

Sweet Wife 451

Chapter 451 Joining the Banquet

After listening to him, Victoria looked at him suspiciously.

"Really?"

Charlie Peck raised his eyebrows.

"Victoria, do you know that you look like a jealous wife now?"

Victoria got angry right away.

"Shut up! You are the jealous one!"

As she spoke, she reached out to push him away. Charlie Peck held her hand and her mood inexplicably improved. She laughed softly.

They didn't go back to the hotel until late at night. Charlie Peck went to Marilyn's place and came back. He didn't stay there for long.

Victoria Kaur was slightly satisfied with his attitude.

She slept until the next morning.

The next morning, Victoria Kaur got up and took a cup to the living room to pour water. The door suddenly opened.

She opened her sleepy eyes and watched Charlie Peck walk in.

Charlie Peck got up early. At this time, he had already finished exercising. His strong body was wrapped in a sweatshirt, full of hormones.

Seeing her standing there, he said, "Change your clothes. I'll take you to parachute later."

Victoria Kaur turned to look at him in shock.

After a while, she pursed her lips and asked seriously, "Brother, it's not easy for you to take a vacation. Don't you need to rest?"

"No need."

Alright! She deserved to worry about it.

Victoria Kaur acquiesced to the man's proposal and returned to her room with water.

Half an hour later, they tidied up and went out.

In the past, Victoria Kaur liked bungee and parachuting, which was an exciting exercise, so her friends almost didn't treat her as a woman.

She didn't expect that there would be such a project in a place like the Celebrity Villa. Although it was the simplest at the initial level, she was still very happy.

After playing for the whole morning, at noon, Charlie Peck took her to a music restaurant for seafood.

The villa was very large, and there were several restaurants. This restaurant mainly focused on seafood. There were two small seals in the two vats at the door. They looked stupid and cute.

Victoria Kaur suddenly remembered the little fish she and Charlie Peck caught in the lake last night. On the way back to the hotel, Charlie Peck bought a small fish tank for her to store fish. Later, after returning to her room, she put it on the windowsill. When she went back at night, she didn't go to see it because she had something in her heart. She didn't know if it was dead or not.

After entering the restaurant, they chose a seat and sat down.

Victoria Kaur only ordered the seafood porridge and left the rest to Charlie Peck.

The man quickly ordered a few signature dishes here.

They sat down and waited for the dishes to be served.

Victoria Kaur drank her tea and suddenly asked him, "Are you finished your work?"

Charlie Peck glanced at her. "Who told you that I came out for work?"

"Didn't you have an appointment with a client yesterday?"

The man suddenly frowned. "It was temporary."

After thinking for a while, he said, "If you have any other places to play in the next few days, you can say. I'll show you around when I'm free."

Hearing his words, Victoria Kaur was slightly stunned.

Why did he feel so flattered?

Just then, the two figures at the door caught her attention.

It was Markel and Kate!

Victoria Kaur frowned slightly. "Why are they here?"

Kate also saw her and smiled at her kindly. However, when she glanced at Charlie Peck, her expression changed slightly.

However, it soon calmed down. As if on purpose, she moved to block Markel's eyesight.

Pointing to the other side, Markel nodded and the two walked toward the other side.

Victoria Kaur's expression changed slightly.

However, she did not care much about them. She knew that Markel had a grudge against Charlie Peck, so she pretended not to see them.

Unexpectedly, after dinner, Kate suddenly stopped after taking two steps forward. She turned around and took out two invitation cards from her bag and handed them to her.

"Miss Kaur, there will be a celebrity party tonight, organized by The Bissel family. I hope you and Mr.White can come together."

Victoria Kaur took the invitation card, looked at it, and then looked at Charlie Peck.

Seeing that the other party did not refuse, he said, "Okay! We will go."

Kate smiled and walked out.

As soon as Kate left, Victoria Kaur asked awkwardly, "Hey, are you really going?"

Charlie Peck raised his eyebrows. "You don't want to go?"

Victoria Kaur chuckled. "That's not true. It's just that I feel a little strange. Besides, I don't think she'd invite me. It's a fake invitation. It's true though she wants to invite you."

After all, Charlie Peck had embarrassed Markel last time. No matter how generous Kate was, it was impossible for her to have no grudges.

The first reason she invited them was Charlie Peck's identity.

After all, he was the current ruler of The Stevenson family and held a very important position in the business world. If he took part in the party, he would definitely bring glory to the banquet.

Secondly, The Stevenson family was in charge of all the docks and land transportation, while The Stevenson family was engaged in the industry. Many of the industries needed to be done through The Stevenson family. If they could build a good relationship with Charlie Peck, it would only benefit their future business.

To make it clear, no matter how much Kate liked Markel, she was still a businessman. A businessman valued profit and would immediately take a fancy to the most effective choice. At least at present, she was still a businessman.

Charlie Peck looked at her. "Forget it if you don't want to go."

Victoria Kaur was at a loss. "Ah? No. I didn't say that."

The man raised his eyebrows. Obviously, he felt that her words were not true.

Victoria Kaur pursed her lips and paused before saying, "In fact, it's okay to go and have a look. Anyway, there's nothing to do at night!"

Charlie Peck chuckled and threw the invitation card to her before getting up.

"Let's go!"

Victoria Kaur was stunned for a moment. She didn't expect him to leave as soon as he said so. She quickly got up and asked, "Where are we going?"

"Aren't you going to the banquet? Did you bring your gown?"

"No! But, eh? You paid the bill?"

"I bought it earlier!"

"Oh."

...

There was a pedestrian street and shopping area in Celebrity Villa, in which there were all kinds of famous brands.

Victoria Kaur followed him into a French luxury store. The store was not big, but the clothes inside were all the latest clothes this year.

Victoria Kaur immediately saw a dark V-black dress inlaid with red diamonds. She pointed at it and said, "Take it down and let me have a look."

Charlie Peck frowned.

The shop assistant took down the dress with a smile and said, "you really have good taste. This dress is a classic model of our style. At present, there is only this one in the whole country, and your skin is white and delicate, which is very suitable for black and red."

Victoria Kaur took the dress happily and looked at Charlie Peck.

"How is it? Is this beautiful?"

Charlie Peck frowned and suddenly reached out to take a sky-blue dress from the shelf.

"Buy this."

Victoria Kaur: "..."

How much this person liked blue!

The shop assistant was obviously very perceptive. She immediately smiled and said to Charlie Peck, "The name of this dress is Dream. It means that it represents dreamy and sweetness. Miss Kaur seems to be very young. Wearing this suit suits your age."

Chapter 452 A Hundred Years of Peace

Victoria Kaur was embarrassed.

She was the mother of a child. How could she be young?

However, the shop assistant's words obviously caught the man's attention. His mouth was slightly raised. Without asking for the price, he waved his hand and said, "Pack it up!"

Miss Kaur quickly stopped him. "Don't need to try?"

The dress was so narrow that she was worried that she couldn't wear it.

The man looked down at her, turned his eyes on her, and said, "You don't have to try, you can definitely wear it."

For some reason, after he finished speaking, Victoria Kaur blushed inexplicably.

