

Sweetheart 101

Chapter 101

Kathy was so angry that she replied every single comment that insulted Joseph.

All the way until they reached the old mansion, Kathy was still pressing on her mobile phone, her hands were getting tired but she didn't notice.

When Joseph had done parking the car, he turned around and saw Kathy gritting her teeth in anger. Compared to her usual quiet character, she looked quite cute when she got angry.

He smirked and suddenly held her hands, "It seems like Mrs. Joseph cares about me a lot."

Kathy was blurred, only then she realized that they were already home.

"I just can't stand to see this!" She said and put down her phone.

But she didn't realize that Joseph had already leaned towards her.

When she raised her head, Joseph's face was only a few millimetres away.

She almost kissed him.

Her cheeks flushed, she pushed his chest, "I'm getting off the car."

"There's no rush." He held her hand again and kissed her lips.

"Mrs. Joseph, come out with me." Joseph held her hand gently, and asked Angela not to stay inside as well as it was too dusty.

John and a few bodyguards soon came over to clean up the house, but the house was almost empty.

Everything was gone.

"Mom, it's okay, you still have me. We can renovate the house, didn't you keep talking about renovating the house before?" Kathy pretended to be strong and reassured Angela.

Angela sighed, this house was all she had.

Everything that happened today was far beyond her tolerance range.

"Daughter, I fail to protect our home." Angela hugged Kathy, the guilt and pain in her heart made her unable to calm down for a long time.

Joseph pursed his lips coldly, and instructed the bodyguards to take care of the scene, the renovation team would be here tomorrow.

Since Angela had no place to stay, she would temporarily stay at Joseph's house.

As the car slowly drove into the luxurious villa area, Angela's expression finally softened a bit.

The maid quickly cleaned up the guest room, and Angela slept early as she was drained out from what happened today.

Joseph was making arrangements for the renovation of the house, and he let Kathy to decide for the design details.

“Joseph, I owe you again, the renovation expenses aren’t cheap, right?” Kathy sighed helplessly.

She probably couldn’t get back her pay card for the rest of her life.

“You can pay the debt with your body.” Joseph suddenly hugged her slender waist, his lips curved with a deep smile.

Kathy shuddered, Joseph lowered his head and kissed her lips when he finished his words. Kathy was forced to the balcony by him.

Kathy frowned, not yet understanding the meaning behind his words.

Kathy was blushing when Joseph let go of her.

“I still choose to pay back the money properly,” Kathy said with a deep voice.

“You still have to pay for the interest.” Joseph narrowed his eyes.

Kathy felt like she was completely under Joseph’s control.

“How much is the interest?” Kathy whined.

When Joseph came down, the breakfast was already served on the table, they were all ordinary Chinese breakfast, porridge, deep-fried dough stick and buns.

Compared to Joseph's family usual western-style breakfast, this seemed to be too ordinary.

Not sure whether Joseph could eat it or not...

Kathy sat down and was relieved when she saw Joseph acting as usual.

She tore the dough stick into small pieces and put into Joseph's bowl, "Eat together with the porridge, it's delicious."

Joseph looked up, he soaked the dough stick in the porridge and took a bite, it was soft and crispy.

"You like to eat this?" Joseph asked.

"Yes, the dough stick is her favourite, but she doesn't like to eat porridge, she will only eat the porridge with the dough stick." Angela sat down, the love in her eyes couldn't be concealed.

"Auntie's cooking skill is very good." Joseph praised.

"I know right, that's why I can raise a pretty and healthy daughter!" Angela had never been so proud of herself.

Kathy smiled, "Mom, I was born beautiful."

Kathy chased after Angela when she saw her going upstairs and packing her stuff, "Mom, Joseph will look into it, please don't be angry."

"I'm not angry, daughter, you also go home with me, those people here have sticky fingers. How can they take good care of you? You better go home with me and let me take care of you instead!" Angela's anger spiked and she dragged Kathy to leave.

Joseph stepped forward, his eyebrows knitted, "Mom, I promised Kathy that I would take care of you for this period, it's my fault, please give me one more chance, I promise something like this won't happen again."

Kathy was stunned as this was the first time she heard Joseph apologizing.

He was such an arrogant and mighty person, and he was always held in high esteem at all time, now his attitude was so humble.

But Angela wasn't moved, "No next time, although our house is small, at least our life is simple and comfortable, there's not much trouble like these!"

"Mom, if you're not comfortable with it, I'll take you to the hotel first, but Kathy is my wife, we have to live together."

"Kathy, you say, you want to stay here or go with me?" Angela looked at her daughter.

