Chapter 141 Is There Something Wrong with Being Handsome?

Joseph's face darkened, holding a mobile phone, but he did not speak for a long while.

"I know you don't want to, but you've made your choice, haven't you?"

"I see, grandpa. Please just give me a little more time, a year from now."

"No!" Mathew coldly refuted.

"Since grandpa is anxious, it's better to find someone else." Joseph was to hang up the phone after he finished.

Mathew had to compromise, "Half a year!"

"OK."

"Mr. Joseph, there will be a transnational meeting later." John had been waiting early, and came up to Joseph as soon as he hung up.

Joseph waved to refuse, "Let the vice president be present."

After finished, he moved towards Kathy.

She was sitting on the sofa and watching videos with headphones on. She didn't notice the approach of Joseph.

Kathy frowned and walked back, but saw that Joseph was actually surrounded by a group of housewives. It seemed that Joseph had been recognized, and he was consulted by them in the supermarket.

Joseph was patient, but after a busy day, Joseph obviously had a rest. This was not a hospital, and a woman seemed to want to lean on Joseph all the time.

Kathy walked over with a stern face, and Joseph quickly found her and approached her.

But more and more people gathered around, and Kathy was overthrown by a fat woman.

Joseph browed angrily and walked over her quickly. "Everyone, the neurosurgery department of People's Hospital has always been a leader in China. Although I am not working there anymore, the other doctors are experts. If you have any need, you can register. Now I need to accompany my wife."

"Mr. Joseph, why did you quit your job?"

"Mr. Joseph...you are not in People's Hospital, no one can save my son..."

"Mr. Joseph, I usually was treated by you. I'm afraid other doctors don't know my health condition..."

Fortunately, the security of the supermarket quickly came to block the group of women. Kathy breathed a sigh of relief. Joseph asked with concern, "Are there any injuries?"

Back at her new home, Kathy can't wait to go into the kitchen. She didn't particularly like cooking before, but now she actually felt that to cook for someone was a wonderful thing.

Seeing Joseph also come in, Kathy drove him out, "Go and have a rest for a while. I'll do it."

A shadow of a smile touched his mouth. He walked out the kitchen and left Kathy enjoy herself.

Kathy bought a lot of fresh seafood, and after a while a scream came from the kitchen. When Joseph came in, he saw fish and shrimp crawling on the ground.

He frowned, quickly rolled up his sleeves, squatted down and took the seafood into the sink, and started to clean them skillfully.

Kathy stared at him blankly. Although she knew that Joseph was good at cooking, she hoped that Joseph could rest today and she would prepare a big meal for him.

But it seemed that she failed.

Kathy hugged Joseph from behind in annoyance, "You got them ready. Can I cook them by myself?"

"Let me cook for you." Joseph kissed Kathy on the forehead and learned what she did just now to drive Kathy out.

Not far away, Johnson also came with Alexia. Seeing Kathy, Alexia quickly walked over.

"Kathy, Peter is so arrogant. He did all kinds of evil but some people still fawn on him!" Alexia said angrily.

"The most important thing in the market is profit. People like those who can make money for them." Joseph said solemnly.

"Yes, but I just can't stand it. This company will go broke sooner or later!"

"Alexia, I don't bring you to make trouble." Johnson's slightly angry voice came from behind.

Alexia didn't dare to say more at once and lowered her head.

Kathy couldn't help but smile. Alexia, who was always fearless, seemed to be afraid of Johnson?

"Joseph, I think you have made a lot of money. HY Group's market value has now doubled." Johnson laughed.

Joseph invested 50 million, and now it seemed that he had made profits.

Although the banquet continued, the organizers had all left, and the scene soon fell silent.

Joseph sat leisurely on the sofa in the corner, and the red wine in his hand was worth tens of thousands. Peter has devoted his mind to tonight's banquet.

"He is young and is easy to lose his temper." Joseph said indifferently, his black eyes falling towards Peter's flustered back.

"Joseph, does this matter have to do with you?" Johnson raised his eyebrows.

He had long felt that Joseph would not let Peter's new company develop so smoothly, but he didn't know how Joseph will do.

"He dared to hurt my woman, I won't let him stay in city N." Joseph's eyes were sharp.

Johnson toasted him and raised his eyebrows, "it seems you really care about Kathy."

