

President's Sweet Wife

Chapter 7 Get Married

She couldn't help gasping for air.

"Marriage?"

Us?"

This... is impossible!

I was drunk last night. This certificate is not valid!"

Archie sneered towards her.

"You signed it when you wanted to have sex with me. How can you deny it now?"

Natalia silenced.

...

"Ah!"

He sneered again with gird.

Natalia stuck for a while, before letting out a word, "Marriage should be agreed by both parties. How could you blame me for all the faults?"

She wouldn't be able to get through this without his permission.

Unexpectedly, Archie unbuckled the shirt the next second.

"I know you wouldn't admit, and that's why I save the evidence."

Along with Archie's action, Natalia saw the love bites and scratches all over his delicate clavicle.

It was clear how intensive last night was!

She just wanted to run away in shame!

She was just having a transient happiness with sex, but it turned out to be playing with fire!

By the ardent reminder from Archie, Natalia finally remembered how enthusiastic she was. She flushed with shame.

"I'm sorry!

I didn't mean that. How about this?

I will pay the compensation for how much you want. Can we just...not get married?"

Archie turned a gloomy eye towards her and her respond.

"Compensation?"

Okay!

Brian."

"Yes."

Brian walked up with an IPAD in his hand. Archie wrote down a couple number and placed it in front of Natalia.

"This is the Forbes Billionaires List published last month. Someone is willing to pay 30 billion for having sex with our president. Check it out."

Natalia freaked out.

She took a glance over and saw the harsh look of Archie in the photo. His fierce eyes seemed to pop out and puncture her.

She gulped unconsciously.

"You mean, I need to pay 30 billion for compensation?"

"Yes."

Natalia felt to be trapped right at the moment.

She turned a suspicious look towards Archie with pupils shrank. He seemed to look familiar.

By checking out the name on both the iPad and marriage certificate.

Ar...ch...ie

Archie????!!

Wow!

Wow!

Natalia almost jumped up by astonishment.

It was Archie who she was familiar with?

The heir of Mccarthy consortium, president of the Mccarthy Group. He was the resident star on Forbes Billionaire List. There was rumor that he was fabulously wealthy with a mysterious family background.

He started the business of Annita International several years ago. It only took two years for him to take over half of the market share. That was a miracle.

Natalia was silent for a moment.

At first, she thought 30 billions was too much for compensation. Now that she knew who Archie was. He deserved this much undoubtedly.

Natalia asked carefully, "Then... can we negotiate a little, to change the way of compensation?"

Archie lifted up his brows with a pale look

"What?"

"I can't afford 30 billion."

"Then there's nothing to negotiate."

Archie was apparently upset. Brian quickly collect the certificates and document, and left respectfully.

Natalia was about to say something before noticing the frosty expression on Archie's face. She didn't speak it out.

Archie left the word gelidly.

"You have three days to sweep the past. I will pick you up after that. You will stay here in the future."

Natalia failed to shed a tear.

She knew that it was useless to fight back, so she corrected herself.

"Can we extend a couple of days longer?"

Archie sneered with laughter.

"Ah!"

Natalia silenced.

...

...

Brian was waiting for her outside the Mccarthy mansion.

He politely opened the door of a grey Maserati

"I will drive you back, Miss Natalia."

Natalia cracked a wry smile, "Not necessary. I will get a taxi."

"This is the command from Archie."

On hearing that, Natalia lowered her eyes and got on the car depressingly.

She stayed in a one bedroom apartment in downtown, easy to commute with a great location. The space was enough for her.

When getting back, Natalia sank in the sofa with an empty mind.

Everything came one after another from last night. She didn't even have time to think about it. All she did was to solve them by the light of nature. But now, a sense of tiredness hit her when she got completely relaxed.

She typed in "Archie" in her laptop on the desk

His name.

A vast amount of information popped up. She became more and more disappointed by seeing them.

Now that she knew how extraordinary Archie was, she was still distressed by his profiles online.

She dared not to irritate him!

Not to mention the precious identity, his authority and wealth could already terrify her.

He tried to marry her?

This was ridiculous.

But she wasn't much surprised. Even being trapped, she had nothing to lose at all.

Moreover, she still had three days left.

Maybe Archie would regret after three days!

Just keep under observation and see what would happen next.

Natalia was no longer entangled by thinking of that.

She didn't work on Saturday. After changing a different outfit, she walked directly towards the shop.

The sex toys shop was in downtown as well. It only took her five minutes to get there on foot.

She rented it two years ago and decorated with all kinds of sex toys.

By the time the business started, she hired a staff to look after it, with herself being busy for other works. She came over and made an inspection tour when available.

While the shop assistant was called off these days, she now had to arrange everything by herself.

Even Shawn looked down on her business, but she never agreed on that. She didn't violate the law by making a living with that. How could it be a humble job?

There was no doubt that the business was sometimes a little inconvenient for a girl, but it earned excessive profit for sure.

She made a huge profit to get her house and a considerable saving.

But now she lost everything but the money, which was the most important stuff for her at this time.

Due to the breakup with Shawn, she had to get a job rather than working under the Miller Group anymore.

By thinking of that, Natalia walked out vacillatingly and dialed a number.