The shop assistant asked with a smile, "Sir, are you going to pay by credit card or cash?"

"Credit card."

"Okay, this way please, sir."

Charlie Peck followed the shop assistant to pay the bill, and Victoria Kaur stood still and waited quietly.

Soon, he came out with a bag. There was a dress, but there were three bags. She took it and found that she had a handbag and shoes.

She felt an inexplicable feeling in her heart.

This man!

The shop assistant was obviously very happy. Although most of the people who came here to play were either rich or noble, it was very rare to see such a straightforward custom, so she sent them to the door of the store.

The two of them took a few steps away and waved their hands enthusiastically. "Take care, I wish you a happy reunion for a hundred years!"

A hundred years of harmony? !

Victoria Kaur was shocked by these four words.

Charlie Peck quickly grabbed her arm and looked down at her with a very playful look.

Victoria Kaur immediately stood up and shook off his hand, as if she had been infected with some virus.

"Haha! This shop assistant's eyesight is really bad, isn't it?"

She smiled awkwardly.

Charlie Peck, on the other hand, said calmly, "No, she has good taste."

Victoria Kaur glared at him.

The man looked calm and said seriously, "The bags and shoes I gave you are very beautiful. I am not good at this, but I am very satisfied with her masterpiece."

Victoria Kaur: "..."

They returned to the hotel and went back to their rooms to rest for a while. They agreed to go out together at nine o'clock.

At nine o'clock in the evening.

Victoria Kaur had already dressed up in advance. She took out her dress and put it on.

Halfway through, she suddenly stopped.

She didn't know if it was because she had been living a comfortable life recently. Her waist seemed to have grown flesh and the dress was extremely narrow. The zipper was behind her back, she couldn't pull it up.

Charlie Peck knocked on the door. "Are you done?"

She stood in front of the mirror, holding her breath. While pulling the zipper, she answered, "Right away."

However, she still couldn't pull this dress!

After a while, her forehead was covered with sweat.

"Do you need my help?" There was another sound outside the door.

Victoria Kaur thought that she had asked him to apply the medicine on her back last time. This time, it was just a zipper. It was nothing.

So she opened the door and let him in.

When she opened the door, her eyes lit up.

Tonight, Charlie Peck was wearing a dark blue suit. The black tie and the royal blue crystal cuff-links complemented each other. Under the light, there was a mysterious light shining. His delicate and three-dimensional facial features seemed to be carefully carved by a skillful craftsman, which made him look more elegant and handsome.

Her heart was beating fast!

As soon as Charlie Peck entered the door, she found that her face was red and her dress was hanging abnormally on her body.

A mischievous look flashed across her eyes. She smiled and said, "You can't wear it?"

Victoria Kaur's face darkened, but she still nodded honestly.

"Let me see."

Charlie Peck walked behind her as he spoke.

Victoria Kaur was wearing a small vest in the dress, which was longer than her underwear and clung to her body to prevent her from being naked.

This was a habit in her previous life. She often went out on missions and might attend all kinds of banquets. In order to make it convenient for her, she was fully armed under her dress. She felt that this habit was very good. In addition, even if she wore it she still has a slim figure inside, no one could not see it, so she kept it.

Charlie Peck pulled her hand away and looked at the zipper.

He gazed at the flesh-colored vest, and his eyes darkened slightly.

His Adam's apple bobbed involuntarily.

He stretched out his hand to move the zipper and said, "Remove some hair."

Victoria Kaur quickly put all her long hair in front of her.

Under her black hair, there was a small flaming birthmark on her neck, which looked so real that it seemed to be on fire.

Charlie Peck's eyes narrowed.

That majestic rainy night appeared in his mind again. The girl was lying on the ground, thin and cold.

The vague images in his memory overlapped with that rainy night, so vivid that even he could not tell whether it was a dream or not.

Thousands of thoughts flashed through his mind, but in the end, they only turned into silent sighs in his heart!

Victoria Kaur stood there quietly. There was no sound in the room. She felt a little embarrassed.

After a while, she felt his waist loosen and the zipper was pulled up smoothly.

She finally breathed a sigh of relief.

The dress was actually not small, and it looked just right on. She walked to the mirror and was surprised.

She had always liked deep and heavy colors. She had originally thought that sky-blue was more for young girls and was not suitable for her. However, when she saw the young and intelligent girl in the mirror, a hint of childish charm could be seen between her brows. Only then did she realize that she could also wear this color.

It was three-dimensional and simple. It looked graceful and unique.

Especially with the sapphire bracelet in her hand, it looked more fresh and refined.

Just as she was looking around, a chuckle suddenly sounded.

"Can we go now, Mrs. White?"

Victoria Kaur looked up and saw Charlie Peck appearing behind her. He was handsome, tall, and imposing. His handsome eyes were less sharp than usual, and there were a few more hints of banter in them.

He picked up the bag on the table and handed it to her, then stretched out his arm to signal her.

"Mrs. White, if you don't leave now, you will be late."

Victoria Kaur blushed, turned around, and glared at him.

Then she reached out and took his arm.

The banquet was held in the lobby on the second floor of the hotel where they lived.

They took the elevator downstairs.

As the second to none wealthy entertainment club in River City, Celebrity Villa was naturally luxurious. As soon as they entered the hall, they only felt that the lights were bright and magnificent. Many people were coming and going, creating a bustling scene.

Victoria Kaur turned her eyes and easily found a few familiar faces in the crowd, including the military, political circles, business circles, and elites from all walks of life. She could not help but look at The Bissel family with new eyes.

To her surprise, The McCarthy family and Max Nixon were here as well!

Archie was abroad and had no time. The McCarthy family naturally sent someone else, while Max Nixon was the representative of The Nixon family.

This man was the best at dancing among the younger generation of The Nixon family. At this time, he was standing in the crowd and chatting happily with several real estate developers.

What surprised her even more was that Marilyn Lee was also with them!

Marilyn Lee was wearing a long white dress tonight. Her long hair was tied up. Under the light, her skin was as smooth as jade. She looked more and more charming and pure.

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 453 I'm Worried About Her

Next to Victoria, it was a young man in a dark red suit. He looked at someone with his beautiful eyes with a spurious smile, and the corners of his mouth were raised evilly, looking like a playboy.

He noticed Victoria's gaze, then tilted his head slightly and looked at her.

Max looked over with him.

Max's face lit up with joy when he saw Victoria.

Victoria raised her glass to Max from afar, indicating Max continued enjoying the social engagement.

At this time, Kate appeared with Ein Bissel, which immediately attracted most people's attention.

Tonight, Kate was dressed in a purple dress, looking elegant and generous. Under the guidance of her father, she enjoyed social engagement with a crowd of dignitaries proudly.

It was obvious that Ein Bissel intended to cultivate Kate. There were a total of three children in the Bissel family. Ein's first and second children were born by his wife, but his third child was born by his secret lover.

However, Someone heard Ein's illegitimate son, Felix, was taken back recently, and talked about the future of the Bissel family.

Victoria didn't see Ein's illegitimate son today, and she didn't care.

Ein Bissel walked around with Kate. When they met Max, they chatted with him for a while.

