a moment. It was possible that these people were doing some kind of activity, and they were also collecting gifts. Ye Rong pasted this number onto her daughter’s clothes. Everyone did this, and this number.., she tore off the layer on the back, some of which had self-adhesive.

She carefully pasted it on and then tore it off. Fortunately, it could be torn off. Otherwise, would it be possible to destroy a piece of clothing?

On the other hand, Yan Huan’s current number was number 52. The person inside had already called the number, and it was already number 25, so they still had to wait for a while longer.

Ye Rong took out a cup of water from her bag and fed her daughter some. Even though she had been sitting there for a long time, she felt that her stomach was hungry. They had eaten something this morning, but they had not eaten anything up until now, she had originally said that she would buy a small cake for her daughter to eat, but in the end, she did not buy the cake and instead walked over here.

She turned around and looked at her surroundings. She saw that these people had probably known about it long ago, so they were all prepared. They carried large and small bags, some carrying bread, some carrying biscuits, and all sorts of things. Only they.., it seemed like they did not bring anything.

“Huanhuan, are you hungry?” Ye Rong hugged her daughter tightly and felt a little sorry for her daughter. Otherwise, they would not wait any longer. No matter what prizes they had, they would not want them, in this world, nothing was more important than her daughter’s stomach.

Mommy, I’m not hungry.

Yan Huan shook her head. She clutched tightly onto ye Rong’s sleeve. In reality, how could she not be hungry? This was also her failure. Perhaps because she had not left the house for a long time, there was still some deviation in her thinking, until now, she had to starve.

However, no matter how hungry she was, she had to endure it. She did not know when such an opportunity would come again. If she followed the trajectory of her previous life, if she missed this opportunity, she might become famous again, it would be after the age of twenty again.

However, she could not wait that long. She had to earn money. She could not let ye Rong be so tired. Otherwise, it might be the same as her previous life. At that time, she would become sick from overwork. She would not even be able to live past the age of forty.

Ye Rong placed her chin on her daughter’s head. She did not know anyone here, so she could not ask for food for others. In fact, she wanted to ask, but these people were not that good either, every time she was about to speak, they seemed to feel something and would stay away from her.

Chapter 2392: the most beautiful child

Ye Rong did not know what was going on. Could it be that the favor had already faded to such an extent.

But Yan Huan knew that because they were all competitors now, one less competitor meant one less competitor. who asked her to look like her mother? Although no other child dressed like a princess.., but it was precisely because she was beautiful that in these people’s hearts, she was their child’s biggest competitor.

Everyone was selfish, especially when it came to their own children.

The number at the front was decreasing bit by bit. It was almost their turn.

Ye Rong sat up straight and glanced at the number pasted on Yan Huan’s little skirt. She really hoped that it would be their turn soon so that they could go out to eat earlier.

“Huanhuan, just bear with it a little longer. It’s going to be our turn soon. When we go out, mommy will buy you a big cake, okay?”

“Okay,” Yan Huan agreed. Her eyes were fixed on the door. It was already number 40. It was really going to be their turn soon. Was she nervous?

She was actually still a little nervous. After all, she had not acted for decades. She did not know if she could still perform well. She also did not know what kind of role this would allow her to play.

She was completely uncertain, so she did not know if she could perform well. After all, such an opportunity was too precious. If she did not get it this time, she really did not know.., how could she find another opportunity to help her mother earn money.

She was only three and a half years old now. When she could earn money, she would probably be eighteen again.

She could wait, just like in her previous life. It would still be the same fate, repeating everything from her previous life. But what was the use of that? She did not want any success. Her success would be over, and she would no longer have a mother.

Right now, she only wanted her mother to be able to live on, to live for a very, very long time.

The numbers at the front were still lined up one after another.

“Number fifty-two.”

The person on the other side had already called out Yan Huan’s number.

Ye Rong suddenly shuddered and put her daughter down. She did not know why, but she suddenly felt a little nervous. However, she did not know why she was nervous. This was really strange.

It was just to get something. How could it be so complicated.

She adjusted Yan Huan’s dress and combed her hair with her fingers before pulling her little hand over.

The staff standing outside was stunned when they saw ye Rong and Yan Huan.

What a beautiful mother and daughter pair.

Especially..

She lowered her head and looked at the beautiful and clean little girl. She was different from the other children. The other children had dressed up on purpose and were dressed in colorful clothes, but this child was different, she was very clean, and her eyes were very clear. She had big eyes, a small mouth, a very beautiful little face, and a sharp little chin. This child had a standard beautiful face.

Of course, it was impossible for her to be crippled, because the child’s mother was there. The mother was so beautiful and had a temperament. Just like a young lady from an ancient family, although her clothes were very ordinary and simple, the natural warmth on her body could not be ignored.

No matter how this child was, it was impossible for her to grow uglier and uglier. At the very least, she would grow into her mother’s face.

“Alright, you can follow Auntie in.”

The staff member placed his hand in front of Yan Huan. Yan Huan extended his small hand, but ye Rong was extremely nervous, as if she was afraid that someone would snatch her daughter away.

“Don’t worry, I’ll send your daughter out in a while. There are already so many children here, which one do you think is missing?”

The staff member explained with a smile. Of course, Ye Rong’s reaction was not the first. Children nowadays were all treasures. Without their parents present, indeed, not many parents would be at ease.

“Mommy, I’ll be out in a while.”

Yan Huan comforted ye Rong and followed the staff member into the room. Ye Rong stood at the door, her palms covered in cold sweat. Of course, her heart was also filled with anxiety.

And even now, she actually did not know what exactly was going on inside?

The staff member brought Yan Huan in.

Yan Huan knew very well how cute Yan Huan was. She couldn’t appreciate how much everyone loved her when she was young from her own point of view.

However, if she treated herself as Xun Xun and Lu Xiaosi, then there was nothing wrong with that. No matter what a child did, he or she would still be cute. As long as he or she had a soft and chubby face.., she believed that no one would dislike such a child.

This child was very beautiful. The scriptwriter and director, who were sitting on it, could not help but look at each other. They also said the same thing at the same time.

They had already been here for two days and had seen no less than a few hundred children, ranging from three to five or six years old. In fact, the ones they had chosen were all a little tired from their aesthetic standards. However, the one in front of them still made their eyes light up.

Because it was indeed because she was too beautiful. They just didn’t know how her performance was?

Yan Huan released the hands of the staff member. She also had a pair of big black and white eyes, as if she didn’t have the slightest bit of fear or stage fright. She bowed to the person sitting opposite her, and she did it in a decent manner.

“Good afternoon, uncles.”

She politely greeted them. She had always been very well-behaved. For some reason, the hearts of the other people were melted by her in an instant.

