Chapter 441

"The waiter didn't say that when he brought us here, but now we've placed our order and you're saying that this seat is booked. How dare you rush us?" Alexia said in a righteous manner.

"Sorry, I'll give you a window seat on the other side, the view is also good." The manager said with difficulty.

It was because the guests who would come to the table later were of high status and couldn't be offended.

"The request for a free bill is not too much, right?" Kathy also spoke.

"Of course, the bill is completely free." The manager said.

Kathy and Alexia looked at each other, and they felt victorious.

Surely, they had to request for what they had lost!

But when they stood up, a bass voice sounded, "No need to change seat."

When Kathy raised her eyes, she found it was Reece.

"It just so happens that my friend didn't manage to come, can I have dinner with you?" Reece looked at Kathy.

Alexia also looked at Kathy and asked with a muzzle, "You know him?"

Kathy frowned, she was not too happy about it.

"I've showed you the way twice, can't we have a meal?" Reece could see Kathy's resistance.

The manager stood by and watched the scene in amazement, it would be best if it could be handled like this!

"Sir, we don't know each other." Kathy said in a cold voice.

Reece fished out two gold business cards from his wallet, Alexia took them first, and Kathy also took them out of courtesy.

Joseph had said that Reece was Ella Bridge's brother. They must be careful of him.

"We know each other now, don't we?"

Alexia looked at Kathy and then Reece. She felt that it was a bit off.

"Mr. Reece, I'm having dinner with Kathy to chat about private stuff. A man eating with us will be..." knowing Kathy's resistance, Alexia also spoke.

"It seems that you are all very repulsive towards me, then I will not bother."

Reece had always been held up by others, for being ignored and even rejected by Kathy, there was some displeasure in his heart.

"The seat belongs to you now."

As soon as he said that, Reece arrogantly left the restaurant.

Two big men, led by the staff, came to a small room with two single beds.
Both of them were accustomed to the presidential suites, so they didn't feel very comfortable there.
However, all the rooms here had the same layout, and the price of this room was already on the higher side.
"Bring us two swimming trunks." Johnson handed the credit card to the staff.
They came here in a hurry, without preparing anything.
To enter the hot spring pool, they had to change their clothes.
Joseph frowned and dialed Kathy's number. No one picked up.
Johnson quickly brought in two swimming trunks.
"The two of them are currently in the hot spring, her phone must not be around."
Joseph's face was very gloomy.
He looked at the swimming trunks in Johnson's hands. Floral prints, one in green and one in crimson.

“Don’t be picky now. Just take this red one.” Johnson threw the red swimming trunks at the bed.

Joseph glanced at him, walking over with his long legs, “I want the green one.”

“Ooh! Flirty!” Johnson smiled.

“Yeah.”

It was still better than big red flowers.

When the two handsome men appeared in the hot spring pool, they turned a lot of heads.

The hot spring area was very large, with a long winding corridor, dotted with glass lamps. The ambience was quite beautiful and romantic.

Wearing a bathrobe, Joseph sat down on a recliner on one side. Soon a bikini clad woman approached.

Hot bubbling water surging around in the pool made the atmosphere quite enchanting.

Her eyes had just locked on him.

She came towards him with two glasses of wine and sat beside him. Offering him one of the glasses, she said, “Hello, I’m Luna. Would you like a drink?”

Joseph frowned. What he thought now was just to find Kathy. Seeing that he had not responded, the woman next to him leaned over, pressing her body close to him.

Although this pool was in the corner, it was still a public place and anyone could come over at any time.

Kathy was a little flustered, her hands pressed against Joseph's chest subconsciously.

"Uh." She frowned.

Next second, Joseph had picked her up out of the water, draped the bathrobe over her and was helping her tie the belt around it.

Kathy's heart thundered.

Especially seeing his chest muscles rippling so close, dripping with water.

It was too much.

Her cheeks were redder than tomatoes.

When she came to the room, it was not the one where she was staying with Alexia.

