Chapter 581 Do You Still Like Him?

After the whole day's meeting, Veronica got back to Zofia's room with her.

Recently, the news of Zofia dropping out of school had spread throughout the university, and Veronica was a little sad upon hearing this.

After all, she had just been admitted to Ocean University, with an aim to stay with Zofia.

"What's your next plan?" Veronica asked with concern.

Zofia frankly said, "I want to go to University F. Recently, Joseph is helping me arrange the position of a professor's assistant. I'll get this job smoothly."

"Assistant? You mean my brother's assistant?" Veronica raised her eyebrows in surprise.

"Not necessarily. There are so many professors at University F, right?" Zofia lowered her eyes.

"Do you still like my brother now?" Veronica asked nervously.

Pursing her lips, Zofia looked up at Veronica and slowly nodded. "Yes. After regaining my memories, I find that the one I like is still Joseph."

"Alright. Then let me arrange for you to be my brother's assistant."

"Really?" Zofia's eyes lit up.

Veronica answered with a smile, "Of course."

"Veronica, thank you."

"My pleasure. After all, we are good friends. It's better for you to be my sister-in-law than Kathy."

...

At the suite on the top floor.

It was already late at night when Joseph finished the report for tomorrow's meeting, and John was proofreading it from the side.

After a while, John brought over the latest schedule of the meeting.

"Isn't the meeting over in one day?"

"The business community has extended the meeting. Mr Joseph, you are asked to deliver the next three speeches," John said with a wry smile.

"Give it to me," Joseph said coldly.

At this time, his phone rang, and the caller was Kathy.

John immediately went out.

Chapter 582 No Feelings for You

"Sonny, I'm sorry." Kathy said in a low voice, "Please tell Professor Lee I don't have the time to complete this project with you."

"Kathy." Color drained a little from Sonny's face.

"If it's because of me, I will leave the team, so other classmates can take over." Sonny said angrily.

Kathy raised her eyebrows in shock. How could he?

This project could come this far only because of Sonny.

"Sonny, you know..."

"Kathy, I have told the professor that you will finish the project with me. Now you tell him you are quitting? He wouldn't like to be fooled around."

Kathy was dumbfounded, irritated by his threat.

"Sonny, I never said that. How can you tell professor already?"

"You have no way out. Kathy, I'm doing this for your own good." Sonny's tone softened and he gazed at Kathy.

She pursed her lips and said in a serious tone, "I'll tell the professor myself."

Then she strode away. Sonny was stunned by her answer and immediately scurried after her.

"Why do you hate me so much?" Gloomy, Sonny blocked her way and asked.

"I don't hate you, but I do hope you can respect me." Kathy said coldly.

"I respect you, but have you ever respected me? If you quit, then this project will be over." Sonny's tone was as cold as Kathy's. "We have worked two weeks for it!"

As he spoke, Sonny's eyes turned red.

Kathy knew that Sonny valued this project very much.

"Kathy, don't worry, I have no feelings for you now." Sonny said seriously.

"I lied to you. I haven't told the professor yet. You can tell him yourself. I lost my temper just now. I'm sorry."

Then Sonny pivoted around and left.

Chapter 583 Only You Can Help Me

"Joseph, be kind to Zofia," Veronica said angrily.

Joseph sneered and his black eyes gradually narrowed. "Veronica, did you help her do that?"

Joseph's family had a certain influence in the Ocean University. He already knew that Veronica had contacted the school board all of a sudden.

"What can you do to me if I say no?" Veronica said arrogantly.

"Veronica!" Joseph was about to lose his temper.

He needed no one to interfere in his affairs.

"Enjoy yourselves!" Joseph buried his true feeling deep inside. He was always good at doing so.

He had been indulgent towards Veronica. However, if his indulgence spoiled her and even encouraged her arrogance, he would take it all back.

"Joseph, Veronica is just kidding..." Quinn wanted to smooth the tension over, but Joseph left without looking back.

Zofia could not help but cry. Veronica went over to comfort her, but Zofia was crying louder.

"Sorry, Zofia. My brother has changed a lot since he's with Kathy. I feel that I don't even know him now." Veronica was also very angry.

Joseph had never treated her this way before.

"Quinn, don't you think my brother has changed?" Veronica looked at Quinn beside her.

Quinn pursed his thin lips and didn't say anything.

He looked at Veronica and remembered what she said just now. His look became a little gloomy.

He grew up with Joseph and knew him well.

If Veronica and Zofia wanted to manipulate Joseph, they were just asking for trouble.

"Zofia, could you tell me how you got the job? You did fill the application for Joseph's assistant and pass the interview, didn't you?" Quinn asked.

Hearing this, Zofia looked up at Quinn with an innocent expression. Before she could say anything, Veronica had already answered for her, "Of course, or what!"

Veronica's reply, however, aroused Quinn's suspicion.

They had stayed awake until almost dawn. Lying in Joseph's arm, Kathy murmured, "I thought you won't be back for another dozen of days."

"I've missed you." It was just a few simple words, but it triggered some sparks in Kathy's head.