Kathy frowned, her mother had suffered a lot recently, so she wanted to spend more time with her mother.

"Kathy, who's here?" Angela's voice came out from the kitchen.

As soon as Joseph came in, he smelled the fragrance of the food, and his eyebrows softened even more.

"It's Joseph."

They sat down on the sofa, and Joseph wanted to help out in the kitchen, but he was held back by Kathy, "My mom doesn't like to be disturbed by others when she is cooking."

"I just want to see if there's anything I can help."

Kathy was surprised as Joseph was always very polite towards Angela.

"Just sit down, my mum probably expected you'll be here and cooked a lot of food."

Although Angela had hot tempered, her anger waned like a fast-moving storm.

Joseph smirked, and lowered down his head to kiss Kathy. She subconsciously looked at the kitchen, although the door was closed, Angela might come out at any time.

"Don't..."She pressed against his approaching thin lips with her finger. Joseph narrowed his eyes and bit her fingertips.

When they came out, Kathy was still in a very shocked state.

The price of every single antique inside was stated, almost all of them cost above hundred million, the Joseph's family was really...super rich.

Looking at Joseph, she wanted to ask about his parents to know more about him and the Joseph's family, but then she realized that the gap between her and Joseph was the one that was truly unreachable.

She went back to her room, and Joseph was in the study room. Kathy chatted for a while with Alexia on the phone, Alexia was sick, so Kathy planned to visit her on the next day.

After hanging up the phone, she clicked on the pop-up news and browsed, her line of sight paused on a news title.

The Herbert's family officially announced to sever the marriage relationship with the Champ's family.

Was it because of Herbert's miscarriage?

Kathy frowned, recalling Herbert's accusations, she couldn't help but feel guilty.

At the same time, the Herbert's Group also announced the dismissal of Peter's position as the President. Only then Kathy realized that the Herbert's Group had suffered a great loss, and was even on the verge of bankruptcy.

Unless they got finance support from others, it would be difficult for them to continue to survive.

He clasped the back of her head and pressed her down, with his dark eyes revealing his desire.

Kathy's heart raced, such gaze...was so familiar.

"I'm tired, I'm going to sleep!" Kathy immediately turned her back.

But it's impossible for her to resist Joseph, Joseph grabbed her into his arms effortlessly, their gazes met.

"Joseph..." She called him softly, trying to stop him.

This soft voice made Joseph pause, and the next second, he kissed her passionately, all the way down...

The sunlight shone warmly, Kathy was sore all over, she had a date with Alexia in the afternoon. Joseph wasn't around when she woke up.

He shouldn't have to go to the hospital today as it was weekend.

She went downstairs to have her breakfast, and her phone rang.

"Mrs. Joseph, I have to attend a neurology conference today, I'll be back this afternoon."

"I'm going out too, I may be back at night." She hadn't seen Alexia for quite a long time, so they probably going to chat for a long time.

Kathy suddenly paused, but the knocking on the door didn't stop, it was very annoying.

She had guessed that it was Johnson.

"If it's inconvenient, I'll go home first." Kathy spoke.

But Alexia pulled her back, "No, I don't want to see him, I'll feel even sick."

At that moment, Alexia's phone rang, it was from Johnson.

She turned off her phone straight away.

There was no more movement outside the door, but Alexia was actually a bit disappointed.

"Kathy, I'm going to take a nap, do you want to go home first? I'll be fine." Alexia said when she looked Kathy looked at her phone and called Joseph.

He didn't pick it up, he should still be busy.

She didn't know where he was having his meeting, so she could only go home on her own.

"Remember to eat the porridge in the kitchen when you wake up, I put the medicine on the bedside

"Does Peter have any moves lately?"
"I'm sorry, I can't find out anything about him." John frowned in embarrassment.
Joseph narrowed his eyes, his tone was extremely cold, "This week, no matter what, I want to know his whereabouts."
At the moment, the phone beside him rang, he restrained his cold tone. His tone was gentle when he picked up the phone, "Mm?"
"Joseph, I'm going home, you don't have to come to pick me up."
"Where are you?" Joseph asked.
"Waiting for the bus."
"Go hang out at the nearby mall and wait for me." Joseph didn't give her the space to refute.

“Okay.” Kathy walked to the mall across the street after hanging up the phone.

It was the mall’s anniversary and there were discounts everywhere.

In the past, it was always Alexia who brought her over to do the shopping, and Kathy’s spending behaviour was almost influenced by her.

But now that she was alone, she had no idea where to shop.

She stopped in front of a men’s clothing shop, the sapphire blue shirt worn on the male model at the entrance caught her eyes.
