My Sweetheart

Chapter 51 Because She is Kathy

Kathy was trapped in his arms and her voice was slightly angry, "I am obviously troubled by you, and I still have to pay you back?"

"Who came to the hospital right away when she heard that I was in hospital?" Joseph narrowed his eyes.

Kathy was embarrassed. She was really worried about him at that time, so she lost her head and went to him...

Joseph really did what he said. In the early morning of that day, all the websites including the Fan Club did not have Kathy 's photos, but everyone knows that Dr. Joseph had a girlfriend!

Kathy didn't go to work the next day and also rested at home.

Joseph seemed to be busy. He was dealing with other business matters in the study. Kathy did not disturb and took the computer to the balcony, and laid down to start working.

The Joseph Family was located halfway up the mountain. The view from the balcony was very good. Kathy enjoyed this comfortable environment and soon fell asleep.

When Joseph came in, the sun was falling on Kathy 's face. Her facial features were not particularly delicate, but they were very beautiful and pure.

He narrowed his eyes and lay next to her. When his hands slowly reached over, and almost held Kathy's hand, she shivered and woke up.

She turned her head sideways, so when she opened her eyes, she saw Joseph's handsome face.

This face was so handsome, and at this time his face was so gentle, so Kathy did not look away for a long time.

In the early morning, Kathy turned over and over and couldn't sleep. In her dream, she recalled three years ago.

"Peter, I did not plagiarize. Don't you believe me?"

"The evidence is solid. Kathy, you must recognize it, otherwise my face will be lost."

"I didn't plagiarize. I won't admit it!"

"Kathy, for your future, listen to me, or you won't even get a diploma."

She suddenly opened her eyes and her face was very pale. Every time she thought about it, she always felt hurt.

She was framed, but even her lover did not believe her.

A faint light came in, and there was a shallow scar on her wrist that was indelible.

At this moment, there was a footstep outside and Kathy looked up and saw Joseph coming back.

There was a smell of disinfectant on his body. Apparently he had just returned from the hospital.

Kathy looked at the time. It was five o'clock in the morning.

"What's wrong?" Joseph walked in and looked at Kathy's pale face. He frowned worriedly.

Kathy shook her head and didn't want to talk about the things in her dream.

"Go to sleep now." Kathy moved away.

Joseph lowered his eyes and landed on Kathy's wrist. The cold flashed in his eyes.

Peter came back from a business trip and soon learned that Herbert messed up the cooperation with NCHV Medical Company a few days ago.

This was his first R & D project in City N, which was very important. The board of directors also paid more attention to it. There must be no accident.

He anxiously pressed his eyebrows. When Herbert came to him, he asked coldly, "Why you refused NCHV Medical Company?"

Herbert did not even discuss it with him.

Kathy was being drugged. Her hands shook, and the medicinal liquor beside her was overturned.

The doctor next to her frowned dissatisfiedly, "This is the emergency room. Other people go out!"

"I am the patient's husband, not other people." Joseph walked in justifiably.

The doctor finally bandaged Kathy's wounds under various eyes, and Joseph hugged her to the luxurious ward on the top floor.

"Joseph, you haven't recovered yet. Why do you come here!" Kathy said worriedly because the rash on his skin hadn't subsided.

"You have an accident. Do you think I can stay at home at ease?" Joseph said in a deep voice. He looked at Kathy's wound just now and it shocked him.

"I don't need to be hospitalized. Don't make a fuss. I can go back." She was just bitten and hadn't any other symptoms.

"Well." Joseph answered, but kept staring at her.

Kathy was unnaturally seen by him and could only keep her head down.

Alexia quickly took her medicine. Because Joseph was there, so she did not stay.

However, she quietly sent Kathy a message to tell her that just half an hour ago, Joseph forced to disband her fan support club!

Kathy, "What?"

Alexia, "It must be because of you. Think about it, if there is a fan support club, he is the man of all fans. But after being disbanded now, he is just your man. Fans can't find his news, and they won't hurt you anymore."