Then, Ein Bissel looked surprised.

He walked toward Charlie with a smile.

Ein Bissel knew Charlie, but because there was a big gap between their ages, they did not have much contact.

Besides, Charlie was arrogant and did not like social activities, so he seldom showed up on such occasions. Today, when Charlie suddenly appeared, many people who are familiar with him felt surprised, as they knew Charlie's temperament, they did not come forward to flatter him. Those who did not know Charlie could tell he had an extraordinary background, and were shocked by his imposing manner, so they also did not dare to greet him.

Ein Bissel laughed and said, "Mr. Peck, you're such a rare guest!"

The corner of Charlie's mouth curled up and said humbly, "Mr. Bissel, you're so polite. Our two families have taken care of each other for so many years, so Miss Moss invites me, and I should come."

Kate smiled and nodded with Victoria at first. Then Kate said, "Mr. Peck, I'm flattered by your kindness. I propose a toast to you."

Then, Kate picked up her glass.

Charlie didn't say anything. He clinked a glass with Kate gently and drank off.

"Who is this?"

Ein Bissel looked at Victoria and asked with a gentle smile.

Charlie lightly explained, "My wife, Victoria."

Charlie lowered his head and said gently to Victoria, "Victoria, greet Mr. Bissel."

Victoria nodded politely and smiled, "I've heard a lot about Mr. Bissel. Let me propose a toast to you."

Ein Bissel liked Victoria's well-behaved very much, so although he was surprised that Charlie was married without any saying, he still laughed heartily and said, "Okay, okay!"

Ein Bissel picked up his cup and drank off.

At this moment, Wilson came to say hello.

Wilson knew Victoria and Charlie. After chatting for a while, Victoria remembered that she heard Wilhelm Kawn was in poor health some time ago, so she asked about his condition.

Wilson sighed and shook his head.

"He is getting worse. We've thought of many ways, but they're useless."

Hearing this, Victoria frowned worriedly.

Charlie said in a deep voice, "Wilhelm Kawn has been suffered a lot for half his life. He must have good luck and recover soon. You don't have to worry too much."

Wilson nodded.

Wilson suddenly remembered something and asked, "Do you contact Natalia recently?"

Victoria and Charlie looked at each other without saying anything.

Wilson frowned and said, "I want to contact Natalia recently, but I can't get in touch with her. Wilhelm is very worried about her. The McCarthy family says Natalia goes aboard with Archie. Do you know her current situation?"

Charlie thought for a while and felt that if he didn't tell the Kawn family, they would be worried.

So Charlie said, "She's in Othua. Archie was seriously injured some time ago, but he's fine now."

Wilson's expression changed when he heard Archie was injured.

"Why does Archie get hurt? Don't they travel abroad? What happens to them?"

Charlie said, "It's not a big deal. If you want to know, why don't you ask them yourself?"

Then, Charlie told Wilson the contact information of Natalia and Archie abroad.

Only then did Wilson feel a little relieved.

After the banquet, Wilson called Natalia.

At this time, Natalia sent Bill off.

Because of Archie's injury, his grandma did not rest assured they to stay in the hospital.

As Archie was better, Archie's grandma persuaded them to live in the Stevenson family. It was more convenient and safer.

The Stevenson family had their own family doctor. It wouldn't be a problem to take care of Archie's injuries.

But this proposal was rejected by Natalia.

She didn't want to rely on the Stevenson family, not only because of Alma, but also because of her special identity.

Natalia came here to deal with Mr. K's death. She must contact Dragon Club and Violet Group, and she didn't want the Stevenson family to know that.

Seeing this, Bill could not force them, so he left with regret.

As soon as Bill left, Wilson called.

"Natalia, I heard that Archie is injured? Are you all right?"

Natalia was stunned for a moment. She thought and knew it was Charlie that told him.

She smiled and said, "It's okay. Don't worry, uncle."

Wilson's voice was a little angry, "How can I rest assured? Why do you go to Othua? You are injured. How are you now?"

Natalia comforted Wilson gently, "I'm fine. It's an accident. You don't have to worry too much."

Wilson was silent for a moment.

"Tell me the truth. Are you investigating Violet Group?"

Natalia pursed his lips slightly.

After a while, Natalia smiled and said, "Uncle, although I am very interested in my biological father, you should know that my interest was only limited to what I asked you."

"He was dead for so many years. Why do I still investigate his family? Do I ask them to hold responsibility?"

Wilson was stunned.

He snorted, "Who knows what you're thinking?"

Natalia smiled, "I think you're praising me."

"You."

Wilson sighed, "Well, I can't beat you, but it's good to know you're all right. When you're free, you'd better call your grandfather. He's not feeling well recently. You should care more about him."

Natalia replied softly, "I see."

Chapter 454 Don't Bully Her

After hanging up the phone, Natalia called her grandfather.

Wilhelm was very worried about her. After receiving Natalia's call and knowing she was fine, he felt a little relieved.

Natalia asked about Wilhelm's health.

Wilhelm was now open-minded. After all, the most regretful thing in his life was fulfilled, and he had nothing to worry about in the world.

Moreover, since Natalia married Archie, Wilhelm was very relieved about Archie. Therefore, although he was in poor health, his mood was much more open than before.

Hearing Wilhelm's cheerful laughter on the phone, Natalia couldn't help curling his lips.

"Grandpa, take good care of yourself. I'll come back to see you later."

"Okay. Take good care of yourself. If Archie bullies you, you can tell grandpa, and I will beat him up for you."

Natalia laughed out loud and nodded, "I keep it in mind."

As soon as Natalia hung up the phone, she turned around and saw Archie coming in accompanied by Brian.

Perhaps hearing Natalia's laughter, Archie asked, "What makes you so happy?"

Natalia rolled up her lips and said, "Grandpa called to say if you dare to bully me, he will beat you up for me."

Archie was speechless.

Brian took the opportunity to say, "How dare Mr. McCarthy to bully you? He loves you so much."

Archie lowered his voice, "Brian."

Brian was shocked and immediately shut up, not daring to make fun of Natalia.

Seeing this, Natalia chuckled, "How's your examination? Is there any other problem?"

Archie said lightly, "It's okay. I'm much better now."

Archie's chest was seriously injured, and his internal organs also were hurt at that time, so now, in addition to changing the dressing every day, he needed to check the recovery inside regularly.

Natalia nodded and knew it was time to have meals, so she asked Brian to prepare lunch.

After lunch, they took a nap. When they woke up, it was already three o'clock in the afternoon.

Natalia remembered what she told Zeki before, and she didn't know the progress.

When Natalia just thought of it, Zeki Kylee called her.

Gunner would come to the Dragon Casino tomorrow afternoon. If you wanted to find him, you could go there at that time.

After hanging up the phone, Natalia told Archie the news.

Archie thought for a moment and said, "I go with you tomorrow."

Natalia frowned.

"But your injury..."

"It doesn't matter. We are going to talk about things, not fighting."

Natalia agreed.

Archie could move now, and he could even attend the Stevenson family's birthday party, so it was not a problem for him to go to the Dragon Casino.

Archie was right. They were going to talk calmly, not to fight.

