Chapter 321 I Just, Really Miss You

Mathew called Joseph to his study, the fury in his aged face could not be hidden.

“Why was Macie trying to get Sammy killed, what’s going on!” Mathew asked furiously.

“This was investigated by Diego, he had submitted the evidence to the police station,” Joseph passed the investigation materials to his grandfather.

Macie had previously bribed the prison warder to direct a prisoner to poison Sammy, which then caused Sammy to die out of a sudden. As for the reason behind it, it was closely related to the incident three years ago when Peter brought Veronica to Billy which caused Veronica to be harmed.

“It was indeed Macie who did this?” Mathew was shocked.

Joseph furrowed his brows, “Yes.”

“Veronica won’t be able to handle this news,” Mathew sighed. “Now that Diego has gotten the evidence, he must want to send Macie to prison.”

“Now that Julian took the opportunity to mess up the Joseph’s Group, it was rather the time to overrule,” Joseph replied coldly.

“He really had too much guts! I’ll never hand over the Joseph’s Group to him!”

“Now that they have bought over quite a lot of shares from outside, they must be very confident.”

They had thought that Mathew had long transferred the shares he owned to Joseph, but actually that was not the case.

No matter how much of shares they had on their hands, it was impossible to overtake the entire Joseph’s Group.

At Ocean University.

When Kathy finished her class it was already nine o’clock at night. When she was eating in the canteen, she simply clicked on the news, and her eye was attracted to the news of the share price of the Joseph’s Group falling tremendously.

How would the Joseph’s Group...

She read the news in detail, some of the information written was subtle, but she still understood it.

The case of Sammy’s death was again uncovered, it was suspected that it was related to the Joseph family.

Then how was Joseph now?

The worry in her heart spread, she must hold it down.

But when she picked up her phone, she called his number on instinct.

She did not expect that the call was picked up so quickly, Kathy got nervous and hung up.

She put his phone into her bag and took in a deep breath, she could not think about it anymore!"

At this moment, Kathy's phone rang. It was Zofia who called her, asking her where she was.
"I'm at the Hon Restaurant outside campus."
"That's coincidental, my brother and I are here having our meal too, come eat with me?"
"I'm... I'm eating with Joseph."
"What? You're eating with your ex husband?" Zofia's voice became louder, it was to purposely allow Bertie to hear.
Bertie's expression darkened at that moment, and he put the menu down.
Zofia smiled silently, "Then I won't disturb you."
When she hung up, Kathy raised her eyes and heard Joseph's voice, "Who called?"
"Zofia."
"Are you used to hanging out with her?" He asked.

Joseph and Zofia had known each other for a long time. Zofia used to go to the Joseph family's home to bring Veronica out all the time, the two had met quite a few times.

He knew that she was a clever and understanding woman.

"Zofia? She's nice, back when I was suspected of cheating, she helped me out quite a lot," Kathy smiled.

Zofia was not as hard to get along as she thought. On the contrary, when the two got to know each other better, they had rather become friends.

But this... might have something to do with Bertie.

"The person whom you just bailed out, who is she?" Kathy asked.

She wanted to know who had harmed Sammy so cruelly.

Since Sammy was once very close to her.

"Veronica's mother, she was the second wife of Diego."

Kathy stunned for a moment, it seemed that actually Veronica and Joseph were not siblings by blood.

"Why would she do that?"

Kathy went back to her room after she had dinner with Jennifer. She was still not used to staying here.
After all, there was someone else that she didn't wish to see.

After she showered, someone knocked on the door and Kathy peeked to see who it was and it was Billy.

"What's the matter?" She asked coldly.

"The servant made some desserts."

"I'm not hungry."

"Then come out for a chat anyway." Billy frowned.

"I'm going to bed, Mr. Hilton." She shut and locked the door after she said.

Billy was outside and looked at the time, it was barely ten o'clock...