Kathy looked at Alexia's analysis seriously, and found it seemed quite reasonable.

She looked up at the man in front of her who was peeling the apple for her, and felt warm.

"Joseph." She called him.

"What's wrong? Is this wound still painful?" Joseph turned around and looked at her arm worriedly.

Kathy shook her head and looked at him, "Thank you."

"Stupid. Why say thank you to me?" Joseph rubbed her head.

The smile on Kathy's mouth remained for less than a second...

"Then why you disband the support team." Kathy asked.

"I don't like my private life always being exposed."

Kathy was on a lot of alert because they were surrounded by crazy fans in the morning. She came into the hospital through another unobtrusive side door.

Not far away, Lily Smith had returned visit examination. When she saw Kathy, she walked over after taking off her sunglasses.

"Kathy, do you come here to find Dr. Joseph?" Lily Smith looked at her.

"I'm not familiar with Miss. Lily, so I needn't report my itinerary to you." Kathy crossed her expressionlessly.

Lily Smith was sullen. This woman dared to talk to her like this!

"Now Dr. Joseph comes to my house every week." Lily Smith said suddenly.

Kathy frowned, and her steps didn't stop.

"Kathy, I tell you. Joseph is mine!"

Kathy walked into the elevator, and Lily Smith's words lingered in her ears. She raised her eyes, and found that not far away Lily was surrounded by everyone. She looked arrogant and shining.

She looked back and found that she was affected by Lily Smith's words.

Yes, it seemed only she who had wealth and status deserved Joseph.

The elevator door stopped in the neurology department. Kathy did not walk in and went home alone.

Angela was a little surprised to see her coming back alone.

"Why Dr. Joseph didn't come with you?"

"He needs to work."

"Can't he ask for leave? He didn't come back with you." Angela sighed and was a little dissatisfied.

Kathy took the initiative to go into the kitchen to help and smiled, "He is usually busy, I will come back to accompany you, mom."

"I have been watching you for twenty-five years. Can you give me a feeling of freshness." Angela's loud voice broke out again.

Kathy was speechless. She was detested by her mother.

"Just keep looking at me, and I will let Dr. Joseph come back when he is free."

"Just let him come tonight! I also went to the market to buy fresh fish, and I'm ready to show my culinary arts! The fried fish made by me is delicious." Angela kept talking, and many of them were about Dr. Joseph.

Kathy felt headache. She doesn't really want to see him now.

At this time, there was a bell ringing outside. Kathy frowned. Was he a courier?

"Don't girls like this kind of ritual?"

Kathy looked at him. For so many years, now someone was realizing one by one what she had expected but she never asked for.

"I...don't care." Kathy put the flowers down and still felt awkward.

Although it is undeniable that she was moved.

"Mrs. Joseph, one person can make up, but two people are different."

Joseph started the engine and the car quickly left the neighborhood.

Kathy looked down at the ring on her finger, and after a while, she still gave up taking it off.

As Joseph said, it was a part of the agreement.

The next day, NCHV Medical Company.

The R & D project cooperated by the Herbert's Group and NCHV Medical Company was officially launched. Because Johnson was on a business trip, so Alexia represented Johnson to talk over with the Herbert's Group. As a project assistant, Kathy also needed to be with her.

"Kathy, we need to face Peter later." Alexia reminded worriedly.

Kathy was expressionless, "His current identity is only our partner."

"It's good that you could think it this way."

Alexia smiled. At this moment, she noticed the ring on Kathy's finger and her gaze sharpened.

"Wedding ring?"

"That's right." Kathy was still not used to it now.

"But this ring is so special. I think I've seen it at some place before."

Alexia recalled. Then she suddenly patted her thigh and searched a piece of news in her phone to Kathy.

City N held a grand auction half a month ago, and one of the products was a ring in Kathy's hand, worth... 300 million dollars.