As a result, this matter was settled.

In the afternoon, Natalia had nothing to do, so she took Archie downstairs for a walk.

Archie's injury was much better now, and the doctor suggested he could move properly.

Therefore, he went out in a wheelchair and was pushed by Brian.

Nancy followed them as well. The four of them went downstairs and walked around the lawn.

Natalia thought it was boring. She remembered the racing car headquarters of Dragon Club was not far from here and wanted to have a look.

Natalia suggested, "Archie, why don't we go out for a walk?"

Archie raised his eyebrows and glanced at her with a smile, "Where do you want to go?"

"There is a place nearby I am very familiar with. Let's go and have a look."

Seeing Natalia's expectation in her eyes and as of his injury, she could only stay in the hospital with him and must be bored.

So Archie nodded in agreement.

Seeing this, Natalia was very happy and immediately asked Nancy and Brian to go out with them.

Not far from the hospital was an old car factory.

The car factory was very large, and there was a large space behind it. It was connected to a mountain that had been developed. It was very remote, and there was no one nearby.

She still remembered that when she was here with the members of the racing-car club, there were still a lot of people. She didn't expect that a few years later, there would be such a big change.

With the internal division of the Dragon Club, the racing-car club gradually dispersed. Now they were idle.

Natalia took Archie walking along the familiar road. Looking at the tracks on the mountain, she narrowed her eyes slightly.

"Archie, guess what this place is."

Archie looked at the gray building in front of him and the crisscrossed runway behind him and said, "The racing-car club of Dragon Club."

Natalia snapped her fingers.

"You're right."

Archie already knew who she used to be. Nancy was now her trusted follower, so she did not need to hide her identity.

Brian was Archie's most trusted assistant, so he knew something.

No one was surprised to hear her words.

Natalia led them inside and entered the gate. There was a large playground inside, in front of which were rows of iron gray houses.

The ice-cold buildings stood on the flat ground, giving people a sense of oppression.

Natalia sighed, "When I arrived in Othua, I was alone. I got caught in an accident and lost my memory for some time.

"If Dragon Club did not take me in, I would be at a dead-end at that time, and I wouldn't be here today."

Thinking of this, Natalia was dazed.

Archie looked at her and held her hand firmly.

"Now you have me."

Natalia came to her senses.

She turned to look at Archie. The sun in the afternoon was a little thin, shining on Archie's body, giving her a sense of peace and warmth.

She smiled and nodded heavily.

"Well, fortunately, you're here."

They continued to walk inside together. Although Nancy and Brian roughly knew about Natalia's experience, it was the first time they came here, so they felt curious.

Although the members of the Dragon Club moved away, many things were still here after the reconstruction.

Natalia introduced them one by one, including the reception area, the rest area, the training area, the entertainment area, and so on...

The Dragon Club was very large. The racing-car club was just a recreation club, which did not participate in other activities of Dragon Club.

So when Dragon Club began to split, the racing-car club could easily be got rid of the control of the headquarters.

Brian looked at the training traces left before and sighed, "I've heard that although the third son of the Bissel family is an illegitimate child, he is an excellent man, and has a good development abroad, but I don't expect that he does such things. We indeed can't judge a person by his appearance."

Natalia smiled.

"How can he not be judged by his appearance? His face is full of ambition and shrewdness."

Chapter 455 Returning to the Previous Place

Archie paused.

He looked at Natalia and asked seriously, "Are you familiar with each other?"

Natalia was stagnant.

Thinking of Archie's envy of Felix, Natalia immediately chuckled.

"We are not familiar at all."

Archie said, "Doesn't he save you?"

"Well... Felix saves me because I'm so talented in a racing car and he wants me to help him."

Natalia smiled awkwardly, thinking that this topic could not be continued.

She looked at a modified car parked not far away and said, "There is a car over there. I go to see if it can be used or not."

As Natalia spoke, she walked towards the car.

Probably because they moved away in a hurry, a lot of things were left here, including some abandoned vehicles.

This place was remote, and everyone knew that it was the territory of the Dragon Club, so no one dared to steal them.

Natalia easily opened the car door. After checking the car, she was surprised to find that this assembled racing car was not bad enough to be useless.

She repaired several parts herself, and then got into the car and lit the engine.

The engine of the car buzzed. Natalia smiled happily and waved at Archie, who was sitting in a wheelchair not far away.

"Let's go to the back of the mountain. I show it to you."

Archie didn't object. Although he hadn't seen Natalia racing car, he knew that she was skillful and knew what to do.

Natalia had been staying at home all this time, so she was probably very depressed. If she could take this opportunity to relax, it was good.

Therefore, they went to the track of the back mountain.

Natalia first made the car warm up for a while, then put on the helmet, giving a proud look to the three people standing aside, and then stepped on the gas pedal.

The car buzzed and drove out like an arrow.

Natalia practiced for several years in the racing-car club, so her driving skills were very good.

Since Natalia won Nathan in the racing competition last time, according to the agreement, Nathan needed to often go to the racing-car club to guide others on behalf of Natalia.

This was a secret between her and Nathan. Even when Nathan learned that she was Archie's wife, he still kept his promise and did not reveal this secret.

Natalia admired Nathan from the bottom of her heart.

On the wide driveway, the blue car drew a smooth line in the air like the wind, which was exciting and pleasing.

The lane was very large, extending from one side of the mountain to the other side.

To facilitate training, the Dragon Club almost bought the whole mountain.

Natalia drove around the outermost track for a whole circle before she felt a little satisfied.

In the end, the car stopped steadily in front of Archie.

Natalia got out of the car and took off her helmet. Her slightly curly maroon hair raised a beautiful arc with her smiling red lips and shining eyes.

"Is my driving skill good?"

Before Archie speak, Nancy and Brian already clapped excitedly.

"That's great. I've never seen anyone who can drive so well. It's amazing!"

Nancy also echoed, "Yes, I used to think that Natalia was good at business, but I didn't expect that she was so good at car racing. I was stunned just now."

Natalia raised her eyebrows and looked at them, "You can continue to brag. No one laughs at you."

When Natalia saw through their flattery, Brian and Nancy immediately rubbed their noses awkwardly.

At that moment, Archie clapped his hands.

He said with a smile, "It's really good. In international competitions, your technology can rank the top five."

Natalia raised her eyebrows proudly, "Of course, don't you know who I am?"

Natalia's proud look immediately made Archie chuckle.

Brian and Nancy were used to seeing her calm. It was the first time that they saw Natalia so proud. They couldn't help laughing.

Then, Natalia continued to take them to other places.

She pointed in the direction of the canteen and said, "That's where we used to eat. At that time, we had a lot of training every day, so when it was time to eat, everyone rushed there desperately.

I joined Dragon Club late, so although I was older than them, I was the junior. At first, I was too embarrassed to compete with them, but later I gradually found something wrong.

If you didn't grab food, you wouldn't have enough to eat, and then you wouldn't have enough strength to train in the afternoon, as a result, it was easy for you to do something wrong, so you would be punished. It was a sequential bad result.