But Kathy naturally couldn't sleep as it was still early. She read a book but her head was still thinking about what Herbert said just now.

Even if the financial situation of the Joseph's Group wasn't healthy now, by selling the rights to their bestselling medicine, wouldn't it put itself in a more precarious predicament?

She opened the news homepage and looked at the latest news regarding the Joseph's Group. The reputation of the Joseph's Group had been severely affected by the arrest of Macie. Today, a reporter came to interview Diego. Not only did he not defend Macie, but he confirmed her guilt, causing the Joseph's Group's reputation to be affected even more.

Kathy didn't have a good impression of Diego. Furthermore, Joseph didn't seem to regard him as his father.

She couldn't understand the complexity of the Joseph family.

At the Joseph residence.

Veronica was having dinner with his mother.

"Mom, surely you didn't eat well in the police station," Veronica said with tears welling in her eyes.

Macie was very calm, "Joseph had made arrangements and I didn't have a difficult time in there."

The car stopped in front of the Courts half an hour later.

Veronica stopped her wheelchair when she saw Kathy getting out of Joseph's car.

But because her brother was present, she didn't show her anger. But she was very unhappy.

Kathy didn't bother with her and went directly into the Court. Veronica looked at her brother but held back her words. But she can guess her brother's intentions.

"Did you fake your divorce?" Veronica mumbled.

Joseph raised his eyebrow when he heard and said, "The divorce is real but only she can be Mrs. Joseph."

...

The hearing ended within an hour. Joseph engaged the best lawyer in City N for Macie and her sentence was settled at 5 years.

Veronica was pale and couldn't accept this result.

"Brother, isn't there any other way? How can my mother be in that place for five years..." Veronica asked anxiously.

Joseph held onto her wheelchair and frowned, "It's already the best outcome."

"Brother..." Veronica grabbed onto her brother's sleeve as her tears flowed when she saw her mother being led away.

Diego and Nell were also nearby.

When Veronica saw that cold-blooded father, she rushed over angrily.

She struggled to raise her hand and forcefully slapped Nell across the face.

"Do you have no shame seducing someone else's husband?" Veronica yelled.

"Veronica!" Diego grabbed her wrist and stopped her further actions.

He held Nell in his embrace and frowned angrily, "Veronica, that is enough!"

"No! You caused my mother to be imprisoned all because of this woman. Where's your conscience? Diego, now I detest the fact that I have your blood coursing through my veins!" Veronica said hysterically and was at breaking point emotionally.

Diego continued to frown, "I am your father regardless. This is a fact cast in stone!"

Joseph turned his head to look at Kathy, his tense face slightly eased, he turned around and suddenly hugged her.

Kathy smiled and pushed him, "I'm only saving people."

It was already evening when Kathy returned to school, and Zofia Marshall heard that Veronica had been admitted to the hospital and asked nervously, "Was she triggered by Joseph?"

Kathy frowned, probably... that was the reason as well.

"After she and Joseph fought, she fell down in the bathroom."

"What did Joseph do again." Zofia was worried.

Now that Veronica's condition was so hard to stabilize, she didn't want anything to happen to Veronica again.

"I'm not sure about the Joseph family."

"I'll go check on Veronica." Zofia couldn't sit still in the end.

Kathy looked at the time, "Let's go tomorrow, it's too late to go to the hospital now."

"Hmm."

At this time, Zofia's phone just happened to ring, it was Veronica calling over.

"Zofia, I'm the only one in the hospital..." Veronica cried.

She hated staying in the hospital.

"I'll come over right away to stay with you, where is Joseph?"

"Something happened at the company, and he went to deal with it. Don't come over, I'll just chat with you." Veronica lowered her voice.

"What's going on with you and Joseph lately? Doesn't he usually stay by your side every time?" Zofia recalled.

But Veronica had been back in City N for so long, and she hadn't seen Joseph yet.

"Don't mention him. I don't want to hear the name, Joseph right now..."