“Hello, Hello.”The director smiled widely. His smile was pretty, but it seemed to be too much, so it was a little stiff. There was no other way. He was just a little kid. If he was scared.., he would cry like his life depended on it.

It was fine if he cried now, but what if he cried for him during filming?

Yan Huan was surprised. This director was actually director Liu Liang, director Liu. However, director Liu was still very young at this time. He still looked like a middle-aged beautiful uncle. She had taken over director Liu's role back then., however, she was just a stand-in for someone else. At that time, director Liu was already considered to be a great existence in the entire entertainment industry. However, he was getting older and older, so he didn't appear much anymore, however, this director Liu had shot quite a number of classics during the period when the domestic film industry was at its most impoverished. If it was calculated according to this period of time...

Could it be that he was going to shoot that?

Without giving her time to think, a male staff member came up and squatted down in front of Yan Huan.

"Director, this child is really good-looking. He is the most beautiful of all the children."The man could not help but pinch Yan Huan's chubby little face. Yan Huan's little face was really quite chubby now, she was also like a white dough. She was not picky about her food. No matter how one looked at her, she was very cute.

Chapter 2393: was about to be filmed

"Come, little friend, can you play a game with your uncle?"

This man seemed to be very experienced. He also knew how to get along with the children and how to talk to them.

Yan Huan nodded. This meant that he had agreed.

Only then did the man pat Yan Huan's little head. "Little friend, have you seen the television?"

Yan Huan nodded again. "Yes."

"Then when you see the children's mothers on the television leaving, do you think the children will cry?"

Yan Huan opened his pair of Bright Eyes. In any case, he just kept nodding.

"Then how about this..."the man pointed at himself. "We are also here to play this game. In a while, you will treat your uncle as your mother. We are here to play the game where the mother leaves and the baby cries, Alright?"

Yan Huan did not speak for a long time.

The man blinked his eyes. What was going on? was he not speaking clearly enough, or did the child not hear clearly enough.

"Baby, What's wrong? Why aren't you speaking?"

Yan Huan looked at the man in front of him for a long time before he finally opened his small mouth and said.

"Uncle, my mother's hair isn't as short as yours."

The man was speechless

“Uncle, my mother isn’t as ugly as you?”

The man was speechless

The people below were already laughing their heads off. This was probably the only child among so many children who could say such words. However, this was a child, the most pure and innocent, it was also something that people couldn’t help but like.

“Alright, then let’s start playing the game.”

The man stood up and couldn’t help but shake his head and smile bitterly. These children nowadays had all grown up. They weren’t the same as the stupid ones.

“Then when Mommy leaves in the future, you’ll only have one person left. What are you going to do?”

The man carefully waited for Yan Huan’s reaction. At this time, children were all sensitive. He had seen many of them, and there were also many children who sat on the ground and cried loudly. He just didn’t know what would happen to this child?

But why did she not move for a long time? wasn’t she a little silly.

Just when the man was still nervous and Yan Huan did not show any expression or action, Yan Huan ran over and pulled the man’s sleeve.

Mommy, where are you going?

She raised her small face and blinked her eyes. Her small face was beautiful, and her big eyes were clear. She almost could not bear to be hurt.

The Man’s brain suddenly short-circuited... he had forgotten the words.

“Mom, do you not want me anymore?” She lowered her eyes, and her tears flowed freely. She was born to act, not to mention that she had two lifetimes of experience, not to mention.., she was a child who could cry just like that.

She raised her face and smiled, but her tears fell one by one.

“Mom, I will be good. I will definitely be very good. I will listen to Mom in a while. Mom Won’t leave, okay...”

There were many types of crying. Crying out loud was one type, and silent crying was another. However, sometimes, this kind of repressed crying was even more shocking. It was also unbearable to cry while smiling, it was nothing more than heartbreaking.

When the man was about to speak, Yan Huan’s small face was calm.

“Uncle, are you done with the game?”

She asked in a childish voice. This was already out of the play. In almost an instant, it was so clean and neat, just now, it was clearly as if she was facing her own mother, but now, she was a stranger.

“This child?” The director stood up, walked forward, and squatted in front of Yan Huan

“Why don’t you play a game with Grandpa?”

“Okay,” Yan Huan nodded in agreement. His eyelashes were still wet, and his little face was already very pale. His ball-like appearance was indeed very likable.

“Then tell Grandpa, What’s Your Name?”

The director asked Yan Huan with a smile. He had been a director all his life. He could tell at a glance whether an actor could enter and exit a scene. Of course, he had also seen Yan Huan before, a child who could enter and exit a scene in an instant

“My Name Is Yan Huan. I’m three and a half years old this year,” Yan Huan replied. “I’m a child from Xiao Mei’s kindergarten class.” Her voice was very clear. It was also filled with the baby voice of a child and the soft and cuddly voice of a little girl, no matter how one looked at it, it sounded very pleasant.

The director stretched out his finger and could not help but touch Yan Huan’s small face.

“Smile for Grandpa.”

Yan Huan’s mouth instantly flattened and tears fell down.

“Angry.”

Yan Huan pretended to be angry again.

“I saw the food I like.”

Yan Huan’s eyes curved in delight, as if there was really some delicious food in front of him.

“Okay, you’re it.”

The director decided in an instant. He believed in Yan Huan’s performance and his own judgment. Just the appearance of this child was enough to move his heart. Moreover, this child indeed had some of the characteristics of an actress, when she first went on stage, she was different from the other children. The other children were all worried, afraid, and curious.

Only she stood quietly by herself, not afraid at all. She was also very obedient. This kind of child was very much in line with his expectations of that character.

The most important thing was that she was young. In the movie he was filming, he indeed needed a three-year-old child. The younger the better. Actually, he wanted a two-year-old child, but a two-year-old child was too young, it was simply impossible to communicate with him.

It was the staff member who brought Yan Huan in again. She held Yan Huan’s hand and also wanted to return Yan Huan to his mother first.

When the staff member brought Yan Huan Out, Ye Rong, who was waiting anxiously at the side, ran over. However, when she saw her daughter's appearance, she was stunned and her eyes were a little red.

Why was her Huanhuan crying? Her daughter had always been very obedient and did not cry very often. Did someone beat her or scare her?

"Ah, you don't have to worry," the staff member hurriedly explained. He was afraid that Ye Rong would think too much.

"We are looking for small actors. Just now, we just played a little game with a child."

"Looking for actors?" Ye Rong was stunned. What was going on? Didn't they say that they were waiting in line to get something? How did they become looking for actors?

After waiting for a while, she was still in cloud dream, but she had already been stopped by a few people.

Of course, everyone knew where Yan Huan's pretty little face came from. She looked just like her mother. Even her mother was so pretty, not to mention her child.

