Chapter 471 You'll Make a Mess for Me

Just as soon as Veronica and Quinn came out, Julian was about to leave.

When he saw them, he stopped in his tracks with a smile on his face, "My sister, did you fall in love?"

"None of your business." Veronica didn't have a pleasant look on her face.

Julian was not annoyed, "Quinn, my sister is a bit vixenish, can you stand it?"

"Who is vixenish?" Veronica was so angry that she picked up the vase next to her and smashed it at Julian!

Julian immediately retreated, but the vase fragments still cut into his skin, and his face was suddenly gloomy.

"Veronica!"

Seeing that Julian was about to get angry, Quinn immediately blocked him.

"Julian, get out, you are not welcome in the Joseph family." Quinn's voice was extremely cold.

Julian narrowed his eyes and sneered, "You haven't married Veronica yet, and you think you're a member of the Joseph family?"

"I am more qualified than you to stand here!"

"Julian, get out of here and don't come back to the Joseph family anymore!" Veronica glared at him.

"What belongs to the Joseph family is all mine!" Julian said and left reluctantly.

He was the rightful heir, and there was no one else!

At the Joseph Group, knowing that Julian had gone over to the Joseph's residence, Joseph dismissed his meeting and came home immediately.

Veronica looked at her brother unexpectedly. She thought to herself that at this time, shouldn't her brother be at the Joseph Group?

But it quickly occurred to her that Joseph should have known that Julian had come over.

"Don't worry, Julian doesn't dare to do anything," Veronica said in a cold voice.

"I'll go find grandpa."

Joseph pushed open the door and saw Mathew sat on the sofa and looked out the window pondering.

"Grandpa, Julian came back, what did he say?" Joseph sat down at the opposite of his grandfather.

Joseph had just learned that Julian and Reece had met.

With what he understood about Reece, Julian must have been manipulated by him.

After hearing this, Mathew sighed and said in a deep voice, "He is willing to give up his inheritance, but only if I support the HY Group."

Joseph pursed his thin lips, and his face was gloomy.

"What is your answer?"

"I haven't agreed yet."

Joseph made a soup, three dishes with meat and one with vegetables.

Apart from helping him a bit Kathy didn't even touch the spatula.

Joseph's efficiency was really high...

“Do you want to go back to campus tonight or stay here?” Joseph asked.

Kathy looked at the handsome man in front of her. He cooked so much food for her. Kathy thought if she just ate and left, she would feel a little bad towards him.

And she also didn't want to leave either.

“What do you want?” Kathy threw the question right back at him.

The next second, Joseph held her by the back of her head and leaned extremely close to her.

“I want you to stay with me.”

Kathy blinked. As she stood there stunned, Joseph kissed her on her lips.

The kiss was soft and gentle, Kathy liked it very much.

Raising her head, she kissed him back.

Tonight, she clearly felt Joseph's emotions. He was not in a good mood because of Mathew's matter.

Kathy hugged him, listening to his steady heartbeat and said in a low voice, “I'll be with you.”

After putting the dirty dishes and cutlery in the dishwasher, they both sat comfortably on the sofa. Joseph had his business affairs to deal with and Kathy had recently been helping her mother with some of the Booth Group. Both had their own work to do but they were still in the same space. It was very comfortable and warm.

Suddenly, Joseph's cellphone rang. It was Quinn's call.

“Grandpa insisted on being transferred to the hospital. Veronica and I had no choice. Grandpa is now at Ocean University's hospital.”

Joseph frowned, “Okay.”

The living room was very quiet so Kathy could hear the Quinn's voice clearly through the phone.

“How come grandpa transferred?”

“He is angry with me.” Joseph said solemnly.

Chapter 473 Vigilant of People with other Intentions

Kathy understood why Mathew's attitude towards her had changed so much.

He thought that Joseph only continued to be a doctor because she worked in the hospital.

And Joseph could not continue to do that.

He must do what Mathew had arranged for him and put all his efforts on Joseph's Group.

Kathy did not speak anymore. No matter what she was to say, it was undoubtedly going to upset Mathew.

After leaving the ward, Kathy felt very depressed. Her phone was vibrating; it was Joseph calling her. She looked at it and then put the phone back in her pocket.

After finishing all her work, she went back to the campus.

Tonight, Zofia was also in the dormitory. Seeing Kathy come back, she wanted to ask her to go to dinner together.

