Chapter 61 Growing Infatuation

“Yes, I was lying to you, I did it purposely to you, because you are a woman who can’t tell the right from wrong and talk nonsense.” She turned around and walked away with a pun.

The woman was irritated by her words, she ran towards Kathy to give her a quick kick, but it was dodged by Kathy.

“You stop right there! How dare you insult me? I’m your superior, don’t you want to stay at NISIX anymore?” The woman squinted at her indignantly.

Kathy frowned, although her position was low in the company, that didn’t mean that she could be abused by anyone.

“I’m alright if you want to make a big fuss over this.” Kathy said with a flat tone while pointing towards the camera at the corner, “Who’s the one that started this, there’s plenty of evidence.”

The woman knew that she was at disadvantage, her anger tamed down, she secretly held a grudge towards Kathy since then.

Alexia heard about what happened in the pantry and came over to comfort Kathy, “Joanne went too far on you. Guess what? She had been into Johnson for a long time but Johnson didn’t give a damn about her.”

“No way, I’m going to report her.” Alexia was exasperated, but Kathy remained calm as usual.

“If you want to report her, you might as well let her make a fool of herself in front of Johnson.” Kathy said in a calm voice.

Alexia was suddenly clicked by her words. Kathy this girl was unexpectedly smart and cunning.

Due to the temporary interruption of the R&D projects with the Herbert’s Group, Kathy was transferred to clerical position but she was promoted two ranking higher than her previous position. She was dragged to celebrate for her promotion by Alexia.

Kathy was baffled by her promotion.

After all, she had injured herself during the business trip, already causing troubles to the company, she didn’t expect to be promoted.

“It must be Johnson’s idea. He found out your hidden potential,” said Alexia.

“Perhaps he saw my potential of injuring myself.” Kathy replied sarcastically.

After choosing a quiet dining bar, the two of them dined at the terrace. The bar was lively as it was night time.

Kathy looked at her phone from time to time, she remembered that Joseph had a surgery tonight, she was wondering whether it had over.

“Just give him a call if you want.” Alexia leaned on her.

“No way.” Kathy was a little proud.

But she still sent him a message to tell him that she was at the bar with Alexia.

At that moment, on the other side of the terrace, Peter’ gaze was directed towards Kathy while holding his glass when Kathy came in the bar.

At Herbert's house, the lights were brightly lit.

Peter got out from the car and staggered to the entrance.

He was stopped by the maid who had informed her master about his arrival.

Herbert came out in a short while, holding her belly. She was now pregnant for four months, and her belly grew larger.

Looking at drunken Peter who fell on the ground, her heart ached.

But in the end, she still didn't help him up.

"Leave now." She said in a cold voice.

Peter raised his head, "Herbert, please give me one more chance."

Herbert turned around and instructed the maid, "Kick him out."

Kingston, Herbert's father, was standing in front of the French window, looking at Peter who was outside when Herbert came in.

"Dad, does it have to be like this?" Her fragility was revealed from the bottom of her eyes.

"My daughter, that brat's such an asshole, I am doing this for your sake. If you don't push him to the corner, he won't focus on you and the Herbert group." Kingston said in a harsh tone, as he was aware of Peter's potential earlier on, but it was still far below his expectation.

“But we can’t drag any longer, the baby’s going to born,” Herbert bit her lips, pressing her hand against her belly.

The wedding had been postponed several times, her belly became larger and larger as time passed.

“Then we’ll wait until the baby is born, there’s no need to rush.”

The next day, there’s another headline about Peter on the press. Photos of Peter and Kathy cuddling at the dining bar were captured by the reporter, however, for this time, Kathy’s face was revealed completely.

At the same time, the news of Herbert doing pregnancy check-up at the hospital was exposed. The internet was full of voices of people who sided and pity of Herbert regarding this cheating scandal. Kathy was doxxed thoroughly, and soon she was recognized as the woman who had intimate relationship with Joseph.

The name of “Kathy” became an overnight sensation on the internet.

At the old mansion of the Joseph’s family.

Kathy prepared to go to work. She received Alexia’s call when she was having her breakfast. “Hurry up and watch the news!”

Kathy frowned and opened the browser with ease, photo of her face being magnified several times appeared.

At the Hospital.

Joseph had completed his surgery in the morning and went back to his office. Lily was inside his office.

"You're not due for a follow-up session yet." Joseph said in a cold tone.

"I'm not here for follow-up, I'm here to tell you the truth."

Without looking at Lily, Joseph received the new medical case written with "NISIX" from the nurse.