"You're going to shoot a movie, My Daughter?"

Ye Rong still could not quite believe it. What was going on? Didn't they just go shopping? In the end, out of nowhere, her Huanhuan was going to shoot a movie.

"Yes." The director personally received ye Rong, "We're going to pick a three-year-old actress. We've already picked for a few days. It's a public audition, so many children are here to audition. However, only your child has caught my eye. I'm not going to pick anything else."

Chapter 2394: she wanted to film

"Also, let's talk about the general outline of this movie first."

The director took out the script and spoke to Ye Rong. The movie he wanted to film this time was a rare xianxia drama in the country. Yan Huan played the child of the female lead in it and had quite a number of scenes. Of course, there wasn't much danger.

This time, they paid Yan Huan quite a lot, directly giving him 20,000 yuan.

Moreover, this film was one aspect. The most important thing was its fame. As long as the film could become popular, Yan Huan would have one foot in the industry. In the future, when it came to advertisements and endorsements, he would also receive leniency, moreover, there was a general lack of celebrities in their country. It was really very difficult to nurture one. Other than having absolute acting skills and looks, this opportunity was also very important, and now, this opportunity was placed in front of Yan Huan. This was the opportunity to become a celebrity.

Ye Rong hugged her daughter. She originally wanted to reject it outright, but Yan Huan pulled her sleeve tightly. She lowered her head and met her daughter's big black and white eyes.

"Can we consider it?"

Ye Rong still did not agree. Being an actress? She did not want her daughter to do this. She only wanted her daughter to live a peaceful and simple life.

"This..."the director was indeed a little anxious. He wanted to settle things as soon as possible. After all, it was really not easy to find such a suitable little actress, and they really did not have time to waste on this, moreover, even if they had the time, they might not be able to find another one.

This was really the only one. There was no other family.

Ye Rong carried her daughter back. Her heart was really very complicated right now. She did not know what had happened. She had clearly brought her daughter out to play, but in the end, her daughter was going to shoot a movie. To be honest..., her heart could not accept it at all.

"Huanhuan, Mommy will buy you a cake to eat?"Ye Rong held her daughter's small hand. This was what she had agreed to with her daughter, and children could not be cheated. Since they had made a promise in the beginning, they had to do it.

She brought her daughter to a cake shop and bought a small piece of cake. She placed it in front of her daughter and ate it. She gave her daughter a small fork. A small piece was enough to fill her small stomach.

"Thank you, Mommy."Yan Huan took the fork and scooped up the largest piece of butter on it. She then placed it in front of Yan Huan. "Mommy will eat it."

"Baby will eat it. Mommy won't eat it if she doesn't eat it."

Ye Rong coaxed her daughter. It didn't matter if she really ate it or not. As long as her daughter could eat her fill, it was fine.

Only then did Yan Huan put the butter in her little mouth. Then, she stretched out her little hand and pulled on Ye Rong's sleeve.

"Mommy, Huanhuan wants to be a small actress."

"Mm, why?"Ye Rong rubbed her daughter's little head. "Do you want to be a small celebrity?"

"No."Yan Huan shook her head, "Huanhuan wants to earn money for her mother to spend so that she doesn't have to work so hard. But Huanhuan is too young. I don't know when she will be able to earn money. Those uncles said that as long as Huanhuan becomes a small child star, then Huanhuan will be able to earn money to buy delicious food for her mother." >

She tugged at Ye Rong's sleeve again. Her mother wanted Huanhuan to go, alright? Huanhuan had already grown up.

She was very persistent. Her pair of Big Black and white eyes were also very determined.

Ye Rong had always known that her daughter was a schemer. She had been different from other children since she was young. It was also possible that because she was a mother, she had brought her to work since she was young, therefore, she had matured a little earlier than most children and was more sensible. Moreover, she had her own ideas. Ye Rong respected her daughter very much. Her Huanhuan was just like a young adult. One should not look at her young age, however, she knew what she was doing?

However, when Ye Rong heard her daughter's childish words, her nose became sour and her eyes became hot. This was because her daughter did not want to be a small actress because of other reasons. She wanted to be her mother, she just wanted to earn money for her to spend.

And now, Ye Rong was really glad that she had resolutely left the Ye family back then. Otherwise, how could she have such an adorable and sensible daughter now? Although it was very hard, she did not regret it at all.

"Mother..." Yan Huan called Ye Rong again, afraid that Ye Rong would not agree. Then, what else could she do to earn money. Actually, she really felt that she was quite useless. She had all kinds of good skills, but now she could not act. And she seemed to only know how to act, and of course, she also knew how to cut hair. But between acting and cutting hair.., it seemed that acting could be justified.

Have you ever seen a three-year-old child cutting someone else's hair?

No one has, right?

"Do you really want to go?" Ye Rong stroked her daughter's little face. She was not the kind of unreasonable person. As long as her daughter really wanted to go, she could agree. It was not because her daughter could earn money.., nor was it because her daughter could achieve anything. It was just because this was the path her daughter had chosen for herself.

"Mm." Yan Huan nodded her head vigorously. "Huanhuan wants to go."

"It will be very hard. Aren't you afraid?"

Ye Rong continued to talk to her daughter. Although she had never acted before, there were some things that she knew. Filming was not something that could be done just like that. It had to be done with time, and not with just a word from her mouth.

Moreover, filming was also very hard. Her daughter was so young. Could she really do it?

"I'm not afraid." Yan Huan shook her little head vigorously. "Mother, Huanhuan is not afraid of hard work."

No matter how hard it was, it did not matter. As long as she could earn money, she was not afraid of hard work. Moreover, no matter how hard it was, it would not be as hard as when she was a minor character.

Moreover, she was still a child, so it was impossible for her role to be too heavy. It was impossible for her to be hung up on Wei Ya, right?

"Eat the cake first."

Ye Rong pushed the cake in front of her daughter. Now, she had to think about how to apply for leave. After all, Yan Huan was really too young, and she could not trust her to be alone.

However, she did not know how to open this mouth. After all, this job was really not easy to come by. If this was still in the past, and she only relied on doing that kind of handicraft to barely survive, then she could do whatever she wanted, however, the problem now was that she was still working. This job was too important to them. Let's not talk about this first. She had a contract with her boss and could not leave for too long. However, she only had one daughter, Yan Huan, and Yan Huan only had one family member. If she did not go, then who could take care of her daughter?

She tried to call her boss.

"I see. You can go." The boss was very generous. "I'll let someone else take your job first. You can go for a few months, but you won't get paid."

Chapter 2395: lot of celebrities

"Thank you, Boss." Ye Rong held her phone and thanked him profusely. She really did not think that the boss would be so easy to talk to. In fact, she was only trying to give it a try, in the end, she did not think that the boss would agree without saying anything.