"Veronica, you are a patient now, you must listen to me." Kathy pressed her hand.
Veronica glared at her and paused, her other hand suddenly smashed the glass next to her, she picked

Kathy didn't even have time to stop her.
The blood was already gushing out on the back of Veronica's hand.
"If you keep stopping me, I'll keep cutting!" Veronica threatened.

Kathy took a deep breath and slowly released her hand.

"Bring my wheelchair over here," Veronica commanded.

But Kathy didn't move, she found her cell phone and planned to call Joseph.

But when Veronica saw her move, she cut the back of her hand viciously again.

"Miss Veronica, calm down." The assistant doctor beside her was also frightened.

It hadn't been long since Veronica's surgery, and she definitely couldn't leave the hospital now.

"I'm just going out for a few hours..." Veronica bit her lip, her eyes red.

The nurse hurriedly informed the dean. He came over and saw Veronica's action, and he immediately went pale.

He knew Veronica's identity, and the Joseph family could not be offended.

"Let her out."

"But, her body..."

"I'm in charge, let her out."

The dean was relieved, and naturally, no one dared to stop Veronica.

Kathy was worried. She followed Veronica closely behind while calling Joseph.

However, no one answered the phone!

Kathy flipped out John's number and called.

"Aren't you going to stay with Veronica?"

"Quinn's here. He can stay with her."

Kathy said shortly.

She didn't care about Joseph family's affairs, nor did she have anything she could talk to Joseph about.

"I'm sorry for troubling you today."

Kathy frowned. She wanted to tell him that it was her who notified him of Veronica's forced discharge from the hospital.

"She is also my first patient; I don't want her to have complications."

"My sister is a little grumpy but her heart is in the right place. She has been hurt so much that she has become emotionally unstable." Joseph frowned in concern as he talked about his sister.

Remembering the time when Joseph told her about how Veronica was assaulted by Billy, which led her to attempt suicide, Kathy could understand her completely.

People who had been hurt so much always had a harder time controlling their emotions.

"Maybe this time, she would be able to stay away from the people she hates, and be able to recover properly."

"She refuses to leave City N. Her heart is so full of hatred, she must see everyone she hates fall down with her own eyes."

Kathy pursed her lips. She didn't know Joseph would end up sharing so much with her.

The people who hurt Veronica... The main culprit among them was Billy...

Diego, who directly sent Macie to prison, was among them too. Veronica was not going to let him go that easy.

However, Veronica could only rely on her family. The only one who could help her get her revenge was Joseph.

Kathy raised her eyes to look at Joseph, astonished. She knew that he loved Veronica a lot, which was why he was hostile to Billy and didn't like Diego.

She didn't think about it too much. It was Joseph's business, not hers.

After eating, Kathy had to leave for the hospital, while Joseph had to get back to the Group.

Both of them separated at the door.

After turning away from him, Kathy could still feel his eyes at the back of her head for a long time.

She quickened her pace and walked into the elevator.

It was almost dawn before Veronica finally fell asleep and Kathy also went to take break on the couch.

When she opened her eyes, she noticed something strange.

Wasn't she sleeping on the couch?

She blinked, rolled over and realized that she was sleeping on someone's lap.

She immediately sat up, and Joseph's handsome face came into view.

When did he come?

And when did she sleep on his lap?

"Sleep a little longer if you're still tired." Joseph doted on her as he ruffled her hair.

As if the two had not divorced yet.

Kathy, however, was wide awake and shook her head, "I'm not sleepy."

At the time, Joseph's jacket slipped off from her body. She immediately picked it up and handed it to him while getting up.

However, Joseph's scent kept lingering around her for a long time.

She walked towards where Veronica was and noticed that she was still sleeping. Kathy continued by checking Veronica's wounds and temperature. She finally relaxed as she had confirmed that Veronica was alright.

She left the ward as it was almost time to go back to school.

