Chapter 461 Stop Pretending to Be Gentle

The next day, Joseph came to the police station personally.

He directly visited Aaron by using his contacts in the police station.

Seeing Joseph, Aaron couldn't help socking him, but the guards around him quickly stopped him.

"Aaron, sit down!"

Joseph sat down opposite him coldly. After the guards went out, no other people was there.

"What are you doing here?" Aaron couldn't keep calm.

Now he was certain to be accused of bribery. It must be Joseph who did that.

"Twist the knife." Joseph made no secret of his purpose.

He didn't intend to be ruthless to Aaron, and he could even let the latter aim at himself. He never cared about it.

After all, he was partly accused of what had happened before.

He couldn't withstand that the thankless man did harm to his mother.

"Oh, don't you pretend to be gentle?"

"Aaron, everyone knows what happened before, don't shame yourself again." Joseph said coldly, "You dare to do harm to my mother. You should think of the result."

Aaron's face turned pale.

He did that only because he got outraged at that time. He didn't resent him like that after Joseph was not a doctor any more.

But seeing him feel like a fish in the water in the medical world and win many honors, he couldn't help inflaming.

"I admit it, Joseph. I can't beat you." Aaron said in frustration.

He was too arrogant.

How could he scheme against Joseph?

"I never want to fight with you, Aaron. You aren't innocent. If you didn't go beyond your bounds, I could let you stay well. But since you are thankless, reflect yourself in prison. As for your daughter, I have reported to the University of Country B that you had arranged a surrogate exam-taker for her. You might meet her before going to prison. After all, she was dropped out."

With that Joseph did not stay any longer.

Aaron's face was pale. Seeing Joseph was about to leave, he pulled him madly, "Joseph, what do you say! What do you do to my daughter!"

"You are the one should be blamed. I just fulfill the responsibility of

An hour later, Lincoln had already sent Joseph back to Joseph Bay.
Kathy rushed over and saw the drunken man in the car who seemed to be unconscious. Her countenance changed.
"Kathy, I leave my friend to you." Lincoln didn't say much and left after bringing him into the house.
Kathy moved Joseph to the sofa and patted his face, "Joseph, wake up."
No response.
Kathy was helpless, so she put down her bag to make sober-up tea.
When turning back, she saw that Joseph opened his eyes, he awoke.
She looked sulky and met Joseph's eyes sullenly.
"Kathy." He called her, reaching out his hand to hug her, but was pushed away by Kathy with disgust.
"Don't touch me!"
Leaning against his chest, Kathy picked up the sober-up tea next to her, "Drink it first, I'll prepare bath water for you."
Joseph frowned, but obediently drank it.
Walking into the bathroom, Kathy squatted beside the bathtub. She was wearing a pure white skirt, which was originally knee-length. After squatting down, the skirt moved up slightly, revealing a small part of the skin of her lower body.
White, tender and smooth.
Seeing that, Joseph became sober, but his desires rose.

He walked to her and hugged her before she could be aware of it. Then he pushed her into the bathtub...

"Joseph!" Kathy was angry. She was soaked all over. Joseph felt really hot in his chest.

Aware of his movements, Kathy immediately pushed him away.

"Go away, drunkard!"

Joseph lowered his eyes, raised Kathy's little face and ordered, "Take a bath for me."

"Dream it!" Kathy immediately escaped from the bathtub, but slid carelessly. She was firmly held in arms by Joseph before she hit the edge of the bathtub.

"Throw yourself on me?"

Kathy was speechless.

"Sorry, I drank a little bit more tonight." Joseph said with a gentle voice.

Chapter 463 Can't Help Be Softhearted

When Joseph was walking into the ward, Ella gazed at him, without taking her eyes off him.

Joseph looked at her medical record without any expression.

"Doctor Joseph, I feel weak and have a headache..." Ella dedicatedly said with a soft tone.

"Doctor Watson prescribed medicine for you. Keep for observation these days, nothing serious."

With that Joseph was about to leave.

Ella's condition was not serious. She mostly pretended to be like that.

"Joseph, would you please stay with me? I am afraid that if something happen to me tonight..."

"I will be there." Joseph frowned.

Kathy was on duty tonight, so he didn't plan to go home.

Hearing this, Ella became very happy and wanted to sit up. But she, too weak to do that, fell down on the bed.

Kathy immediately supported her, but Ella pushed her away angrily

"I want Doctor Joseph to accompany me."

"Ella, stay well, or you can be discharged tomorrow." Joseph said coldly.

"But..."

Before she finished, Joseph has already gone out...

"Are you going back home?" Kathy looked at the man beside her.

But she saw him go into the office with her.

John came here early.

It seemed that Joseph was going to work here...

"I will stay in the office tonight." As expected, Joseph said.

"Do you accompany me?" Kathy asked with her eyes twinkled with delight.

"Don't you think?" Joseph held her wrist and swept her into his arms.

John put down the computer and left in a hurry, wisely avoiding.