"What are you thanking me for?" The boss chuckled, "If your Little Huanhuan really becomes a celebrity, my company will have a celebrity's mother. At that time, I don't know how much benefit it will bring to the company's business. You Don't have to feel like you owe me anything. I'm a businessman." Of course, he was thinking about business, as he said this, he was actually quite happy in his heart. After all, Yan Huan grew up in their company. From sitting in a baby carriage to now, she was already in kindergarten. If she could really become famous., then, it would be a good help to the development of the company.

"What are you laughing at?" The Lady Boss walked over and held her daughter in her arms.

"Nothing much?" The boss hugged his daughter and teased her. She was only a one-year-old daughter, but her daughter was chubby and her little arms and legs were segmented, she was really very innocent and cute.

All of a sudden, her heart softened and became a mess.

The Lady Boss took the boss's phone. When she saw that the phone number on it was Ye Rong's, she felt uncomfortable and could not help but let her imagination run wild. In the past, because she liked to talk and have fun., so she did not have too many thoughts about Ye Rong. But after she gave birth to a daughter, perhaps because she had too many thoughts, she always liked to let her imagination run wild.

A single woman was carrying a child, and Ye Rong was so beautiful. She was younger than her, only twenty-three or twenty-four years old. She could feel it, her husband obviously took special care of Ye Rong and her daughter. She had heard from her friends that this kind of single mother with a child had the worst intentions. Otherwise, how could there not be a man, instead, it was a man carrying a daughter.

It was said that when a man died, who knew if he really died? Perhaps he was fooling around with some wild man, and finally gave birth to a daughter. Otherwise, how could he have never mentioned his husband, was he really dead, or was there no such man at all?

So she couldn't help but stop thinking about it.

"Why, did she call you?"

The Lady Boss pretended to be casual and asked, "Is it a problem with work again? Why is she looking for you at this time?"

"No." The boss couldn't understand a woman's duplicity. His intelligence was all about business, but he was indeed a little clueless about women. Of course, he really didn't think in that direction, therefore, he was sitting upright and straight. It was impossible for him to feel guilty? Therefore, he really did not understand the hidden meaning in the lady boss's words.

"What is that?" The Lady Boss glared at her husband. Fortunately, the boss was focused on his daughter and did not pay attention to this. Otherwise.., the malevolence on the lady boss's face could indeed scare him.

"Ye Rong wants to take a leave of absence." The boss teased his daughter, causing her to giggle from time to time

"Her daughter has been selected to be a small actress. She is going to shoot a movie. It might take a month or two. In the future, when that child becomes famous, she can do some publicity for our company. Of course, I will not let go of such a cheap advertisement."

The lady boss pouted. "Her daughter is so stupid. How can she be a small-time actress?"

The boss frowned. "Is Yan Huan Stupid? No, she's quite smart." When he heard what the Lady Boss said, he felt a little uncomfortable. The lady boss could be considered a young lady from a wealthy family, but now, she had become a little bitter and mean.

The Lady Boss's face stiffened. She seemed to have discovered something, so she quickly changed her words. "I mean, our Xinxin is very smart. She should be a small actress."

"Exactly." Whenever her daughter was mentioned, the boss was like any other father. In her heart, her daughter was the smartest and most beautiful.

"When my heart grows up, it will definitely become a star."

The boss was really happy with his daughter now. He kissed his daughter's little face hard and said, "Let's go. Daddy will take you out to play."

As he said that, he stood up. This meant that he was going to take his daughter out. Rather than saying that he was going out, it was more appropriate to say that he was going to show off his little princess. It was as if he was the only person in the world who had a daughter, he could not wait for the entire world to know that he had a daughter.

The Lady Boss's eyes flickered, but she was still feeling uncomfortable. Especially towards the name Ye Rong, she really loathed it.

And no matter how much she loathed it, or how much she did not want to hear ye Rong's name, Ye Rong had already packed up her things and was going to film with her daughter. The production team still provided food and lodging, they did not need to buy anything.

Yan Huan's scenes in this drama would probably take one to two months. If everything went smoothly, it might be completed in a month. Two months was the limit. After all, Yan Huan only needed to film a small portion of the scenes, she was not the main character, she was just a small supporting role.

This was actually ye Rong's first time meeting the people in the production team. Of course, there were also a few popular movie stars. She was a little dumbfounded at that time. Those people that she had only seen on television in the past., they had actually appeared in front of her now, and they actually liked Little Yan Huan very much. In the movie, Yan Huan was the main character when he was young. Of course, he had to get familiar with everyone now, then, he had to properly cultivate their feelings.

On the other hand, Yan Huan was very well-behaved. His mouth was sweet, and he was also very sensible and cute. This was especially so for the male and female leads. They always liked to hug her and tease her, and they would even buy her many good things.

Not to mention ye Rong, even Yan Huan himself had seen these people who would be like Mount Tai and Big Dipper in the film industry in the future. They were still very young, and each of them was fresh and tender. It was not like in the future., when she became famous, these people were also old. Many of them were still around, and many of them had already retreated behind the scenes. Indeed, they were all popular for a time, and were also famous people.

The car brought them to the earliest film studio. At this time, there were not many film studios in the country. This was the most famous one.

Ye Rong and Yan Huan were divided into a small room. At this time, the conditions of the production crew were not that good. Moreover, even the main actors in the production crew lived in such a small room. Ye Rong naturally did not mind, and this place was clearly much better than the small room they had lived in before,

Chapter 2396: the so-called state

They were all in the same room with a living room. There was also a small toilet. Although the place was small, it was still considered to have all five organs. There was also a blanket and other things. Although it was not very clean., it was still cleaned after all.

Ye Rong first took the blanket outside to bask in the Sun. It was rainy here, so the blanket was a little damp. Yan Huan was holding a small rag and helping his mother with the housework. He was also doing it in a decent manner.

They only had one day to rest here, and then it was time for filming.

At this time, the film studio was not cold or hot, so the temperature was also suitable. When everyone came out, it was not that uncomfortable, so they really found a good time. However, this was only for now, because they still had to continue filming in the future, this movie was rushed, so it only had half a year's time. When the new year came next year, this movie would be released during the New Year.

Currently, people in the country really didn't have much interest in watching movies. Therefore, the current movie was still considered to be in a downturn in the country. Therefore, the ticket prices at this time were indeed not too high.

However, Yan Huan knew that the box office earnings of this movie that she was currently filming had broken the record for the past few years. It had a total of fifty million box office earnings. Not to mention that all the actors in it were already famous.