But she was startled seeing Kathy's pale face.

"Kathy, do you have a fever?" Zofia asked with concern, stretching out her hand towards Kathy.

Kathy shook her head, "I'm fine."

"You are fine? I can see that something serious has happened." Zofia muttered.

Kathy forced a smile but it was a bit too stiff.

"What happened? If you are physically fine then it must be something that is mentally hurting you."

Kathy sighed and stayed silent for some time before speaking, "Grandpa feels like I have influenced Joseph and says that he will make me leave..."

"What?" Zofia was stunned, she didn't understand this at all.

“Grandpa? Mathew?”

“Yeah, he always hoped that Joseph would stop being a doctor but now Joseph is also a doctor with being the president of Joseph’s group. Grandpa thinks that Joseph chose to continue being a doctor because of me.”

“That can’t be true...” Zofia frowned.

But then thinking about it, maybe it was true...

After all, Joseph’s group was already enough for Joseph to manage. Being a doctor was not easy and he really didn’t have to continue to do clinic.

In the next second, Julian locked the door instead.

"Kathy, put the needle down!" Julian came over and was trying to clasp Kathy's wrist.

As soon as Kathy pulled back, the nurse next to her snatched the needle away.

Such a significant movement naturally alarmed Mathew. He opened his eyes and saw Julian; his look became gloomy instantly.

"What are you all doing?"

But Julian suddenly spoke, "Grandpa, Kathy came over to give you an injection, and I saw her sneaking around, so I hurriedly followed her to stop her."

Kathy's eyes opened wide and looked at Julian who was talking nonsense seriously. She didn't come back to her senses for a moment.

The nurse also spoke at this time, "There's a problem with the needle."

"Grandpa, it's Julian..."

As soon as Kathy opened her mouth, Julian interrupted her, "Grandpa, it's good that you're fine. I'll investigate this matter, and if someone wants to harm you, I won't let her go!"

Julian gave Kathy a stern look.

“Julian, stop talking nonsense. It’s clearly you and this nurse who is not even from our hospital were trying to give grandpa an injection!” Kathy calmly retorted.

“Alright, stop arguing and get out.” Mathew was still sleepy, and he did not want to know who was right or wrong at this moment.

“Grandpa, have a good rest. I will see you tomorrow.” After finishing the words, he went out.

The nurse beside him also ran quickly. Kathy frowned, looking at grandfather who had fallen back to sleep. She did not disturb him again.

Just Julian’s behaviour just now...was too suspicious.

Thought of this, she immediately called Joseph’s phone.

At this moment Joseph was still in a video conference. Dozens of foreign executives just watched him turned off the microphone and picked up the phone.

“Kathy.”

“Joseph, have you come back yet?” Kathy’s tone was nervousness that couldn’t be hidden.

“I’ll be back tomorrow.”

“Why tomorrow...” Kathy was annoyed.

Benedict explained the patient's situation to Kathy. But Kathy made mistakes frequently, making him a little angry as well.

"Kathy, what's wrong with you today?"

Kathy bit her lips and said with chagrin, "Sorry professor, I'm fine."

Walking out of the ward, Joseph stood at the door, Kathy didn't even glance at him.

Benedict did understand and looked at Kathy, "Take care of your own business first, then come back to me."

Kathy looked at the handsome man in front of her and didn't make a sound for a long time.

"Do you have another thing?" Only after a while did she murmur.

Joseph clasped her wrist and took her directly to his office.

"Don't take Grandpa's words to heart." Joseph frowned.

Listening to Mathew's tone just now, he knew that Mathew did not like Kathy now. So, he could imagine how unpleasant the words he had said to Kathy on Monday to make her refuse to answer his call.

"I didn't take it to heart." Kathy was duplicitous.

Holding her head, Joseph frowned. He had never had any experience in coaxing women, and at this moment, Kathy was angry, so he was a bit annoyed.

"Joseph, it is reasonable for grandfather to suspect me, after all, Julian is his grandson." Kathy calmly said.

She really... could understand.

"I'm sorry, I didn't handle this issue properly."

"Joseph, it has nothing to do with you. If this matter can be investigated clearly, then that's the best. If it cannot be investigated, then there is nothing that can be done."

Mathew was already prejudiced against her, and at present, whatever she did would only make him annoyed.

She had...took it easy.

Mathew could not be irritated now, so she would not argue with him to affect his mood.