Kathy checked her phone and saw a WeChat message from Alexia: [Kathy, I got caught! You and Joseph sleep well.]

Kathy was speechless.

"Is this your room with Johnson?" She looked at the two single beds.

"This is our room now." Joseph held her in his arms, helping her dry off her body.

Kathy enjoyed the feeling of being served, her smile expanded and she stared at Joseph without blinking.

Seeing that he was about to take off her one-piece swimming suit, Kathy jumped off the sofa, "I will change into my pajamas myself!"

Joseph frowned and easily pulled her back into his arms.

His fingers wrapped around her belt, and the flames that had faded seemed to burn again, surrounding them in heat.

"Don't you need me? Huh?" Joseph held her face in his hand.

"No... No need..." Kathy said in a trembling voice.

She really couldn't resist him.

After she came out having changed into her pajamas, she found Joseph sitting on the tatami mat doing some work on his phone.

Kathy sat on the sofa a little away from him, looking at his side profile. He was very pleasing to look at.

Looking at him, she gradually became sleepy.

On the plane, Kathy did not expect to meet Reece again.
There was only a corridor between them. Joseph was on Kathy’s left side whereas Reece was on her right.
Reece took out his sunglasses and narrowed his eyes, he smiled, “Ms Kathy, we meet again.”
Kathy frowned, she did not want to talk to him.
Reece did not get irritated. After he greeted Kathy, he put on his sunglasses and slept for the whole trip.
The flight did not take a long time. When Kathy got off the plane, she felt sleepy.
Joseph held Kathy’s hand when got off the plane. They could not avoid themselves to meet Reece.
He spoke suddenly, “It is a waste if Mr Joseph just goes back like this.”
Joseph stopped his steps, his sight turned cold.
“If Mr Bridges wants to create trouble intentionally, why should I waste my time?”
“You should not intervene.”
After that, Reece walked away.
Joseph gradually held Kathy’s hand with strength.
“Joseph...” Kathy frowned, it was painful.
Joseph turned his tense expression gentler and left the cabin with no expression.
Kathy did not understand their conversation but she looked at Joseph’s serious face and did not ask about it.
When they arrived at the house of the Booth family, Joseph still showed a dull expression.

"I go back now," Kathy looked at him and did not bear to leave.

Joseph still held her hand tightly.

Kathy could not understand his down emotion.

"Check up at the hospital tomorrow, your medicine is almost finished, right?" He asked.

Kathy nodded but she thought of the medicine, it tasted so bad. It was bitter dissolved medicine.

"How come I have a chip in my brain...?"

"After your car accident, Billy arranged for a doctor to operate on you. The location of the chip is hidden and not easily detected from the CT. So, I never noticed its existence," Joseph's tone was tinged with chagrin.

If he could be more cautious.

Then there would be a chance to remove the chip when she had brain surgery.

Now, taking out the chip could only be delayed for a while.

"Is this Billy's trick?" Kathy muttered.

"With the way things are going, yes. I went to City B to look for your surgeon at the time, but he had absconded." Joseph's tone became cold as ice.

And it just so happened that Billy was in City B at the time, which could only mean that he managed to stay one step ahead of him.

Kathy fell silent, wondering why Billy did this.

Was it because he hated her?

Or was he using her to threaten Joseph?

She sneered, "Will I die if I don't take the medicine?"

Joseph frowned and put his hand over her mouth. "Don't talk nonsense. As I told you, I won't let you die!"

His face clouded over and his dark eyes looked sullen.

But the heartache for her in the deepest part of his eyes couldn't be ignored.

For an instant, Kathy burst into tears.

"Why did Billy do this ..... or, what damage will this chip do to my brain."

Kathy gradually simmered down and got a grip on herself. Now that everything had happened, she had to face it.

She wanted to live.

"Kathy," Joseph turned to her, looking at her with keen and sparkling eyes.

"What if I say I don't know?"

That's why he did everything he could to find that surgeon, otherwise even if she had taken medication to control it now, he couldn't rest assured.

Joseph's eyes drooped down; he said nothing.