In the end, I was not embarrassed and ran first every time when it was time to eat. "

As Natalia spoke, she went to the cafeteria and picked up a bowl. "Look, I could eat two bowls with this kind of bowls at that time."

Nancy and Brian couldn't help laughing when they heard that. They really couldn't imagine how gentle and elegant Natalia fought for food with a group of girls and young men.

They chatted and laughed together, but they didn't notice that Archie who had been silent all the time had a dark light flashing in his eyes.

As Natalia showed them around, she found that it was getting late. It was time for dinner.

Hence, they would return home.

However, at this moment, they saw a young woman in her thirties with a little girl of six or seven years old, coming out of an empty house.

The four of them were stunned. After all, this place had been abandoned for a long time. How could a woman show up with a child?

Natalia was also stunned. Her eyes fell on the suitcase in the woman's hand, and she was shocked.

She recognized the box, which had been used by Mr. K before.

The drawings and patterns on the suitcase were painted by Mr. K himself. One of his hobbies was painting. Whether it was the wall at home or the things he usually used, they were all painted with different colors.

Because of this, there would no longer be a second one that was exactly the same.

Natalia's fingers tightened slightly, and she was stunned there.

It was not until the woman and her daughter walked by that Natalia hurriedly said something.

"Wait."

The woman stopped and looked back at her in confusion.

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 456 A bit of Complexity

The woman was young and beautiful. However, she looked at Natalia coldly with no expression on her face.

The little girl tilted her head and looked at her curiously, as if she didn't understand what she wanted to do.

Natalia looked at them and felt her throat tighten. She had a lot to ask, but at this time, she couldn't say a word.

After a while, she asked softly, "Are you the family members of Mr. K?"

The woman was anxious for seconds, and there was a hint of vigilance in her eyes.

"Do you know Mr. K?"

"I..."

Natalia paused for a moment and then said, "I'm his friend. We used to compete for cars together..."

However, before she could finish her words, the woman got indifferent.

"So you're from the other party. What a coincidence! Chase us? Are you also trying to know something from me? Then lock us up and interrogate us?"

Natalia was stunned to get such an answer.

Then, she realized something and her eyes narrowed.

"You said someone was chasing you?"

The woman stared at her and sneered. "Don't play innocent. I don't believe any of you. I can't tell you anything!"

Natalia's face darkened.

"Sis, maybe you misunderstood. Although Mr. K and I used to be friends, I have already left the Dragon Club, so I don't know the specific situation there.

I know we are all sad about his death. I came to Othua this time to find out the truth, so if you have anything to know, please tell me.

Don't worry. I am not the person you have mentioned. I just want the truth of his death. I believe you think so, right?"

The woman looked at her coldly and did not speak for a while.

Seeing this, Nancy and Brian also walked up.

They all knew about Mr. K and how much effort Natalia had put into it.

Therefore, when they saw Mr. K's family members at this time, they hoped that she could tell them some useful clues, and it would be better for them to investigate it step by step.

Therefore, they said, "Well, Mrs. K, you can trust us. We come here just to find out the truth of your husband's death like you."

However, Mrs. K still did not say anything.

She just looked at them silently for a while, and the vigilance in her eyes gradually dissipated, but she didn't seem to trust them much.

"There's no need. You don't have to ask me anymore. I don't know anything. He's already dead. I just want to live a quiet life with my daughter and don't want to be disturbed by anyone. So just give up."

As she spoke, she took the little girl's hand and was about to leave.

Natalia hurriedly said.

"If you have any worries about your safety, I can guarantee your safety..."

The woman turned around and looked at her with a sarcastic smile.

"To ensure our safety? How? Do you know who the other party is?"

As Brian saw Natalia's tackle, he could not help but say coldly, "Since you know who they are, we can help you get rid of them? It's much safer than facing them alone."

Mrs. K was silent for a moment.

Then, she sneered.

"I won't tell you. If you really want to know, you can investigate by yourself. But considering that you are his friend, I advise you that he's dead. Even if you find out the truth, he will not be able to live.

"Don't make trouble instead of doing anything in the end. After all, you can't afford to offend someone."

After that, she no longer looked at anyone present and turned to leave.

Brian and Nancy were furious about her attitude.

"Natalia, we help her out of kindness. But her attitude..."

"Let her go."

Natalia frowned slightly, but there was not much expression on her face. After watching the mother and daughter leave, she turned back to Archie.

Archie saw everything that had happened just now.

At this time, seeing that there was no disappointment on her face, but only a deep sense of seriousness, he raised his eyebrows and asked, "What are you thinking?"

Natalia said in a deep voice, "I don't know why, but I always feel that this matter may be more complicated than we thought."

Archie didn't speak, but his eyes were full of inquiry.

Natalia sighed.

"I hope I'm overthinking. I just guess from her words. If this is really done by the Violet Group, she doesn't have to be so nervous to hide it. What I'm afraid of is that Mr. K may be involved in other forces. Then the situation will be complicated."

Archie didn't want her to worry too much, so he held her hand and said.

"Don't think too much. Let's go to the underground casino tomorrow and see what will happen."

Natalia nodded.

They were happy when they came out, but when they returned, they were all in a heavy mood.

After dinner, Archie's grandma sent a video call that Anne missed Natalia and wanted to have a video call with her. Hearing of this, Natalia got happy.

Anne is seven years old now. As her grandma takes good care of her, she is no longer as weak as before. She could play with her classmates at school every day.

Although Anne was still very young, there was a faint sense of beauty in her eyes. Her facial features had not yet fully developed. But it could be seen that she had a resemblance with Archie.

Natalia looked at her and laughed. Her joy and happiness couldn't be replaced by anything.

"Anne, have you ever been nice with your grandma during this time?"

Anne smiled and said, "Of course, Mommy. When you come back, I'll take you to hide bottles, okay?"

Anne's school had held an activity recently, asking them to write down their wishes and put them on the bottles, then hid them into the ground so as to let children remember their dreams one day.

Anne probably wanted to play with her again when Natalia returned home.

Natalia smiled and said, "Sometimes. When I come back, I will accompany you, okay?"

"Okay."

"What was Anne's wish last time?"

Anne blinked and said, "Mommy, it won't work if I tell you."

Natalia smiled that Anne took seriously.

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 457 Their Child

Natalia touched her belly and thought that she would have a cute child like Anne soon. She smiled sweetly.

"Anne, did grandma tell you that you are about to have a younger brother or sister?"

Anne became excited at the mention of this.

"I know. She says that Mommy and Daddy go out this time to choose younger brothers and sisters for me. When you come back, I can have a real one!"

Anne was a little curious.

"Mommy, where do you choose my brother or sister? Can I choose one I like?"

Hearing her words, Natalia did not know how to answer.

She laughed and said softly, "Anne, we cannot choose by ourselves. It is all arranged by God. No matter what kind of brother or sister they are, you will love them very much, right?"

"Of course."

Anne acted like an adult and said, "I am their sister. I'll take good care of them in the future and let them follow me. I'll take them out to play and buy them a lot of delicious food."

Natalia's heart softened when she heard the child's innocent and adorable words.

Just then, Anne's grandma walked over from behind in the video.

"Anne, it's getting late. Let your mommy rest. Let's talk next time, okay?"

