Chapter 111

Joseph held her hand as they walked out of the shop, but they weren't walking towards the exit of the mall.

Kathy looked at him all puzzled, "I thought we are going back."

"Are you hungry?" asked Joseph.

Kathy's stomach growled at the very moment, she made some porridge for Alexia but she didn't eat anything.

Joseph smiled plainly, he led her to a western restaurant with a terrace.

They had never eaten out together before, now that they were walking through the crowds in the mall towards the restaurant hand in hand, it felt like they were on a date.

A date with Joseph. It felt so out of place yet she was looking forward to it.

The view from the restaurant was terrific, the French windows made it possible to see the river that was flowing through City N, the scenery was stunning.

Kathy felt a bit unnatural. There was candlelight on the dining table and it made it feel even more like a date because of the candlelight dinner.

As usual, Joseph was calm and quiet, he ordered some dishes and proceeded to pour Kathy some wine.

"Thank you," she pursed her lips. In the flicker of the candlelight, the man looked handsome and mysterious.

"Do you like it here?" asked the man.

"Of course I do, it feels

"Well, I can be really scary if I go on a shopping spree," Kathy said jokingly.

Though she didn't really have to buy anything as there were tons of clothes, shoes and handbags lying around at home. They were more than enough.

"Really? Let me test it out." Upon finishing his sentence, Joseph brought her into a jewellery shop.

Kathy was baffled, the shop assistant immediately came over and greeted them, in front of Kathy were rows and rows of the diamond necklaces.

"I don't need them." Kathy tried to drag Joseph away. She owed him way too much money, how could she ask for more?

But Joseph was overbearing about it, he wasn't going to change his mind. Hence, Kathy walked around the store, she didn't pick out anything even though she did lay her eyes on a few items.

Joseph squinted, he glimpsed at Kathy and he saw that she was unenthusiastic about the whole matter. He felt slightly irritated.

"Bring me the products of the month with the latest design. I'll take all of them." Joseph said abruptly.

Kathy's eyes were now wide open, the shop assistant diligently brought over the latest set of necklaces, bracelets and rings. By force of habit Kathy quickly glanced at the price, she couldn't even finish counting the number of zeroes on the price tags.

"Sir, this is our "Beloved" series, it is our latest jewellery set and it was just in the market last week. There's only one set in City N, it's one of a kind."

Joseph briefly muttered "yes" to the shop assistant and proceeded to pay the bill.

Kathy smiled, "Mom, I'm glad that you're okay."

"A few days ago I was really afraid, but I didn't want to worry you, I thought that it'd be okay after a few days, I never thought those calls got more and more excessive, furthermore, it seemed to mention your name too, so I reported it to the police right away." Angela still got some lingering fear.

Since the house got broken in, until the phone call harassment now, all these years Angela hadn't offend any personal enemy, it could only be... because of Kathy.

Kathy's face sunken, could it be Peter?

Once Kathy thought of that, she felt chill spreading from her arms and legs.

He unexpectedly had become so scary.

She read the recent news, the Herbert's group management was slowly getting better, but the CEO position was still empty at that time.

She continued reading, surprisingly it's a news about Herbert and Billy's engagement plan.

The rumors said that Hilton Group was planning to buy the Herbert's group, while their marriage would undoubtedly be a marriage of convenience.

Angela also saw that, but she only knew Peter, "Whoa, this jerk got dumped?" said Angela with a surprise

"Peter couldn't save the Herbert's group, it's totally understandable if the Herbert's family seeks for a better option." Kathy's face seemed cold.

She lowered her head and focused on reading the document.

All harassment calls came from overseas, however, according to the data information, the overseas address was connected to the company Peter registered abroad.

It's him.

Kathy wasn't surprised.

"Why did he do that?" Kathy's face went pale.

He went as far as to treat Angela like that.

If he attacked her, it wouldn't matter, but if he hurtled her family, Kathy absolutely wouldn't hold back.

"Could we give these evidences to the police?" Kathy asked.

Joseph squinted his eyes, "Yes, but it not enough to prove that it's Peter."

“Madam, you should go rest first, it’s late.” Corey came over to remind her. Joseph used to come back late at night but now that they got married, he wasn’t as busy as before.

Kathy yawned, looked at the time, and then looked at the dish in front of her that was already cold, and finally nodded.

Just when she got back to her bedroom, there was a sound of footsteps outside. Joseph only came back when she was about to fall asleep.

“Mm...” A familiar scent approached, Kathy somewhat angrily rolled over and turned her back to him.

“Mrs. Joseph, there’s something going on tonight, I’m sorry.”

