Chapter 531 I'm Always the One Being Bullied

"Reece, thank you for your tips, but I won't doubt Joseph."

With that, Kathy quickly packed her things and left.

The hospital was filled with the smell of disinfectant, but at this moment, she felt suffocated.

She wouldn't doubt Joseph.

He wouldn't lie to her.

She took a deep breath. It had been three hours since she arrived at the neurology department. Joseph's operation should be over soon.

Ella pushed open the office door with a white gown in her hand. She was surprised when she saw Kathy.

After putting down the clothes, she went out emotionlessly.

There was a lipstick in the open pocket.

Kathy frowned, picked up the lipstick and chased after Ella, "Take your thing away."

"Oh, how could I have forgot this? This is a gift from Joseph," Ella said deliberately.

"Ella, you must be living in a dream, right?" Kathy tore her lie.

"You ... if you don't believe me, suit yourself!" Ella was so angry that she jumped.

Originally, she wanted to see Kathy angry. The calmer Kathy was, the angrier she became.

"It has been reported that this brand of lipstick has quality issues. I advise you not to use it." Her tone was indifferent.

"You!" Ella was furious and smashed the lipstick.

Joseph was coming out of the operating room. Ella started to sob, looking pitiful.

Kathy was standing next to her. An outsider who didn't know the whole story would think that she was being bullied by Kathy.

Kathy frowned. What a naïve girl.

For some reason, she did not want to see Joseph at the moment.

She turned around and walked into the elevator. Joseph's face sank and he immediately chased after her.

Chapter 532 You Felt Distressed for Him

Kathy frowned. Sonny usually had good grades in specialized courses and it was the second semester after he came to the school. Why was he dropped out of the school without reason?

"Are you also surprised at it?" Sonny bitterly asked.

Kathy slowly nodded.

"When I knew I was dropped out of the school, I asked for why. And the reason was that I had bad conduct and got Zofia pregnant. I admitted that I was wrong about Zofia's pregnancy. But I was retaliated again and again later. I thought maybe the Marshall family did it. When Zofia was my girlfriend, the members of the Marshall family always opposed us."

Kathy kept silent. She didn't know much about the Marshall family.

Zofia had told her that the Marshall family objected to their dating because Sonny was not the best man for Zofia.

But if the Marshall family really took revenge on Sonny, Sonny might be dropped out of the school. However, it was so important for an ordinary people to get a college diploma.

She knew the difficulty of entering the Ocean University and she felt sympathy and pity for him now.

"Is the person who retaliates against you really from the Marshall family?"

Sonny closed his eyes and didn't say anything more.

They came to the hospital and Sonny was taken to the clinic. Kathy looked at the time and called Joseph.

But Joseph didn't answer the call. He usually didn't answer the call during surgery.

Sonny was transferred to the ward from the operating room in half an hour. The doctor said he had to stay in the hospital for three days for observation.

"Do I need to tell your family about this?" Kathy walked in.

"My family is not in the City N. Please don't tell them. I don't want them worry about me." Sonny shook his head.

“It is late now and you may go back.”

Kathy slowly nodded. She just turned around and found there were several tall and strong men gathering outside the ward. It seemed that they were here to beat someone.

Kathy was scared and she couldn't get out because they blocked the door of the ward now.

“Who are you?” Kathy braced herself and queried them loudly.

“We are Mr Joseph's subordinate. How dare Sonny offend Mr. Joseph's girlfriend? Is he insane?” The man standing in front arrogantly said.

Kathy was stunned. Mr Joseph...

Chapter 533 Didn't Get Angry Anymore

Kathy trembled and didn't say anything.

But Joseph let her go at the moment. He turned and walked into the elevator.

“Joseph!” Kathy wanted to catch up with him but the door of the elevator closed in front of her.

Joseph was angry.

She pressed the elevator button. When she came to the first floor, Joseph was not there.

She ran out of the hospital. It was dawn and there were several people on the road. Kathy looked at the road on both sides and couldn't help crying.

Sonny was just her classmate and Joseph was so strange.

She went back to the hospital with anger and sat on the chair in the corridor, thinking of Joseph's attitude just now, wronged and troubled.

Shall her go to find him?

But she didn't do anything wrong.

It took a long time for Kathy to decide to find Joseph. She just stood up and was covered by a tall shadow in front of her. And someone embraced her.

She suddenly couldn't help crying and tears fell on her cheeks.

She raised her hands and tightly held him.

"Kathy." Joseph said in a deep voice.

He had been in the car opposite the hospital. He saw Kathy ran out and run back to the Hospital. When he calmed down, he came in.

"You jerk." Kathy was out of temper.

"Joseph, what are you jealous of? I just send Sonny to the hospital but there are some people want to hurt Sonny outside. So I stay for a while." Kathy patiently explained.

"Yeah," Joseph nodded and tightly hugged the back of her head

"You can't get angry anymore." Kathy pushed him away.

Joseph looked tired and obviously he stayed up all night.