Even the child actors at that time were extremely popular. They had received many endorsements and had earned themselves quite a bit of money. Of course, they had started early too. She was still an extra, but they had already taken the lead role, it was a pity. In the later stages, they did not look as good as they wanted and were a little crippled. As a result, they could not receive any good films in the future. They gradually faded from people's sight. A few years later, they would be forgotten by others.

Yan Huan thought at that time that if it was her, she might have already won the grand prize. It was just a pity that she didn't have such an opportunity.

It was just that she didn't expect that after living a new life, such an opportunity would actually fall on her.

Actually, she didn't think that it would be this film either. It was only after they received the script that she knew it was this film. Of course, she wasn't young now, so it was impossible for her to understand the script. It was all for Ye Rong., when Ye Rong was placed aside, she had secretly watched it. Of course, she was first-class at memorizing the script. Perhaps she did not have a strong memory like Lu Yi, and her IQ was not high, but she memorized the script and memorized the lines very well.

Therefore, she secretly flipped through the script a few times before memorizing it.

Whatever she wanted to act, Ye Rong told her. The director also added on from the side.

However, everyone felt a headache coming on. After all, it was really difficult to communicate with such a young child. Moreover, it was Yan Huan's first time acting, so he had to work as a child for a few days.

Now, whether it was the director, the others, or even ye Rong, they all felt a headache coming on to their daughter. They were really afraid that she could not act well. Although Yan Huan was very obedient, she had never acted before.

Although she was doing well during the rehearsal, it would be troublesome if she really acted. Moreover, Yan Huan's character also had an illusory little pet. He wanted the child to talk to the air.

To a child who was only three years old, this was actually a little too difficult for her.

On the day that filming started, Yan Huan changed into his little costume. His beautiful little face, his little pink ancient costume, and the two little buns on her head. No matter how one looked at it, he looked very cute, she was simply too adorable to everyone present.

My Daughter is really beautiful. A tall man hugged Yan Huan and refused to let go. These few days, his daughter had gotten used to calling him, and he really wanted to bring this child home and raise her as his own daughter. It was such a pity, this was someone else's child.

The actor who acted as Yan Huan's father put Yan Huan down and held her little hand. They were ready to get to work.

The first scene was Yan Huan's scene. It didn't need to be difficult, and there wasn't much skill involved. All they needed to do was to act cute. Moreover, children were cute to begin with, so it could be considered a natural performance.

However, everyone still broke out in cold sweat for Yan Huan, who was acting for the first time. They were afraid that she would fail, that she wouldn't be able to act well. What if she cried later?

"Ready, begin."

When the director shouted for the start of the scene, Yan Huan immediately got into character. She had already gotten into character very quickly, and she also had experience in this area. Initially, she was afraid that because she had not taken on any scenes for a long time., hence, she was a little rusty and her acting skills would drop. However, when the director shouted for the start of the scene, when all the cameras were pointed at her, and when she started to stand at this spot., it was as if the Yan Huan from before had returned.

The blanket moved a few times before a clanging sound rang out. A chubby little hand stretched out from under the blanket. There was still a string of bells on his wrist, and with a clanging sound, a chubby little foot stretched out as well, from the chubby little hand and the chubby little foot, it could be seen that this was a small ball.

The small ball crawled under the blanket for a long time, just like a baby silkworm. When the blanket was lifted, a red and chubby face was revealed.

She rolled her eyes and carefully climbed down. With a bang, she did not stand properly and fell to the ground.

Ye Rong's heart tightened. She wanted to go forward, but she was blocked by someone. The director also broke out in cold sweat. This child was not going to cry, right? Up until now, these scenes had been shot extremely well, he didn't want to reshoot. Moreover, it was best for the child's scenes to be completed in one go. Otherwise, the second time might not be so well coordinated.

Children didn't like to do such repetitive things because they were still young. Their temperaments were still uncertain. If they were angry, it wouldn't be easy to coax them. It would also delay the progress of the shooting.

Right now, everyone was staring at the little ball lying on the ground without blinking. No one dared to move, and no one dared to make a sound. And this scene was not about crying.

In the end, Yan Huan really did not cry. She climbed up from the ground and patted her clothes again. Her little face also bulged up, just like a goldfish with big eyes, her pair of white and tender little feet also had jingling bells on them as she ran around. She stepped up and down at times. It was so lively that it gave people a headache until the sound of a door was heard from outside.

Little Tuan ran to the door and tiptoed to look outside.

The moment the door opened, a rough man walked in. When he saw Little Tuan, he could not help but laugh.

“Ying ‘ER is here to wait for Daddy?”

Little Tuan opened his small mouth and smiled,

Chapter 2397: the Little Devil

“Daddy...”she ran over and hung herself on the man’s body. This sentence of “Daddy”was really good. Of course, it also made the director heave a sigh of relief. Fortunately, he still remembered the lines.

In the camera, the man carried his daughter up and let her stand on the table. Otherwise, she would be too short and difficult to talk to “Ying ‘ER, did daddy bring you something good today?”

The man reached out his hand to show off his treasure, but his palm was empty. This was filming, this was acting in the air.

The director’s heart couldn’t help but Clench. Oh No, did he make up for this for the child? What if she came again later? Daddy, there’s nothing in your palm.

The little boy reached out his hand and hugged the air. It was as if he was really hugging a rabbit or a puppy. He even rubbed the air on his face.

“Thank you, Daddy.”The little boy carefully hugged the air in his arms. His pair of chubby feet also swayed. It made people really want to pinch him again.

“Cut!”The director hurriedly called for a stop. He could not help but wipe the sweat on his forehead. He then asked the staff to replay the earlier scene.

This hand shape did not even need to be adjusted. It was as if she was holding something. Was this really her first time filming? However, why did the director feel that this child, Yan Huan, was like a lot of veteran actors. She controlled her expression, time, and position very accurately, and they had not taught her how to stand, but she did not stand in the wrong position. Initially, they had said that they wanted the camera to coordinate with the child, but now it seemed that there was no need. The camera would just follow the usual procedure. The child was standing in the right position, and it was not bad at all.

This small expression of hers was also amazing. When she was dealing with her father in the scene, her pair of round and big eyes were like gemstones, flashing from time to time. Of course, her eyes were also filled with yearning for men. It was just like how he treated his own father. There wasn’t any sense of dissonance at all.

“Director, where did you find this little actress?”Even the cameraman was surprised. “She’s so easy to film. Her positioning is completely correct.”

“That’s right.” Director Liu was quite confident in his own judgment. I had picked this one out of a few hundred children.

“Director, you have good judgment.” Another staff member flattered the director. Then, one by one, they said that the director had a good eye for people. He was such a young child, and he even had talent for acting, they were all dug out by their director in an instant. His performance was still so good, and there wasn’t even a sound.