"She is my wife."

"Joseph, as a friend, I have to remind you that there are some things that you can't take seriously." Johnson frowned and looked at Kathy through the crowd.

"Joseph, you are also an investor! If HY Group loses, you have no profit!" Peter's emotion was flooded. This was his big plan. It was a good opportunity to make him succeed!

But now, if he goes to F country...it's tantamount to giving up the entire domestic market.

"Well, what I want was not the profit of HY Group. The investment was only for Mrs. Joseph, Peter, I don't forgive your past misdeeds. "Joseph said indifferently.

This made Peter completely panic. He came here to ask Joseph for help, so that HY Group does not need to move to F country.

But now... Joseph did it deliberately.

"My time is precious, and my life is also precious. Please drive carefully next time."

With that, Joseph got into the car, told the driver to reverse and left through another exit.

The last eye was that Peter looked at Kathy resentfully.

Kathy was really shocked by Peter suddenly just now, and couldn't help but stared at him angrily.

Alexia panicked immediately, "Kathy, don't let Johnson find me."

With that, she turned around and ran into the back stairs.

Kathy was a little confused. Weren't the two of them deeply attached to each other two days ago?

Johnson had walked up to Kathy. "Alexia is hiding from me?"

Kathy nodded. When she noticed that Johnson was about to be angry, she couldn't help but ask, "Are you in love?"

Alexia had always denied the relationship with Johnson, but they looked like a couple.

Hearing this, Johnson frowned, "She is just my subordinate."

"In this case, you should stop pestering her, she will misunderstand." Kathy said solemnly.

"She's smart," Johnson said and turned to leave.

Kathy frowned and walked into the back stairs. Alexia was leaning against the door. She had heard
Johnson's words just now.

"HY Group is not in my plan." Joseph said quietly.
Mathew was silent. He wasn't angry, he just cared about this grandson.
"Don't be arrogant, you are now in power, and I plan to hold a press conference next week to officially announce your identity."
"Grandpa, I'm not going to make it public." Joseph said with a calm face.
"No, you have to listen to Grandpa this time. The Joseph's Group is our family's century-old heritage. Now you are the new person in charge. I want to introduce you to all media reporters. "
"The Joseph's Group has always been low-key. I don't plan to show up."
"Joseph, it is you who want to inherit the Joseph family. Grandpa didn't force you this time! I'm still the chairman now, you must listen to me! "Mathew said firmly.
After a long while, Joseph also didn't agree, and turned to go out.
Mathew was angry, but he could do anything, so he could only go to the garden for a walk.

Kathy's cheeks flushed slightly, and she pushed Joseph away subconsciously.

But Joseph got closer and raised Kathy's chin, as if he would do something if she doesn't answer the question.

There was his warm breath in her ears, and Kathy's heartbeat was chaotic, "You...you are my husband."

After saying this, Kathy's ears were red, and she didn't dare to look at Joseph at all.

He smiled slightly and then he lifted her face and kissed fiercely. Kathy couldn't stand it at all. She felt like she will drown in his gentleness.

After the kiss, Kathy always remembered what Grandpa said.

But she didn't understand things about business, so she could try to persuade him.

"If you really want me to make my identity public, then you will also be exposed." Joseph looked at her solemnly.

Kathy frowned. She didn't want to disclose her relationship with Joseph.

All she wanted was a quiet and peaceful life, but now her husband was not only a famous neurologist, but also a mysterious president.

Over the weekend, Joseph accompanied Kathy to visit Angela.

Joseph was cooking in the kitchen, and Angela called Kathy to the room.

"Do you remember Billy?" Angela asked.

Kathy frowned and nodded, "I had a blind date with him back then. What happened?"

"He is going to get engaged. Her mother and I were classmates before. I took an invitation, so you can go for me." Angela was not accustomed to attending those occasions, so she planned to let Kathy go instead of her.

Kathy opened the invitation, and it was Billy and Herbert's engagement, which will be held next Saturday.

Billy and she were not very familiar with each other, and Herbert couldn't get along well with her.

"Kathy, this is the engagement gift I give them. You send it to them for me at that time." With that, Angela handed a gift box over.

Then Kathy had to go.

"Mom, do you have a good relationship with Mrs. Hilton?" Kathy asked in confusion.