"If you still do it again, I will be angry too." Joseph honestly said.

The next day, Kathy came to the hospital early but she didn't expect that Reece was earlier than her.

He sat behind the table and wore a pair of gold-rimmed glasses and looked at the book in his hands seriously.

"Reece" Kathy looked at him.

"Hi, why are you so early today?" Reece looked at the time.

He used to come to consulting room two hours before carrying out consultations and Kathy usually arrived on time.

Kathy bit her lips and was hesitating to speak.

"You can boldly say what you want to say."

"Reece, I want to participate in the operation case between the Joseph's Group and University F in the next time."

Hearing Kathy's words, Reece looked unhappy and he already understood what Kathy meant.

"Does Joseph want you to participate in this case?" Reece said in a cold tone.

Kathy didn't speak.

Kind of,

"I can't stop you but you may be aggrieved." Reece unclearly said.

"Reece, I really appreciate for your teaching during this time." Kathy politely bowed.

She knew Reece taught her seriously and responsibly. If they didn't have the entanglement in the past, she would always think that he was a good senior.

But they should not be in this relationship now.

She didn't want to contact him anymore.

"Kathy, Is Joseph worth it?" Reece intently looked at her.

"Yes, he is the best." Kathy answered without hesitation.

Kathy packed her belongings and left the consulting room.

She thought Reece would make it hard for her to leave but surprisingly smoothly.

But what he said sounded strange. She didn't understand it and forgot it soon.

After a while, Ella came to Reece's office.

Joseph had turned over her body in the next second and he found out the lyrics of a song with his

Half an hour later, in the WH Restaurant.

They ordered a big box and Joseph and Zofia were sitting on both sides of Mrs Marshall.

"Joseph, I know maybe you will be not happy that I come to city N suddenly. You also know what has happened on Zofia recently. I am worried about her." Mrs Marshall reproached.

Zofia kept her head down and didn't speak.

But she always peeked at Joseph.

"Zofia is no longer a child and she knows what to do." Joseph frowned and he was a little impatient.

"You are right. But Sonny is a bastard. It is impossible for him to marry zofia." Mrs Marshall said excitedly.

“Mrs Marshall, I am not interested in knowing Zofia’s experience.” Joseph indifferently said.

He didn't even look at Zofia.

Mrs Marshall was a little embarrassed. She wanted Zofia to date with some excellent men but Zofia didn't listen to her and insisted on staying with Sonny. Zofia was even pregnant. Though she had an abortion, it might make her notorious

Now Zofia remembered the past and begged Mrs Marshall to create an opportunity for her and Joseph. In order to make Zofia happy, she invited Joseph to have dinner.

But now everyone knew that Joseph didn't like Zofia.

“Joseph, you said you would be responsible for Zofia in the past.” Mrs Marshall earnestly said.

“So I accompanied her for a month after that incident. But I didn't like her during that time and I won't like her now or the future.” After speaking, Joseph gently stood up.

He clearly knew that Mrs Marshall wanted him to be Zofia's boyfriend.

He respected Mrs Marshall so he would have dinner with them but they might be disappointed.

Mrs Marshall's face paled. Seeing Joseph leave, she frowned and helplessly looked at Zofia. “You can't control Joseph. And I have tried my best.”

“Mom, I won't marry anyone except Joseph.”

“But the Marshall family is weaker than the Joseph family.” Mrs Marshall sighed.

Joseph already showed his respect for her.

Chapter 537 Cried For Nothing

Kathy could clearly feel the coldness radiating from his body. Biting her lip, she shook her head without hesitation.

She did not think Joseph would do something like this, of course she would not think so.

Yet the voice beside her still disturbed her.

"I believe you won't."

"The person who did this to Sonny is from the Marshall family," Joseph held onto the back of her head and said in a gentle voice.

His words fell onto Kathy's ears and she shuddered.

"Are you sure?"

"Why does Sonny think that it's me?" Coldness radiated from Joseph's eyes. He did not answer Kathy but asked in return.

"When I sent him to the hospital, the men who attacked him said they were under Mr Joseph. Sonny knew the relationship you had with Zofia before so he guessed it was you." Kathy's voice became lower and lower.

Him and Zofia was the largest thorn in Kathy's heart now.

Joseph naturally heard it, he grasped Kathy's chin and she had to raise her gaze to look at him immediately.

"Zofia and I?" He squinted coldly.

"Yes."

"I never had any type of relationship with Zofia before," he said word by word seriously.

Kathy looked at the man before her in shock. Clutching onto his shirt, she did not speak for a while.

Joseph would never lie to her, she always believed.

"When I was eighteen, I attended Zofia's birthday party on behalf of the Joseph family, but I was brought to her bathroom by one of the Marshall family on purpose. Zofia thought I saw her naked body and wanted me to be responsible for it. Afterwards, I couldn't stand the nagging of Veronica and my grandfather, so I only promised to stay with the Marshall family for one month to help Zofia come out of this trauma, then I left the Marshall family. Nothing ever happened between Zofia and I."