Lily had got used to the way Joseph ignored her, she continued with her words, "Your girlfriend, Kathy, cheated on you. Hurry up and cut ties with that woman."

Joseph's eyes turned extremely cold, almost breaking the pen on his hand when he heard those words.

"Get out of my sight." He raised his eyes, and his gaze was sharp.

Lily wasn't irritated and continued, "Dr Joseph, you should consider about me, I'm much prettier than Kathy, and I'm loyal, I won't cheat on you."

Joseph frowned, he picked up the intercom to make a call.

Lily knew too well about what he was going to do and stopped him immediately, "Why're you so stubborn? I don't understand what's so good about her! She still doesn't know how to behave even she's with you!"

"Lily Smith!" Joseph stood up, "I've prescribed your medicine for the next three months. You don't have to come over to the hospital anymore."

"No..."

Joseph then instructed the security, "Whoever let Lily Smith enter the hospital again don't have to come back to work anymore."

Lily stared at her with burning eyes, "Joseph, that's too much!"

"Get out. Right now." Joseph turned his back to her.

Lily gritted her teeth. She's not going to give up on Joseph.

After a while, John came in.

"What did you find out?"

"The news was leaked out by Kingston." John bowed his head and reported.

"Do you want to have supper?" Kathy suddenly stood up and pushed away Joseph who was approaching.

Joseph frowned with dissatisfaction, stretching his long arm, Kathy immediately fell into his embrace.

"I'm not hungry," He narrowed his eyes.

"Then..."Kathy looked at him nervously.

Joseph's face approached her closer and closer, Kathy realized what he was going to do, her cheeks burst into red, dodging Joseph.

But she did not have enough strength to resist him. Joseph's kisses were always aggressive, she couldn't dodge them once she was caught.

"What do I do? It's not enough."Joseph clasped the back of Kathy's head, gazing at her with his deep ocean eyes as if he's going to devour Kathy.

Kathy shuddered, realizing the meaning behind his words, she pushed him away hardly, instantly on the alert.

She ran back to her room and locked the door. Although she knew that it's futile, at least she kept Joseph out for the time being.

Although they would inevitably have some intimate interactions after they got married, but Kathy was afraid that she couldn't hold back if it continued.

She gradually got to know about what kind of person Joseph was as time passed.

Joseph was definitely not just a doctor, he was supported by the entire Joseph's Family. Although there's no any information related to the background of the Joseph's Family online, but it's a powerful family.

If she could, she didn't want to get closer to Joseph any further.

She just wanted to live a simple life.

When Joseph came upstairs, he found out that Kathy had locked the door without surprise.

When would this woman truly open up to him.

Alexia had taken a few days off for her, so she didn't go back to the company, but she still had to deal with her work occasionally.

Kathy was a bit surprised when she saw Joseph was still at home in the morning.

He usually worked earlier than her, they would go out together sometime.

"Are you going to the hospital today?" Kathy asked casually while having her breakfast.

“I have consultation session but I’ll be back at afternoon.”

Kathy responded and then lowered down her head and did not continue with the conversation.

Joseph's arms crossed over Kathy's waist, Kathy shivered and her face was turned over by Joseph. A kiss landed on her lips.

The scenario was seen by the maids outside the kitchen. Kathy patted his chest and wanted to push him away.

Joseph didn't give a damn, he even pushed her against the wall, kissing her deeper and deeper.

Kathy was panting, staring at him angrily.

Joseph was pleased by her cute reaction and he then helped her to serve the food.

"Kathy, I heard from Joseph that you grew up with your mother?" Mathew asked her kindly.

Kathy's face was still blushing, she nodded, "My parents divorced when I was young. I've been staying with my mother all these years."

"You've married with Joseph for quite some time. It's time for the elders of the two families to meet up. Don't you think so?" Mathew looked at Joseph.

Joseph's face was cold.

"I'll make arrangement." Joseph said in a cold tone.

Kathy frowned. She had only seen Joseph's grandfather since they got married. How about his parents?

Kathy didn't dare to ask as it was Joseph's privacy.

Joseph was reading at the report submitted by his subordinate, his eyebrows knitted.

After awhile, Joanne came up.

"Mr. Johnson, although Kathy is still on leave, but this matter involved her, perhaps we should call her back and question about it?" Joanne said with a soft and gentle voice.

She was wearing a tight suit and her gorgeous body figure was attractive.

However, Johnson didn't even give her a glance.

"You go out first"

"Johnson, you don't believe in Kathy, don't you?" Joanne frowned and got closer.

"I have my own decision regarding this matter. Get out." Johnson was impatient.