Anne still wanted to chat with her mommy. But regarding her mother's health, she just nodded.

"Okay," Anne said.

She turned around and waved in the video.

"Mommy, I'm going to sleep. You also go to bed early."

Natalia curled her lips. "Okay, good night."

"Good night, Mommy."

Anne kissed the camera before hanging up.

After the video call ended, Nancy walked over from behind.

She handed a glass of milk to Natalia and said with a smile, "Have a video call with Anne? She misses you."

Natalia smiled. In fact, she also knew that Anne missed her very much. However, Anne was still accompanied by the family. If she did not come here, no one would help her.

Nancy rolled her eyes as if she had thought of something.

"Natalia, Anne is quite similar to you."

Natalia was stunned and said with a smile, "Nancy, you began to flatter others like this?"

Nancy shook her head innocently.

"Natalia, I'm not flattering you. I'm serious. Anne was still young before, so I didn't think much of it. Now she is growing up. If you look carefully, she is very similar to you."

Natalia couldn't help laughing.

"She must look like Archie. Although I'm her mother, I'm not related to her by blood. How can it be true?"

Nancy still wanted to say something but was interrupted by Natalia.

"Where's Archie?"

"Well, sir and Brian went out together and said that they were going to do something."

Natalia frowned.

"He has been out for more than half a day today. How can he still go out at night? Although the doctor said that he can walk properly now, he is still not fully recovered and weak. It's so cold outside. What if his wound gets worse?"

Nancy did not say anything. Natalia knew that she could not be blamed for this. Natalia frowned and could only stand up and walk to the window to wait.

Archie returned half an hour later.

It was November now, and Othua was in the north. Lanceham was already very cold.

From a distance, she saw a black car stop downstairs.

The man, dressed in a black coat, got out of the car with Brian and entered the gate downstairs.

Natalia heaved a sigh of relief and returned to the room.

Soon, Archie and Brian went home.

As soon as they entered the door, Natalia felt the cold air coming from them.

She quickly let Nancy take the clothes from them and asked, "Where have you been? It's so late and cold outside."

Archie glanced at her and was not in a hurry to say anything. Instead, he asked Brian and Nancy to rest first. There were only them left in the room. Archie said, "I let someone to investigate the woman we met during the day."

Natalia was stunned.

Archie looked at her with a gentle smile and pulled her to sit down on the sofa.

"Aren't you worried? Rather than thinking about it all the time, it's better to find out and make yourself at ease."

The air condition was on in the room while the man's hand was still a little cold. Natalia felt inexplicably moved.

She quickly sniffed and suppressed her emotions.

"Then what did you find?"

"There is indeed a group of people who have been following her, but they are not from the Violet Group. We don't know who they are, but we can roughly guess that they must have something to do with the death of your friend, Mr. K."

Natalia shook.

She didn't know what this meant, but she suddenly felt anxious.

Just then, Archie suddenly sneezed.

Natalia's eyelids twitched. She quickly smoothed his back and stood up to pour him a cup of water.

"Are you OK? Is something wrong?"

Archie shook his head.

"It's okay. Maybe it's windy outside and I catch a cold after a while."

Then he drank a few mouthfuls of water.

Natalia felt that his face was extremely pale, even worse than this afternoon, so she touched his forehead.

Natalia just knew that he had a fever and his forehead was very hot.

Natalia was worried.

"Why don't you tell me that you have a fever? I'll call the doctor right away."

Then she stood up to call the doctor.

However, before she moved, Archie grabbed her wrist and pulled her into his arms.

Natalia suddenly became anxious.

"Archie, stop. You're still seriously injured and having a fever!"

Archie chuckled.

He held her in his arms and let her sit on his lap. He lowered his head slightly and got closer to her. His warm big hand covered her belly.

"No hurry, the doctor can see any time. Let me see our child first."

As he spoke, he bent down and put his ear on her belly.

Natalia didn't know whether to laugh or cry at his action, so she could only hold his head in such a posture.

Archie listened for a while and didn't hear anything. He frowned.

"Nothing happens?"

Natalia rolled her eyes.

"Do you think children can move as soon as they are born? It's only been more than two months, and they don't even have a baby heart. We could hear the sound in baby's five or six months."

Chapter 458 He Wants Have Sex.

Archie nodded.

Natalia was worried about his body and did not want to waste time seeing a doctor. Then he stood up.

"Sit and don't leave. I'll call the doctor."

This time, Archie did not refuse.

The doctor soon came over. He had a fever. Fortunately, the temperature was not too high.

Because he was injured, he couldn't take medicine randomly, so the doctor only prescribed some mild antipyretics for him. Then he asked Natalia to take some methods at midnight to make his body cool him down physically. Then the doctor left.

Therefore, this night, Natalia was busy.

Archie held her hand and said, "Let Brian do it. You can rest for a while."

But Natalia shook her head.

No matter how careful Brian was, he was still a man after all. There were some things that he cannot do, either. Besides, Brian had been working hard so that he didn't have a rest.

Natalia didn't say it. She just smiled and said, "Think I cannot take care of you?"

Archie knew that she was joking, so he just chuckled and said, "I prefer you to serve me on the bed."

Natalia froze.

Then she glared at him.

"No way!"

Although he had been injured like this, he still wanted to have sex.

Archie loved her so pettish scold very much that he really wanted to make love now.

He narrowed his eyes and said in a low and soft voice.

"Honey."

"Hmm?"

"Come on."

Natalia was slack-jawed.

Seeing that she didn't speak, Archie held her hand and put her under his body.

"Honey..."

Natalia's face was instantly red.

His warm hand made her a little angry and powerless.

Natalia could only stare at him.

"Archie, stop..."

His body couldn't stand such a big torment, and she was still pregnant.

It was the most important time for the first several months. She couldn't make any mistakes because of it.

Archie knew this, so he just chuckled and said, "What are you thinking? I just want you to lie down with me. You make me misunderstand that you actually want it, too."

Natalia was stunned. She couldn't believe that such shameless words came from his mouth.

She was so angry that she threw the towel on him and said angrily, "Archie, if you continue to act like this, I won't help you!"

Archie smiled deeply, and he still pulled her to the bed.

"Then come up quickly. I won't do it."

Natalia was extremely depressed.

She wanted to refuse, but when she saw the man's pitiful look, she couldn't say anything.

Archie looked at her with grievance. "Honey, I just want to hug you. Can't you satisfy me?"

As he spoke, he blinked his eyes pitifully.

Natalia was slack-jawed.

Forget it. This man is a president outside. Sometimes he is really like a child.

Natalia threw his hand away, rolled his eyes, and said, "Wait."

Later she came back. She put the water beside him and then lay down beside him, leaning against the bed to cool him down.

Archie also knew that their current situation was not suitable for sex, so he was very satisfied now.

So Archie hugged her waist and stopped talking. He just put his head on her body and smelled the familiar and fresh fragrance. Then he only felt relaxed.

However, he felt comfortable, but Natalia was not.

She pushed his head and said, "Archie McCarthy, don't lie here. It's not convenient for me."

However, the man did not move.

After a while, a muffled voice came. "Then I won't apply it."