Kathy could understand Joseph's explanation.

So it was Zofia's design all this time?

"Then you've never seen her..." Kathy's face paled.

"No, it was all foggy in the bathroom and I couldn't see anything at all," Joseph admitted. In fact, when he knew it was a bathroom he immediately came out.

"I see, did you ask him for help?" Sonny asked.

When she turned, she was suddenly pulled into Joseph's arms by him.

"Contacting Sonny again?" Joseph's voice was filled with some jealousy.

"We're just keeping in touch normally," Kathy emphasized on the term 'normal'.

"Yes, normal," Joseph pushed her face over and held her against the window. Heated kisses landed heavily once again.

This man... is a kissing monster!

"Go to cook quick, I'm hungry!" Kathy looked for an excuse.

"I'm hungry too, let's satisfy each other first, alright?" Joseph's mesmerising voice sounded.

Kathy's face burst in red, this man...

Right in the living room, a passionate feeling spread. Kathy was pushed onto the couch by him, his movements becoming more and more out of line...

...

At the Bridges family.

Ella heard her brother's words and immediately shook her head in refusal, "This research is very important for the Joseph's Group, I won't do as you've said!"

"Don't you go then," saying so, Reece began picking up his phone to call the person in charge of the promotional event.

Ella was furious as she grabbed her brother's phone in anger.

"Why are you targeting Joseph again and again! You know very well that I liked him so much! I really didn't want to hurt him!" Ella said determinedly.

Her eyes filled with tears, if her following Joseph to the business trip would hurt him, she would... rather not want to go.

Hearing this, Reece pursed his lips, the terrifying aura that was radiating off his whole body made him sweep all the things off the table.

Kathy could not help but break into a smile, "It's you who is my guiding light, without you, I might never be able to persist on getting my master's degree."

"Then we help each other to succeed, alright?" Joseph mumbled quietly.

Kathy nodded seriously, even if there were tens and thousands of people trying to stop them from being together, she would not be afraid.

By holding Joseph's hand, she was already holding all she had.

Three days were allocated for the promotional even in BV City, the two went to stay in a hotel, basically all the participants this event were staying in the same hotel.

As the two walked into the elevator, Ella came in as well, having done her check-in arrangements.

Joseph had booked the presidential suite on the top floor, while Ella reached her room at the 28th floor.

Before she went out, she looked at Joseph, "Joseph, can we have dinner together tonight to discuss about the details of the promotional event for these few days?"

Ella's gaze was locked on Joseph at all times, as if Kathy was not present.

"I believe all of the details have already been received by your email inbox," Joseph was expressionless.

Ella bit her lip and did not move her steps, looking at Joseph, her gaze was hard to move away.

"Alright."

The elevator door closed again, Kathy looked at Ella's retreating figure and her expression dimmed.

"I remember that she's your secretary on the arrangement schedule."

This position of Ella's was suddenly arranged into this trip, it seemed that someone had arranged this deliberately.

"Yes, I don't need a secretary."

Despite what Joseph said, but the following day was the first day of the promotional event. Ella was obviously well prepared, as she came to knock on Joseph's door early in the morning.

Kathy was only a student of University F and was merely accommodating to Joseph's work arrangements, but Ella was working directly for Joseph. Important information was passed to her first, which she would then pass to Joseph.

Kathy came to open the door, seeing Ella, she was expressionless.

Veronica looked at her, she imagined if this had happened to her, she would indeed be unable to be that tolerant.

“Zofia and I, would probably never be that close again,” This was what Kathy was most disappointed about.

Since they were once so close.

At this moment, in the office at back stage, Quinn rushed to Joseph’s side. “The contents of the PowerPoint presentation for the speech were changed.”

Quinn had just found out about this. He had already prepared everything, but because Joseph had told him to double check, so he went back to recheck again.

Now, the contents were changed, and the file that contained Joseph's speech originally was deleted as well.

Further, the worst thing was now the computer back stage was locked. It must have been hacked by some IT personnel, and it could only present the contents that were changed.

Now, the according resolve plan was only to postpone the promotional event. But now almost all the participants of the meeting had arrived.

"Arrange for a programmer to come over to solve this," Joseph was not anxious at all, as he sat by the side. "Show me the contents that were changed."

Quinn's expression was dark, yet he shook his head, "It's some things about Veronica before, about what happened between her and Billy."

Once he said so, Joseph understood.

Looking at Quinn, the pain in his eyes emerged.

What once happened to Veronica hit home towards the Joseph family.

Although Veronica was the victim, but if this incident was exposed, Veronica would certainly be unable to handle it.

Luckily he had managed to discover it earlier.

Joseph's expression was extremely dark as he looked at the time, "I want the promotional event to begin in one hour."

"Alright," Quinn agreed.

Joseph's orders were never to be gone against.

In the event venue, Kathy saw that some of the guests were already displeased. It was already more than half an hour that the promotional event had started, yet it had not begun.