Joanne zipped her mouth, but the rumours of Kathy leaking confidential documents had spread within NCHV.

Chapter 66 Years Of Crush

The Herbert's Group had been in turmoil. The shareholders meeting had been trying to depose Peter from his current position but he ended up staying.

The news of Herbert compromising for their child's sake was released.

Peter also finally held a press conference. He clarified that his mistake was due to effect of alcohol and he purposely mentioned about Kathy.

"As for the woman you all have seen was someone who had a crush on me for many years."

Kathy's face sank, looking at Peter's face, she was frightened as if he was a stranger at that moment.

"Crush on him?"

Back then everyone in the school knew that Peter had a crush on her and kept chasing after her.

"Do you still have contact with her?" A reporter asked.

"I won't allow her to pester me anymore." Peter said it loud and clear.

Kathy was so angry until she couldn't bear to watch it anymore, she then switched off the TV.

After looking at the time, it was time to go to the supermarket to buy some ingredients.

She didn't have to work for these few days, she was in charge of the dinner preparation so that she won't be that bored.

In the afternoon, no much people at the supermarket, she didn't expect that the Peter's press conference was repeatedly played on the large screen of the TV. Kathy didn't make up, but the screen had magnified her photos, she was surrounded by people's gaze and gossips when she stepped inside the supermarket.

She quickly bought her stuff and paid the bill. A bunch of reporters rushed over before she left the supermarket.

Kathy was forced to stop as she was blocked by them.

"Ms Kathy, Mr Peter mentioned that you had a crush on him for many years, are you getting in way of the marriage between him and Ms Herbert?"

"Have you been thinking of interfering their marriage?"

"We found out that you and Mr Peter were both each other's first love, will you guys rekindle your relationship?"

Looking at the flashing cameras, Kathy frowned and felt disgusted.

The bodyguards who were under Joseph's command came over soon to block the reporters.

Looking at herself on the TV's screen, Kathy laughed out as she was pleased that she looked good on the TV even without the make-up.

But her joyful moment was spoiled by Joseph right after. "Didn't you wash your hair before you went out today?"

Kathy's face wrinkled. How did she suppose to know that she would be ambushed by a bunch of reporters when she went out to buy ingredients.

"Mind your own business." Kathy was irritated.

"You are my wife. Of course you are my business." Joseph hugged her thin waist.

Kathy didn't push him away as Mathew was there.

Looking at these two lovey-dovey couples, Mathew smiled.

Due to Kathy's clarification, the Herbert group suffered a great impact, the recovering stock priced once again fell to the bottom.

This time, it was up to Peter to see if he had the ability to alter the situation.

Kathy didn't pay attention to these things. She lived peacefully during the days of her suspension. Joseph was usually busy but he would come home at night. Kathy visited Angela occasionally but Joseph wasn't with her, hence Angela was quite dissatisfied.

"Kathy, you are now a celebrity in our neighbourhood." Angela patted her thigh excitedly.

Kathy grew up in Anlene District since she was young, everyone in the neighbourhood knew her well and knew that she was married to an amazing man through the news.

“Mum, Joseph and I want to keep a low profile.”

“It’s good to keep a low profile. I’m quite happy for both of you now. I don’t ask for any grand wedding. Seeing you guys living peacefully and happily is more than enough. After all, companion is the most beautiful love.”

Angela’s words made Kathy laugh, “Thanks, mum.”

After leaving, Kathy walked to the nearby mall. She had a date with Alexia tonight. They hadn’t seen each other for a week. Kathy wanted to ask her about the investigation progress also.

Kathy went there by walking it was nearby. She stopped by at a corner as she felt like she was tailed by someone.

Joseph was sent to the emergency room, Kathy was sitting outside and Alexia came over quickly.

“Kathy, what happened?”

Kathy looked up, there’s still tears stain on her cheeks, she hugged Alexia, “Sammy hijacked me, after that Joseph came and he was stabbed...”

“Sammy? Peter’s mother? That woman is crazy!” Alexia shouted in rage.

“Champs’ family is really one troublemaker after another, luckily you’re fine.” Alexia was relieved to see her safe and sound.

“But, Joseph...” Kathy looked at the emergency room, she was worried about Joseph’s hand, his hand was important, he needed his hand to hold the scalpel, he couldn’t risk it.

“He will also be fine. Kathy, we can’t let this matter slipped away easily, the Champs family was too over!” Alexia said indignantly.

Kathy nodded, but now all her mind was fully occupied by Joseph, she would let the police to handle Sammy.