She held him tight, turning up the corner of her mouth.

"Then what about your work there?"

"Cancelled."

"You're so whimsical."

"Yeah, I am," Joseph said seriously.

Kathy couldn't help but gently punch his chest, "You don't have to."

"Kathy, I'm already back."

Joseph lifted her chin and kissed her passionately. She closed her eyes and went in for his gentleness....

They woke up in the noon. Kathy opened her eyes and saw the man next to her. The fatigue on his face was obvious.

Arriving only yesterday in the middle of the night, he must have no time for a break at all.

She blinked, and kissed him on the lips.

It was just a gentle kiss, and she was going to pull back very soon.

But Joseph suddenly got hold of her head and intensified the kiss.

"You're awake," said Kathy.

"Yeah. Are you hungry?" he asked softly.

"Starving ... but it's a little late now. Are you going to the hospital?"

"Not today."

"Ella will probably not be ok with that, will she?" Kathy blurted out.

When they were in the hospital, Ella lost her temper even if Joseph had just been gone for one day.

"Sonny." Kathy's face darkened.

"Alright, I'll stop. Where is Jeremy?" Sonny frowned.

Currently, there were altogether three people participating in the research. Jeremy was one of them. He was also a PhD student in surgery.

Just as Sonny finished speaking, Jeremy arrived. He was wearing a pair of black-rimmed glasses and his skin was fairer than most people. And he somehow looked weak.

He was also Professor Lee's student. Previously, he was studying on the campus in Country F. Now he had moved here along with Professor Lee.

"In a sense, I am your senior." Jeremy smiled, but his smile somehow gave Kathy a kind of creeping feeling.

"Hello, I'm Sonny. This is Kathy." Sonny greeted Jeremy and introduced himself and Kathy to Jeremy.

Soon they got familiar with each other. Then they quickly devoted themselves to the research.

Obviously, because one more classmate was around, Kathy felt less anxious. Kathy didn't leave the laboratory until it was dark.

At this time, in the teacher's office.

Joseph was looking at the computer. Zofia had finished her work. But because Joseph didn't leave, she did not leave, either.

Involuntarily, her gaze fell on Joseph. And gradually, increased infatuation appeared in her eyes.

She felt Joseph was simply too attractive.

Suddenly, Joseph raised his head. Zofia tried to withdraw her gaze. But it was too late. Joseph saw her.

"Professor Joseph." Zofia smiled.

Joseph's expression was still serious. "You can get off work now."

"What about you?"

"I still have something to deal with."

"Let me help you. I'm your assistant now." Zofia frowned.

"Zofia, I'm your leader now. Just do what I said!"

Zofia lowered her eyes. Although she was reluctant, she still left the office.

When she walked out, she saw Kathy walking this way. Obviously, Kathy was here for Joseph.

They walked past each other and neither of them felt the need to greet each other.

Chapter 586 I Like You Anyway

Kathy was surprised that the rumors about her and Sonny had spread at her university.

When she returned to school on Monday, she was naturally put in the spotlight as she gathered together with her classmates.

Although Kathy and Joseph were close to each other, Kathy always deliberately kept a distance from Joseph in public, so no one had detected their true relationship.

The news that Kathy and Sonny were a perfect match had gone viral, which embarrassed Kathy a lot.

So, when Sonny came to the classroom, he attracted everyone's attention too.

"Don't talk nonsense. We are just classmates." Kathy, who sat in the corner, couldn't help defending herself.

Some of her close classmates gathered around her and blinked ambiguously at Kathy, "Is Sonny going after you?"

Kathy pursed her lips. Just as she was about to deny it, here came Sonny's voice, "Guys, I am indeed going after her, but Kathy hasn't said yes yet. Please stop talking about it. She needs more space."

Sonny's words shocked everyone in the classroom.

Since his research turned out to be a great success, Sonny had become super popular at the University F for his handsome face and academic achievements. Many girls had a crush on him.

So Sonny's claim that he was chasing Kathy upset many girls. However, Sonny's profession didn't undermine their affection for him at all. Instead, they admired him even more.

But Kathy was greatly shocked.

She had already known that Sonny liked her, but Kathy felt very uncomfortable about his profession of love in front of their teachers and classmates.

Moreover, she had never intended to say yes to him.

She didn't look at Sonny, but looked at the book absent-mindedly. Then, Sonny sat down beside her.

Their classmates around them took other seats to leave them some space.

"Sonny, how could you say that?" Kathy frowned and said discontentedly.

"I'm sorry for having bothered you. I thought that was a good idea," Sonny said in a deep voice.

Kathy remained silent, not knowing how to respond.

Sonny did clean the air by doing so, but ... how would Joseph feel?

Before Kathy came back to her senses, Joseph had already walked far away.

He left her alone to deal with the few girl students.

"Really? Professor Joseph is still single? I thought he wasn't..."

"Yeah, I also thought Professor Joseph wasn't single. He has given me the impression of being a mature married man."

"I felt the same way. But now that he's single, we can't give up..."

Kathy was left speechless...

So, did she just give up her man?