"I will take care of Julian."

“What time do you get off work tonight?” His voice was a little milder.

“It’s going to be about nine o’clock at night.”

“Come over to Joseph Bay tonight? Hmm?”

Mathew looked at his grandson, gave a shrug, and reached out to snatch over the wine glass.
Joseph immediately threw it into the trash.
Mathew turned around, and decided to just drink the wine from the bottle.
This time, Joseph decided to smash the bottle first.
"Grandpa, if you die from drinking too much, no one will prepare your funeral." Joseph said coldly.
"You ..." Mathew choked.
Only Joseph dared to talk to Mathew in such a manner.
"I am not going to drink anymore." Mathew said while feeling annoyed.

“Grandpa, although you're angry with me, there's no need to harm your health like this.” Joseph said in a deep voice.

“That's for sure, I still want to live longer!”

“Then come down and dine with me.”

“I don't have the appetite.”

“Grandpa, what do you want me to do?” Joseph frowned and his tone became gentler.

After saying that, Mathew did not response for a while.

Joseph patiently sat down on the sofa next to him.

“Next week, I will announce that you will officially inherit the Joseph's group, and at the same time allow you to take up the position of the chairman of the Joseph's Group.”

This meant that, Joseph will be taking over the Joseph's group completely.

However, the succession right to the Joseph's Group was still not in Joseph's hands.

“Grandpa, Julian hasn't given up the right to inherit the Joseph's Group.” Joseph said while frowning.

Legally, Julian had the upper hand.

“That bastard, Julian, has already been removed from the family tree! He is no longer a member of the Joseph family!” Mathew said in an angry voice.

Hearing that, Joseph was obviously a little surprised.

He did not expect his grandfather would do this.

“I will arrange a conference by next Monday, Joseph, I would like you to immediately resign your position at the Ocean Hospital!” Mathew said in a commanding tone.

“Grandpa, I don't plan to stop working as a doctor.” Joseph said in a cold voice.

Chapter 477 No One Dared to Laugh at You

In the evening, Kathy received a call from Joseph, who came over to the Joseph Bay.

He had already arrived, and it looked bad if Kathy did not go out to greet him.

“Why are you here?”

“I haven't eaten dinner yet.” Joseph, who had a tall figure, leaned against his car, his eyes burned with expectations.

“Then you should go and eat.” After replying, Kathy turned around and intended to go back in.

But Joseph caught her wrist, and as Kathy could not react in time, she fell backward into his arms.

A familiar scent could be smelt, clean and refreshing, which she liked.

Kathy’s nose suddenly turned sour.

“Come eat with me, ok?”

“I didn't bring anything ...,” Kathy muttered.

“I just need you to accompany me.” After saying that, he took Kathy to the passenger seat.

Kathy lowered her eyes and was embarrassed when she saw that she was still wearing slippers.

Joseph also saw it.

“It's okay, with me by your side, no one dares to laugh at you.”

Kathy was speechless.

The place that Joseph brought her to was an exquisite Japanese restaurant. Kathy wore slippers and kept her presence half-hidden by standing behind Joseph from the moment she got off the car.

When she finally arrived in the room, she poked her head out. Kathy finally did not feel embarrassed as she noticed that the place was to be dine barefooted.

“Joseph, I'm really full.” The Booth family's meals were quite to her liking, she was already full eating there...

“Then watch me eat.” Joseph said warmly and gently.

"I'll just have some raw fish." Kathy said.

"There will be a conference at the Joseph's Group next Monday, do you want to attend it with me?" Joseph asked after placing the order.

"I have to attend the internship on Monday." Kathy shook her head.

The party lasted until midnight. The women talked about things together and they could not finish it for days and nights.

Kathy bid farewell to Alexia and Sue reluctantly. But when she got into the car, she felt sleepy.

Joseph went directly to Joseph Bay with her. Kathy was sleeping in the car and her face was flushed due to some alcohol. The loose button of her jacket was exposing her white and sexy collar bone.

Under the soft light, it was extraordinarily attractive.

When Joseph hugged and lifted her up, the fire under his eyes was getting more and more intense.

But, at the same time, Kathy in his arms was sleeping deeply.

At the crack of dawn, whenever Kathy's body had contact with the mattress, she would cover herself with the blanket immediately.

After showering, Joseph helped Kathy to wipe her face with a towel before falling into sleep.