"Miss Kathy, why are you hostile to me?" Reece looked at her.
Every time Kathy saw him, she didn't have an easy look.
"Mr. Bridges, I am not hostile to you." Kathy frowned.
"If you are not hostile to me, shall we have a meal together?" Reece invited her.
"Sorry, I don't eat with people I don't know well." Just as the elevator door opened, Kathy went out first.
Reece was just a stranger to her.
She was in no mood and didn't have time to have a dinner with him.
Reece, who was rejected, was sullen. His black eyes gradually darkened with a cigarette between his fingertips.
After going back to school and sleeping for a while, Kathy received a call from Joseph.
"Grandpa's birthday is on Saturday. A party will be held at the hotel under Joseph Group. Attend with me, OK?" Joseph asked.
"Grandpa's birthday! It's only two days! I haven't prepared a gift for him." Kathy immediately sat up, a little anxious.
"I have prepared a gift, so you just need to give yourself to me."
Kathy's cheeks turned slightly red, "What is the gift?"
"A calligraphy and painting."
"All right, I'll wait for you at the Booth Mansion."
Zofia just came back. Hearing Kathy's voice, she raised her eyes and asked, "Mr Mathew's birthday party is on Saturday. Will your relationship with Joseph be made public?"

"Let's go with the flow..." Kathy whispered.

"I heard from Veronica that Mr Mathew is not in good health. He must want Joseph to get married as soon as possible."

In Kathy's opinion, it would be a big deal if Joseph took over the Joseph's Group for her.

"My brother is really infatuated." Veronica said helplessly.

"Veronica, look at me. How long have I been after you?" Quinn turned Veronica's head.

Veronica stuck out her tongue and teased him, "Only three years. Don't you feel shame?"

Seeing that they were flirting with each other, Kathy couldn't help laughing.

Not long after, Joseph rejected many guests and came to sit down beside Kathy.

"Grandpa is very happy tonight." Kathy saw Grandpa was brightly smiling. He was more energetic than some time ago.

"Well, he likes these lively occasions where his he familiar friends were there."

"Veronica, the exam is coming. How is your review?" Joseph asked her.

In one month, Veronica would take the adult college entrance examination. Quinn has been counseling her during this time.

"Of course no problem, I have confidence in myself." Veronica confidently said.

"You are worthy of being a member of Joseph family."

When the party came to an end, surprisingly, Julian came in.

Mathew did not invite Julian.

Seeing the rebellious grandson, Mathew turned gloomy.

"Grandpa, I'm here to congratulate you on your birthday." Mathew came in with a gift box in a modest manner.

Mathew didn't even look at it, "Go out."

Of course Julian didn't leave. He opened the gift box. It was Mathew's favorite liquor.

Chapter 466 They Loved Each Other

No one dared disobey Joseph, except Kathy.

He compromised.

He instructed John to bring a thin quilt and let Kathy lay on the sofa, "Sleep here, and I sit beside Grandpa."

"Let's take turns to sit up." Kathy grabbed his arm. She didn't want Joseph to stay up late.

They loved each other.

"Kathy, your accompany is sufficient. Go to bed." With that, Joseph covered her with quilt, not allowing her to struggle any more.

Kathy stared at Joseph without blinking. It seemed that Joseph could lift a sky at any time.

As sleep crept up on her, Kathy felt her eyelids get heavier. Joseph lowered his head to kiss her cherry lips for a while before moving away.

He walked to the corridor with a cigarette case. Just lighting a cigarette, he saw Julian was walking out of the elevator.

Joseph flicked the soot and became fierce.

Julian ignored Joseph and was about to open the door to enter Mathew's ward.

But he was stopped by Joseph.

"Joseph!" Julian looked at him angrily.

Joseph said in an extremely indifferent voice, "Go away."

"I come to visit my Grandpa!" Julian tried to push Joseph's hand away.

However, he couldn't push.

Instead, Joseph hooked his neck severely and threw him against the wall!

Julian was no match for Joseph. He fell to the ground and was awkward.

"I'm going to see my Grandpa. Joseph, what right have you to stop me!" Julian said angrily.

Joseph squinted his eyes with endless anger in his eyes, "Do you know that Grandpa develops symptoms of heart failure? He can't be irritated. He almost couldn't wake up during the first aid just now!"

Joseph's eyes were red. He tried his best to restrain emotions.

Julian was stunned and trembled. Finally he could hardly stagger to his feet so that he fell again.

Joseph kicked him on his lap, "Julian, get out of here. You are too shamed to visit Grandpa!"

With that, he walked into the ward.

Chapter 467 There Is No Turning Back

At Joseph's Group.

From morning to afternoon, executives who entered the office were tore off a strip without exception.

The news about Mathew's serious illness spread recently, and the successor of the Joseph's Group was undecided. As a result, everyone was panicking.

Although Joseph was now in charge of the Joseph's Group, many higher-ups knew that Julian was the right heir according to the rules of the Joseph's Group's inheritance.

But Julian started his own business recently.

In the evening, the higher-ups had to come up again. They couldn't get off work until the contract went through.

John had to take them one by one and walk into the office.

If it couldn't be figured out, John made up his mind to call Kathy over.

However, boss's expression seemed to be milder at this moment. John handed over the documents to him one by one.

Although some of them were vetoed, at least half of them went through.