Inside the car, after a while, he said, "Grandpa wants me to focus on the Joseph Group."

Kathy was surprised; before, she didn't know why Joseph suddenly resigned to run the Joseph Group.

Listening to Joseph now, why did she get the feeling that he didn't want to run the Group?

Lately, Joseph worked at the Ocean University's hospital. Even though he only went there once a week, he still had to dedicate time and effort to handle hospital affairs. The Joseph Group had a ton of work as well, and if he began school next month, Joseph also had to tend to his studies.

That was all quite a workload...

"What do you want to do?" Kathy looked deeply at him.

"The Joseph Group has to be handed out sooner or later." Joseph said in a solemn tone.

Kathy said nothing; now it made sense why Mathew was angry.

But she secretly, selfishly wished that Joseph would become a doctor for the common folks.

Before they arrived, Joseph's cell rang; it was Johnson.

They had found Logan Miller, the one who performed surgery on Kathy.

Johnson had already sent men to scout the airport. Logan had planned to take his family abroad; Johnson sent someone to the airport, and they managed to catch Logan before he went on the plane.

In an instant, Joseph spun around and drove straight toward the Joseph's private airport.

The car's interior was quiet, so Kathy could clearly hear Joseph and Johnson's conversation.

"Did they find the doctor who performed surgery on me?" Kathy nervously asked.

Joseph affirmed, "Johnson's family has influence in City B. If they can't even find a person, then they don't deserve to run the city."

Kathy's nervousness eased a lot once she heard Joseph's words.

Everyone around Joseph seemed to be persons of influence.

Opening the door, Kathy had been standing outside. When she saw Joseph, she immediately went forward, "How is it?"

As she saw the blood-soaked scene in the room, she was frozen by it.

A woman was crouching beside Logan, shaking his body all the time, but he never responded.

Kathy saw such a scene for the first time. She was frightened, and her face turned pale.

"He..." Kathy's feet froze completely.

"Dead." Joseph's palm covered Kathy's eyes.

But the image seen in a flash just now was still too disgusting.

"How could this happen?" She muttered.

He took her out of the corridor. Johnson was in another room, and Joseph went in.

"What did you get?" Johnson raised his eyes.

"There's no chip." Joseph tossed him a bug, "See if you can find out anything."

"What? He's lying, right?" Johnson took it, a little surprised.

Joseph frowned and said in a deep voice, "I operated on his son five years ago, and I think that's why he didn't do it."

Kathy was dumbfounded as things had gone very much beyond her expectation.

She had been worrying for so long. Was she worrying about nothing?

But now that the situation was not confirmed, she was still in a depressed mood.

"I remember before you changed the medicine, when I finished the surgery, my memory kept declining, is it not because of the chip's influence?" Kathy thought for a moment.

"This is one of the symptoms that can occur after surgery. It's just that many patients don't have this." Joseph said.

"Go to Logan's home immediately," Joseph instructed after a pause. "Have someone take care of his funeral."

Joseph was adamant that he wanted Kathy to stay in the room. But Kathy couldn't sit still and had to follow him.

"Johnson, keep an eye on her." Joseph frowned and his tone was firm.

She was very stubborn, tugging on his arm and not letting go.

Although her strength was not as strong as his, she was persistent. He had no choice but to give in.

The next day, Ella came to the hospital early in the morning. Today was Joseph's turn to make the diagnosis of the patients. Several nurses were waiting for him.

Ella was distributed to Joseph's team. This was planned by her brother.

However, Ella knew that Joseph disliked her right now. She stood at the back nervously.

A man in a white shirt and black trousers walked out from the lift.

Ella stared at the man without blinking,

Kathy, as an intern sat beside Joseph. Both of them discussed in a serious mood. Later, the patients came over.

The nurses were chased. Ella was Joseph's assistant. Therefore, she was able to stay there.

She felt uneasy when she saw Kathy was also there.

Whereas Kathy was surprised when she saw Ella there.