These people’s praises were, of course, the truth. It simply made the director feel elated. Of course, filming was one thing, and the final broadcast was another. This film was the one he had been looking forward to the most in the past few years, just from the beginning to the end, he had already prepared for three to four years. The selection of actors was even more complicated. It could be said that this film had taken several years to make, and it was only now that filming started. He had originally been aiming for the Lunar New Year, the Chinese people did not have a good idea of how to spend their money on television. In the past few years, their films had been poorly paid. The film he had made was to raise the awareness of the Chinese people about watching movies, moreover, he wanted to have a good box office. This was what a director had been pursuing all his life. The best thing he could do was to get an international award or something.

He had won quite a number of awards in his country, but the international awards were still empty. His country was not lacking in talent, and their films would one day be recognized by everyone.

With such thoughts and beliefs, he had placed too much hope in this film. Of course, he had shouldered so much hope in this film, so the actors he chose were also very strict.

Including the selection of small actors, there were actually a few good child stars, as well as a few small celebrities who were now household names. He had also let them audition, but they were somewhat unsatisfactory, perhaps it was because there were too many films, but they were somewhat stereotyped. Some were like paste and copy.

It was not what he wanted. The small actors he wanted were those who were extremely beautiful but had to have spirit.

They had to be as white as a ball, with big eyes, small face, and a sharp chin. They had to make people’s eyes light up. It was best if they were around four years old. They could barely make it if they were five years old. This was something that could not be helped.

After all, children were too young, too difficult to control, and also too difficult to communicate with. Putting aside whether they could shoot well or not, it was a problem whether they could remember the lines. And now, he had really dug out a treasure. Finally, he had selected a role for these hundreds of people., it was not a waste of his time. He had really chosen a pretty good one. She was only three years old. She was good-looking and obedient. Moreover, she seemed to have a halo around her when she acted. With every step she took., it was as if she was born for the camera. Really, he had never seen a child like this one. She simply had an amazing sense of the camera. She actually knew how to shoot a movie naturally? Moreover, he was able to express himself freely. However, such a young child was able to enter and exit the scene at will. This was also the most surprising part.

He hoped that this child would maintain this state well. In that case, he would have to save a lot of time for the production team. In fact, when he booked this movie, he already knew that they would probably shoot the most scenes, it would be this little actor. After all, children were different from adults. Adults had the ability to think, and they had self-discipline. However, children could not do that. Children had small tempers. Of course, they liked to play with small tempers, if their small tempers came, even their parents would not be able to control them. That was why they were children. If a child did not even have a temperament, then how could this be called a child?

However, he did not expect that he would actually find an amazing little actor. Of course, this was only the beginning. After a few shots, he and the staff were quite satisfied. Of course, there was no need to reshoot anymore, it was completely one scene after another.

In the following period of time, the director was even more amazed at the child's acting ability. It was as if he was a natural-born actor. He knew how to act and how to read lines, even his lines were memorized without missing a word.

The director could not help but exclaim once again.

He did not know what would happen to such a little evildoer when he grew up and how much he would achieve. He had lived for such a long time and had seen all kinds of people and met all kinds of people. However, this little evildoer.., was the most astonishing one he had ever seen.

Chapter 2398: gave him high hopes

Such strong acting skills and such good understanding. Among the people he knew, she was really one of the best. No, with her understanding and cooperation, she was able to bring people into the show, not many people could really do it. Perhaps only those actors could do it. However, they were all old foxes who had lived for a long time. Most of their lives had gone by half, yan Huan, who was only three years old, was already so terrifying.

If this child was properly nurtured, he might really be able to become the pillar of the domestic film industry.

Their generation was old. Whether the future of the national film industry could enter the world and shock the world depended on their generation.

The director had placed his hopes on Yan Huan. After all, it was the first time he had met such a talented young actress after so many years as a director. Hence, he naturally would not bury such a good seedling.

As these scenes progressed day by day, Yan Huan's talent in acting shocked everyone on the set. No one would have thought that such a young child would be able to remember the scenes so well, moreover, she had never forgotten them once. Moreover, she had another ability, which was that she could save the scene. Moreover, she had done it flawlessly. Moreover, she had even made the originally empty scenes become flesh and blood, it seemed to have made the entire scene even fuller.

This place was not for a small actress like her. Initially, there were still quite a number of small actors supporting the scenes. However, she was the most eye-catching. No one knew why, but she was the most eye-catching of all the children, even if she was mixed in with a bunch of children, she could be found at a glance. She was the youngest, and of course, she was also the most beautiful, especially that pair of beautiful big eyes, there was also an extremely lively expression on her facial features. Of course, she was also the most photogenic.

Only one month had passed since the filming of the movie. Yan Huan did not have many scenes left now, and after filming this scene, it was finally time for the adults' scenes. It had nothing to do with her, so she could go home, of course, Ye Rong had to go to work. No matter what, she could not not go to work. Although the boss said that she would be the one to hire him for a month or two, if she really hired him for two months.., even if the boss did not say anything, she would not have the face to continue working there. And she could not lose that job now.

There was no other way. She still had to pay off the mortgage, which would take more than ten years.

The makeup artist put on Yan Huan's makeup. This was the final scene. After the female lead was exterminated, it was a scene in which she crawled out from a pile of dead people.

Of course, this was the most difficult scene to shoot in the entire movie. It was also the scene that tested one's acting skills. If it was an ordinary child, they might have been scared to tears when they shot this scene. They would have nightmares from the fright.

However, Yan Huan was different. When she looked at herself in the mirror, her originally lively eyes suddenly became empty. She no longer smiled. This expression was really correct.

After she winked at the mirror for a long time, the makeup artist finally carried her up and fixed her hair.

"Little Huanhuan, you have to work hard. It's not easy for Auntie to put on makeup for you." She could put on makeup for a very long time, and she still had to put on so many wounds on the child's small face. This was going to test her more.

This makeup started at six in the morning. It was already past nine in the morning, and it had already been nearly three hours. If she messed up and put on another one, she would have no confidence in herself.

Yan Huan clenched her small fists at the makeup artist. The makeup artist also clenched her fists tightly, and then she followed Yan Huan and bumped into her.

"Good luck."

Yan Huan also nodded her head vigorously. Yes, good luck

She would do her best. Of course, she would do her best. Such a small scene was not difficult for her. In her previous life, her acting skills were already at the pinnacle of perfection. Her acting skills could also be controlled and released freely, of course, she had also received recognition from all aspects. Otherwise, she would not have won the International Best Actress award from Both Worlds. Until her death, everyone had always addressed her as best actress Yan.

And her title of best actress Yan was not something that just anyone could call her.

She walked out. She still had a round little body, her small arms and legs were short, and her hair was still covered with two small flowers. However, it was a little messy now. Her face was also slightly bruised, and one of her eyes was swollen, her small face was also covered in dust.