He knew from Corey that Kathy had prepared dinner for him earlier and had waited for him until late at night.

“Mm.” Kathy responded, there’s no way that she won’t feel disappointed, it was just that she had never expressed it.

The next day when she woke up, the place next to her was empty. She went to downstairs and unprecedentedly saw Joseph busy in the kitchen.

“Daughter, what is he talking about?” Angela was confused.

“He’s talking nonsenses, now that he has nothing to lose he’s just biting around like a dog. I was so blind to fall in love with you back then.” Kathy’s tone was extremely cold, she dragged Angela and wanted to leave.

Saying one more word to Peter would be a waste of her precious time.

Peter was irritated and chased after them but he was stopped by the bodyguard. He narrowed his eyes, his hatred grew deeper and deeper.

At this time, his phone rang.

Peter picked up the phone and his face turned pale inch by inch, and finally revealing a look of despair.

"Are you done talking nonsense? Herbert already had signs of miscarriage, didn't you know? And for Auntie Champs, the one who killed her was you." Kathy looked at him calmly.

"No..." Peter reached out his hand again, "No, Kathy, it's all your revenge on me!"

"You're the one who revenge on me, you smashed my house and harassed my mother! Who do you think you are? If you have the guts, come at me! Don't harass the people around me!" Kathy stared at him, with a resolute expression.

This was the first time Peter saw such a cold and indignant Kathy.

He clenched his fist, the malicious intent from the bottom of her eyes revealed, with his eyes squinting, "You're the one who caused me lose everything, who should I revenge on other than you? Kathy, you weren't like this back then, you changed after you married to Joseph. You're not Kathy at all!"

Kathy sneered, and said sarcastically, "People will change, Peter, if I am still the silly girl that was easily cheated by you, I really don't know how badly I'll end up now."

"You...I was serious to you back then!" Peter said while dragging Kathy upstairs.

Joseph was preparing for the joint brain and neurology surgery, and before entering the operation theatre, Jade handed him his cell phone.

“Dr. Joseph, your phone keeps ringing.”

“Who is it?”

“It’s an unknown number.”

Joseph frowned and took his phone to have a look, but there was no call from Kathy.

When the phone rang again, Joseph picked it up worriedly.

“Joseph, have you read my proposal?”

“I’m not interested in your company.” Joseph was about to hang up the phone when he finished his words.

“First of all, go ask the workers who in charge of the renovation of Kathy’s house that whether Kathy went there yesterday.”

John nodded, and handed over the proposal, “Peter offered a condition, if he can get the young master’s investment, he will release Madam.”

Johnson looked at the proposal, overall there’s no problem, but recently he heard a lot of rumours, he knew that Peter’s reputation had long been ruined, and earlier on Joseph had investigated that he did a lot of illegal things. If he wanted to open his own company, I’m afraid that he was not just doing normal business.

No one was willing to invest in Peter now, and if he wanted to alter his current situation, he must had bargaining power.

If he got investment from Joseph, then it would be different story.

“What does Joseph think?” Johnson asked.

“Young master is still in surgery, I’m afraid that it will take about ten hours.”

“Ten hour... Peter will sure kill Kathy!” Alexia shouted in anger.

Johnson narrowed his eyes, Joseph trusted him enough to leave this matter to him.

But, what if something happened to Kathy...

Johnson smiled when he saw Peter’s expression showing a sign of flinching and spoke with a deep voice, “Mr. Champs, I do have a suggestion. NCHV plans to conduct a drug research in Africa recently, and I have gone through your resume, if you’re willing to serve as the person in charge, NCHV can give you a good pay. What do you think?”

Peter’s face was unpleasant, “I only want investment from the Joseph’s Group! Otherwise, even if I don’t have the guts to kill Kathy, I’ll do whatever it takes to destroy her!”

Destroy her!

Alexia who had been eavesdropping outside almost couldn’t stand anymore and wanted to rush in, and Johnson’s assistant immediately stopped her, shaking her head.

After Peter left, Alexia rushed in and pounded the table in a rage, “Johnson, Peter is now a madman! If you guys can’t find out where Kathy is, hurry up and invest!”

Johnson frowned and looked at the time, ten hours had passed, Joseph should almost be back.

“Don’t interfere in this matter, Joseph will deal with it himself.”

“How to deal with it? What has he done when Kathy had been kidnapped for so long?” Alexia was really disappointed in Joseph now. As expected, marriage was something unreliable!

Seeing that Alexia was about to run out, Johnson clasped her wrist, and suddenly Alexia stumbled and fell into his arms, “Joseph will be back soon.”