The people from NCHV Medical Company and the Herbert's group sat the sides of the table respectively, and the middle position was left to Peter.

Kathy was sitting on the corner and was calling Joseph to tell him that she will not go back to dinner tonight.

Peter came in as soon as she hung up the phone. He frowned when he saw his position was in the middle.

Soon, he changed the position and sat next to Kathy!

"Relax, you needn't to be shy. We will work together in the future, and should get to know each other well." Peter said, and everyone was less nervous.

Kathy and Alexia had been talking and didn't communicate with Peter at all.

"My dream in my whole life is to do research and development with Joseph, and now it has finally come true" One of the Herbert's group's female colleagues was excited.

"My ideal was to surpass Joseph!" Some people teased.

"Just you? Joseph is the top scientific researcher in the industry with countless honors, but he is still the chief doctor. Is it possible for him to spend a lot of time on this project?" A voice of concern came.

"He works very hard. I remember when I am an internship at the People's Hospital before, he was involved in research and development at night, but he still saw patients and entered the operating room during the day."

"He was exhausted. I am so distressed!"

"It's not up to you to be distressed. Dr. Joseph is the dream lover of all the women in City N. You'd better not daydream!"

Kathy's hands with knives and forks trembled. She didn't expect the subject was about Joseph.

Joseph's fans really were from all walks of life, regardless of gender. His impact was amazing.

"Kathy, is that true?" Peter suddenly asked her.

They both were in the side position and Peter's voice was low, so no one paid attention to them.

"He's really busy." Kathy didn't want to answer him, but now that Peter was the partner's boss. She can't ignore him.

"He must have no time to take care of you." Peter frowned.

"I can take care of myself."

"I remember you would burn the kitchen." It seemed that he had thought of something, and a smile touched the corners of his mouth.

Going back to the villa, Kathy tried to use soapy liquid to take off the ring, but the ring was fixed on her ring finger and she couldn't take it off.

When Joseph came in, Kathy was frustrated.

"Don't take off it!" He hugged Kathy from behind, grabbed her hand and washed it despotically.

Kathy pouted her mouth, "This ring is so expensive. I'm afraid it will be broken."

"If it is broken, we can get a new one."

Kathy frowned. She didn't mean that...

"I think we are not real couples. You can just buy a cheap ring." Kathy looked up and looked at Joseph seriously.

This ring should be given to his lover by Joseph in the future.

"This ring is not expensive." Joseph held her hand and dragged her out of the bathroom.

"Isn't a ring for 300 million dollars expensive..." Kathy was speechless.

"Joseph, how many properties do you have?" Kathy asked suddenly.

Joseph, whom she knew, was only a doctor, but today she also knew that he was still a top talent in medical research, and previously acquired NCHV Medical Company and became the new boss.

Was he going to give her a bigger surprise in the future, no... it was fright!

"Are you going to see it?" Joseph raised his thin lips.

Kathy was stunned. Did he really have...

"No, no, but when we get divorced, are you not afraid I will take your property?" Kathy asked stupidly.

She didn't even do property appraisal before she married Joseph, and the prenuptial agreement was not signed.

If she gets divorced, would she also be a rich lady?

"You don't have this opportunity." Joseph narrowed his eyes.

"Are you really going to spend lifetime with a woman you don't like? Joseph, the world is beautiful and you must can find your lover." Kathy said seriously.

"Joseph, did you do it on purpose?"

"Why did I do it on purpose?"

"You must want to bully me."

"I'm not naive." Joseph grinned.

"You really come to work here?" Kathy asked uncertainly.

"Otherwise do you think I am here to accompany you?" Joseph raised his eyebrows.

Kathy was silent, of course she would not think so.

But Joseph was there. She seemed to be energetic.

After breakfast, a driver sent the two to the research base. Joseph was looking at the report along the way, and his face was serious.

Kathy looked at his serious profile, and it was really pleasing to the eye.

She can't help but envy the nurse who usually works with him.