Natalia frowned.

"No, you're still burning. You have to apply it all the time before the fever goes down."

As he spoke, he pushed him away.

Archie McCarthy frowned and was a little unhappy, but he still let go of her. However, when he looked at her, he couldn't help complaining.

Natalia was so angry that he laughed.

"Who asked you to run out without saying a word? Don't you know what's going on with you? How can you be unhappy now? What right do you have to be unhappy?"

As he spoke, he gently tapped his nose.

The man's facial features were good-looking, and his nose was tall and straight. Natalia had never found him before, so it was quite interesting to light him like this.

However, it was unknown when the man's eyes gradually became a little dangerous.

"Natalia."

"Hmm?"

"I suddenly found a way not to delay your treatment, but to get down to business."

Natalia was stunned. When she realized what had happened, her eyes widened in shock. She subconsciously wanted to push the man away, but she heard the man's sexy groan.

"Don't move. Be good. My husband will be fine soon."

Natalia was speechless.

She shouldn't have agreed to lie on the bed!

After a farce, maybe it was because he was really not feeling well, or maybe it was because he was satisfied after he succeeded, and his body and mind relaxed, the man finally fell asleep.

Natalia came out of the bathroom and looked at the man sleeping soundly on the bed. Thinking of his bad behavior just now, she was furious.

She raised her hand and grabbed a pillow, wanting to throw it over. However, when her eyes fell on his peaceful sleeping face, she suddenly softened her heart.

The light in the bedroom was very dim. The orange light sprinkled down from not far away, making the outline of his face more and more beautiful. The other half of his face was half-hidden in the darkness, which made him look deeper and more beautiful.

Natalia pouted with dissatisfaction.

She was a monster who only knew how to use her beauty to confuse her.

But she still couldn't bear to wake him up. Natalia reached out to touch his forehead and miraculously found that after a lot of mischiefs, the temperature on his body dropped a lot.

She couldn't help but be speechless for a moment, feeling that she was laughing and crying.

However, perhaps this was the reason why the man was sweating just now.

She was not sleepy, so she wrung a hot towel to wipe his body and then fell asleep.

That night, Natalia had a dream.

In her dream, she was standing on the boat in the breeze. The afterglow of the setting sun shone on the sea surface, casting a huge golden disk on it.

Chapter 459 the Promise of Eight Lives

The ship flew past and the disk was smashed into pieces by the waves.

The sun shone on his face, and the breeze brushed his face, making him feel extremely comfortable and comfortable.

However, at this moment, a huge force came from behind.

She widened her eyes in horror, and her whole body fell down like a kite with a broken string. The golden sunset pierced her eyes, and she could not see the situation on the deck clearly. She could only vaguely see a figure wrapped in golden light.

With a "plop", she fell heavily into the sea. The seawater poured into her ears, nose, and throat, making her almost faint.

Suddenly, something grabbed her wrist.

Someone lifted her up by the waist and lifted her up forcefully.

Natalia struggled to open her eyes and saw a familiar figure. The overwhelming seawater blurred his facial features, but she still saw the person in front of her clearly.

How could it be Archie McCarthy?

She opened her mouth to let him go, but as soon as she opened her mouth, endless seawater poured in.

The strong bitterness poured into her throat, making her feel nauseous and unable to say anything.

She could only hold the hand on her waist and shake her head desperately at him.

No! Leave her alone! Let's go!

However, the other party remained unmoved.

He looked at her firmly, as if he would not let go of anything.

He dragged her upstream bit by bit. Just as she was about to swim to the surface of the sea, a huge wave suddenly rolled over.

She only felt a huge force coming from her chest. The sky was spinning, and then a fishy sweet smell spread out from her mouth.

The strong hand that was dragging her waist loosened. She looked down in horror and saw that the man was swept away by the sea in the dim light.

He widened his eyes in horror and wanted to reach out to grab him, but the man had already drifted far away. Even if she tried her best, she could not catch him.

She could only helplessly watch him being swept away by the sea. As the light became darker and darker, he fell into bottomless darkness.

"Ah!"

Natalia exclaimed and suddenly woke up.

She sat up from the bed, panting heavily and sweating all over.

The room was very quiet. There was no other sound except for the extremely light sound from the corner and the uniform breathing of the man beside her.

She closed her eyes in fear. When she opened them again, she was sure that the scene in front of her was right. She had just had a nightmare.

Perhaps because she had made too much noise, the man next to her was still woken up by her. He stretched out his arm to hold her waist, and his voice still had a hint of sleepiness.

"What's wrong? Are you dreaming?"

Natalia took a long breath and whispered, "It's okay."

Archie McCarthy opened his eyes and looked at her quietly in the darkness.

Sensing that something was wrong with her mood, she slowly sat up and held her in her arms.

"Don't be afraid. I'm here."

Natalia leaned against his chest and thought of the scene in his dream. He didn't know why, but even though he knew it was a dream, he felt that the scene was so familiar as if he had experienced it before.

A huge sense of fear enveloped her, causing her to fall into a state of panic.

She held the man's clothes tightly and whispered, "Archie McCarthy."

"Hmm?"

"Do you think we knew each other a long time ago?"

The people around him seemed to freeze for a moment.

After a long silence, no one spoke.

In the darkness, a pair of calm and complicated eyes looked at her. However, Natalia was only trapped in his emotions and did not notice at all.

She just said to herself, "Do you know? In fact, from the first time I saw you, I always felt that you look very familiar, as if I had seen you somewhere before."

Archie McCarthy's eyes darkened slightly and he said, "Did you remember something?"

Natalia shook his head.

She suddenly raised her face and looked at him innocently. "Archie McCarthy, do you think we would be together in our previous lives? Because we didn't get along well enough, we made an appointment to be together in this life. That's why I felt familiar when I first saw you."

Archie McCarthy was stunned. He was speechless and didn't know whether to laugh or cry.

However, he could not bear to expose such a beautiful idea. He just nodded and said softly, "Well, because I haven't loved you enough in the past, I will continue to love you in this life. Not only in this life, but also in the next life, we will continue to be together in the next eight lives. So, Mrs. McCarthy, I have made a reservation in your next eight lives. Are you willing to agree to this agreement?"

Natalia looked into his eyes in a daze. There was so much affection in his deep eyes. Even though there was not much light between them, he could clearly sense his intention.

She smiled slowly. The fear in her heart finally dissipated a little because of the man's words.

She put her head close to his chest, wrapped her arms around his waist, and said firmly, "I promise you that we will be together for the next eight lives. You have to be responsible for coming to me. If you can't find me, I will make you suffer."

Archie McCarthy chuckled and nodded.

"Okay, I'll come to you."

The two of them hugged each other and rested for a while. Natalia picked up the phone and checked the time. In fact, it was getting late.

At six o'clock in the morning.

She was no longer sleepy, so she let go of him and said, "You can sleep for a while. I'll get up and walk around."

Unexpectedly, Archie McCarthy shook his head.

"No, I've slept enough."

Last night, the two of them played for a while and finally fell asleep early. Seeing this, Natalia did not say anything more.