The director also clenched his fists at Yan Huan.

“Do your best.”

Yan Huan waved his small hand. The director smiled bitterly. He was still nervous. He took a deep breath.

“Ready, start shooting.”

Under the camera, there were people lying on the ground. They were lying in a mess, and the ground was covered in blood.

A person’s arm moved, and then a child covered in dust crawled out.

The child looked around listlessly. Her eyes did not even have a shred of light. She walked forward step by step. Her small face was also very pale and pitiful.

Suddenly, a little rabbit ran from the ground. The little girl lowered her head and slowly picked up the little white rabbit. She placed the little white rabbit on her face and gently rubbed it, however, her little mouth was tightly pursed.

At this moment, her small expression also tightened everyone’s hearts.

The director was so nervous that he would occasionally wipe the perspiration that had appeared on his palm on his leg. It was in place, completely in place. It did not seem like he was filming. It was as though it was real. It gave one the feeling of being in the middle of something, one could also feel the faint aura of death on the little girl’s body.

“Water, water... Hurry up.”

The director hurriedly spoke to the prop master. Very quickly, a heavy rain fell.

Ye Rong sat there, so nervous that her expression changed

Her Huanhuan was still so small. What if she fell sick from being drenched like this?

However, the director had already told ye Rong about it beforehand, which had prepared her mentally. However, when the rain started to fall, she realized that she could not bear it at all, she almost could not help but rush forward.

However, the reason why she still sat there and did not move was because her daughter was really doing something seriously. She was still there and did not move. She was still trying her best to play her role.

Although she was only three years old, she was a very persistent child. It was not like she did not know how stubborn this child was.

Chapter 2399: she tried her best to grow up

At this moment, in the camera, there was a patch of overcast rain. The rain would fall from time to time and crash onto the ground, washing away the blood stains on the ground. The little child was still standing there, she held the little white rabbit in her arms. Then, she pouted her little mouth and tears rolled down her cheeks. Her face was clearly covered in rain, but one could see that she was crying.

She stumbled forward and put down her hands. The Little White Rabbit fell to the ground and disappeared?

She walked to a person who was lying on the ground and slowly knelt down to hold the man's hand.

"Daddy..."

"Daddy..."

"Bring Ah Ying home. Ah Ying Misses Home."

"Daddy..."

She would call him Daddy one by one. She would also pull on that man's sleeve from time to time. She did not cry out loud, but her small expression was filled with grievance and despair, it moved almost everyone. It also made people feel pitiful. It also made people feel wronged. Their noses also turned sour.

The rain fell from time to time, soaking her hair and clothes. The dust on her small face had been washed clean by the rain, but what could not be washed was the pity in this instant, it buried into her heart.

Every day from now on, she would be a child without a father. She would also be a child without anyone to love her.

The last shot focused on the child's long eyelashes and the rain that fell on her eyelashes from time to time. It dripped down her face one drop at a time.

"Cut!"The director finally shouted "Cut!"And he could not help but wipe his tears. It was really strange that he did not cry so loudly in this scene, however, the atmosphere that was created at this moment made people feel sad, and everyone present seemed to have been infected.

Regardless of whether it was men or women, they did not seem to have returned to their senses. They were also immersed in the kind of sadness that made them unable to control themselves. Could it be that sadness could really be contagious?

Ye Rong hurriedly ran over and also took off her own clothes. She wrapped her daughter up and hugged her tightly.

"Don't be afraid. Mommy will take you to change your clothes."Ye Rong herself also wanted to cry. Actually, she did not see what she had patted just now. She only thought about how cold it would be for her daughter to be alone in the rain.

Although their lives were not rich, and although they did not have much money, she had never let her daughter suffer in this aspect.

She placed her forehead on her daughter's small forehead. Her body temperature was very low, and her small face was so cold that it was white.

The others were also anxious and hurriedly looked for a doctor. They even had to go and pour hot water, give the child a bath, and drink some milk to make her sweat properly. As long as they took good care of her, she should not fall sick.

Everyone felt sorry for this child because this child was really too obedient. She was not noisy at all. Moreover, she was good at filming and would not cause trouble for everyone. If it were any other child., who knew how much time they would have to waste now?

Moreover, this child was really too young. She was only three years old. This little person's body was so strong that even adults could not compare to her. Let alone a three-year-old child, just look at a ten-year-old child filming such a scene., would it really be in place.

Everyone frantically helped Yan Huan change her clothes and took the quilt. There was another bowl of ginger soup in the kitchen for her to drink.

The ginger soup was very hot and did not taste good, but Yan Huan drank it all up. She did not find it too bitter. In her previous life, she often drank this soup. It was made for her by Auntie Gu. Later on, it was personally cooked by Lu Yi. Every time, if there was anything wrong with her., lu Yi would cook the ginger soup for her to drink, and after she finished it, she just needed to sleep and sweat a little.

After she finished drinking the ginger soup, she felt a little sleepy. It wasn't until she was about to fall asleep that she remembered that she wasn't the Yan Huan of her previous life. She was only three years old, and she was still a poor little bean. She hadn't grown up yet., her resistance was not that good either.

She had been falling asleep in a daze, but she was covered in sweat. Fortunately, she did not have a fever. This was the best thing that could have happened.

When she had slept enough, she opened her eyes and saw Ye Rong sitting by the bed. Her eyes were slightly blue, and there was a dull look in her eyes. Her complexion was not too good either.

"Mother..."

Yan Huan reached out her small hand and grabbed ye Rong's clothes.

"Mother, Huanhuan is hungry."

She was really hungry. She was so hungry that she wondered if she had woken up from hunger or if she was so hungry that she felt weak. She could not muster any strength in her body.

Ye Rong quickly stood up and took the cup that was placed on the side, yan Huan had stopped using milk bottles a long time ago. Now, she only used a cup with a straw.

"Huanhuan, let's drink this first. Mommy will take you out to eat later."

Ye Rong touched her daughter's forehead. She only heaved a sigh of relief after feeling the normal temperature.

The doctor had said that her daughter's body was very healthy. As long as she did not have a fever, she would basically be fine. Moreover, the current weather would not be too much of a problem even if it rained. If the weather was even colder.., something might really happen.

Yan Huan took the cup and used her little hands to hold the cup. She didn't want to drink milk powder at all. She wanted to eat meat. She wanted to eat meat.

But now, not to mention meat, even if the vegetables could reach her mouth, it was still a problem. She still had to drink milk. Moreover, she had to keep drinking milk because drinking milk would make her grow taller. No matter what.., she could not let herself be too short. She was not that tall in the first place, but Lu Yi was tall. He was twenty centimeters taller than her. If she was a little shorter, how could she stand with Lu Yi in the future.