But Ella had returned to City N recently. She was qualified in the hospital earlier than that. Since she could stay by Joseph's side, she must have some supporters there.

Kathy needed to cooperate with Ella unavoidably.

But Ella's mind was all about Joseph. She made mistakes frequently. Kathy was annoyed.

Joseph had plenty of patients. Once these mistakes were made and wasted the patients' time, they would complain about it.

"Ella, I asked for gauze instead of the cotton ball!" Kathy spoke in anger.

Although Kathy was a mild person, her seriousness could be felt when she was angry.

After hearing what Kathy said, Joseph ordered, "Ella, you should get out of here."

He knew that Ella could not concentrate now.

Ella felt wronged. She looked at Joseph and whispered, "Dr. Joseph, I'm your assistant and I'm not going out."

"You are affecting my work so badly right now, get out." Joseph chilled.

Both of them finished their supper nearby. As Joseph was on the way sending Kathy to the Booth family, she had already fallen asleep tiredly.

When Jennifer called Kathy, her phone rang.

Joseph looked at it and answered it first without waking Kathy up.

“Mrs Booth, Kathy is at my place tonight.” Joseph said softly.

Jennifer had been worried about Kathy’s health and asked nervously, “Joseph, tell me, can the chip in Kathy’s brain be taken out?”

“There is no chip in Kathy’s brain. Mrs Booth, don’t worry, I’ve made the situation clear.”

“What did you say?” Jennifer was shocked.

This matter was told to her by Billy Hilton himself. She was frightened when Billy was sentenced, but trusting Joseph; she did not take any action.

And now, what was going on...

“I have found the doctor who operated on Kathy at that time, and I once saved that doctor’s son. Probably to requite my kindness, he did not lay a hand on Kathy. Mrs Booth, don’t worry.”

After hearing, Jennifer’s worries had lightened a lot. She only organized her thoughts after a while.

It was okay... as long as her daughter was fine.

“Are you sure if...” Jennifer said nervously.

“Yes, I’m sure, I also reexamined Kathy’s brain, Mrs Booth, don’t worry.”

“That’s good. This child is suffering too much, so she can’t have another accident.” Jennifer cried with joy.

After worrying for so long, if Kathy was operated on again, she naturally knew it was dangerous.

Fortunately, fortunately.

“Joseph, since my daughter still chose you, if you fail her again, I will definitely not let you go.” When Jennifer calmed down, her tone was more serious.

It was true that she used to be prejudiced against Joseph, a member of the Joseph family. She did not want Kathy to come into contact with him.

Just currently, for what Joseph did to Kathy, she saw it in her eyes, and she didn’t want to segregate the couples anymore.

“Mrs Booth, I love Kathy.” Joseph said word by word in a severe manner.

At this moment, Kathy’s eyelids lifted slightly. In her dazed vision, Joseph’s handsome side face was charming.

Understanding what Joseph meant, Kathy grinned angrily.

Her boobs were not small!

Standing straight, she looked up at the tall man. "Joseph, take a closer look, they are not small..."

"Kathy, you really are a fairy."

Seeing her deliberately straightening her chest, she was really provocative. The man picked up Kathy with one arm, and went straight to the bedroom.

Realizing what was going to happen next, Kathy's legs suddenly weakened.

It seemed that only a few hours had passed since the end of the last time. Joseph was too energetic!

A week later, it was Diego's court date, he was charged for disclosing the Joseph Group information in collusion with Hilton Group.

Recently, Julian frequently came to the old mansion. When he saw his grandfather, he always begged for Diego.

Even Nell Harvey came crying.

She and Diego had not been married long. If Diego was put into jail, what would she do alone?

Mathew was annoyed by the two in turn. He was in a terrible mood.

With no way out, Julian made an appointment with Reece.

He didn't know Reece's power, but he had asked for everyone around him for help and nobody could help him.

Over the years, Diego had been very playful, but he had always been biased towards Julian. He even transferred his shares in the Joseph Group to Julian.

What he did in private, Diego looked the other way. They were on the same side anyway.