After getting up and washing up, she asked Nancy Mayes and Brian Simpson to rest, so she did not disturb them.

Natalia checked Archie McCarthy's temperature and found that he had completely returned to normal. He only needed to wait until eight o'clock in the morning when the nurse came in to change his dressing.

Seeing that he was in a good state, the two of them went downstairs together. They wandered around the lawn downstairs for a while and took a breath of fresh air.

He didn't return to his room until 8 p.m.

After the nurse came to change Archie McCarthy's dressing, Nancy Mayes walked in from outside.

"Chairman, Mrs. McCarthy, there's news over there. Gunner will be here at 3 o'clock this afternoon."

Natalia nodded. "Okay, go arrange it. We'll go there together in the afternoon."

Nancy Mayes nodded in agreement and turned to leave.

Not long after she left, she didn't expect Charlie Peck to come.

Charlie Peck returned two days ago. After dealing with some things, he returned to Othua.

Natalia was surprised to see him and said, "Didn't you say you were going back? Why did you come back so soon?"

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 460 Crisis

When Charlie Peck went back, he only told them that he had business to deal with, but he didn't say that it was a private matter.

So he just said lightly, "It's done. I came here before I finished my work here."

He paused and looked at Archie McCarthy.

"How is it? Is there any news over there?"

Archie McCarthy glanced at him and said in a low voice, "It's three o'clock this afternoon."

Charlie Peck frowned. "Three o'clock in the afternoon?"

He thought for a moment and said, "I'll go with you then."

Hearing this, Natalia subconsciously wanted to refuse. Although Victoria Kaur had told her in advance, she was still unwilling to trouble Charlie Peck.

Unexpectedly, before she could say no, Archie McCarthy nodded and agreed. "Okay."

She glanced at Archie McCarthy. Since he had agreed, she naturally took back her refusal silently.

Since they had agreed to go there together at 3 p.m., Charlie Peck did not stay here for long.

After making an appointment to wait for him to come, they left soon.

After Charlie Peck left, Natalia asked in confusion, "Why did you ask him to go with us?"

Archie McCarthy held her hand and said lightly, "This is The Stevenson family's territory after all. Charlie Peck is the future heir of The Stevenson family. This area will belong to him sooner or later.

"Although there is no problem for us to go to the Dragon Casino, you are still pregnant, so we can avoid some trouble."

Natalia thought for a while and knew that he was considering his own safety. So she agreed without saying anything.

At three o'clock in the afternoon, Charlie Peck arrived as promised. The five of them drove out together.

When they arrived at the Dragon Casino, with the help of Zeki Kylee, they soon saw the legendary scar-faced man.

Perhaps Zeki Kylee had told him in advance that Natalia wanted to see him, so Zeki Kylee was not surprised to see them. He just sat in the chair and looked at them leisurely.

"Heh, you're a rare guest. Not only is the young master of The Stevenson family here, but even Mr. McCarthy is also here. The Dragon Casino is honored to meet so many honored guests today."

Obviously, before they came, the scar-faced man had already figured out their identities and backgrounds.

After all, this was Othua, and the other party was from the Violet Group, so it was not strange for Natalia and others to do such a thing.

The group of people sat down on the sofa. Charlie Peck was used to being straightforward, so he did not talk nonsense with him.

He said in a deep voice, "Since you know us, you should know that what we want to do is not something you can solve. Ask the person behind you to come out and see us."

Gunner narrowed his eyes and smiled meaningfully.

"You're making things difficult for me. I'm the one who runs this casino. There's no one behind it. I'm afraid that Mr. Stevenson went to the wrong place to find the one behind it."

"Don't talk nonsense with me!"

Seeing that Charlie Peck was about to get angry, Archie McCarthy stopped him.

There was no extra expression on his face. He just looked at the scar-faced man calmly and said in a flat tone.

"We want to see the Violet Group."

The scar-faced man glanced at him and frowned slightly.

"I don't understand what you're talking about."

"Oh, it seems that you need us to play some tricks to understand?"

Charlie Peck's voice became colder and colder. The scar-faced man had gotten used to it. How could he withstand his repeated provocation?

He got angry and said coldly, "Although The Stevenson family is very powerful in Othua, it's not as if they can dominate the world with their own hands. I'm afraid it won't be that easy for Mr. Stevenson to kill me."

However, as soon as he finished speaking, a figure flashed past his eyes. The next second, his hands were lifted up and carried behind his back. There was a click.

Nancy Mayes's cold voice came from behind her ear.

"Do you still think it's not easy now?"

The scar-faced man didn't expect that they would really start a fight without saying a word. His face suddenly changed.

For a moment, he was angry and scared.

"What do you want to do? I warn you, this is the Dragon Casino. Even if you hurt me now, I can't get out of here."

Archie McCarthy glanced at him indifferently.

There was obviously no expression on his face, but the scar-faced man saw the sharpness and coldness like the cold blade in his eyes.

"Since we dare to come today, we naturally have something to rely on. So you don't have to doubt our courage. However, for your sake, Violet Group is willing to be enemies with the McCarthy family and The Stevenson family. That's what you should consider."

The scar-faced man's face instantly turned pale.

He could tell that Archie McCarthy really had the strength and courage to kill him if he took it seriously.

After a moment of silence, he looked at the people opposite him and said coldly, "What are you looking for him for?"

Natalia said coldly, "It has nothing to do with you. You just need to tell us where he is."

The scar-faced man frowned.

After a while, he gritted his teeth and said, "I don't know."

"Ha!"

Nancy Mayes laughed coldly and held his wrist tightly.

The scar-faced man's face suddenly turned pale, and he was in so much pain that he was almost sweating.

"I really don't know. People like us seem to be in charge of a region, but in fact, they are just minions who work for them. They can't hear their whereabouts at all. If you really don't believe me, you can send someone to wait here. As for when you can do that, it's not up to me to decide."

Everyone knew that he was telling the truth, so they did not make things difficult for him.

"Okay, we'll believe you this time. I hope you didn't lie to us."

As she spoke, they stood up.

"We'll be leaving today, but there's one more thing I need to trouble you with. If someone from the Violet Group comes, tell him that he'll understand if Yvonne Kawn's old friends come looking for him."

The scar-faced man frowned, seemingly puzzled.

However, Charlie Peck, who was standing next to him, blinked his eyes slightly.

The scar-faced man asked, "Who is Yvonne Kawn?"

Natalia looked calm.

"You don't need to know. Just bring me the message."

After the group of people finished their tasks, they did not intend to stay any longer and turned to walk out.

The scar-faced man did not stop them. After seeing the group of people leave, he breathed a sigh of relief.

On the other side, as soon as Natalia and Archie McCarthy walked out of the Dragon Casino, they saw a black Maybach stop not far away.

The door opened and four bodyguards got out first. Then, a middle-aged man got out of the car surrounded by the crowd.

When they saw him, their eyes narrowed.

Pierre Lafayette?

Pierre Lafayette clearly saw them and walked over with a smile on his face.

"I haven't seen you for a while. I didn't expect to meet you in a foreign country. It's fate. You don't have to leave so early today. Since you're here, why don't you sit a little longer? What do you think?"