After half an hour, Joseph came out with his hand wrapped with bandage, fortunately the wound wasn't deep enough to damage the nerves in his hand, but he won't be able to move around freely in a month.

Kathy's face was pale. She was holding Joseph's hand, and her back was sweating from fear.

"Fortunately...it's fine." She murmured.

Joseph was calm as usual, but looking at the worried look on Kathy's face, he hugged her tightly.

"Don't cry, I feel like kissing when you cry." His eyes were blazing.

Kathy was stunned.

This man was still flirting with her at this time.

"Do you need to be hospitalized? I'll go get the medicine." Kathy took the bill.

"Mr Joseph doesn't need to be hospitalized, but he'll need to come over to change his bandage every day for a week." The doctor instructed.

Kathy listened carefully and wrote it down.

Sammy was temporarily under arrest and Kathy had to go to the police station to provide her testimony.

"I'll go with you." Joseph said in a deep voice.

"You go home first, the doctor said you need more rest, so don't run around." Kathy pushed him into the car. "Alexia will go with me."

At Herbert's house, Peter's face darkened when he listened to the lawyer's words.
Apologized publicly?
It wasn't just humiliating him but also disgraced the Herbert's family.
"Peter Champs, settle your own mess, don't involve the Herbert's family!" Kingston shouted.

Herbert tried to calm her father and led him to go upstairs. When she came down, she saw Peter smoking.

"It took me a hard time to change my father's view on you, but now it is now back to square." Herbert frowned.

Peter had just openly accused Kathy, but now he was forced to apologize to her.

"Many shareholders have complained lately too, Peter, figure it out yourself."

"I'm sorry, Herbert." Peter held Herbert's hand, his eyebrows knitted.

If he didn't accept Kathy's conditions, Sammy would be sued and might have to go to jail.

However, he had made his decision.

Two days later, Peter gave his reply, he rejected Kathy's conditions.

"So now we have to proceed with the legal action?" Kathy asked the lawyer.

"Yes. Mr. Peter replied that he is after all a well-known person, it is impossible for him to apologize publicly, and also the compensation amount is way too much." The lawyer relayed Peter's message frankly.

Kathy's eyebrows twitched, his own reputation and money were already more important than his own family from the bottom of his heart.

"Then let's deal it legally."

At noon, Kathy accompanied Joseph to the hospital for a follow-up visit.

Lily disguised as a nurse when she knew that Joseph would come to the hospital.

After done changing his bandage, Joseph bumped into Lily who was blocking his way, his eyebrows slightly wrinkled.

"Lily Smith." Joseph's tone was extremely cold, Lily trembled out of fear.

My Sweetheart

Chapter 70 Innocent

Joseph was sitting at the corner, wearing a white shirt and black trousers. His powerful aura couldn't be concealed and he was always the spotlight among the people.

Sitting next to him were a few men in years dressing in suits. They should be senior executive ranking individuals.

Johnson greeted them when he came in. Kathy found that they were the high ups from Gorfield Medical Company.

Gorfield Medical Company was exactly the company she was suspected of leaking information to.

Kathy and Alexia sat quietly on the other side. As Johnson's secretary, Joanne had been serving wine beside him.

The CEO of Gorfield was young, only in his forties, he was chatting with Johnson.

When they mentioned about the leaking of NCHV's proposal, Joanne unintentionally shuddered and accidentally spilled the wine.

Johnson's shirt was stained by wine, although Joanne apologized immediately, Johnson was irritated.

"Come out with me." Johnson's face sank and he instructed Alexia to buy him a new shirt when he passed by her.

The room left only a woman who was Kathy. On the opposite side, Joseph was talking to a young man, but his gaze stayed on Kathy.

Kathy frowned and avoided his gaze."

"Miss Kathy, do you want to try some?" A man sat beside her, he was Gorfield's CEO's assistant, Gabriel Harold.

Kathy looked at the light blue liquid, although it was a cocktail, the alcohol content was not low.

She then shook her hand, "I'm not very good at drinking."

"It tasted sweet. Since you come with Mr Johnson, don't tell me you are here just for display?" Gabriel's tone deepened.

Kathy was placed in difficult position. She also didn't know why did Johnson bring her over.

“Since you are being so disrespectful, that’s fine. I thought the people around Johnson would know how to behave smartly, seems like it is really just a pretty face.”

Kathy was provoked by his words, it’s obvious that she couldn’t avoid drinking when she came here. So she took a deep breath and took the wine glass.

Gabriel was pleased, “Not bad.”

Kathy wasn’t paying attention, her attention was involuntarily drawn to returned with a clean shirt and got back to his seat, only that the person next next to Kathy.