The executives left with a sigh of relief, and at this time, Lincoln and Johnson arrived.

"Is Mathew fine?" Johnson walked to the bar expertly and opened a bottle of wine.

Joseph frowned and released the tension, "Yes, he is fine now."

"All the unsavory information of Julian's new company is here. HY Group's fast development thanks to the newly built private hospitals. But I investigated and found that these hospitals have serious equipment problems, and the medical staff are not qualified."

These private hospitals rose sharply. They did attract a lot of patients in the early stage. However, as development problems gradually exposed, many complaints have been received.

They were just sat on.

"I know someone at the police station. I already have the information about these disputes and can expose them at any time." Lincoln confidently said.

Joseph was holding a wine glass. The bright red wine reflected his deep glances. The aura in his whole body was chilling.

"Well, slowly spread them. No need to be too high-profile on early stage."

"I'll be responsible for that. Rest assured. I don't care about HY Group, a small company." Lincoln said arrogantly.

Johnson frowned and said seriously, "HY Group is invested by the Bridges Group. You are too inexperienced to uproot it."

“Joseph, my leg...” Seeing her brother's gloomy face, Veronica was very worried.

“You still have the chance to stand up, trust me.”

Veronica's face was very pale. She had been doing rehabilitation in recent days, and her legs had gradually regained consciousness.

But now, she seemed to have lost all sensation in her legs.

Leaving the consulting room, he met John who had been waiting outside. When John saw him, he immediately went forward and reported, “Joseph, Quinn has been arrested in the police station because he beat Julian.”

Joseph frowned when he heard that. He thought it was Julian who hurt Veronica, and Quinn was so angry that he hit Julian.

“I'll be there right away.”

The Davis family was not here, and Veronica was in the hospital, so only he could bail Quinn out.

After Quinn came out of the police station, the two came to the hospital together.

“Joseph, I'm sorry to have caused you so much trouble.” Quinn thanked him.

“You did a good job.” Joseph twitched his lips.

People like Julian deserved to be beaten.

“Since he dares to hurt Veronica, Joseph, and I will not let him go.” Quinn's voice was extremely cold.

Veronica was his precious, and whoever dared to hurt her was against him!

“Well, I won't let him go, but you should be careful about the people behind Julian.” Joseph said.

It was not difficult to deal with Julian, but the people behind him were the real magnates.

When Kathy returned to the dormitory, Zofia had changed clothes and was about to go out.

“It's so late, where are you going.” Kathy asked.

“Veronica had an accident, and she is in the hospital now. I'll go to see her.” Zofia said and looked worried.

“What happened?”

“I don't know. I heard that Julian pushed her and injured her leg. If it affects Veronica's recovery, I won't spare him!” After speaking, Zofia hurried out.

He was only willing to do anything for Kathy.

"Joseph!" Kathy scowled.

With a fond smile upon his face, he raised Kathy's chin, "Hey, have some food, stop thinking about it anymore."

“So, you had some feelings for me at that time?” Kathy asked.

She had many questions now.

Since Joseph did so many things for her from the beginning, was it just because she was Mrs. Joseph? Even if the other person was Mrs. Joseph, would he still do it?

“Yes.”

Yes?

Kathy's eyes widened suddenly. Did Joseph admit it?

“You say it again, when did you like me.” Kathy looked at the man in front of her without blinking, not letting go of the slightest emotional change on his face.

But Joseph really...hid it well.

Chapter 470 Act Without Authorization

In the crowded airport, Reece was in an all-black suit. He was low-key but eye-catching.

Outside of the airport, Julian's car was parked outside. He hurriedly came down when he saw Reece, "Mr Bridge."

Reece wore sunglasses, and Julian obviously could not see his line of sight, but Julian could feel his sharp and cold gaze. He could not help but tremble.

"Go to BH Club." He ordered in a cold voice.

He did not get into Julian's car but went up to the Rolls Royce behind.

Julian did not dare to delay and immediately got into the car.

During the day, the club was not opened, but with Reece's status, he could go over anytime.

Reece leaned against the enormous window on his back, and he exuded an obscure and unpredictable aura.

Julian calmed his emotions and spoke as calmly as possible, "Mr Bridge, I'm sure you know about the HY Group's matter."

"Yes." Reece took off his sunglasses and accepted the waiter's red wine, and his posture was elegant.

"What do you think, what should I do..." Julian looked at Reece with caution, afraid of saying the wrong thing and angering him.

"It's your company, and you ask me what to do?" Reece sneered.

"Mr Bridge, you are the biggest investor in the HY Group. I don't dare to act without authorization." Julian's attitude was respectful.

"Who reported the matter?" Reece asked indifferently.

"I think it should be my brother."

Except for the member of the Joseph family, no one would go against Julian.

"When others attack you, won't you fight back?" Reece narrowed his eyes.

"But the Joseph Group's... strength is strong, and I couldn't find any leverage when I served there."

Especially after Joseph took over the Joseph Group, its strength had risen even more.

Although Julian reported Joseph before, he didn't expect it to be false evidence. Joseph didn't do anything over the line.

If he were to investigate, he would be unable to find out anything.