So she worked hard to drink milk. No matter how bad it tasted, she still had to drink it.

She puffed up her cheeks. Ye Rong still felt sorry for her daughter. She thought she was starving, but this was not home. At home, she could still steam an egg for her to eat, this Morning's dishes were all sent over by someone. Everyone ate the same thing — boxed meals. There was no kitchen here, so she had no choice but to steam an egg for her daughter.

Her daughter liked to eat steamed eggs the most. She could eat two eggs at a time.

Yan Huan drank a stomach full of milk and was no longer hungry. If this milk powder filled her stomach, there was absolutely no problem.

She hiccuped, and the smell of milk powder filled the air.

Then, she hugged the quilt and fell asleep. She was not afraid at all, because she knew that her mother would definitely protect her,

Chapter 2400: A portion without a full stomach

Although she didn't have a father, grandparents, grandparents, or other relatives, she had the best mother in the world. She had protected her all the way until she grew up safely. and in her memories.., all the suffering had been endured by her mother, and all the hardships had been endured by her mother. and she really hadn't suffered at all. She had grown up safely, and she had grown up rich, until her mother was gone.

Everything had changed.

Therefore, she had to work hard and earn more money in this lifetime. Even though she was only three years old, she wanted her mother to not work so hard. She wanted to earn money in her own way, she also wanted to spend two lifetimes to protect her mother, so that her mother could live a long life. Just like Old Master Lu, just like Ye Shuyun and Lu Jin, she could always be with her children.

She slept very safely because she knew that she had already taken the most difficult step. She knew that this movie would be popular, and she would also be popular because in her previous life, the child star who played Ah Ying was also famous, she was also famous, and of course, she earned a lot of money. She would definitely not earn more money than that child star.

Of course, she did not feel that she had stolen other people's opportunities. Others might not know, but she knew. That was because that child star had also stolen other people's opportunities. Since they had stolen other people's opportunities, they did not belong to her, if she could steal others' opportunities, then Yan Huan could also steal hers.

Moreover, opportunities were originally reserved for people who were prepared. Moreover, in order to let her mother live a good life, she did not feel guilty at all.

She blinked her eyes and sat up. The feeling of powerlessness was gone.

So, she must be hungry.

After drinking a large pot of milk powder, she wanted to go to the toilet. It was a pity that she could hold it in. She was afraid that if she slept for a while more, she might really wet the bed.

Such a stain could not be made.

If it were to be known in the future, when Best Actress Yan was filming her first movie, she would actually wet the bed. How embarrassing would that be.

She carefully climbed down from the little bed and then found her little shoes to put on.

When Ye Rong arrived, she saw Yan Huan sitting on the ground in a dignified manner, wearing her little shoes.

"Huanhuan, what are you going to do?" She placed the lunchbox in her hand on the table, then came over and squatted in front of her daughter. She then placed her hand on Yan Huan's little forehead.

She did not water it at all, so the current Yan Huan was really a very healthy baby.

"Mommy, Huanhuan needs to Pee."

Yan Huan put on her shoes and quickly ran into the bathroom. In a moment, the sound of Flushing could be heard from the bathroom. Of course, when she came out, she had washed her small hands clean, she had even used soap.

"Mother, do you smell good?"

Ye Rong took her daughter's little hands and placed them under her nose. Yes, they smelled good. With just a sniff, she knew that Yan Huan had used soap to wash his little hands. Her daughter was a child who loved cleanliness very much. There was no need for an adult to tell her, she was very sensible. Before and after meals, she would wash her little hands clean. When she was young, she did not like to pick up anything from the ground and stuff it into her little mouth. When she grew up, she even knew how to be hygienic, her clothes were never too dirty.

That was why she was very at ease with her daughter.

Yan Huan also sniffed her little hands. They were fragrant because the soap her mother had bought smelled pretty good. It was a pity that in the future, this type of soap would cease to be produced. Everyone would get used to using hand sanitizer and the like, however, the amount of soap used was much less. That was why she liked this brand of soap. Of course, she had never smelled such a good smell before.

However, from the moment she smelled this smell, her memories began to come back to her. That's right, this was the smell. It was fragrant, just like her mother's.

"Alright, let's eat." Ye Rong carried her daughter up and let her sit on the small chair. She then opened a box of rice and placed it in front of her daughter. She also opened a box of rice, they were all eating the same box of lunch here. One box for her and one box for Yan Huan. Originally, one box was enough for them. However, Yan Huan insisted on eating one box. She was easy to talk to and would shoot whatever the director wanted her to shoot, she could cry if she wanted to and laugh if she wanted to. However, there was only one point. She wanted to eat a box of lunch.

Of course, with her small stomach, it was impossible for her to eat an entire box of lunch. She would only eat a little and then give the rest of the food to her mother.

The others thought that this was Yan Huan's personality. In fact, they did not know that Yan Huan had done this on purpose. Yan Huan had asked for this box of food because he wanted to keep it for his mother.

The box of food in this house was made pretty well, especially since there was a fried small yellow croaker in it. Ye Rong loved to eat this type of fish the most, and the fish in the box of food for the two of them were all hers. As for Yan Huan, she was too young, so she did not want to eat fish, even if ye Rong cleaned the bones for her, she still did not want to take a bite.

Yan Huan knew that it was not yet time for him to eat fish, and she also knew that her mother liked to eat fish, so she gave the fish to her mother to eat.

She clumsily scooped up the fish with a small spoon and placed it in Ye Rong's boxed lunch. Then, she gave all the meat and vegetables inside to her mother. She only ate a little of the vegetables and rice, she also had to remove more than half of the rice. Only then would she be willing to eat

"I only ate a little. Why Do I need two portions?"

Ye Rong helplessly ate her own portion. Both portions were condensed together. Wasn't this a waste of food?

"One portion won't fill mother." Yan Huan ate his own rice. His little face was always chubby.

Ye Rong's fingers paused for a moment. The rice in her mouth did not taste good at all. She reached out to rub her daughter's hair and then ate her own portion of rice, which was obviously much better.

They had also finished filming their scenes. It took them one month and three days. This was much earlier than what everyone had expected. If a three-year-old child were to film such a big scene, they would have prepared for two to three months. In the end, Yan Huan's performance was so good that he actually saved so much time for the production team, they could use this time to film other scenes.

“My good daughter, why are you leaving? Do you want a father?”

A man ran out in an exaggerated manner and hugged Yan Huan tightly. After spending so much time together, he had long liked this obedient doll. With her leaving., he did not know if he would be able to see her again in the future.

“Father, aren’t you dead?”

Yan Huan’s words almost made the man vomit a liter of blood.