Suddenly, the road up the mountain was very bumpy, Kathy didn't hold the handle, and the whole person shook.

Joseph immediately held her shoulder, Kathy was hugged by him, and her heart beat abnormally.

"I'm fine." She wanted to sit upright.

Joseph didn't let go. His voice was a little deep, "Just lean against me, don't move."

"Oh." Kathy was shocked by his tone, and didn't dare to refute.

Half an hour later, the car stopped in front of a building. The two people got off, and the person in charge showed them around.

Kathy followed Joseph, but after going up to the third floor, she walked a little slower and couldn't see Joseph after they made a turn.

"Dr. Joseph..." she shouted, but there was no response on this floor.

She was a little worried. The building had just been repaired and it was very cold everywhere. Every step of the echo made Kathy terrified.

Kathy woke up three hours later. When she opened her eyes, the white flower ceiling was in sight.

She moved her finger and tried to sit up, but she found she had no strength and fell to the bed again.

"Kathy!" Alexia came in a hurry, turned on the light, and was relieved to see that Kathy was fine.

"I..." Kathy frowned, and the scene before the coma came to her mind. Her face sank annoyedly.

Did she make trouble?

"Don't talk anything. Let me hug you. Kathy, luckily, you are out of danger. Those chemicals are very toxic!" Alexia said and she cried.

Kathy patted her shoulder to comfort her. She was also scared at the time, but she remembered that someone rushed in to save her.

Was it Joseph?

But he was not here now.

"I'm sorry. Let you worry about me." Kathy murmured, and asked, "why you come here?"

"It was Johnson who informed me. I felt better, so I came to take over the job."

At this moment, there was a sound of footsteps at the door, and Joseph's slender figure came into her eyes.

Kathy raised her eyes, and his deep gaze made her a little chill.

His aura was already strong, and now his face was cold and his eyes were deep, which was even more terrifying.

Kathy's heart beat fast and her head lowered.

When Joseph came, Alexia didn't want to disturb them, so she left.

Joseph put the lunch box down and stepped closer, confirming that Kathy was really awake before he was relieved.

"Kathy." He murmured. As soon as he approached, he lifted her face, and the hot kiss fell down, lingering and deep.

Kathy froze. It seemed that no matter how many times, she hadn't learned to kiss Joseph. He was always so overbearing that she could hardly resist.

"... Did you find me?" Kathy asked. She remembered that when she was rescued, she subconsciously thought it was him.

But the next second, the man's face sank, "It is Peter. Is he the man you hope to see?"

They needed to attend a meeting in the evening, so Alexia and Johnson left soon.

There was only Kathy in the ward again. Joseph was with her last night, but tonight it was quiet. Kathy could not help shrinking.

She always hated the place of the hospital, and she felt even more cold at the moment.

What was Joseph doing?

Since he was here to work, he must be busy too.

Kathy made blind and disorderly conjectures, and soon fell asleep.

Suddenly more and more clear footsteps came. Kathy slept unsteadily and woke up in the next second.

She saw a pair of lidded eyes and her heart beat in disorder.

But she felt more wronged.

Why did he come so late?

Didn't he know would she be afraid...

Kathy blinked and closed her eyes again.

Joseph turned on the light and sat next to Kathy. He still wore a lab coat. He came directly from the R & D building.

He was annoyed at her, but also annoyed himself.

"Kathy."

Kathy did not respond, and even turned her back to Joseph.

Joseph frowned and did not hesitate to turn over her body. Kathy pursed her lips unhappily. His slender fingers touched her lips.

She didn't realize and she even bit Joseph's finger. Kathy opened her eyes.

Facing this handsome man in front of her, her face was even hotter.

"Hmm..." She backed away, but Joseph's fingers didn't back, and almost got into her throat.

"Will you be obedient later?" He narrowed his eyes, and his tone was very sultry.

Kathy just felt so numb. When she recovered, she shook her head calmly.

With her hand stretched out to hold Joseph's elbow, Kathy's mouth was free.