"Mr. Joseph, if anything happens to Veronica, please let me know." Kathy said while maintaining a distance with Joseph.

"Well, I'll send you back." Joseph also stood up.

"No, there is no need to bother you."

"It's no trouble at all." Joseph's words had a slightly commanding tone to them.

In the car, Kathy was yawning all the time. She had not slept for hours and was now very sleepy.

"When did you come over this morning?" She asked.

She even slept so deeply that she did not even know that Joseph had arrived.

"Two hours ago, please get some sleep, I'll drive a little slower." Joseph's hand reached over and helped her buckle her seat belt.

The cool temperature caressed her chest, and Kathy subconsciously shivered.

Her face even turned red.

The man's hand did not leave and suddenly cupped Kathy's chin. This caused Kathy to look up at him.

Joseph was used to spoiling Venorica. He also knew that Venorica didn't like to stay at the hospital.

But now she had demanded to stay.

"Venorica, please tell me the reason." He showed a sullen face all the time.

Quinn Davis pressed his thin lips beside them. He spoke for Venorica, "Joseph, she doesn't want to meet Diego."

Venorica lowered her eyes and didn't talk.

She couldn't avoid meeting with Diego if she went back to Joseph family.

Especially since that woman had moved in.

Mathew had already gone back to Country C in anger. She didn't want to go back at all knowing that Diego and Julian were there.

"The downtown area has a few apartments. You can think about where do you want to live."

"I just want to stay at the hospital," Venorica said stubbornly.

"Venorica!"

"Please, brother. Let me stay for another night, just another night. I promise I will move to your apartment tomorrow." Venorica begged and looked at him.

Joseph pressed his lips. It took quite a while for him to nod.

Kathy finished her work until the afternoon before she could go back to university.

She left the hospital. Joseph's car was parked outside.

She frowned unhappily and ignored the car.

However, Joseph's car still followed her. Soon after, the whole road was blocked before she reached the bus stop.

She might not be able to wait for a bus in this situation.

Kathy took a deep breath and turned around. She opened the passenger seat's door coldly, "Joseph, are you very free now?"

"I still have the time to fetch you."

"I don't want to be fetched by you."

"Then, whose car do you want to take?" Joseph said with a cold tune.

"I will take the bus."

"Do you think you can wait for a bus at this time?"

Chapter 330 How Could I Possibly Forget About Her

In Ocean University.

Kathy finished her class at the laboratory. Benedict Watson called her to the office.

"Recently our university is cooperating with the Joseph's Group to research and develop a new medicine. Do you want to go and learn about it?"

The Joseph's Group...

Kathy remained silent.

Of course, she didn't want to give up on any chances to learn. However, she would be hesitant if it was related to the Joseph's Group.

"Our university has three slots for this. You can go back and think about it. However, I think you should go as you are Joseph's wife."

"Thank you, Mr. Watson."

Absentmindedly, she went back to the hostel. Zofia Marshall had returned back.

She had had a lot of lectures recently so they could only meet at night.

"Are you joining the research and development of the new medicine with the Joseph's Group?" Zofia came forward and asked.

Their Thoracic Surgery department had slots too, but it was very competitive.

"Maybe... I will go."

"Do you mind Joseph?" Seeing her being hesitant, Zofia was gossipy and she asked.

If she went to the Joseph's Group, she couldn't avoid meeting Joseph again.

However, it was a golden opportunity for them as medical students if they could take part in the research and development of new medicine.

"I don't." Kathy turned her head away.

Upon hearing this name, she still couldn't ignore her feeling.

"You definitely do. Otherwise, you as the excellent student definitely won't be hesitant to join."

"I will join. How about you?" Kathy had made her decision. Although she might meet Joseph, she still wanted to learn new things.

"I... I won't go. I am not interested in the research and development of medicine." Zofia shook her head.

She had a dream to be a surgeon all the time. She didn't plan to join any other researches.