That was not good.

But given that Joseph was her tutor, she didn't have the guts at all to reveal their relationship to others.

She wanted to catch up with Joseph, only to find no sign of him after dealing with the students.

Did he really get angry?

Somewhat confused, Kathy was about to call Joseph when Sonny walked towards her from a short distance and called her.

"Are you going to the hospital?"

Kathy nodded.

"I have something to tell you." Sonny frowned.

Kathy raised her head and looked at Sonny confusedly.

"Our research project has caught Bridges Group's fancy. You know that Professor Zane is currently working for Bridges Group. She hopes to lead us to complete this project. With Bridges Group's support, our efficiency will be greatly improved."

Kathy was stunned. The mention of Bridges Group caught all her attention.

"Then do we need to go to Bridges Group to do experiments from now?" she murmured.

Sonny slowly nodded. "Professor Lee has agreed to this. The contract will be signed this week and we'll start officially next week."

Kathy was at a loss. She didn't want to have anything to do with Bridges Group anymore.

But now, it had been fixed.

"Hum..." Kathy muttered, and soon she was kissed by Joseph.
After a long while, Joseph let go of her. Then not only Kathy's face got flushed, but her entire body was reddish.
She pressed against Joseph, yet she was so greedy for his embrace.

"Aren't you angry?" Kathy asked in a low voice.

She hated the silent period between them. It was too uncomfortable.

"Yes, I am."

Kathy did not know what to say.

Then she used her strength to push him away.

"Me too."

As soon as Kathy finished speaking, she pushed the door open and got off the car.

Joseph stroked his forehead and closed his eyes.

Kathy didn't hear his footsteps behind her. The driver, knowing what was going on, had already gotten off the car.

Kathy frowned. After all, she was soft-hearted and returned to the car. However, she saw that Joseph seemed to have fallen asleep.

"Joseph." She bent down and looked at him.

However, Kathy didn't hear any response after calling him twice.

She sat back in the car and got closer to him. Looking at Joseph's contracted eyebrows, Kathy suddenly thought of something.

Then she reached out her palm to feel Joseph's forehead. Sure enough, it was so hot...

She was shocked and almost immediately waked Joseph, "Joseph, wake up. Get out of the car with me. You have a fever!"

At that moment, Kathy was at a loss. She was half a doctor, but she was actually so flustered when Joseph was sick.

She could not move Joseph by herself, so she only called the driver over and carried Joseph out of the car.

She should have noticed that earlier!

By the time Kathy came up, she had anticipated that Joseph, the workaholic, would have begun to work.

"Have breakfast."

As soon as Kathy entered, Joseph could smell the porridge.

Kathy knew nothing about cooking, but she could barely cook porridge.

Moreover, plain porridge wasn't difficult to cook.

"Does it taste good?" Seeing Joseph taste the porridge like a veteran gourmet, she looked forward to his opinion warmly.

"You forgot to put salt in." Joseph reminded her.

Kathy did not know what to say.

"Wait!"

Just as Kathy was about to go downstairs, Joseph stopped her and said, "It's OK just like this. There's no need to put salt in."

"Oh, that's good."

Seeing Joseph finish his breakfast elegantly, Kathy remembered that she was clearly angry yesterday!

"You did something wrong last night. You owe me an apology." She had a stern face.

Joseph frowned, unable to think of what he did wrong.

However, he seemed to have an impression.

Yesterday, Kathy clarified in front of a few students at noon that they were not lovers. He left in a fit of anger.

He didn't want Kathy to keep their relationship under wraps.

But he didn't want to bother Kathy.

Therefore, at that moment, in order to prevent himself from affecting Kathy's mood, he left.

He admitted that he got emotional.

The door of the lab opened and closed. Finally, Kathy was the only one left in the lab.

She clutched the experimental table for support, and her vision went foggy. Not long after, she staggered and fell.

After a long while, she was carried into an unfamiliar embrace in a daze.

Kathy subconsciously wanted to push away the man, but she found that she lost her strength.

"You..."

She muttered and her throat was dry.

Reece looked at her with a sullen look. He carried Kathy away from the laboratory without any hesitation. She was in a coma.

In the Boston Hospital.

It was late when Joseph came out of the operating room. The nurse who was waiting for him hurriedly reported Ella's condition.

When he entered the ward, he found that Ella's face was extremely pale, and her now gloomy eyes had lost the glow they used to have.

"Joseph." Seeing that it was Joseph, she suddenly sobbed with tears falling down.

Joseph frowned and examined her body with a serious look.

"What's going on?" he asked the nurse.

Ella's health seriously worsened.

"You were in the operating room this afternoon. I told Doctor Kathy to come. It was Doctor Kathy who gave a shot and the medicine to Miss Bridges," the nurse said with a trembling voice and an innocent look.

Joseph's face was so gloomy that it could freeze.

He took the medical records and looked carefully at it and then glanced at the medicine bottles next to him.

The nurse did not say anything else and quietly went out.

The next moment Joseph felt a chill at the back of his neck. And he gradually became unconscious.