The smell of liquor on her body was very strong. But, her soft body enabled him to bear with it temporarily.

Kathy slept till noon. She was alone on the big mattress and Joseph was seemingly not in the room.

The smell of liquor ... was still there.

Kathy felt embarrassed because she slept in the car last night unexpectedly.

She got out of the bed and went to the bathroom immediately for a shower. But, she just realized that there was not a bathrobe in the bathroom when she finished showering.

After drying her body, she could only wrap herself in a towel. She slightly opened the door and said, "Joseph..."

But, only her echo answered.

Kathy frowned because her clothes were dirty and obviously, she could not wear them anymore. There was a wardrobe in the bedroom in which Joseph's clothes were there.

She ran out barefoot and the moment when she opened the wardrobe, there was a sound of footsteps at the door followed by the opening of the door.

Kathy was dumbfounded when looking at a distinguished man who wore white clothes and black trousers walking through the door. Her hands were seemingly frozen.

There was a sudden breeze on her body because the towel that used to cover herself had dropped.

Kathy gained her consciousness immediately but Joseph had already seen everything.

Joseph, who had a pair of long legs, walked towards her and soon Kathy was in his arms.

Chapter 479 Surpassed Him

The reporters crowded the stage and the bodyguards immediately blocked the reporters. The situation was chaotic.

Julian had been surrounded by the reporters. His face turned pale because what Mathew said just now was a fatal blow to him.

Kathy was being blocked by the reporters and she did not know anything that had happened on the stage. Until the sound of an ambulance emerged and Mathew was sent to an ambulance, Kathy took a taxi to follow.

Outside the emergency room, Joseph leant on the wall and his eyes were cold.

When Joseph met Kathy, he hugged her in his arms. She could feel the cold that spread from his body so she knew that he was afraid.

“Joseph, Grandpa is going to be fine.”

Joseph still remained silent and hugged Kathy like he was holding all the hopes.

After half an hour, Mathew had been transferred to the normal ward. But, his heart failure was very serious and the effects of medication were very minimal. The situation could only be slowly recovered by controlling his emotions.

Veronica and Quinn Davis rushed over afterwards and they just felt relieved when they knew that the Grandpa was fine.

There were lots of reporters crowded outside the hospital and they were here to verify Mathew’s speech given during the press conference today. Currently, there was no one from the Joseph’s group to clarify anything and the reporters outside had already made up many stories.

Although some works had been done by the PR team, this matter still spread.

“Kathy, I bring you back to the school first.” Joseph hugged her and left together from the underground car park.

“Are you staying in the hospital or going to the Joseph’s group?” Kathy asked, deeply concerned.

“I go to the Joseph’s group first and then visit my Grandpa at night.”

“Alright. If anything happens, do let me know. I am worried.”

When returned to the Joseph’s group, Julian was still there at the press conference.

When he saw Joseph coming back, Joseph’s cold eyes were looking at him.

Joseph looked unconcerned but Julian ran towards him quickly and blocked his ways.

“I want to talk to you.”

Joseph nodded and they headed to the chairman’s office.

Chapter 480 The Biggest Joke

At the Bridges Group's president's office.

In front of the floor-to-ceiling windows, sunlight shone through the glass, but the man was covered in cold air.

The cigarette flickered at his fingertips. Reece puffed hard on his cigarette and thrust one hand into his trouser pocket. His eyes were cold.

After a while, he turned his head and kicked away the assistant next to him.

"Where's Julian? What's the situation with HY Group now?"

"Mr. Bridges, Julian has been taken over to the police station by Joseph's men for interrogation. The HY Group is now in disarray and is an empty shell."

"Get out."

The assistant practically rolled out of the room, not daring to stay for a second.

Mr. Bridge was too frightening.

After a while, he picked up the invitation sitting on the table and dialed Ella's number, "Get changed into your dress and wait for me at home."

In the evening, Kathy received a call from Joseph. She was still in hospital.

Tonight the Joseph's Group was hosting a celebration dinner and Joseph was coming to pick her up.

"I won't be going. I'll be on duty later."

"I'll inevitably have to drink. If I get drunk, who's going to take me home?"

Kathy froze. Joseph wasn't a ... good drinker.

At least the image of him getting drunk last month was still vivid in her mind.

Knowing full well that Joseph had said that on purpose, Kathy was still worried.

"But I haven't prepared anything."
